people, saying, Nabóth did "blaspheme
God and the King. The they caryed him away out of the citie, and stoned him with stones, that he dyed.

Then they sent to Iezébel, saying, Na-
bóth is stoned and is dead.

And when Iezébel heard that Nabóth

was stoned and was dead, Iezébel said to Aháb, Vp, & take possession of the vineyard of Nabóth the Izreelite, which he refused to giue thee for money: for Nabóth is not alive, but is dead.

And when Aháb heard that Nabóth was dead, he rose to go downe to the vineyard of Nabóth the Izreelite, to take possession of it.

And the worde of the Lord came vnto
Eliáh the Tishbite, saying,

Arise, go downe to mete Aháb King of Israél, which is in Samaria. lo, he is in the vineyarde of Nabóth, whether he is gone downe to take possession of it.

Therefore shalt thou say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou killed, and also gotten possession? And thou shalt speake vnto him, saying, Thus sayth the Lord,
In the place where dogs licked the blood of Nabóth, shal dogs lickē euē thy blood also.

And Aháb said to Eliáh, Hast thou founde me, & mine enemy? And he answered, I haue founde thee: for thou hast folde
thy selfe to worke wickednes in the sight
of the Lord.

* Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon thee, &
wil take away thy posteritie, and wil cut of from Aháb him that *pisseth against y
wall, as wel him that is * shut vp, as him
that is left in Israël,

And I wil make thine house like y house
of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebát, & like
the house of Baasá the sonne of Ahísh,
for the prouocation wherewith thou hast
prouoked, and made Israël to sinne.

And also of Iezébel spake the Lord, saying, *The dogs shal eat Iezébel, by the wall of Izreél.

The dogs shal eat him of Ahabs stockes,
that dyeth in the citie: and him that dyeth
in the fields, shal the foules of the ayre eat.

But there was none like Aháb, who did sell him selfe, to worke wickednes in the sight of the Lord: whome Iezébel his wife prouoked.

For he did exceedig abominably in following idoles, accordig to all that the Am-morites did, whome the Lord cast out before the children of Isráel.

Now when Aháb heard those wordes,
he rent his clothes, and put sackcloth vpō
him and fasted, and lay in sackcloth and went softly.

And the worde of the Lord came to E-liáh the Tishbite, saying,

Seest thou how Aháb is humbled before me? because he submitteth him selfe before me, I wil not bring thar euil in his day-es, but in his sonnes dayes wil I bringe-uill vpon his house.

deliuer it into the hands of the King.

<sup>7</sup> And Iehoshaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet of the Lord more, that we might inquire of him?

<sup>8</sup> And the King of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat, There is yet one man (Michaiah the sonne of Imiah) by whome we may aske counsell of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doeth not prophesie good vnto me, but euil. An Iehoshaphat said, Let not the King say so.

<sup>10</sup> And the King of Israel & Iehoshaphat
the King of Iudah sat either of them on his throne in their apparel in the voyde

before them.

<sup>11</sup> And Zedekiah the sonne of Chanaanah
made him honours of iron, & said, Thus sayth the Lord, With these shalt thou

<sup>12</sup> And all the Prophetes prophecied so, saying, Go vp to Ramoth Gilead, & prosper:
for the Lord shal deliuer it into the

declare good vnto the King with one accorde: let thy worde therefore, I pray thee, be like the worde of one of them, &
speake thou good.

said vnto him, Michaiah, shal we go against Ramoth Gilead to battel, or shal we prosper: and the Lord shal deliuer it into the hand of the King.

40 And the King of Israél said to Iehoshaphát, I wil change mine apparel, and wil entre into the battel, but put thou on thine apparel. And the King of Israél changed him selfe, and went into the battel.

41 And the King of Arám commanded his two & thirtie captaines ouer his charretts, saying, Fight nether with smal, nor great, saue onely against the King of Israél.

42 And when the captaines of the charets sawe Iehoshaphát, they said, Surely it is y King of Israél, & they turned to fight against him: and Iehoshaphát cryed.

43 And when the captaines of the charets sawe that he was not the King of Israél, they turned backe from him.

44 Then a certeine man drue a bowe mightely and smote the King of Israél betwene the ioyntes of his brigadine. Wherefore he said vnto his charet man, Turne thine hád & cary me out of the holte: for I am hurt.

45 And the battel encreased that day, and the King stode stil in his charet against the Aramites, and dyed at euen: and the blood ran out of the wounde into the middest of the charet.

46 And there went a proclamatiō through out y holte about the going downe of the sunne, saying, Euerly man to his citie, and euerly man to his owne countrei.

47 So the King dyed, and was broght to Samaria, & they buryed y King in Samaria.

50 So Aháb slept with his fathers, & Ahaziáh his sonne reigned in his steade.

51 And Iehoshaphát the sonne of Asá began to reigne vpon Iudáh in the fourth yere of Aháb King of Israél.

42 Iehoshaphát was fise and thirtie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned fise and twentie yere in Ierusalém. And his mothers name was Azubáh the daughter of Shilhi.

43 And he walked in all the wayes of Asá his father, and declined not therefrom, but did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord. Neuertheles the hie places were not taken away: for the people offered still and burnt incense in the hie places.

44 And Iehoshaphát made peace with the King of Israél.

45 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoshaphát, and his worthie dedes that he did, and his battels which he fought, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

46 And the Sodomites, which remained in the dayes of his father Asá, he put cleane out of the land.

47 There was then no King in Edóm: the deputie was King.

48 Iehoshaphát made shippes of Tharshish to saile to Ophir for golde, but they wēt not, for the shippes were broken at Ezión Gáber.

49 Then said Ahaziáh the sonne of Aháb vnto Iehoshaphát, Let my seruáts go with thy seruáts in y shippes. But Iehoshaphát wolde not.

50 And Iehoshaphát did slepe with his fathers, & was buryed with his fathers in the citie of Dauid his father and Iehorám his sonne reigned in his steade.

51 Ahaziáh the sonne of Aháb began to reigne ouer Israél in Samaria, the seuententh yere of Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh, & reigned two yeres ouer Israél.

52 But he did euil in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the way of his father, & in the way of his mother, and in the way of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne.

THE SECONDE BOKE of the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

This seconde boke containeth the actes of the Kings of Iudáh and Israél: to wit, of Israél, from the death of Aháb vnto the last King Hoshea, who was imprisoned by the King of Assyria, & his citie Samaria taken, & the tribes by the iuste plague of God for their idolatry & disledience to God led into captiuitie. And also of Iudáh frothe reigne of Iehorám sonne of Iehoshaphát vnto Zedekiah who for contemning the Lords commandement by his Prophetes, & neglecting his sundry admonitions, by famine & other meanes was taken by his enemies, sawe his sonnes moste cruelly slaine before his face, & his owne eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his Prophet Ieremie: and also by the iuste vengeance of God for contempt of his worde Ierusalém was destroyed, the Temple burnt, and he and all his people were led away captiues into Babylon. In this booke are notable examples of Gods favour towards those rulers and people which obey his Prophets and embrace his word: and contrary wise of his plagues towards those commanders which neglect his ministers and do not obey his commandments.

CHAP. I.

3 Ahaziah by a fall falleth sicke & is cured by Elisha. 10 The captains ouer fifty were sent to Elisha, whereof two were burnt with fire from heaven by his prayer. 17 Ahaziah dyeth, and Iehorám his brother succedeth him.

1 Hen Moab rebelled against Israel after the death of Aháb:

And Ahaziah fell through the lattice window in his upper chamber which was in Samaria: so he was sick: then he sent messengers, to whome he said, Go, & enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron, if I shall recover of this my disease.

Then the Angel of the Lord said to Elisha the Tishbite, Arise, & go vp to mete the messengers of the King of Samaria, and say vnto them, Is it not because there is no God in Israel, that ye go to inquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron?

Wherefore thus sayth the Lord, Thou shalt not come downe from the bed on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death. So Elisha departed.

And the messengers returned vnto him, to whome he said, Why are ye now returned?

And they answered him, There came a man and met vs, and said vnto vs, Go, and returne vnto the King which sent you, and say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Is it not because there is no God in Israel, that thou sendest to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron? Therefore thou shalt not come downe from the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death.

And he said vnto them, What manner of man was he which came and met you, and tolde you these wordes?

And they said vnto him, He was an heerie man, and girded with a girdle of lether about his loynes. Then said he, It is Elisha the Tishbite.

Therefore the King sent vnto him a captain ouer fiftie with his fiftie men, who went vp vnto him: for beholde, he sate on the toppe of a mountaine, & he said vnto him, O man of God, the King hath commanded that thou come downe.

But Elisha answered, & said to the captain ouer the fiftie, If that I be a man of God, let fyre come downe from the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fiftie. So fyre came downe from the heauen and deuoured him and his fiftie.

11 Again he sent vnto him another captain ouer fiftie, with his fiftie. Who spake, and said vnto him, O man of God, thus the King commandeth, Come downe quickly.

12 But Elisha answered & said vnto them, If I be a man of God, let fyre come downe from the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fiftie. So fyre came downe from the heauen, and deuoured him and his fiftie.

13 Yet againe he sent the third captain ouer fiftie with his fiftie. And the third captain ouer fiftie went vp & came, & fel on his knees before Elisha, & besought him, & said vnto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life and the life of these thy fiftie seruantes be precious in thy sight.

14 Beholde, there came fyre downe from the heauen and deuoured the two former captains ouer fiftie with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy sight.

15 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Elisha, Go downe with him, be not afraid of his presence. So he arose, and wet downe with him vnto the King.

16 And he said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast sent messengers to inquire of Baal-zebub the God of Ekron, (was it not because there was no God in Israel to inquire of his word: therefore thou shalt not come downe of the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death.)

17 So he dyed according to the worde of the Lord which Elisha had spoken. And Iehorám bega to reigne in his steade, in the seconde yere of Iehorám the sonne of Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, because he had no sonne.

18 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ahaziah, that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

CHAP. II.

2 Elisha deuoureth the waters with his cloke. 11 He is taken vp into heauen. 13 Elisha taketh his cloke & deuoureth Iordan. 20 The bitter and venomous waters are healed. 23 The children that mocke Elisha, are sent in punishment with beastes.

And when the Lord wolde take vp Elisha into heauen by a whirle wind, Elisha went with Elisha from Gilgal.

Then Elisha said to Elisha, Tary here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent me to Beth-el. But Elisha said, As the Lord liueth, & as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. So they came downe to Beth-el.

And the children of the were at Beth-el, came said vnto him, Knowest thou wilt take thy matter from day? And he said, Yea, I will.

4 Again Elisha said, Tary here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent me to Jericho. But he liueth, and as thy soule leaue thee. So they came to Jericho, and as they were at Jericho, came vnto him, Knowest thou wilt take thy matter from day? And he said, Yea, I will.

6 Moreouer Elisha said, I pray thee, here for the Lord to Iordan. But he said, I will. And as thy soule liueth, I will.

7 So they went bothe together. And fiftie men of the prophets went and stode on the bare of, and thei two fifties.

8 Then Elisha toke his staffe, and smote it, and they were deuised betwixt thei twaine went ouer the water.

9 Now when thei were past, Elisha said, A fike wether before I be taken vp. Elisha said, I pray thee, double vpon me.

10 And he said, Thou hast thing: yet if thou se me from thee, thou shalt haue it: it shall not be.

11 And as thei went walking, there appeared and horsen of fyre, and double twaine. So Elisha went into heauen.

12 And Elisha sawe it, and said, my father, the children of the horsemen therof: & more: and he toke his staffe, and smote it, and they were deuised betwixt thei twaine went ouer the water.

13 He toke vp also the staffe that fel from him, and re by the banke of Iordan.

14 After, he toke the cloke that fel from him, and smote it, and he him selfe: Again the waters, and thei went waye and that waye: ouer.

15 And when the children, which were at Jericho, the other side, they said to Elisha doeth rest on Elisha to meete him, & fel to the ground.

3 And

And the children of the Prophetes that were at Beth-el, came out to Elishá, and said vnto him, Knowest thou that y<sup>e</sup> Lord
wil take thy master from thy head this
day? And he said, Yea, I knowe it: holde
ye your peace.

Againe Elishá said vnto him, Elishá,
tary here, I pray thee: for the Lord hathe sent me to Ierichó. But he said, As y<sup>e</sup> Lord liue, and as thy soule liue, I wil not leave thee. So thei came to Ierichó.

And the children of the Prophetes that
were at Ierichó, came to Elishá, & said
vnto him, Knowest thou, that the Lord
wil take thy master from thy head this
day? And he said, Yea, I knowe it: holde
ye your peace.

Moreover Elishá said vnto him, Tary, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hathe sent me to Iordén. But he said, As the Lord liue, and as thy soule liue, I wil not leave thee.
So they went bothe together.

And fiftie men of the sonnes of the Prophetes went and stode on the other side a-shire of, and thei two stode by Iordén.

Then Elishá toke his cloke, and wrapt
it together, and smote the waters, and they were deuided bether and thether; &
thei twaine went ouer on the drye land.

Now when they were passed ouer, Elishá said vnto Elishá, Aske what I shal do for thee before I be taken frō thee. And Elishá said, I pray thee, Let thy Spirit be double vpon me.

And he said, Thou hast asked an hard thing: yet if thou se me when I am tak n
from thee, thou shalt haue it so: & if not,
it shal not be.

And as thei went walking and talking,
beholde, there appeared a chariot of fyre,
and horses of fyre, and did separate them
twaine. So Elishá went vp by a whylewinde into heauen.

And Elishá sawe it, and he cryed, My father, my father, the chariot of Israël, and the horsen thereof: & he sawe him no
more: and he toke his owne clothes, & rent
them in two pieces.

He toke vp also the cloke of Elishá
that fel from him, and returned, and stode
by the banke of Iordén.

After, he toke the cloke of Elishá, that fel from him, and smote the waters, and said, Where is the Lord God of Elishá, and he him selfe? Againe also he smote
the waters, and thei were separated this waye and that waye: and Elishá went ouer.

And when the children of the Prophetes, which were at Ierichó, sawe him on the other side, they said, The Spirit of Elishá doeth rest on Elishá: and they came to meete him, & fel to the ground: before
him.

And said vnto him, Beholde now, there be with thy seruants fiftie strong men: let them go, we pray thee, and sike thy master, if so be the Spirit of the Lord hathe taken him vp, and cast him vpon some mountaine, or into some valley. But he said, Ye shal not send.

Yet they were instant vpon him, til he was ashamed: wherefore he said, Send. So thei sent fiftie me, which foght thre daies,
but founde him not.

Therefore thei returned to him, (for he taried at Ierichó) and he said vnto them,
Did not I say vnto you, Go not?

And the men of the citie said vnto Elishá, Beholde, we pray thee: the situation
of this citie is pleasant, as thou, my lord,
seest, but the water is noghty; & the groude
is barren.

Then he said, Bring me a newe cruse, & put salt therein. And they brought it to
him.

And he went vnto the spring of the waters, and cast there the salt, and said, Thus saith the Lord, I haue healed this water: death shal no more come thereof,
neither barrennes to the ground.

So the waters were healed vntil this day, according to y<sup>e</sup> worde of Elishá which he had spoken.

And he wet vp from thence vnto Beth-
el. And as he was going vp the waye, litle children came out of the citie, and mocked him, and said vnto him, Come vp, thou balde head, come vp, thou balde head.

And he turned backe, & looked on them,
and cursed them in the Name of the Lord. And two beares came out of the forest, and tare in pieces two and fourtie
children of them.

So he went from thence to mount Carmél, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

Now Iehorám the sonne of Aháb began to reigne ouer Israël in Samaria, the eighteenth yere of Iehoshaphat
King of Iudah, & reigned twelue yers.

And he wrought euill in the sight of the Lord, but not like his father nor like his mother: for he toke away the image of Baal that his father had made.

Nevertheless, he cleaued vnto the sinnes
of Iehoboám, the sonne of Nebat, who made Israél to sinne, & departed not therefro.

Then Mesha King of Moab had store of shepe, and rendred vnto the King of Israël an hundred thousand lambes.

8 And on a time Elisha came to Shunē, &
there a woman of great estimation constrained him to eat bread: and as he passed by,
he turned in thither to eat bread.

9 And she said vnto her housbād, Beholde,
I knowe now, that this is an holie man of God that passeth by vs continually.

10 Let vs make him a litle chamber, I pray thee, with wālies, and let vs set him
there a bed and a table & a stole, and a ca-

11 And on a day, he came thither and turned into the chamber, and laye therein,

12 And said to Gehazi his seruāt, Call this Shunammite: and when he called her, she stode before him.

13 Then he said vnto him, Say vnto her now, Beholde, thou hast had all this great care for vs, what shal we do for thee?
Is there anie thing to be spokē for thee to the King or to the capitaine of the hostes?
And she answered, I dwell among mine
owne people.

14 Again he said, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazi answered, In dede she hathe no sonne, and her housband is olde.

15 Thē said he, Call her. And he called her,
and she stode in the dore.

16 And he said, At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a sonne. And she said, Oh my lord, thou man of God, do not lye vnto thine
handmaid.

17 So the womā conceiued, and bare a sonne at that same season, according to the time of life, that Elisha had said vnto her.

18 And when the childe was growen, it fel on a day, that he went out to his father, &
to the reapers.

19 And he said to his father, Mine head, mine head. Who said to his seruāt, Bear-
e him to his mother.

20 And he toke him and broght him to his mother, & he sate on her knees til noone,
and dyed.

21 Then she went vp, and layed him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the dore
vpon him, and went out.

22 Then she called to her housband, and said, Send with me, I pray thee, one of the yong mē & one of the asses: for I will haste

to the man of God, and come againe.

23 And he said, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day? is it either a newe moone nor Sabbath day. And she answered, All shalbe wel.

24 Then she saddled an asse, and said to her seruāt, Dryue, and go forward: stay not for me to get vp: except I bid thee.

25 So she went, & came vnto the man of God to mount Carmel. And whe the man of God saw her ouer against him, he said to Gehazi his seruāt, Beholde, the Shu-nammite.

26 Runne now, I say, to mete her, and say
vnto her, Art thou in helthe? is thine hous-
band in helthe? & is the childe in helthe?
And she answered, We are in helthe.

27 And when she came to the man of God
vnto the mountaine, she caught him by his fete: and Gehazi went to her to thrust
her away: but the man of God said, Let her alone: for her soule is vexed within her,
and the Lord hathe hid it from me, and
hathe not tolde it me.

28 Then she said, Did I desire a sonne of my lord? did I not say? Discerne me not.

29 Thē he said to Gehazi, Gird thy loynes, and take my staffe in thine hand, and go thy way: if thou mete anie, salute him
not: and if anie salute thee, answer him not: and lay my staffe vpon the face of the childe.

30 And the mother of the childe said, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. Therefore he arose, and followed her.

31 But Gehazi was gone before thē, & had layed the staffe vpon the face of the childe,
but he nether spake nor heard: wherefore
he returned to mete him and tolde him,
saying, The childe is not waken.

32 Then came Elisha into the house, and beholde, the childe was dead, and layed
vpon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and shut the dore
vpon them twaine, and prayed vnto the Lord.

34 After he went vp, and lay vpon the
childe, and put his mouth on his mouth,
and his eyes vpon his eyes, and his hands
vpon his hands, and stretched him selfe
vpon him, & the flesh of the childe waxed warne.

35 And he wet from him, and walked vp and
downe in the house, & went vp and spied him selfe vpon him: then the childe needed seven times, and opened his eyes.

36 Then he called Gehazi, and said, Call this Shunammite. So he called her, which came in vnto him. And he said vnto her, Take thy sonne.

spared this Aramite Naamán, receiuing
not those things at his hád that he brought:
as the Lord liueth, I wil run after him, and take somewhat of him.

So Gehazi followed speedely after Naamán.
And when Naamán sawe him running after him, <sup>1</sup> he light downe from the

And he answered, All is wel: my master hath sent me; saying, Beholde, there be-the Prophetes: giue them, I pray thee, a talent of siluer, and two chāge of garmets.

And Naamán said, Yea, take two talēts:
and he compelled him, and bounde two talents of siluer in two bags, with two change of garments, and gaue them vnto two of his seruants, that they might beare them
before him.

And when he came to the towre, he toke
them out of their háds, and layed them
in the house, and sent away the men: and they departed.

Then he went in, and stode before his master. And Elifhá said vnto him, Whēce comest thou, Gehazi? And he said, Thy seruant went no whether.

But he said vnto him, Went not mine heart with thee when the man turned agai-ne from his char et to meete thee? Is this a time to take money, and to receiue garments, and olives, and vineyardes, and

And he wēt out from his presēce a lepre

And the childre of the Prophetes said
vnto Elifhá, Beholde, we pray thee,
the place where we dwel with thee, is to little for vs.

Let vs now go to Iordén, that we may take thence euerie man a beame, and make vs a place to dwel in. And he answered,

And one said, vouchsafe, I pray thee, to go with thy seruants. And he answered, I wil go.

So he went with them, and when they came to Iordén, they cut downe wood.

And as one was felling of a tre, the yron
fel into the water: thē he cryed, & said, Alas master, it was but borrowed.

And the man of God said, Where fel it?
And he shewed him the place. Then he cut downe a piece of wood, and cast in thether,
and he caused the yron to swimme.

Then he said, Take it vp to thee. And he stretched out his hand, and toke it.

Then the King of Arám warred againt
Israel and toke counsel with his seruants,
and said, In suche and suche a place shal

Therefore the man of God sent vnto the King of Israel, saying, Beware thou go

And the heart of the King of Arám was troubled for this thing: therefore he called his seruants and said vnto them, Wil-ye not shew me, which of vs bewraisth our counsel to the King of Israel?

Then one of his seruants said, None, my lord, o King, but Elifhá the Prophet that is in Israel, telleth the King of Israel, euen
the wordes that thou speakest in thy pri-uie chamber.

And he said, Go, and espie where he is,
that I may send and fetch him. And one tolde him, sayig, Beholde, he is in Dothán.

So he sent thether horses, and charrets,
and a mightie hoste: and they came by night, and compassed the citie.

And when the seruant of the mā of God
arose early to go out, beholde, an hoste
compassed the citie with horses and charets. Then his seruant said vnto him, Alas master, how shal we do?

And he answered, Feare not: for they
that be with vs, are mo then they that be with them.

Then Elifhá prayed, & said, Lord, I be-seche thee, opē his eyes, that he maie see.
And the Lord opened the eyes of the ser-
uāt, & he looked, & beholde, the mountaine
was ful of horses & charrets of fyre round about Elifhá.

So they came downe to him, but Elifhá prayed vnto the Lord, & said, Smitethis people, I pray thee, with blindness. And he smote them with blindness, according to the worde of Elifhá.

And Elifhá said vnto them, This is not
the way, neither is this the citie: followe

11 And the porters cryed and declared to the Kings house within.

12 Then the King arose in the night, and said vnto his seruants, I wil shewe you now, what the Aramites haue done vnto vs. They knowe that we are affamished, therefore they are gone out of the campe to hide them selues in the field, saying, When thei come out of the citie, we shal cathe them aliue, and get into the citie.

13 And one of his seruants answered, and said, Let men take now five of the horses that remaine, & are left in the citie, beholde, they are euen as all the multitude of Israël that are left therein: beholde, I say, they are as the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed, & we wil send to se.

14 So they toke two charrets of horses, and the King sent after the hoste of the Aramites, saying, Go and se.

15 And they went after them vnto Iordén, and lo, all the way was ful of clothes and vessels which the Aramites had cast from them in their haste: & the messengers returned, and tolde the King.

CHAP. VIII.

2 Elisha prophesieth vnto the Shunammite the death of her son. 12 He prophesieth to Hazael that he shalbe King of Syria. 15 He reigneth after Benhadad. 16 Jeho- ram reigneth ouer Iudah. 20 Edom falleth from Iu- dah. Obadiah succedeth Iehoram.

Then spake Elisha vnto the woman, whose sonne he had restored to life, saying, Vp, and go, thou, and thine house, and sojourn where thou canst sojourn: for the Lord hath called for a famine, &

it cometh also vpon the land seuen yeres.

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God, and went bothe she & her housholde and sojourned in the land of the Philistims seuen yeres.

3 And at the seuen yeres end, the woman returned out of the land of the Philistims and went out to call vpon the King for her house and for her land.

4 And the King talked with Gehazi the seruāt of the man of God, saying, Tel me, I praye thee, all the great adcs, that Elisha hath done.

5 And as he tolde the King, how he had restored one dead to life, beholde, the woman, whose sonne he had raised to life, called vpon the King for her house & for her land. Then Gehazi said, My lord, O King, this is the woman, and this is her sonne, whome Elisha restored to life.

6 And when the King asked the womā, she tolde him: so the King appointed her an Eunuche, saying, Restore thou all that are hers, and all the frutes of her landes since y<sup>e</sup> day she left the land, euē vntil this time.

7 Then Elisha came to Damascus, & Benhadad the King of Aram was sicke. & one tolde him, saying, The man of God is come hether.

8 And the King said vnto Hazaél, Take a present in thine hand, and go mete the man of God, that thou maiest inquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shal I recouer of this disease?

9 So Hazaél went to mete him, and toke the present in his hand, and of euerie good thing of Damascus, euen the burden of forty camels, and came and stode before him, and said, Thy sonne Benhadad King of Aram hath sent me to thee, saying, Shal I recouer of this disease?

10 And Elisha said to him, Go, & say vnto him, Thou shalt recouer: howbeit y<sup>e</sup> Lord hath shewed me, that he shal surely dye.

11 And he lokd vpon him stedfastly til Hazaél was ashamed, and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazaél said, Why wepeth my lord? And he answered, Because I knowe the euil that thou shalt do vnto the children of Israël: for their strong cities shalt thou set on fyre, and their yōg men shalt thou slay with the sward, and shalt dash their infants against the stones, & rent in pieces their women with childe.

13 Then Hazaél said, What is thy seruāt as dog, that I shulde do this great thing? And Elisha answered, The Lord hath shewed me, y<sup>e</sup> thou shalt be King of Aram.

14 So he departed from Elisha, and came to his master, who said to him, What said Elisha to thee? And he answered, He tolde me that thou shuldest recouer.

the sonne in lawe of the house of Aháb.

28 And he went with Iorám the sonne of Aháb to warre agáinst Hazaél King of A-

on the top of the staires, and blewé the trumpet, saying, Iehú is King.

14 So Iehú the sonne of Iehoshaphát the sonne of Nimshi cospired against Iorám (Now Iorám kept Ramóth Giléad, he &
all Israel because of Hazaél King of A. am.

15 And *King Iorám returned to be healed in Izreél of the woundes, which the Aramites had giuen him, when he foght
with Hazaél King of Arám) and Iehú said, If it be your mindes, let no man de-relin Izreél.

16 So Iehú gate vp into a charet, and went to Izreél: for Iorám laye there, and * Ahaz-iah King of Iudáh was come downe to se Iorám.

17 And the watchman that stode in the towre in Izreél, spied the companie of Iehú as he came, and said, I se a companie.
And Iehorám said, Take a horse man and send to mete them, that he may say, Is it peace?

18 So there went one on horsebacke to mete
him, and said, Thus saith the King, Is it peace? And Iehú said, What hast thou to do with peace? turne behinde me. And the watchman tolde, saying, The messenger came to them, but he commeth not again.

19 Then he sent out another on horsebac-ke, which came to them, and said, Thus saith the King, Is it peace? And Iehú answered, What hast thou to do with peace?
turne behinde me.

20 And the watchman tolde, saying, He came to them also, but commeth not againe,
and the marching is like the marching of Iehú the sonne of Nimshi: for he marcheth furiously.

21 Then Iehorám said, Make readie: and his charet was made readie. And Iehorám King of Israel and Ahaziah King of Iudáh went out ether of them in his cha-ret against Iehú, and met him in the field of Nabóth the Izreelite.

22 And when Iehorám sawe Iehú, he said,
Is it peace, Iehú? And he answered, What is peace? the whoredomes of thy mother Iezébel, and her witchcraftes are yet in great number.

23 Then Iehorám turned his hand, & fled,
and said to Ahaziah, O Ahaziah, there is treason.

24 But Iehú toke a howe in his hand, and smote Iehorám betwene the sholders, that the arrowe went through his heart; and he fel downe in his charet.

25 The said Iehú to Bédkar a captaine, Take, & cast him in some place of the field of Nabóth the Izreelite: for I remember that when I and thou rode together after Aháb his father, the Lord layed this burden vpon him.

26 * Surely I haue sene yesterday the blood
of Nabóth, and the blood of his sonnes,
said the Lord, and I wil render it thee in this field, saith the Lord: now therefore take and cast him in the field, according to the worde of the Lord.

27 But when Ahaziah the King of Iudáh
sawe this, he fled by the way of the garde
house: and Iehú pursued after him, & said, Smite him also in the charet: & thei smote
him in the going vp to Gur, which is by Ibleám. And he fled to Megiddó, and there dyed.

28 And his seruants caryed him in a charet
to Ierusalem, & buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in y citie of Dauid.

29 And in the eleuenth yere of Ioram
the sonne of Aháb, begā Ahaziah to reigne ouer Iudáh.

30 And when Iehú was come to Izreél, Ie-zébel heard of it, and painted her face, and tired her head, & looked out at a wyndow.

31 And as Iehú entred at the gate, she said,
Had I Zimri peace, w slewe his master?

32 And he lift vp his eyes to the windowe, and said, Who is on my side, who? Then two or thre of her Eunuches looked vnto
him.

33 And he said, Cast her downe: and they cast her downe, and he sprinkled of her blood vpon the wall, and vpon the horses,
and he trode her vnder fote.

34 And whē he was come in, he did eat and drinke, and said, Visite now vnder cursed woman, and bury her: for she is a Kings daughter.

35 And thei went to bury her, but thei fou-
de no more of her then the skul & the fete,
and the palmes of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came againe and tolde
him. And he said, This is the worde of the Lord, which he spake by his seruāt Elijah
the Tishbite, saying, * In the field of Izre-él shal the dogs eat the flesh of Iezébel.

37 And the carkeis of Iezébel shalbe as dounge vpō the grounde in the field of Iz-

CHAP. X.

Iehú causeth the seuentie sonnes of Aháb to be slayne.
13 And after that forty and two of Amazians brethren. 25 He killeth also all the priests of Baal. 33 After his death his sonne reigneth in his steade.

A Háb had now seuentie sonnes in Samaria. And Iehú wrote letters, & sent to Samaria vnto the rulers of Izreél, & to the Elders, and to the bringers vp of Ahabs children, to this effect,

Now when this letter commeth to you,

Beholde, two Kings coulde not ſtand before him, how ſhal we then ſtand?

5 And he that was gouernour of Ahabs
houſe, and he that ruled the citie, and the Elders, and the bringers vp of the childre
ſent to Iehú, ſaying, We are thy ſeruants, and wil do all that thou ſhalt byd vs: we wil make no King: do what ſemeth good
to thee.

6 ¶ Then he wrote another letter to them,
ſaying, If ye be mine, & wil obey my voice,
c take the heades of the men that are your masters ſonnes, and come to me to Izreél
by tomorrowe this time. (Now the Kings ſonnes, euen ſeuenty perſones were with the great men of the citie, which brought them vp)

7 And when the letter came to them, they toke the Kings ſonnes, and ſlew the ſeuenty perſones, and laied their heades in baskets, and ſent them vnto him to Izreél.

8 ¶ Then there came a meſſenger & tolde
him, ſaying, Thei haue brought the heades of the Kings ſonnes. And he ſaid, Let the ſay them onto two heapes at the entring in
of the gate vntill the morning.

9 And whē it was day, he went out, & ſtoode
& ſaid to all the people, Ye be d righteous:
beholde, I conſpired againſt my maſter, &
ſlew him: but who ſlew all theſe?

10 Knowe now that there ſhal fall vnto the earth nothing of the worde of the Lord,
which the Lord ſpake concerning y<sup>e</sup> houſe of Aháb: for the Lord hathe brought to paſſe the things that he ſpake" by his ſeruant * Eliáh.

11 So Iehú ſlew all that remayned of the houſe of Aháb in Izreél, and all that were great with him, and his familiars and his c priests, ſo that he let none of his re-maine.

12 ¶ And he aroſe, and departed, and came to Samaria. And as Iehú was in the waye
by an houſe where the ſhepherdes did ſtand,

13 He met with the brethren of Ahaziáh King of Iudah and ſaid, Who are ye? And thei answered, We are the brethren of A-haziáh, & go downe to ſalute the childre n of the King and the children of the queene.

14 And he ſaid, Take them alieue. And thei toke them alieue, & ſlew them at the well
beſide the houſe where y<sup>e</sup> ſhepe are ſhorne, euen two and fourtie men, and he l left not one of them.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he met with Iehonadáb the ſonne of Rechab

comming to mete him, and he b bleſſed
him, and ſaid to him, Is thine heart ve-right, as mine heart is toward thine? And Iehonadáb answered, Yea, douteles. Then giue me thine hand. And when he had gi-uen him his hand, he toke him vp to himſelf into the charer.

16 And he ſaid, Come with me, and ſee the zeale that I haue for the Lord: ſo that he made him ryde in his charer.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he ſlew
all that remained vnto Aháb in Samaria, till he had deſtroyed him, according to the worde of the Lord, which he ſpake to E-liáh.

18 Then Iehú aſſembled all the people, and ſaid vnto them, Aháb ſerued b Báal a litle, but Iehú ſhal ſerue him muche
more.

19 Now therefore call vnto me all the prophets of Báal, all his ſeruants, and all his priests, and let not a man be lacking: for I
haue a great ſacrifice for Báal: whoſe ſoules is lacking, he ſhal not liue. But Iehú did it by a ſubtiltie to deſtroye the ſeruants of Báal.

20 And Iehú ſaid, "Proclaime a ſolemne aſſemblic for Báal. And thei proclaimed it.

21 So Iehú ſent vnto all Izreél, and all the ſeruants of Báal came, and there was not a ma left that came nor. And thei came into the houſe of Báal, & the houſe of Báal was ful from end to end.

22 Then he ſaid vnto him that had y<sup>e</sup> charge of the veſtrey, Bring forth the veſtments for all the ſeruants of Báal. And he brought them out veſtments.

23 And when Iehú went, & Iehonadáb the ſonne of Rechab into the houſe of Báal,
he ſaid vnto the ſeruants of Báal, Search diligently, and loke, leſt there be here with you any of the c ſeruants of the Lord, burne
the ſeruants of Báal onely.

24 And when thei went in to make ſacrifices
& burne offring, Iehú appointed foureſcore men without, and ſaid, If anie of the men
whome I haue brought into your hands
eſcape, c his ſoule ſhal be for his ſoule.

25 And when he had made an end of the burnt offring, Iehú ſaid to the garce, and to the captaines, Go in, ſlaye them, let not a man come out. And thei ſmote the with the edge of the ſworde. And the garce, and the captaines caſt them out, & went vnto
the k citie, where was the temple of Báal.

26 And they brought out the images of the temple of Báal, and burnt them.

27 And they deſtroyed the image of Báal,
and threwe downe the houſe of Báal, and made a iakes of it vnto this day.

28 So Iehú deſtroyed Báal out of Izreél.

bout; euerie man with his weapon in his hand, and whosoever commeth within the ranges, lethem be slaine: be you with the King, as he goeth out and in.

9 ¶ And the captaines of the hundreths did according to all that Iehoiadā the Priest
cōmanded, & they toke euerie man his mē
that entred in to their charge on the Sab bath with them: that went out of it on the Sabbath, and came to Iehoiadā the Priest.

10 ¶ And the Priest gaue to the captaines of hundreths the speares and the shields that were King Dauids, and were in the house
of the Lord.

11 And the garde stode, euerie mā with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the house to the left side, about the altar &
about the house, round about the King.

12 Then he brought out the Kings sonne,
and put the crowne vpon him and gaue him
the Testimonie, & they made him King:
also they annointed him, and clapt their hands, and said, God saue the King.

13 ¶ And when Athaliáh heard the noyse of the running of the people, she came in to the people in the house of the Lord.

14 And when she looked, beholde, the King
stode by a pillar, as the maner was, and
the princes and the trūpeters by the King,
and all the people of the land reioyced, &
blue with trumpets. Then Athaliáh rent
her clothes, and cryed, Treason, treason.

15 But Iehoiadā the Priest commanded the captaines of the hūdreths that had the rule of the holte, and said vnto them, I haue
her forthe of the ranges, & he that fol loweth her, let him dye by the sword: for the Priest had said, let her not be slaine

Iehoaſh maketh prouiſion for the repairing of the Temple. 16 He ſlayeth the King of Syria by a preſent ſending againſt Ieruſalem. 20 He is killed by two of his ſeruants.

2 Chron. 24. 1. IN the ſeuēth yere of Iehú Iehoaſh began to reigne, and reigned fourty yeres in Ieruſalem, and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-ſheba.

2 And Iehoaſh did that which was good in the ſight of the Lord all his time that Iehoiada the Prielt taught him.

But the hie places were not taken away: for the people offered yet and burnt incenſe in the hie places.

¶ And Iehoaſh ſaid to the Priests, All the ſiluer of dedicate things that be brought to the houſe of the Lord, that is, the money of them that are vnder the counthe, the money that euerie man is ſet at, and all the money that one offereth willingly, and bringeth into the houſe of the Lord,

Let the Priests take it to them, euerie mā of his acquaintance: and they ſhal repaire the broken places of the houſe, whereſoeuer anie decaye is found.

¶ Yet in the thre and twentieth yere of King Iehoaſh the Priests had not mēded that which was decayed in the Temple.

¶ Then King Iehoaſh called for Iehoiada the Prielt, and the other Priests, and ſaid vnto them, Why repaire ye not the ruines of the Temple? now therefore receiue nomore money of your acquaintance, excepte ye deliuer it to repaire the ruines of the Temple.

So the Priests conſented to receiue nomore money of the people, nether to repaire the decayed places of the Temple.

¶ Then Iehoiada the Prielt toke a cheſt & bored an hole in the lid of it, and ſet it beſide the altar, on the rightſide, as euerie man cometh into the Temple of the Lord. And the Priests that kept the dore, put therein all the money that was brought into the houſe of the Lord.

¶ And when they ſawe there was muche money in the cheſt, the Kings ſecrerary came vp & the hie Prielt, and put it vp after that they had tolde the money that was founde in the houſe of the Lord,

¶ And they gaue the money made ready into the hands of them, ſ that vndertoke the worke, and that had the ouertight of the houſe of the Lord: and they payed it

And to the masons and hewers of ſtone, and to bye tymber and hewed ſtone, to repaire that was decayed in the houſe of the Lord, and for all that which was layed out for the reparacion of the Temple.

¶ Howbeit there was not made for the houſe of the Lord bowles of ſiluer, inſtrūments of muſike, bazons, trumpets, nor any veſſels of golde, or veſſels of ſiluer of the money that was brought into the houſe of the Lord.

¶ But they gaue it to the workemē, which repaired therewith the houſe of the Lord.

¶ Moreover, they rekened not with the men, into whoſe hands they deliuered that money to be beſtowed on workmen: for they dealt faithfully.

¶ The money of the treſpaſſe offering and the money of the ſinne offerings was not brought into the houſe of the Lord: for it was the Priests.

¶ Then came vp Hazaël King of Arām, and fought againſt Gath and toke it, and Hazaël ſet his face to go vp to Ieruſalem.

¶ And Iehoaſh King of Iudah toke all the hallowed things that Iehoſaphat, & Iehoram, and Ahaziah his fathers Kings of Iudah had dedicate, and that he him ſelf had dedicated, and all the golde that was ſoide in the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord and in the Kings houſe, and ſent it to Hazaël King of Arām, and he departed from Ieruſalem.

And Ioásh slept with his fathers, & Iero-boám sat vpon his seat: & Ioásh was bury-ed in Samaria among the Kings of Israël.

When Elishá fel sicke of his sicknes,
whereof he dyed, Ioásh the King of Israël came downe vnto him, and wept vpon his face, & said, O my father, my father, the charret of Israël, & the horsemē of the fame.

The Elishá said vnto him, Take a bowe
and arrowes. And he toke vnto him bowe and arrowes.

And he said to the King of Israël, Put thine hand vpon the bow. And he put his hand vpon it. And Elishá put his hands
vpon the Kings hands,

And said, Open the window Eastward. And when he had opened it, Elishá said, Shote. And he shot. And he said, Be-holde the arrowe of the Lords deliuerance
& the arrowe of deliuerance against Arám:
for thou shalt smite the Aramites in Aphék,
thou hast consumed them.

Againe he said, Take the arrowes. And he toke them. And he said vnto the King of Israél, Smite the ground. And he smote thrice, and ceased.

Then the man of God was angry with him, and said, Thou shuldest haue smiten fue or sixt times, so thou shuldest haue smi-
ten Arám, til thou hadest consumed it, where now thou shalt, smite Arám but thrice.

So Elishá dyed, & they buryed him.
And certeine bands of the Moabites came into the land that yere.

And as they were burying a man, beholde, they sawe the souldiers: therefore they cast the man into the sepulchre of Eli-
shá. And when the man was downe, & touched the bones of Elishá, he reuiued &
stode vpon his fete.

But Hazaél King of Arám vexed Israël
all the daies of Iehosház.

Therefore the Lord had mercie on the,
and pitied them, and had respect vnto the
because of his couenant with Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakób, and wolde not destroy them, nether cast he them from him as yet.

So Hazaél the King of Arám dyed: and Ben-hadad his sonne reigned in his steade.

Therefore Iehosháh the sonne of Iehosház returned, and toke out of the hād of Ben-hadad the sonne of Hazaél the cities which he had taken away by warre out of the hand of Iehosház his father: for the times
did Ioásh beat him, and restored the cities
vnto Israël.

Then the King of Asshur came vp throughout all the land, and went against Samaria, and besieged it thre yere.

In the ninth yere of Hoshea, the King of Asshur toke Samaria, and caryed Isra-él away vnto Asshur, and put them in Ha-láh, and in Habór by the riuer of Gozán,
and in the cities of the Medes.

For when the children of Israel sinned against the Lord their God, which had brought them out of the land of Egypt, from vnder the hand of Pharaoh King of Egypt, and feared other gods,

And walked according to the facions of the heathen, whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel, and after the manners of the Kings of Israel, which they
vsed,

And the children of Israel had done secretly things that were not vpright before the Lord their God, and throughout all their cities had buyt hie places, bothe from the towre of the watche, to the defensed cite,

And had made them images and groues
vpon euerie hie hil, and vnder euerie
grene tre,

And there burnt incense in all the hie
places, as did the heathē, whome the Lord
had taken away before them, and wrought
wicked things to anger the Lord,

And serued idoles: whereof the Lord
had said vnto them, * Ye shal do no suche
thing,

Notwithstanding the Lord testified to Israel, and to Iudah by all the Prophetes, and by all the Seers, saying, * Turne
from your euil waies, & kepe my comandements & my statutes, according to all the Lawe, which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my ser-uants the Prophetes.

Neuertheles they wolde not obey,
but hardened their neckes, like to the neck-
es of their fathers, that did not beleue
in the Lord their God.

And they refused his statutes and his co-
uenant, that he made with their fathers,
and his testimonies (wherewith he witnessed vnto them) and they followed vanitie,
and became vaine, & followed the heathē
that were rounde about them: concerning whome, the Lord had charged them, that they shulde not do like them.

Finally they left the commandements
of the Lord their God, and made them
molten images, euen two calves, & made a groue, and worshiped all the hostes of heauen, and serued Báal.

And they made their sonnes and their daughters passe through the fyre, and v-

sed witchcraft and enchantements, yea,
folded them selues, to do euil in the sight
of the Lord, to anger him.

Therefore y Lord was exceeding wroth
with Israel, and put them out of his sight,
and none was left but the tribe of Iudáh
onely.

Yet Iudáh kept not the commandemēts
of the Lord their God, but walked according to the facion of Israel, which they
vsed.

Therefore the Lord cast of all the sede
of Israel, and afflicted them, & deliuered them into the hands of spoylers, vntil he had cast them out of his sight.

For he cut of Israel from the house of Dauid, and they made Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát King: & Ieroboám drewe Is-raél away from following the Lord and made them sinne a great sinne.

For the children of Israel walked in all the sinnes of Ieroboám, which he did, and departed not therefrom,

Vntil the Lord put Israel away out of his sight, as he had said by all his seruants
the Prophetes, & caryed Israel away out of their land to Asshur vnto this day.

And the King of Asshur brought folke from Babél, and from Cntháh, and from Auá, and from Hamáth, and from Sepharaím, and placed them in the cities of Samaria in steade of the children of Is-raél: so they possessed Samaria, and dwelt
in the cities therof.

And at the beginning of their dwellig
there, they feared not the Lord: therefore the Lord sent Lyons among them, which slew them.

Wherefore they spake to the King of Asshur, saying, The nations which thou hast remoued, and placed in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the maner of y God
of the land: therefore he hath sent Lyons
among them, and behold, they slay them,
because they knowe not the maner of the God of the land.

Then the King of Asshur commanded,
saying, Cary thether one of the priests,
whome ye brought thence, and let him go
and dwell there, & teache them the maner
of the God of the countrey.

So one of the priests, which they had caryed from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-él, and taught them how they shulde
feare the Lord.

Howbeit euerie náciō made their gods,
and put them in the houses of the hie places, which the Samaritās had made, euerie
nacion in their cities, wherein they dwelt.

g Hezekiah with a great usalem. And they went usalem, and when they
they stode by the condit-le, which is by the path of the King. Then came out to them Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah,

which was steward of the house, & Sheb-náh the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne
of Asaph the recorder.

19 And Rabshaké said vnto them, Telye Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayth the great King, the great King of Ashúr,
What confidence is this wherein y trustest?

20 Thou thinkest surely I haue eloquence, & counsel and strength are for the warre. On whome then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Lo, thou trustest now in this broken staffe of reeds, to wit, on Egypt, on which if a man leane, it wil go into his had, & pearce: for Pharaoh King of Egypt vnto all that trust on him.

22 But if ye say vnto me, We trust in y Lord
our God, is not that he whose hie place,
and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Iudáh and Ierusalem, Ye shal worship before this altar in Ierusalem?

23 Now therefore giue hostages to ry
lord the King of Ashúr, and I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to f riders vpon them.

24 For how canst thou despise anie captain-
e of the least of my masters seruants, & put thy trust on Egypt for charers and hor-smen?

25 Am I now come vp without the lord
to this place, to destroy it? the lord said
to me, Go vp against this lād, & destroy it.

26 Then Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah and Shebna, and Ioah said vnto Rabshaké, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, for we vnderstand it,
and talke not with vs in the Iewes tangue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rabshaké said vnto the, Hathe my master sent me to thy master and to thee
to speake these wordes, and not to the men
which sit on the wall, that they may eat
their owne doung, & drinke their owne
pisse with you?

28 So Rabshaké stode and cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes language, & spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Ashúr.

29 Thus sayth the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shal not be able to deliuer you out of mine hand.

30 Nether let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord wil surely deliuer vs, and this citie shal not be giuen
ouer into the hand of the King of Ashúr.

31 Hearken not vnto Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Ashúr, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that euery man may eat of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figre, and drinke

euery man of the water of his owne well,

32 Til I come, and bring you to a land
like your owne land, euen a land of wheat
and wine, a land of bread and vin yades,
a land of olives oyle, & hony that ye may liue and not dye: and obey not Hezekiah,
for he deceiuech you, saying, The Lord
wil deliuer vs.

33 Hathe anie of the gods of the naciös de-liuered his land out of the hand of the King of Ashúr?

34 Where is the god of Hamáh, and of Arpád? where is the god of Sepharuaim, He-na and Iudáh? how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine han?

35 Who are they among all the gods of the naciös, that haue deliuered their land out of mine hand, that the Lord shulde de-liuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people held their peace, and answered not him a worde: for the Kings commandment was, saying, Answer ye him not.

37 Then Eliakim, the sonne of Hilkiah, who was steward of the house & Shebna the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph
the recorder came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshaké.

CHAP. XIX.

6 God promisseth by Isaiah vnto Hezekiah, 31 The Angel of the Lord killeth an hundred and fourescore
and five thousand men of the Assyrians. 37 Sanche-rib is killed of his owne finnes.

1 And when King Hezekiah heard it, he rent his clothes and put on sack-
clothe, & came into the house of y Lord, 2 And sent Eliakim which was y steward
of the house and Shebna the chancellor,
and the Elders of the Priests clothed in sackcloth, to Isaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amóz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus sayth Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulacion
and of rebuke, & blasphemie: for the children are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

8 ¶ So Rabshakéh returned, and founde the King of Asshúr fighting against Libnáb: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 He heard also men say of Tirhákah King of Ethiopia, Beholke, he is come out to fight against thee: he therefore departed and sent other messengers vnto Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shal ye speake to Hezekiah King of Iudah, & say, Let not thy God deceiue thee in whome thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shal not be deliuered into the hand of the King of Asshúr.

11 Beholke, thou hast heard what the Kings of Asshúr haue doné to all lands, how they haue destroyed them: and shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the heathē deliuered them which my fathers haue destroyed: as Gozán, and Harán, and Rézeph, and the childré of Eden, which were in Thelassar?

13 Where is the King of Hamáth, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hená and Luá?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers, and red it: & Hezekiah wet vp into the house of the Lord, and Hezekiah spred it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed before the Lord, and said, O Lord God of Israel, which dwellest betwene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the king domes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen & the earth.

16 Lord, bowe downe thine eare, and heare: Lord open thine eyes, and beholde, and heare the wordes of Sanherib, who hathe sent to blasphemē the living God.

17 Truth it is, Lord, that the Kings of Asshúr haue destroyed the nations and their lands,

18 And haue set fyre on their gods: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hāds, euen wood and stone: therefore they destroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beseeche thee, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the king domes of the earth may knowe, that thou, O Lord, art only God.

20 ¶ Then Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz sent to Hezekiah, saying, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, I haue heard that which thou hast prayed me, concerning Sanherib King of Asshúr.

21 This is the worde that the Lord hathe spoken against him, O virgine, daughter of Zión, he hathe despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn: O daughter of Ierusalem, he hathe shaken his head at thee.

22 Whome hast thou railled on and whome

hast thou blasphemed: and against whome hast thou exalted thy voyce, and lifted vp thine eyes on heauen, against the Holy one of Israel.

23 By thy messengers thou hast railled on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my charrets I am come vp to the top of the mountaines, by the sides of Lebanon, and wil cut downe the hig cedres thereof, and the faire fyre trees thereof, and I wil go into the lodging of his borders, and into the fort of his Carmel.

24 I haue digged, and dronke the waters of others, and with the plant of my feete haue I dried all the floods closed in.

25 Hast thou not heard, how I haue of olde time made it, and haue formed it long ago: & shulde I nowe bring it, that it shulde be destroyed, and layed on ruinous heapes, as cities defensed?

26 Whose inhabitants haue small power, and are afraid, and confounded: they are like the grasse of the field, and grene herbe, or grasse on the house toppes, or as corne blasted before it be growen.

27 I knowe thy dwelling, yea, thy going out, and thy comming in, and thy fury against me.

28 And because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come vp to mine eares, I wil put mine hoke in thy noddles, and my bridel in thy lippes, & wil bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

29 And this shalbe a signe vnto thee, Hezekiah, Thou shalt eat this yere suche things as growe of the feluses, and the next yere suche as growe without sowing, and the third yere sowe ye and reape, & plant vineyardes, and eat the frutes thereof.

30 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudah, shal againe take root downward, and beare frute vpwarde.

31 For out of Ierusalem shal go a remnant, and some that shal escape out of mount Zión: the zeale of the Lord of holtes shal do this.

32 Wherefore thus saith the Lord, concerning the King of Asshúr, He shal not entre into this citie, nor shote an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

33 But he shal returne the way he came, and shal not come into this citie: sayth the Lord.

34 For I wil defend this citie to saue it for mine owne sake, & for Dauid my seruants sake.

35 ¶ And the same night the Angel of the Lord went out and smote in the campe of Asshúr an hundred foure score and thousānd: so when they rose early in the morning, beholde, they were all dead corpses.

So Sanherib King of Assyria and went his way, and in Niniveh.

CHAP. XX.

Hezekiah is sicke, and receyue the signe of his health.
12 He receyue a reward of Berodach, 23 Sheweth
his treasures, and is reproached of Isaiah. 24 He dyeth
and Manasséh his sonne reigneth in his steade.

ABout that time *was Hezekiah sicke vnto death: and y Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amoz came to him, and said vn-
to him, Thus sayth the Lord, Put thine house in an ordre: for thou shalt dye, and not liue.

Then he turned his face to the wall, &
prayed to the Lord, saying,
I beseeche thee, O Lord, remember now
how I haue walked before thee in truth & with a perfect heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

And asfor Isaiah was gone out into the middle of the court, the worde of the Lord came to him, saying,

Turne againe, and tel Hezekiah the ca-
ptaine of my people, Thus sayth the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, and sene thy teares: behold,
I haue healed thee, and the third day
thou shalt go vp to the house of the Lord,

6 And I wil adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yeres, & wil deliuer thee and this citie out of the hand of the King of Asshur, and wil defend this citie for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

7 Then Isaiah said, Take a lump of drye figs. And they toke it, and layed it on the boyle, and he recovered.

8 For Hezekiah had said vnto Isaiah,
What shall be the signe that the Lord wil heale me, and that I shal go vp into the house of the Lord the third day?

9 And Isaiah answered, This signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord wil
do that he hath spoken, With this that the shadowe go forwarde ten degrees, or go backe ten degrees.

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light
thing for the shadowe to passe forwarde
ten degrees: not so them, but let the sha-
dowe go backe ten degrees.

11 And Isaiah the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and he brought againe the shadowe
ten degrees backe by the degrees whereby
it had gone downe in the dial of Ahaz.

12 The same season Berodach Baladan

the sonne of Baladan King of Babel, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard how that Hezekiah was sicke.

13 And Hezekiah heard them, and shewed
them all his treasure house, to wit, the silver, & the golde, & the spices, and the precious ointment, & all the house of his armour,
and all that was founde in his treasures:
there was nothing in his house, and in all his realme, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

14 Then Isaiah the Prophet came vnto King Hezekiah, and said vnto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They become from a farre country, even from Babel.

15 Then said he, What haue they sene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All
that is in mine house haue they sene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

16 And Isaiah said vnto Hezekiah, Heare
the worde of the Lord.

17 Beholde, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and whatsoever thy fathers haue laied vp in store vnto this day, shall be caried into Babel: Nothing shalbe left,
saith the Lord.

18 And of thy sonnes, that shal procede out of thee, & which thou shalt beget, shal
they take away, and they shalbe eunuches
in the palace of the King of Babel.

19 Then Hezekiah said vnto Isaiah, The worde of the Lord which thou hast spoken, is good: for said he, Shal it not be good,
if in peace and trueth be in my dayes?

and for the people, and for all Iudáh, concerning the wordes of this booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord
that is kindled against vs, because our fathers haue not obeyed the wordes of this booke, to do according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

So Hilkiah the Priest and Ahikám,
and Achbór and Shaphán, and Asahiah went vnto Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallúm, the sonne of Tikuah,
the sonne of Harbás keeper of the wardrobe: (and she dwelt in Jerusalem in the colledge) and they communed with her.

And she answered them, Thus sayth
the Lord God of Israël, Tel the man that sent you to me,

Thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I wil
bring euil vpon this place, and on the inhabitants thereof, euén all the wordes of the booke which the King of Iudáh hathe red,

Because they haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the workes of their hands: my wrath also shalbe kindled against this place, and shal not be quenched.

But to the King of Iudáh, who sent you
to inquire of the Lord, so shal ye say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord God of Is-raél, The wordes that thou hast heard, shal
come to passe.

But because thine heart did melt, and thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it shulde be destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I haue also heard it, sayth the Lord.

Beholde therefore, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy grave in peace, and thine eyes shal not see all the euil, which I wil bring vpon this place. Thus they brought the King worde againe.

CHAP. XXIII.

Isiah readeth the Lawe before the people. He maketh a covenant with the Lord. He putteth downe the idoles, after he had killed their priests. He killeth the Tisserers. He destroyeth the conuerses. He was killed in Megiddo. And his sonne Jehoahaz reigneth in his steade. After he was taken, his sonne Jehoiakim was made King.

Then the King sent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iudáh
and of Jerusalem.

And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, with all the men of Iudáh and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with him, and the Priests and Prophetes, and all the people both the small & great: and he red in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the covenant, which was found in the house
of the Lord.

And the King stode by the pillar, and made a covenant before the Lord, that they shulde walke after the Lord, and kepe
his commandements, and his testimonies, and his statutes with all their heart,
and with all their soules, that they might accomplish the wordes of this covenant written in this booke. And all the people stode to the covenant.

Then the King commanded Hilkiah the hie Priest and the Priests of the second ordre, and the keepers of the dore, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Bál, and for the groue, and for all the hoste of heauen, and he burnt them without Ierusalém in the fields of Kedrón, and caryed
the powdre of them into Beth-él.

And he put downe the Chemerims, whome
the Kings of Iudáh had fouled to burne incense in the hie places, & in the cities of Iudáh, and about Jerusalem, & also them
that burnt incense vnto Bál, to the sunne
and to the moone, and to the planets, &
to all the hoste of heauen.

And he brought out the groue from the Temple of the Lord without Jerusalem vnto the valley Kedrón, and burnt it in the valley Kedrón, and stamped it to powdre,
and cast the dust thereof vpon the graues
of the children of the people.

And he brake downe the houses of the sodomites, that were in the house of the Lord.

8 Also he brought all the priestes out of the cities of Iudáh, and defiled the hie places where the priests had burnt incense, even from Gêba to Beer-théba, and destroyed the hie places of the gates, that were in y<sup>e</sup> entring in of the gate of Ioshúa the gouernour of the citie which was at the left hand of the gate, of the citie.

9 Neuertheless the priestes of the hie places came not vp to the altar of the Lord in Ierusalém, saue onely thei did eat of the vncleaued bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled also <sup>k</sup> Tôpheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnóm, that no man shulde make his sonne or his daughter passe through y<sup>e</sup> fyre to Mólêch.

11 He put downe also the horses that the Kings of Iudáh had giuen to the sonne at the enering in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Netban-mêlech the eunuche, which was ruler of the suburbs, and burnt the charers of the sunne with fyre.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Aház, which the Kings of Iudáh had made, and the altars which Manassêh had made in the two courtes of the house of the Lord, did the King brake downe, and haited thence, and cast the dust of them in the brooke Kêdrôn.

13 Moreover the King defiled the hie places that were before Ierusalém and on the right hand of the mount of corruption (which Salomón the King of Israël had buylt for Ashtôreth the idole of the Zidonians, and for Chemôsh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milchôm the abomination of the children of Ammôn)

14 And he brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore the altar that was at Beth-él, & the hie place made by Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israël to sinne, bothe this altar and also the hie place brake he downe, & burnt the hie place, & stampet it to powder and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosháh turned him selfe, he spied the graues, that were in the mount, and sent and toke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar, and polluted it, according to the worde of the Lord that the <sup>m</sup> man of God proclaimed which cryed the same wordes.

17 Thê he said, What title is that which I see? And the m<sup>e</sup>n of the citie said vnto him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudáh, and tolde these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-él.

18 Thê he said he, Let him alone: let none remoue his bones. So his bones were saued with the bones of the Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Iosháh also toke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the Kings of Israël had made to angre the Lord, and did to them according to all the factes that he had done in Beth-él.

20 And he sacrificed all the priestes of the hie places, that were there vpon the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ierusalém.

21 Then the King commanded all the people, saying, *Kepe the Passouer vnto the Lord your God, *as it is written in the boke of this couenant.

22 And there was no Passouer holden like that from the daies of the Iudges that iudged Israël, nor in all the dayes of the Kings of Israël, and of the Kings of Iudáh.

23 And in the eighteenth yere of King Iosháh was this Passouer celebrated to the Lord in Ierusalém.

24 Iosháh also toke away them that had familiar spirits, & the sothefayers, and the images, and the idoles, & all the abominations that were espiéd in the land of Iudáh & in Ierusalém, to performe the wordes of the <sup>l</sup> Lawe, which were written in the boke that Hikiáh the Priest founde in the house of the Lord.

25 Like vnto him was there no King before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soule, & with all his might according to all the Lawe of Môses, nether after him arose there any like him.

26 Notwithstanding the Lord turned not from the fearcenes of his great wrath wherewith he was angrie agâinst Iudáh, because of all the prouocations wherewith Manassêh had prouoked him.

27 Therefore the Lord said, I wil put Iudáh also out of my sight, as I haue put away Israël, and wil cast of this citie Ierusalém, which I haue chofen, and the house whereof I said, *My Name shalbe there.

28 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iosháh, and all that he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

29 In his dayes Pharaoh Nêchôh King of Egypt went vp agâinst the King of Asshur to the riuier Perâch. And Kig Iosháh went agâinst him, whome when Pharaoh sawe, he slewe him at Megiddô.

30 Then his seruants caried him dead from Megiddô, and brought him to Ierusalém, & buryed him in his owne sepulchre. And the people of the land toke Iehoaház the sonne of Iosháh, and annointed him, and made him King in his thre arth when he began to reigne, in Ierusalém, also was Hamutál the miâh of Libnâh.

31 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord according to all that his fathers had done, and Pharaoh Nêchôh at Riblâh in the land of Egypt, he reigned in Ierusalém to a tribute of an hundred, and a talent of golde.

32 And Pharaoh Nêchôh the sonne of Iosháh Kig his father, and turned him to Iehoiakim, and toke Iehoiakim when he came to Egypt.

33 And Iehoiakim gaue golde to Pharaoh, and giue the money, according to the commandement of Pharaoh: the man of the people of the land to his vallue, giue and to Pharaoh Nêchôh.

34 Iehoiakim was five and thre yeres in Ierusalém, his name also was Zebudâh, Pedaiah of Rumâh.

35 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord according to all that his fathers had done.

CHAP. XX.

Iehoiakim made subitl<sup>ly</sup> in Ierusalém, the cause of his ruine, in the thirteenth yere of his reigne. 15 He and his sonnes reigned in Ierusalém, 17 Zedekiah is made King.

IN his <sup>2</sup> dayes came the King of Babel vp, and came his seruant thre yeres, and rebelled agâinst him.

2 And the Lord sent agâinst the Chaldees, & bandes of the Moabites, and bandes of the Ammonites, & Iudáh, to destroy it, & the worde of the Lord, which the seruants the Prophets had spoken.

3 Surely by the <sup>3</sup> cômmandement of the Lord came this vpon Iudáh, & they were brought out of his sight for their iniquities, according to all that the Lord had said.

4 And for the innocent he (for he filled Ierusalém with the same) therefore the Lord wolde not be mercifull to Ierusalém, & all that he did, in the boke of the Chronicles of Iudáh.

5 So Iehoiakim slept with his fathers, and Iehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead. 6 And the King of Egypt came out of his land, for the

Ichoiakim was fixe and twentie yere ol-

And the Lord sent agáinst him bandes of

and bandes of the Moabites, and bandes
of the Ammonites, & he sent them agáinst Iudáh, to destroye it, * according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake by his seruants the Prophetes.

Surely by the comandement of y Lord came this vpon Iudáh, that he might put them out of his sight for the sinnes of Manasseh, according to all that he did,

And for the innocent blood that he shed,
(for he filled Ierusalem w innocent blood)
therefore the Lord wolde not pardon it.

Concerning the rest of the actes of Icho-iakim, & all that he did, are they not writ-of Iudáh?

So Ichoiakim slept with his fathers, and Ichoiachín his sone reigned in his steade.

And the King of Egypt came no more out of his land: for the King of Babel had taken from the riuer of Egypt, vnto the riuer Peráth, all that pertained to the King of Egypt.

Ichoiachín was eightene yere olde, whe-
he began to reigne, and reigned in Ieru-salem thre moneths. His mothers name also was Nehushtá, the daughter of Elnathán of Ierusalem.

And he did euil in the sight of the Lord,
according to all that his father had done.

In that time came the seruants of Ne-
buchad nezzár King of Babel vp agáinst Ierusalem: so the citie was besieged.

And Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel came agáinst the citie, & his seruants did besiege it.

The Ichoiachín the King of Iudáh ca-

his mother, and his seruants, and his princes, and his eunuches: and the King of Babel toke him in the eight yere of his reigne.

And he caried out thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house, and brake all the vessels of golde, which Salomón King of Israel had made in the Tēple of the Lord,
as the Lord had said.

And he caried away all Ierusalem, and all the princes, and all the strong men of warre, euen ten thousand into captiuitie, &
all the workemen, & conning mē: so none remained sauing the poore people of the land.

And he caried away Ichoiachín into Babel, and the Kings mother, & the Kings
wiues, and his eunuches, and the mightie
of the land caried he away into captiui-
tie from Ierusalem to Babel,

And all the men of warre, euen seven thousand, and carpenters, & locksmithes
a thousand: all that were strong and apt
for warre, did the King of Babel bring to Babel captiues.

And the King of Babel made Mattaniáh his vnckle King in his steade, & changed his name to Zedekiáh.

Zedekiáh was one & twentie yere olde,
when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuē yeres in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Hamutál the daughter of Ieremiáh of Libnáh.

And he did euil in the sight of the Lord,
according to all that Ichoiakim had done.

Therefore certainly the wrath of the

And in the ninth yere of his reigne, the tenth moneth & tenth day of the moneth Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel came, he, & all his hoste against Ierusalém, and pitched against it, and they buylt fortres against it rounde about it.

So the citie was besieged vnto the eleuth yere of King Zedekiah.

And the ninth day of the moneth the famine was sore in the citie, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

Then the citie was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled by night, by the waye of the gate, which is betwene two walles that was by the Kings garden: now the Caldees were by the citie rounde about: and the King went by the way of the wilderness.

But the armie of the Caldees pursued after the King, and toke him in the deserts of Ierichó, and all his hoste was scatred from him.

Then they toke the King, and caryed him vp to the King of Babel to Ribláh, where they gaue iudgement vpon him. And they slew the sonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bounde him in chaines, & caryed him to Babel.

And in the fift moneth, & seventh day of the moneth, which was the nineteenth yere of King Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel, came Nebuzar-adán chief steward and seruant of the King of Babel, to Ierusalém,

And burnt the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalém, & all the great houses burnt he with fyre.

And all the armie of the Caldees that were with the chief stewarde, brake downe the walles of Ierusalém rounde about.

And the rest of the people that were left in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen to the King of Babel, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adán chief stewarde carye away captiue.

But the chief stewarde left of the poore of the land to dresse the vines, and to til the land.

* Also the pillars of brasse that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen Sea that was in the house of the Lord, did the Caldees breake, and caryed the brasse of them to Babel.

The portes also and the besomes, and the instruments of musike, and the incense ashes, & all the vessels of brasse that they ministred in, toke they away.

And the asse pannes, and the basens, and all that was of golde, & that was of siluer,

toke the chief stewarde away,

With the two pillars, one Sea & the bases, which Salomón had made for the house of the Lord: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

* The height of the one pillar was eightene cubites, and the chapter thereon was with networke thre cubites, and pomegranates vpon the chapter rounde about, all of brasse: and likewise was the seconde pillar with the networke.

And the chief stewarde toke Seraiah the chief Priest, and Zephaniah the seconde Priest, and the thre keepers of the doore.

And out of the citie he toke an eunuche that had the ouersight of the me of warre, and fye men of them that were in the Kings presence, which were founde in the citie, and Sophér captaine of the boltes, who mustred the people of the land, and threscore men of the people of the land, that were founde in the citie.

And Nebuzar-adán the chief stewarde toke them, and brought them to the King of Babel to Ribláh.

And the King of Babel smote them, and slew them at Ribláh in the land of Hamath. So Iudáh was caryed away captiue out of his owne land.

* Howbeit there remained people in the land of Iudáh, whome Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel left, & made Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám the sonne of Shaphan ruler ouer them.

Then when all the captaines of the hoste & their men heard, that the King of Babel had made Gedaliáh gouernour, they came to Gedaliáh to Mizpáh, to wit, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanán the sonne of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth & Netophathite, & Iazaniáh & sonne of Maachathá, they & their men.

And Gedaliáh sware to the, & to their men, and said vnto them, Feare not to be the seruants of the Caldees: dwell in the land, and serue the King of Babel, and ye shal be wel.

* But in the seventh moneth Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah the sonne of Eliahimá of the Kings sedit, came, and ten men went with him, & smote Gedaliáh, & he dyed: and so did he the Iewes, and the Caldees that were with him at Mizpáh.

Then all the people both the small & great, and the captaines of the armie arose, and came to Egypt: for they were afrayed of the Caldees.

THE FIRST BOKE OF the "Chronicles," or Paralipoménon.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Tomes comprehend bothe these boke in one, which the Grecians because of the length deuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylôn. But these are not these boke of Chronicles, which are so oft mentioned in the boke of Kings of Iudâh and Israel, which did at large set forth the storie of bothe the kingdomes, and afterward perished in the captiuitie: but an abridgement of the same, and were gathered by Esay, as the Iewes write, after their returne fro Babylon. This first boke containeth a brief rehearſal of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Iſhak, Yaakob, and the twelue Patriarches, chiefly of Iudâh and of the reigne of David, because Christ came of him according to the fl. sh. And therefore it setteth forth more amply his actes, bothe concerning ciuil gouernement, and also the administration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good successe whereof he reioyeth, and giueth thanks to the Lord.

the land of Gileád.

And in the dayes of Saúl they warred
with the<sup>e</sup> Hagarims, which fell by their hands: and they dwelt in their tents in all the East partes of Gileád.

And the children of Gad dwelt ouer
against them in the land of Bashán, vnto Salcháh.

Ioél was the chiefest, and Shaphám the seconde, but Iaanái & Shaphát were in Ba-

 55 So thei gaue them Hebron in the land of Iudah and the suburbs thereof rounde about it.
 56 But the field of the citie, and the villages thereof thei gaue to Caleb the sonne of Iephunneh.
 57 And to the sonnes of Aaron they gaue the cities of Iudah for a refuge, even Hebron and Libnah with their suburbs, and Iatir, and Eshtemoa with their suburbs,
 58 And Hilén with her suburbs, & Debir with her suburbs,
 59 And Ashan and her suburbs, and Bethshemesh and her suburbs:
 60 ¶ And of the tribe of Benjamin, Geba and her suburbs, and Alémeth with her suburbs, & Anathoth with her suburbs: all their cities were thirtene cities by their families.
 61 And vnto the sonnes of Kohath the remnant of the familie of the tribe, even of the halfe tribe of the halfe of Manasseh, by lot ten cities.

- 62 And to the sonnes of Gershom according to their families out of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Asher, & out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the tribe of Manasseh in Bashan, thirtene cities.
 63 Vnto the sonnes of Merari according to their families out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulun, by lot twelue cities.
 64 Thus the children of Israel gaue to the Levites cities with their suburbs.
 65 And they gaue by lot out of the tribe of the children of Iudah, & out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, & out of the tribe of the children of Benjamin, these cities, which thei called by their names.
 66 And they of the families of the sonnes of Kohath, had cities and their coastes out of the tribe of Ephraim.
 67 ¶ And they gaue vnto them cities of refuge, Shechem in mount Ephraim, & her suburbs, and Gézer and her suburbs,

1 The battel of Saúl against the Philistims. 4 In which he dyeth. 5 And his sonnes also. 13 The cause of Sauls death.

1 Then * the Philistims fought against Israël: and the men of Israël fled before the Philistims, and fel downe slaine in mount Gilbóa.

2 And the Philistims pursued after Saúl & after his sonnes, and the Philistims smote Ionathán, and Abinadáb, & Malchishú the sonnes of Saúl.

3 And the battel was fore against Saúl, and the archers hit him, and he was * wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saúl to his armour bearer, Drawe out thy sword, and thrust me through therewith, lest these vncircúfised come & mocke at me: but his armour bearer wolde not, for he was fore afraid: therefore Saúl toke the sword & fel vpó it.

5 And when his armour bearer sawe that Saúl was dead, he fel likewise vpon the sword, and dyed.

6 So Saúl dyed and his thre sonnes, and all his house, they dyed together.

7 And when all the men of Israël that were in the valley, sawe how they fled, and that Saúl and his sonnes were dead, they forsoke their cities, & fled away, and the Philistims came, and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morowe when the Philistims came to spoile them that were slaine, they found Saúl & his sonnes * lying in mount Gilbóa.

9 And when they had stript him, they toke his head and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistims round about, to publish it vnto their idoles, and to the people.

10 And they laied vp his armour in y house of their god, and set vp his head in the house of a Dagón.

11 When all thei of Iabésh Gileád heard all that the Philistims had done to Saúl,

12 Then they arose (all the valiant men) and toke the body of Saúl, and the bodies of his sonnes, and broght them to Iabésh, and buried the bones of them vnder an oke in Iabésh, and fasted seuen dayes.

13 So Saúl dyed for his transgression, that he committed against the Lord, * euen against the worde of the Lord, which he kept not, and in that he sought and asked counsell of a * familiar spirit,

14 And asked not of the Lord: therefore he slewe him, and turned the kingdome vnto Dauid the sonne of Ísháí.

1 After the death of Saúl is Dauid anointed in Hebrón. 5 The Iebusites rebell against Dauid, from whome he taketh the towre of Zión. 6 Ioáb is made captaine. 10 His valiant men.

1 Then all Israël gathered them selves to Dauid vnto Hebrón, saying, Beholde, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

2 And in time past, euen when Saúl was King, thou ledest Israël out and in: and the Lord thy God said vnto thee, Thou shalt fede my people Israël, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Israël.

3 So came all the Elders of Israël to y King to Hebrón, & Dauid made a couenāt with thei in Hebrón before the Lord. And they anointed Dauid King ouer Israël, * according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Samúel.

4 And Dauid & all Israël went to Ierusalem, which is Iebús, where were the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebús said to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in higher. Neuer theles Dauid toke the towre of Zión, which is the citie of Dauid.

6 And Dauid said, * Whosoeuer smiteth y Iebusites first, shal be the chief & captaine. So Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh wet first vp, and was captaine.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the towre: therefore thei called it the citie of Dauid.

8 * And he buylt the citie on euerie side, fro Milló euen round about: & Ioáb repaired the rest of the citie.

9 And Dauid prospered, & grewe: for the Lord of hostes was with him.

10 * These also are the chief of the valiant men that were with Dauid & ioyned their force with him in his kingdome w all Israël, to make him King ouer Israël, according to the worde of the Lord.

11 And this is the number of the valiant mé whome Dauid had, Ishobabám the sonne of Hachmoní, the chief among thirty: he lift vp his speare against thre hundred, whome he slewe at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of Dódo the Ahohite, which was one of the thre valiant men.

13 He was with Dauid at Pasdammím, & there the Philistims were gathered together to battel: and there was a parcel of ground ful of barly, and the people fled before the Philistims.

14 And thei stode in y middes of the field, and faued it, and slewe the Philistims: so the Lord gaue a great victorie.

15 And thre of the thirtie captaines wet to a rocke to Dauid, into the caue of Adullám. And the armie of the Philistims camped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And when Dauid was in the holde, the Philistims garison was at Bethléhem.

1 And Dauid counſeled with the capitaines of thousands & of hundreths, & with all the gouernours.

2 And Dauid ſaid to all the Cōgregation of Iſraél, If it ſeeme good to you, and that it procedeth of the Lord our God, we will ſend to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Iſraél (for with them are the Priests and the Leuites in ſix cities and their ſuburbs) that they may aſſemble them ſelues vnto vs.

And we will bring againe the Arke of our God to vs: for we ſought not vnto it in the dayes of Saúl.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs do ſo: for the thing ſeemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 ¶ So Dauid gathered all Iſraél together fro<sup>h</sup> Shihôr in Egypt, euē vnto the entering of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from<sup>b</sup> Kiriath-iearim.

6 And Dauid went vp & all Iſraél to<sup>c</sup> Baalath, in Kiriath-iearim, y<sup>e</sup> was in Iudā, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betwene the Cherubims, where his name is called on.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a newe cart out of the houſe of Abinadāb: and Vzzā and Ahio<sup>c</sup> guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Iſraél plaied before God with all their might, bothe wth ſongs & with harpes, and with viols, and with timbrels and with cimbales and with trumpets.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled againſt Vzzā, and he ſmote him, becauſe he laied his hand vpon y<sup>e</sup> Arke: ſo he dyed there<sup>f</sup> before God.

11 And Dauid was angrie, becauſe the Lord had made a breach in Vzzā, and he called the name of that place Pérez-vzzā vnto this day.

12 And Dauid feared God that day, ſaying, How ſhal I bring in to me the Arke of God?

13 Therefore Dauid brought not the Arke to him into the citie of Dauid, but cauſed it to turne into the houſe of<sup>g</sup> Obéd Edóm the Gittite.

14 So, the Arke of God remained in the houſe of Obéd Edóm, euē in his houſe thre moneths: and the Lord bleſſed the houſe of Obéd Edóm, and all that he had.

for out among them. 25 Thei bring againe the Arke with ioye 29 David dancing before it, & despoile of his

1 And David made him houses in the a citie of Dauid, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then David said, *None ought to cary
the Arke of God, but the Leuites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Ar-ke of the Lord, and to ministrate vnto him
for euer.

3 ¶ And David gathered all Israel together to Ierusalem to bring vp the b Arke of the Lord vnto his place, which he had ordein-
ed for it.

4 And David assembled the sonnes of Aaron, and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath Vriél the chief,
and his brethren six score.

6 Of the sonnes of Merari, Asaiáh the chief,
and his brethren two hundred & twentie.

7 Of the sonnes of Gershom, Ioél the chief, and his brethren an hundredth and thirtie.

8 Of the sonnes of c Elizaphán, Shemariáh the chief, and his brethren two hundredth.

9 Of the sonnes of d Hebrón, Eliél the chief, and his brethren foure score.

10 Of the sonnes of Vzziel, Amminadáb the chief, and his brethren an hundredth & twelue.

11 ¶ And David called Zadók & Abiathár
the Priests, and of the Leuites, Vriél, A-saiáh and Ioél, Shemaráh, and Elél, and Amminadáb:

12 And he said vnto the. Ye are the chief fathers of the Leuites: sanctifie your selues,
and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke
of the Lord God of Israel vnto the place
that I haue prepared for it.

13 For *because ye were not there at y first,
the Lord our God made a breache among vs: for we fought him nor after due t orde-
re.

14 So the Priests and the Leuites sanctified them selues to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

15 ¶ And the sonnes of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shulders with the barres, as Moses had commanded, *according to the worde of the Lord.

16 And David spake to the chief of the Le-uites, that they shulde appoint certeine of their brethren to sing with s instruments
of musike, with viols and harpes, & cymbales, that thei might make a sounde, and lift vp their voyce with ioye.

17 So the Leuites appointed Hemán the sonne of Ioél, and of his brethren Asaph
the sonne of Berechiáh, and of the sonnes
of Merari their brethren, Ethán the sonne

of Kushaiáh,

18 And with them their brethren in the
b seconde degre, Zechariáh, Ben, and Iaa-ziél, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiél, and Vnni, Eliáb, and Benaiah, and Maashiáh, & Mattithiáh, and Elipheléh, and Mikneáh,
and Obéd Edóm, and Ieiel the porters.

19 So Hemán, Asaph & Ethán were singers
to make a sounde with cymbales of brasle, 20 And Zechariáh, and Azriel, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiél, and Vnni, and Eliáb, and Maashiáh, and Benaiah with viols
on i Alamóth,

21 And Mattithiáh, & Elipheléh, and Mik-neáh, and Obéd Edóm, and Ieiel, and A-zaziáh, with harpes k vpon Sheminit lenazzeah.

22 But Chenaniáh the chief of the Leuites had i the charge, bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.

23 And Berechiáh & Elkanaáh were porters
for the Arke.

24 And Shecaniáh and Iehoshaphát and Nethaneél and Amashai, and Zachariáh, and Benaiah, and Eliézer the Priests did blowe with trumpets before the Arke of God, and Obéd Edóm and Ieiah were porters m for the Arke.

25 *So David and the Elders of Israel and the captaines of thousands went to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord
from the house of Obéd Edóm with
ioye.

26 And because that God n helped the Le-uites that bare the Arke of the couenant
of the Lord, thei ofred o seven bullockes
and seven rams.

27 And David had on him a linen garmēt, as all the Leuites that bare the Arke:
and the singers and Chenaniáh that had
the chief charge of the singers: and vpon
David was a linen p Ephod.

28 Thus all Israel brought vp y Arke of the Lords couenant with shouting and sounde
of trumpets & with cymnet, & with cymbales, making a sounde with viols & with harpes.

29 And when the Arke of the q couenant
of the Lord came into the citie of Dauid, Michal the daughter of Saul loled out at a windowe, & sawe King David dancing
and playing, and *she despoiled him in her heart.

CHAP. XVI.

CHAP. XVII.

David is forbidden to buyde an house vnto the Lord. 12 Christe promised vnder the figure of Salomon. 13 David giveth thanks, 23 And prayeth vnto God.

Now afterwarde whē David dwelt in his house, he said to Nathán & Prophet, Beholde, I dwell in an house of cedre trees, but the Arke of the Lords covenant remaineth vnder curtaynes.

Then Nathán said to David, Doe all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee. And the same night euen the wordes of God came to Nathan, saying, Go, and tell David my seruāt, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not buyde me an house to dwell in:

For I haue dwelt in no house, since the day I brought out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I haue bene from tent to tent, an I from habitacion to habitacion.

Wherefoerer I haue walked with all Israel, spake I on wordes to anie of the iudges of Israel (whome I commanded to seke my people) saying, Why haue ye not buyde me an house of cedre trees?

Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruāt David, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I toke thee fro the shepcoate & from following the shepe, that thou shouldest be a prince ouer my people Israel.

And I haue bene with thee whetherfoerer thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

(Also I wil appoint a place for my people Israel, & wil plant it, that they may dwell in their place, and moue nomore: nether shalt the wicked people vex thee anie more, as at the beginning,

And since the time that I commanded iudges ouer my people Israel) And I wil subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say vnto thee, that the Lord wil buyde thee an house.

And when thy dayes shalbe fulfilled to go with thy fathers, then wil I raise vp thy sēde after thee, which shall be of thy sonnes, and wil stablish his kingdome.

He shall buyde me an house, and I wil stablish his throne for euer.

I wil be his father and he shall be my sonne, and I wil not take my mercie away fro him, as I toke it from him that was before thee.

But I wil establish him in mine house, & in my kingdome for euer, and his throne shalbe stablished for euer,

According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision. So Nathán spake to King David.

And David the King went in and fate before the Lord and said, Who am I, o Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hether to.

Yet thou esteeming this a small thing, o God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruāt for a great while, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of hye degree, o Lord God.

What can David desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruāt: for thou knowest thy seruāt.

O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

Lord, there is none like thee, nether is there anie god besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

Moreover what one nacion in the earth is like thy people Israel, whose God went to redeme thee to be his people, & to make thy selfe a Name, and to do great and terrible things by casting out naciōs from before thy people, whome thou hast deliuered out of Egypt.

For thou hast ordeined thy people Israel to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruāt & concerning his house, be confirmed for euer, and do as thou hast said,

And let thy Name be stable & magnified for euer, that it may be said, The Lord of hostes, God of Israel, is the God of Israel, & let the house of David thy seruāt be stablished before thee.

For thou, o my God, hast reueled vnto the eare of thy seruāt, that thou wilt buyde him an house: therefore thy seruāt hath bene bolde to pray before thee.

Therefore now Lord (for thou art God, and hast spoken this goodnes vnto thy seruāt)

Now therefore, it hath pleased thee to blesse the house of thy seruāt, that it may be before thee for euer: for thou, o Lord, hast blessed it, & it shall be blessed for euer.

The battel of David against the Philistims, 2 And against Moab, 3 Zebah, 5 Aram, 12 And Edom.

And after this David smote the Philistims, and subdued them, and toke Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philistims.

And he smote Moab, and the Moabites became Davids seruants, and brought gifts.

And David smote Hadarézer King of Asii.

He went into the temple where the Arke was, shewing what we ought to do while we receive anie benefites of the Lord.

Or, remained. Meaning, to this kinglie estate.

Or, Thou hast promised a kingdom that shall continue to me and my posteritie, and that Christ shall proceed of me.

the battell, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammón sawe that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abishái his brother, and entred into the citie: so Ioáb came to Ierusalém.

16 And when the Aramites sawe that they were discomfited before Israël, they sent messengers and caused the Aramites to come forth that were beyonde the river: & Shophách the capitaine of the hoste of Hadarézer went before them.

17 And when it was shewed Dauid, he gathered all Israël, and went ouer Iordén, & came vnto thé, and put him selfe in aray against them: and whé Dauid had put him selfe in battell aray to mete the Aramites, they fought with him.

18 But the Aramites fled before Israël, and Dauid destroyed of the Aramites seven thousand charres, and fortie thousand fotemen, and killed Shophách the capitaine of the hoste.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarézer sawe that they fel before Israël, they made peace with Dauid, and serued him. And the Aramites wolde nomore succour the children of Ammón.

CHAP. XX.

1 Rabbá destroyed. 3 The Ammonites tormented. 4 The Philistims are thrise overcome with their gens.

1 ANd whé the yere was expired, in the time that Kings go out a warfare, Ioáb caried out the strength of the armie, and destroyed the countrey of the children of Ammón, and came and besieged Rabbáh (but Dauid taried at Ierusalém) and Ioáb smote Rabbáh and destroyed it.

2 The Dauid toke a crowne of their King from his head, and founde it the weight of a talét of golde, with precious stones in it: and it was set on Dauids head, and he broght away the spoile of the citie exceeding muche.

And he caried away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, and with harowes of yron, and with axes: euen thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammón. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Ierusalém.

3 And after this also there arose warre at Gézer with the Philistims: then Sibbecháí the Hushathite slewe Sippái, of the children of Harapháh, and they were subdued.

4 And there was yet another battell with the Philistims: and Elhanán the sonne of Iair slewe Lahmí, the brother of Goliáth & Guttie, whose speare staffe was like a weavers beame.

And yet againe there was a battell at Gath, whére was a man of a great stature, and his fingers were by sixes, then foure

and twenty, and was also the sonne of Harapháh.

7 And when he reuiled Israël, Ichonathán the sonne of Shimeá Dauids brother did slea him.

8 These were borne vnto Harapháh at Gath, and fel by the hand of Dauid: and by the hands of his seruants.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Dauid causeth the people to be nombred. 14 And there dyed seuentie thousand men of the pestilence.

1 AND Satan stood vp against Israël, and prouoked Dauid to number Israël.

2 Therefore Dauid said to Ioáb, and to the rulers of the people, Go & number Israël from Beer-sheba euen to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Ioáb answered, The Lord increase his people an hundredth times so many as they be, my lord the King: are they not all my lords seruants? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why shulde he be accus'd of trespassse to Israël?

4 Neuertheles the Kings worde preuailed against Ioáb. And Ioáb departed and went through all Israël, and returned to Ierusalém.

5 And Ioáb gaue the number & summe of the people vnto Dauid: & all Israël were eleuen hundredth thousand men & drew swords: and Iudáh was foure hundredth and seuentie thousand men that drew swords.

6 But the Leuites and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the Kings worde was abominable to Ioáb.

7 And God was displeased with this thing: therefore he smote Israël.

8 Then Dauid said vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseeche thee, remount the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids Seer, saying,

10 Go and tel Dauid, saying, Thus sayth the Lord; I offre thee thre things: chose thee one of them, that I may do it vnto thee.

11 So Gad came to Dauid; and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord; Take to thee

12 Either thre yerés famine, or thre moneths to be destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sword of thine enemies to take thee, or els the sword of y Lord and pestilence in the land thre dayes, that y Angel of the Lord may destroy throughout all the coastes of Israël: now therefore aduise thee, what worde I shal bring againe to him that sent me.

9 And of Melheleimán sonnes and brethren eightene mightie men.

10 And of Hofáh of the sonnes of Merari the sonnes were Shúri the chief, & (though he was not the eldest, yet his father made him the chief)

11 Helkiáh the seconde, Tebaliáh the third, & Zechariáh the fourth: all the sonnes & the brethren of Hofáh were thirtene.

12 Of these were the diuisions of the porters of the chief men, having the charge against their brethren, to serue in the house of the Lord.

13 And thei cast lottes bothe smale & great for the house of their fathers, for cuerie gate.

14 And the lot on the Eastside fel to Sheleimán: thei cast lottes for Zechariáh his sonne a wise counseler, and his lot came out Northwarde:

15 To Obéd Edóm Southwarde, and to his sonnes the house of Asuppim:

16 To Shuppim and to Hofáh Westwarde with y gate, of Shallechéth by the paued strete that goeth vpwarde, warde ouer against warde.

17 Eastwarde were six Leuites, & Northwarde foure a day, and Southwarde foure a day, and towarde Asuppim two & two.

18 In Parbár towarde y West were foure by the paued strete, and two in Parbár.

19 These are the diuisions of the porters of the sonnes of Koré, and of the sonnes of Merari.

20 And of the Leuites, Ahíah was ouer the treasures of the house of God, and ouer the treasures of the dedicate things.

21 Of the sonnes of Laadán the sonnes of the Gershúnites descending of Laadán, the chief fathers of Laadán were Gershúnni & Iehieli.

22 The sonnes of Iehieli were Zethán and Ioél his brother, appointed ouer the treasures of the house of the Lord.

23 Of the Amramites, of the Izharites, of the Hebronites and of the Ozielites.

24 And Shebuel the sonne of Gershóm, the sonne of Moisés, a ruler ouer the treasures.

25 And of his brethren, which came of Eliézer, was Rehabiáh his sonne, and Ieshaiáh his sonne, and Iorám his sonne, and Zichri his sonne, and Shelomith his sonne.

26 Which Shelomith & his brethren were ouer all the treasures of y dedicate things, which Dauid the King, and the chief fathers, the captaines ouer thousands, and hundredes, and the captaines of the armie had dedicate.

27 For of the battels and of the spoiles they did dedicate to maintein the house of the Lord)

28 And all that Samuél the Seer had dedicate, and Saúl the sonne of Kish and Abner the sonne of Ner, and Ioáb the sonne of Zerúiah, and whosoever had dedicate any thing, it was vnder the hand of Shelomith, and his brethren.

29 Of the Izharites was Chenaniáh & his sonnes, for the busines without our Israel, for officers and for iudges.

30 Of the Hebronites, Ashabiáh and his brethren, men of actiuitie, a thousand, and seven hundred were officers for Israel beyond Iordén Westwarde, in all the busines of the Lord, and for the seruice of the King.

31 Among the Hebronites was Iedíah the chiefest, euen the Hebronites by his generations according to the families. And in the fortieth yere of the reigne of Dauid thei were sought for: and there were found among them men of actiuitie at Iazér in Gilead.

32 And his brethren men of actiuitie, two thousand & seven hundred chief fathers, whome King Dauid made rulers ouer the Reubenites, & the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasséh, for euerie matter pertaining to God, and for the Kings busines.

8 Now therefore in the sight of all Israël the Congregation of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, kepe and seke for all the comandements of the Lord your God, that ye may possesse this good land, and leaue it for an inheritance for your children after you for euer.

9 And thou, Salomón my sone, knowe thou the God of thy father, and serue him with a perfect hearte, and with a willing minde: for the Lord searcheth all hearts, and vnderstand in lenth all the imaginacions of thought: if thou seke him, he wil be founde of thee, but if thou forsake him, he wil cast thee off for euer.

10 Take hede now, for the Lord hath chosen thee to buylde the house of the Sanctuary: be it ong therefore, and do it.

11 Then Dauid gaue to Salomón his senn the patene of the porche and of the houses the cof, and of the closets thereof, and of the galeies thereof, and of the chambers thereof that are within, and of the house of the mercieseat,

12 And the patene of all that he had in his minde for the court of the house of the Lord, and for all the chambers rounde about, for the treasures of the house of God, and for the treasures of the dedicate things,

selues, and covered the Aike of the covenante of the Lord:

19 All, said he, by writing sent to me the hand of the Lord, which made me vnderstand all the workmanship of the patene.

20 And Dauid said to Salomón his sonne, Be strong, and of a valiant courage and courage: feare not, nor be afraid: for the Lord God, euen my God is with thee: he wil not leaue thee nor forsake thee til thou hast finished all the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord.

21 Beholde also, the copanies of the Priests, and the Leuites for all the seruice of the house of God, euen they shalbe with thee for the whole worke, with euery freeman that is skilful in anie maner of seruice. The princes also and all the people will be wholly at thy commandement.

CHAP. XXIX.

¶ The offering of Dauid and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 Dauid giueth thanks to the Lord. 20 He exhorteth the people to do the same. 22 Salomón is created King. 28 Dauid dyeth, and Salomón is made to reigne in his steade.

1 Moreover Dauid the King said vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomón mine onelie sonne yong and tendre, & the worke is great for this house: not for man, but for the Lord God.

2 Now I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, golde for the shewbread, and silver for the vessels, and brasie for the vessels, and yron for the things of yron, and wood for the things of wood & onestones, and stones to be set, and carbuncles, stones and of diuers colour, and all precious stones, & marble stones in abundance.

3 Moreover because I haue desire in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne golde and silver, which I haue giue to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuary.

4 Euen three thousand talents of golde of the golde of Ophir, and seuen thousand talents of fined silver to ouerlay the wall of the houses.

5 The golde for the things of golde, and the silver for the things of silver, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is willing to fill his hand to day vnto the Lord?

6 So the Princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israël, & the capitaines of thousands, & of hundreds, with the rulers of Kings worke, offered willingly.

7 And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God five thousand talents of golde, and ten thousand pieces, and ten thousand talents of silver, and euen three thousand talents of brasie, and one hundred thousand talents of yron.

8 And they with whom he founde, gaue them to the house of the Lord, by the Gerthunne.

9 And the people reioiced willingly: for the Lord, with Dauid the King also ioye.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed be thou, O Lord our father, for euer and ever.

11 Thine, O Lord, is glory, and victorie, and that is in heaven & in the kingdome, O Lord, lest as head ouer all.

12 Bothe riches and honour, & thou reignest ouer us, is power and strength, is to make great, and to all.

13 Now therefore our God, and praise thy glorious name.

- 9 And the people reioyced when they of-
fired willingly: for they offred willingly vnto the Lord, with a <sup>e</sup> perfite heart. And Dauid the King also reioyced with great
ioye.
- 10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, & Dauid said, Blessed be thou, o Lord God, of s Israel
our father, for euer and euer.
- 11 Thine, o Lord, is greatnes and power,
and glorie, and victorie and praise: for all that is in heauen & in earth is thine: thine
is the kingdome, o Lord, and thou excel-lest as head ouer all.
- 12 Bothe riches and honour come of thee, & thou reignest ouer all, and in thine had
is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vn-
to all.
- 13 Now therefore our God, we thanke thee,
and praise thy glorious Name.
- 14 But who am I, and what is my people,
that we shulde be able to offer willingly
after this sorte? for all things <sup>b</sup> come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue gi-uen thee.
- 15 For we are <sup>c</sup> strangers before thee, and soiourners, like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadowe vpon the earth, and there is none <sup>d</sup> abiding.
- 16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that we haue prepared to buyld thee an house for thine holy Name, is of thine
hand and all is thine.
- 17 I knowe also, my God, that thou <sup>e</sup> tryest
the heart, and hast pleasure in righteoufnes: I haue offed willingly in <sup>f</sup> vprightnes of mine hart all the things: now also haue I sene thy people which are founde here, to offer vnto thee willingly with ioye.
- 18 O Lord God of Abraham, Izhák and Israel our fathers, kepe this for euer in the <sup>g</sup> purpose, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto
thee.
- 19 An I giue vnto Salomón my sonne a per-fit heart to kepe thy commandements, thy

- testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all things, and to buyld the house which I haue prepared.
- 20 ¶ And Dauid said to all the Congrega-ció, Now blesse the Lord your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heades, & worshipped the Lord and the <sup>h</sup> King.
- 21 And they offred sacrifices vnto the Lord,
and on the morowe after that day, they offred burnt offrings vnto the Lord, <sup>i</sup> then a thousand yong bullockes, a thousand rammes, & a thousand sheepe, with their <sup>j</sup> drinke offrings, and sacrifices in abunda-ce for all Israel.
- 22 And they did eat and drinke before the Lord the same day with greate ioye, and they made Salomón the sonne of Dauid
King the seconde time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadók for the hie Priest.
- 23 So Salomón sate on the <sup>k</sup> throne of the Lord, as King in steade of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.
- 24 And all the princes and men of power,
and all the sonnes of King Dauid <sup>l</sup> submitted them selues vnder King Salo-món.
- 25 And the Lord magnified Salomón in dignitie, in the sight of all Israel, and ga-
ue him so glorious a kingdome, as no
King had before him in Israel.
- 26 ¶ Thus Dauid the sonne of Izhái reigned ouer all Israel.
- 27 And the space that he reigned ouer Israel, was fourtie yere: seuen yere reigned
he in Hebrón, and thre & thirtie yere reigned he in Ierusalem:
- 28 And he dyed in a good age, ful of dayes,
riches and honour, and Salomón his sonne reigned in his steale.

carrying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this storie are certaine things dered and set forth more copiously then in the booke of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophetes. But thre things are here chiefly to be considered. First, the the godlie Kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their countrie for sinnes recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remoued. The second how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that suche as feare him and professe his religion, shoulde ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdely how the good rulers euer loued the Prophetes of God, and were very zealous to set forth his religion throughout all their dominions, and contrarie wise the wicked hated his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and wor-of God, set vp idolatrie, and serued God according to the faine of men. Thus haue we builded the chief actes from the beginning of the worlde to the buylding againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yere of Darius, and continue in the whole, thre thousand, foure hundred and score and eight yeres, and six moneths.

THÉ Salomón the sone of Dauid was confirmed in his kingdom: & y<sup>e</sup> Lord
his God was with him, &
magnified him highlie.

And Salomón spake
vnto all Israël, to the captaines of thousands, and of hundreds and to the iudges, and to all the gouernours in all Israël, euen the chief fathers.

- 3 So Salomón and all the Congregation with him went to the hye place that was at Gibeón: for there was the Tabernacle
of the Cōgregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wilderness.

- 4 But the Arke of God had Dauid broght vp from Kiriath-iearim, when Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

- 5 Moreouer the brasen altar that Beza-leel the sone of Uri, the sone of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle
of the Lord: and Salomón and the Cōgrega-tion sought it.

- 6 And Salomón offered there before y<sup>e</sup> Lord
vpon the brasen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: euen a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

- 7 ¶ The same night did God appeare vnto Salomón, and said vnto him, Aske what I shal giue thee.

- 8 And Salomón said vnto God, Thou hast
shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father and hast made me to reigne in his steade.

- 9 Now therefore, o Lord God, let thy promes
vnto Dauid my father be true: for thou hast made me King ouer a great people,
like to the dust of the earth.

- 10 Giue me now wisdom and knowledge,
y<sup>e</sup> I may go out & go in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

- 11 And God said to Salomón, Because this was in thine heart, & thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor the li-

ues of thine enemies, nether yet hast asked
long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom & knowledge that thou mightest iudge
my people, ouer whome I haue made thee
King,

- 12 Wisdom & knowledge is granted vnto
thee, and I wil giue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hath not beene the like among the Kings w<sup>ch</sup> were before thee, nether after thee shal there be y<sup>e</sup> like.

- 13 Then Salomón came from the hie place,
that was at Gibeón, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation,
and reigned ouer Israël.

- 14 ¶ And Salomón gathered the charrets &
horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure
hundred charrets, & twelue thousand horsemen, whome he placed in the charret cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

- 15 And the King gaue siluer and golde at Ierusalem as stones, & gaue cedre trees
as the wilde fig trees, that are abundant in the plaine.

- 16 Also Salomón had horsemen broght out of Egypt: & fine linen: the Kings ma-
chats receiued the fine linen for a price.

- 17 They came vp also and broght out of Egypt some charret, worthe six hundred shekels of siluer, that is an horse for an hundred and fiftie: & thus they broght horses to all the Kings of the Hittites, and to the Kings of Arám by their means.

5 And the houſe which I buyld, is great: for great is our God about all gods.

6 Who is he the that can be able to buyld him an houſe, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens can not containe him? who am I then? I ſhulde buyld him an houſe: but I do it to burne incense before him.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, in ſiluer, and in braſſe, and in yron, and in purple, and crimſon and blew ſilke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men: who are with me in Iudá and in Ieruſalém, whome Dauid my father hath prepared.

10 And beholde, I wil giue to thy ſeruants the cutters and the hewers of timbre twentie thouſand measures of beaten wheat, and twentie thouſand measures of barley, and twentie thouſand baths of wine, and twentie thouſand baths of oyle.

11 Then Hurám King of Tyrus answered in writing which he ſent to Salomón, Because the Lord hath loved his people, he hath made thee King ouer them.

12 Hurám ſaid moreover, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſaél which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the King a wiſe ſonne, that hath diſcretion, prudence and vnderſtanding to buyld an houſe for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

16 And we wil cut wood in Lebanon as muche as thou ſhalt neede, and wil bring it to thee in raftes by the ſea to Iaphó, ſo thou maieſt cary them to Ieruſalém.

17 ¶ And Salomón nombred all the ſtrangers that were in the land of Iſraél, after the nombing that his father Dauid had nombred them: and they were founde an hundred and thre and fiftie thouſand, and fix hundred.

18 And he ſet ſeuentie thouſand of them to the burden, and foureſcore thouſand to hew ſtones in the mountaine, & thre thouſand and fix hundred ouerſeers to cauſe the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

The Temple of the Lord, and the porche are buylded, with other things thereto belonging.

1 ¶ Salomón began to buyld the houſe of the Lord in Ieruſalém, in mount

2 Moriáh which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the treſſhing floore of Ornan the Iebuſite.

3 And he began to buyld in the ſeconde moneth of the ſeconde day, in the fourth yere of his reigne.

4 And theſe are the meaſures, whereon Salomón ground to buyld the houſe of God: the length of cubites after the firſt meaſure was threſcore cubites, & the breadth twenty cubites:

5 And the porche, ſay was before the length in the fronte of the breadth was twentie cubites, and the height was an hundred and twentie, & he ouerlaid it within with pure golde.

6 And the greater houſe he ſyled with firre tree which he ouerlaid with good golde, & graued thereon palmetrees & chaines.

7 And he ouerlaid the houſe with precious ſtone for beautie: and the golde was golde of Paruáim.

8 The houſe, I ſay, the beames, poſtes, and walles thereof and the doores thereof ouerlaid he with golde, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

9 ¶ He made alſo the houſe of the moſte holy place: the length thereof was in the fronte of the breadth of the houſe, twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and he ouerlaid it with the beſt golde, of fix hundred talents.

10 And the weight of the nailes was fiftie ſhekels of golde, and he ouerlaid the chambers with golde.

11 ¶ And in the houſe of the moſte holy place he made two Cherubims wrought like children, and ouerlaid them with golde.

12 ¶ And the wings of the Cherubims were twenty cubites long: the one wing was fixe cubites, reaching to the wall of the houſe, and the other wing fixe cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 Likewise the wing of the other Cherub was five cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites joining to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 The wings of these Cherubims were spread abroad twentie cubites: they stood on their feet and their faces were toward the house.

f Which separated the Temple from the most holy place.

14 He made also the vaile of blew silk and purple, and erimofin, and fine linen, & wrought Cherubims thereon.

15 And he made before the house two pillars of five and thirtie cubites high: and the chapter that was upon the top of each of them, was five cubites.

16 He made also chains for the oracle, and put them on the heades of the pillars, and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them among the chains.

17 And he set up the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand & the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Iachin, and that on the left hand Boaz.

CHAP. III.

1 The altar of brass. 2 The molten Sea. 6 The caldrons. 7 The candlestickes, &c.

2 And he made an altar of brass twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and ten cubites high.

2 And he made a molten Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, rounde in compass, and five cubites high: and a line of thirtie cubites did compass it about.

3 And under it was the facion of oxen which did compass it round about, ten in a cubite compassing the Sea about: two rows of oxen were cast when it was molten.

4 It stood upon twelve oxen: three looked toward the North, and three looked toward the West, & three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stood about upon them, and all their hinder partes were inward.

5 And the thicknes thereof was an hand breadth, and the brim thereof was like the worke of the brim of a cup, with floures of lilies: it contained three thousand baths.

6 He made also ten caldrons, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them, & to cleanse in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings: but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 And he made ten candlestickes of golde (according to their forme) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 And he made ten tables, & put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, & five on the left: and he made an hundred basens of golde.

9 And he made the court of the Priests: the great court and dores for the court, and overlaid the dores thereof with brass.

10 And he set the Sea on the right side toward toward the South.

11 And Huram made pottes and basens, and Huram finished the worke that he shulde make for King Salomon for the house of God.

12 To wit, two pillars, & the bowles & chapters on the toppe of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapters which were upon the toppe of the pillars:

13 And foure hundred pomegranates for the two grates, two rows of pomegranates for euery grate to couer the two bowles of the chapters, that were upon the pillars.

14 He made also bases, and made caldrons upon the bases:

15 And a Sea, and twelve bulles vnder it: pottes also and basens, and fleshhooks, and all these vessels made Huram the father, to King Salomon for the house of the Lord of shining brass.

17 In the plaine of Iordan did the King cast them in claye betwene Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brass could not be reckened.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also & the tables, whereon the bread stood.

20 Moreover the candlestickes, with the lamps to burne them after the maner before the oracle, of pure golde.

21 And the floures and the lampes, and the snuffers of golde, which was fine golde.

22 And the hookes, and the basens, and the spones, and the ashpens of pure golde: the entrie also of the house & dores thereof within, even of the moste holy place: and the dores of the house, to wit, of the Temple were of golde.

Salomón assembled the Elders of the heades of the tribes
of the children of Israël: to bring vp the Arke of the covenant of the Lord from the a citie of Dauid, which is Ziôn.

And all the me of Israël assembled vnto
the King at the b feast: it was in the se-cent moneth.

And all the Elders of Israël came, & the Leuites toke vp the Arke.

And they caryed vp the Arke and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle,
those did the Priests & Leuites bring vp.

And King Salomón and all the Congregation of Israël that were assembled vnto
him, were before the Arke, offering shepe & bullockes, which colde not be tolde nor nombred for multitude.

So the Priests brought the Arke of the covenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the moste
Holy place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke and the barres thereof aboue.

And they drew out the barres, that the ends of the barres might be fene out of the Arke before the Oracle, but they were not fene without: and there they are vnto
this day.

Nothing was in the Arke, saue d the two Tables, which Moses gaue at Horéb, where the Lord made a covenant with the children of Israël, when they came out of Egypt.

And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuary (for all the Priests that were present, were sanctified and did not waite

house, euen the house of the Lord was filled with a cloude,

So that the Priests colde not stand to ministre, because of the cloude: for the glorie of the Lord had filled the house of God.

CHAP. VI.

Salomón blest the people. 4 He praiseth the Lord.
14 He praieth vnto God for those that shal pray in the Temple.

THē Salomón a said, The Lord hathe
said that he wolde dwel in the darke
cloude:

And I haue buylt thee an house to dwel
in, an habitation for thee to dwel in for euer.

And the King turned his face, & blessed all the Congregation of Israël (for all the Congregation of Israël stode there)

And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israél, who spake with his mouthes vnto Dauid my father, & hathe with his hand
fulfilled it, saying,

Since the day that I broght my people
out of the land of Egypt, I chose no citie
of all the tribes of Israël to buylde an house, that my Name might be there, nether chose I anie man to be a ruler ouer
my people Israël:

But I haue chosen Ierusalem, that my Name might be there, and haue chosen
Dauid to be ouer my people Israël.

* And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to buylde an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israël,

But the Lord said to Dauid my father,
Where as it was in thine heart to buylde
an house vnto my Name, thou didest wel,
that thou wast so minded.

Notwithstanding thou shalt not buylde
the house, but thy sonne which shal come out of thy loynes, he shal buylde an house
vnto my Name.

And the Lord hathe performed his worde that he spake: and I am risen vp in the rounne of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israël as the Lord promised, and haue buylt an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israël.

And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the b couenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israël.

¶ And y King c stode before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israël, and stretched out his hands,

(For Salomón had made a brasen skaf-

of fise cubites long, & fise cubites broad,
and thre cubites of height, and vpon it he stode, and kneled downe vpon his knees
before all the Congregation of Israël, & stretched out his hands toward heauen)

And said, O Lord God of Israël, there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth,
which kepest couenant, and mercie vnto thy seruants, that waike before thee with all their heart.

- <sup>16</sup> Therefore now Lord God of Israël, kepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not waite a man in my sight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israël: so that thy sonnes take hede to their waies, to walke in my Lawe, as y<sup>e</sup> hast walked before me.
- <sup>17</sup> And now, O Lord God of Israël, let thy worde be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.
- <sup>18</sup> (Is it true in dede that God wil dwel with man on earth? beholde, the heuens, and the heuens of heuens are not able to containe thee: how muche more vnable is this house, which I haue buylt?)
- <sup>19</sup> But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruant, & to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the crye & prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee,
- <sup>20</sup> That thine eyes may be open toward this house day and night, euen toward the place, wherof thou hast said, That thou woldest put thy Name there, that thou maiest hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruant prayeth in this place.
- <sup>21</sup> Heare thou therefore the supplication of thy seruant, and of thy people Israël, which they praye in this place: and heare thou in the place of thine habitation, euen in heauen, and when thou hearest, be merciful.
- <sup>22</sup> ¶ When a man shall sinne against his neighbour, and he lay vpon him an othe to cause him to sweare, and the sweare shall come before thine altar in this house,
- <sup>23</sup> Then heare thou in heauen, and do, and iudge thy seruants, in recompensing the wicked to bring his way vpon his head, and in iustifying the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousnes.
- <sup>24</sup> ¶ And when thy people Israël shall be ouerthrowen before the enemye, because they haue sinned against thee, and turne againe, and confesse thy Name, and pray, and make supplication before thee in this house,
- <sup>25</sup> Then heare thou in heauen, and be merciful vnto the sinne of thy people Israël, and bring the againe vnto the land which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.
- <sup>26</sup> When heauen shall be shut vp, and there shall be no raine, because they haue sinned against thee, and shall pray in this place, & confesse thy Name, and turne from their sinne, when thou doest afflict them,
- <sup>27</sup> Then heare thou in heauen, and pardon the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israël (whē thou hast taught them the good way wherein they may walke) & giue raine vpon thy land, which thou hast giue vnto thy people for an inheritance.
- <sup>28</sup> ¶ When there shall be famine in the lād, when there shall be pestilence, blasting, or

- mildewe, when there shall be gresshopper, or caterpillar, when their enemye shall besiege them in the cities of their land, or any plague or any sicknes,
- <sup>29</sup> Then what prayers and supplication soeuer shall be made of any man, or of all thy people Israël, when euerie one shall knowe his owne plague, and his owne distease, and shall stretch forth his hands toward this house,
- <sup>30</sup> Heare thou then in heauen, thy dwelling place, and be merciful, and giue euerie man according vnto all his wayes, as thou doest knowe his heart (for y<sup>e</sup> onely knowest the hearts of the children of men)
- <sup>31</sup> That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land, which thou gauest vnto our fathers.
- <sup>32</sup> ¶ Moreover as touching the stranger, which is not of thy people Israël, who shall come out of a farre countrey for thy great Names sake, & thy mighty hand, and thy stretched out arme: when they shall come and pray in this house,
- <sup>33</sup> Heare thou in heauē thy dwelling place, and do according to all that the stranger calleth for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may knowe thy Name, and feare thee like thy people Israël, and that they may knowe, that thy Name is called vpon in this house which I haue buylt.

CHAP. VII.

1 The fire consumeth the sacrifice. 2 The glorie of the Lord filleth the Temple. 12 He heareth his prayer, 17 And promiseth to exalt him and his throne.

1 And when King Salomón had made an end of praying, a fyre came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering & the sacrifices: and the glorie of the Lord filled the house,

2 So that the Priests colde not enter into the house of the Lord, because the glorie of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3 And when all the children of Israël saw the fyre, and the glorie of the Lord come downe vpon the house, they bowed them selues with their faces to the earth vpon the pauement, and worshiped and praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercie lasteth for euer.

4 *Then the King and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And King Salomón offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousand bullockes, and an hundred and twentie thousand sheepe, so the King and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priests waited on their offices, & the Leuites with the instruments of musike of the Lord, which King Dauid had made to praise the Lord, because his mercy lasteth for euer: when Dauid praised God by them, the Priests also blew trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israël stood by.

7 Moreover Salomón halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brasen altar which Salomón had made, was not able to receiue the burnt offering, and the meat offering, and the fat.

8 And Salomón made a feast at that time of seuen dayes, & all Israël with him, a very great Congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they made a solenne assemblie: for they had made the dedication of the altar seuen dayes, and the feast seuen dayes.

10 And the thre and twentieth day of the seuenth moneth, he sent the people away into their tents, ioyous & with glad heart, because of the goodnes that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomón, and for Israël his people.

11 *So Salomón finished the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 ¶ And the Lord appeared to Salomón by night and said to him, I haue heard thy prayer, and haue chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heauen that there be no raine, or if I commande the grasshopper to deuore the land, or if I send pestilence among my people,

14 If my people, among whome my Name is called vpon, do humble them selues, & praye, and seke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes, then wil I heare in heauen, and be merciful to their sinne, and wil I heale their land.

15 Then mine eyes shalbe open and mine eares attend vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may be there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shalbe there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to do according vnto all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statuts & my iudgeméts,

18 Then wil I stablish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I made the covenant with Dauid thy father, saying, *Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israël.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my statuts and my commandeméts which I haue set before you, and shal go and serue other gods, and worship them,

20 Then wil I plucke them vp out of my land, which I haue given them, and this house which I haue sanctified for my Name, wil I cast out of my sight, and wil make it to be a prouerbe and a commune talke among all people.

21 And this house which is moste hie, shalbe an astonishment to euerie one y passeth by it, so that he shal say, Why hathe the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house?

22 And they shal answer, Because they forsake the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worshiped them, and serued them, therefore hathe he brought all this euil vpon them.

And* after a twentie yere when Sa-lomón had buylt the house of the Lord, and his owne house,

Then Salomón buylt the cities that Hurám gaue to Salomón, and caused the children of Israël to dwell there.

And Salomón went to Hamáth Zobáh,
and ouercame it.

And he buylt Tadmór in the wildernes, & repaired all the cities of store which he buylt in Hamáth.

And he buylt Beth-horón the vpper, &
Beth-horón the nether, cities defended with
walles, gates and barres:

Also Balaáth, and all the cities of store
that Salomón had, and all the charer cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euerie pleasant place that Salomón had a minde to buyld in Ierusalém, & in Le-banón, and throughout all the land of his dominion,

And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and Perizites, and the Hiuities, and the Iebusites, which were not of Israël,

But of their children which were left after them in the land, whome the children of Israél had not consumed, euen the did Sa-lomón make tributaries vntil this day.

But of the childre of Israël did Salomón make no seruants for his worke: for they were me of warre, and his chief princes, &
the captaines of his charrets & of his horsemen.

So these were the chief of the officers
which Salomón had, euen two hundredth
and fiftie that bare rule ouer the people.

¶ The Salomón brought vp the daughter of Pharaóh out of the citie of Dauid, into the house that he had buylt for her: for he said, My wife shal not dwell in the house of Dauid King of Israël: for it is holy, becauſe
that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

¶ Then Salomón offered burnt offerings
vnto the Lord, on the altar of the Lord,
which he had buylt before the porche,

To offer according to the commandement of Moſes euerie day, in the Sabbaths, and in the newe moones, and in the solemne feastes, three times in the yere,
that is, in the feast of Vnleauened bread,
and in the feast of the Weekes, and in the feast of the Tabernacles.

And he set the courses of the Priests to their offices, according to the ordre of Da-uid his father, & the Leuites in their warches, for to praise and minister before the Priests euerie day, & the porters by their courses, at euerie gate: for so was the commandement of Dauid the man of God.

And they declined not from the commandement of the King, concerning the Priests & the Leuites, touching all things,

and touching the treasures.

¶ Now Salomón had made prouisiō for all the worke, from the day of the foun-
dacion of the house of the Lord, vntil was finished: for the house of the Lord was perfite.

Then went Salomón to Ezion-geber, to Elóth by the sea side in the land of Edóm.

And Hurám sent him by the hands of his seruants, shippes, and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Salomón to Ophir, & brought thence four hundredth and fiftie talents of golde, and brought them to King Sa-lomón.

Now where as my father did burde you w a grieuous yoke, I wil yet increase your yoke: my father hathe chastised you with rodde, but I wil correct you with scourges.

Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the King had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

And the King answered them sharply: and King Rehoboam left the counsel of the ancient men,

And spake to them after the counsel of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, but I wil increase it: my father chastised you with rodde, but I wil correct you with scourges.

So the King hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God that the Lord might performe his saying, which he had spoken by Ahiah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

So when all Israël sawe that the King wolde not heare them, the people answered the King, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid: for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ishai. O Israël, euerie man to your tents: now se to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israël departed to their tents.

And whē Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, he gathered of the house of Iudah and Benjamin nine score thousand choisen men of warre to fight against Israël, & to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboam.

But the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

Speake vnto Rehoboam, the sonne of Salomon King of Iudah, and to all Israël that are in Iudah, and Benjamin, saying,

Thus sayth the Lord, Ye shal not go vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euerie man to his house: for this thing is done of me. They obeyed therefore the worde of the Lord, and returned from going against Ieroboam.

And Rehoboam dwelt in Ierusalem, and buyt strong cities in Iudah.

He buyt also Beth-lehem, and Etam, Tekoa,

And Beth-zur, and Shoco, & Adullam,

And Gath, and Maresha, and Ziph,

And Adoram, and Lachish, and Azekah,

And Zorah, & Aialon & Hebron, which were in Iudah & Benjamin, strong cities.

And he repaired the strong holdes and put captaines in them, and store of vittale, and oyle and wine.

And in all cities he put shields & speares, & made them exceding strong: so Iudah and Benjamin were his.

And the Priests and the Leuites that were in all Israël, reforted vnto him out of all their coastes.

For the Leuites left their suburbs and their possession, and came to Iudah and to Ierusalem: for Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring in the Priests office vnto the Lord.

And he ordeined him Priests for the hie places, and for the deuils and for the calves which he had made.

And after y Leuites there came to Ierusalem of all y tribes of Israël, such as set their hearts to seke y Lord God of Israël, to offer vnto y Lord God of their fathers.

So they strengthened the kingdome of Iudah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon mightie, thre yere long: for he yere they walked in the way of Dauid the sonne of Salomon.

And Rehoboam toke him Mahalab the daughter of Ierimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, & Abihail the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ishai,

Which bare him sonnes Ieush, and Shemariah, and Zaham.

And after her he toke Maakah y daughter of Absalom which bare him Abiah, and Arthai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

And Rehoboam loued Maakah y daughter of Absalom aboue all his wiues & his concubines: for he toke eightene wiues, & thre score concubines, and begate eight and twentie sonnes, & thre score daughters.

And Rehoboam made s Abiah the sone of Maakah the chief ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him King.

And he taught him: and dispersed all his sonnes throughout all the countreies of Iudah and Benjamin vnto euerie strong citie: and he gaue them abundance of vitaille, and desired many wiues.

And he toke the strong cities of Iudah, and came vnto Ierusalem.

Then came Shemaiah the prophet to Rehoboam, and to all the people that were gathered together because of Shishak, & thus sayth the Lord me, therefore haue I geuen you into his hands of Shishak.

Then the princes of Iudah humbled them selues before Shishak, & said, I am your seruants.

And when the Lord sawe that they humbled them selues, he sent Shemaiah the prophet to say vnto Rehoboam, & to all the people, & to say vnto Shishak.

Thus sayth the Lord, because ye humbled your selues before me, I will not destroy Ierusalem at this tyme, neither will I be to Ierusalem for a snare, & for a fall.

Nevertheless they shal not know my covenant, for they haue not kept it: therefore will I be to Ierusalem for a snare, & for a fall.

Then Shishak King of Egypt came vnto Ierusalem, & he tooke the treasures of the house of the Lord, & he tooke the treasures of the Kings house, & he carryed away the gold.

Which Salomon had hid in the house of the Lord, & in the Kinges house.

In stead whereof King Rehoboam made shields of brass, and he put them in the hands of the chiefe men of the house, & waited at the dore of the house of the Lord.

And when the King sawe that he was thus done, he was wroth, & he said, I will build a garde chamber.

And because he humbled him selfe, I will not destroy Ierusalem, neither will I be to Ierusalem for a snare, & for a fall.

So King Rehoboam dwelt in Ierusalem, & he reigned forty yere.

And when Rehoboam had established the kingdom & made it strong, he forsoke the Lawe of the Lord, and all Israel with him.

Therefore in the fifth yere of King Rehoboam, Shishak the King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)

With twelve hundred chariots, and thre score thousand horsemen, & the people were without number, that came with him from Egypt, even the Lubims, Sukkiims, & the Ethiopians.

And he toke the strong cities which were of Iudah, and came vnto Ierusalem.

Then came Shemaiah the Prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Iudah, that were gathered together in Ierusalem, because of Shishak, and said vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord, Ye haue forsaken me; therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Shishak.

Then the princes of Israel, and the King humbled them selues, and said, The Lord is iust.

And when the Lord sawe that they humbled them selues, the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiah, saying, They haue humbled them selues, therefore I wil not destroye them, but I wil find them deliuerance shortly, & my wrath shal not be poured out vpon Ierusalem by the hand of Shishak.

Nevertheless they shal be his seruants: so shal they know my seruice, & the seruice of the kingdomes of the earth.

Then Shishak King of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem, and toke the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house: he toke even all, and he caried away the shields of golde, which Salomon had made.

In stead whereof King Rehoboam made shields of brasse, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the garde, that waited at the dore of the Kings house.

And when the King entred into the house of the Lord, the garde came and bare them and brought them againe vnto the garde chamber.

And because he humbled him selfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he wolde not destroye all together. And also in Iudah the things prospered.

So King Rehoboam was strong in Ierusalem and reigned: for Rehoboam was one & fourtie yere olde, when he began to reigne, & reigned & seven: one yere in Ierusalem, the cite which the Lord had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his Name

there. And his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonitess.

And he did euill: for he prepared not his heart to seke the Lord.

The actes also of Rehoboam, first and last, are they not written in the booke of Shemaiah the Prophet, and Iddo the Seer, in rehearsing the genealogie: & there was warre alway betwene Rehoboam & Ieroboam.

And Rehoboam slept with his fathers, and was buried in the cite of Dauid, and Abiiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XIII.

Abiiah maketh warre against Ieroboam. 4. He sheweth the occasion. 12. He trusteth in the Lord and overcometh Ieroboam. 21. Of his wives and children.

In the eighteenth yere of King Ieroboam began Abiiah to reigne ouer Iudah.

He reigned thre yere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was Michaiiah the daughter of Vriël of Gibeá) and there was warre betwene Abiiah and Ieroboam.

And Abiiah set the battel in aray with the armie of valiant men of warre, even foure hundred thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battel in aray against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men which were strong and valiant.

And Abiiah stode vp vpon mount Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, O Ieroboam, & all Israel, heare you me,

Ought you not to knowe that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdom ouer Israel to Dauid for euer, even to him and to his sonnes by a couenant for sale?

And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, and hath rebelled against his lord.

And there are gathered to him vaine men & wicked, and made them selues strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was but a childe and tender hearted, & colde not resist them.

Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdom of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, & the golden calues are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.

Have ye not driuen away the Priests of the Lord the sonnes of Aarón and the Leuites, and haue made you Priests like the people of other countreies: whoeuer cometh to consecrate with a yong bullocke and seven rams, the same may be a Priest of them that are no gods.

Iehoshaphát trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 He aboliseth idolatrie. 7 And causeth the people to be taught. 11 He receiueith tribute of strangers. 13 He munitions and men of warre.

1 And Iehoshaphát his sonne reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israël.

2 And he put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudáh, and set bands in the land of Iudáh and in the cities of Ephraím, which Asá his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphát, because he walked in the first wayes of his father David, and fought not Baalim,

4 But fought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the trade of Israël.

Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdom in his hand, and all Iudáh brought presents to Iehoshaphát, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

5 And he lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he toke awaie moreouer the hie places & the groues out of Iudáh.

6 And in the third yere of his reigne he sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiáh, & Zechariáh, and Nethaneél, and Michaiáh, that they shulde teache in the cities of Iudáh,

7 And with them Leuites, Shemaiáh, and Nethaniáh, and Zebadiáh, and Afahél, & Shemiramóth, and Iehonathán, and Adonniáh, and Tobiiáh, and Tob-adonniáh, Leuites, and with them Elishamá and Iehorám Priests.

8 And they taught in Iudáh, and had the boke of the Lawe of the Lord with them, & went about throughout all the cities of Iudáh, and taught the people.

9 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the lands, y were rounde about Iudáh, and they fought not against Iehoshaphát.

11 So Iehoshaphát prospered and grewe vpon him: and he buylt in Iudáh palaces and cities of store.

12 And he had great workes in the cities of Iudáh, and men of warre, & valiant men in Ierusalem.

13 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers, In Iudáh were captaines of thousands, Adnáh the captaine, and with him of valiant men three hundred thousand.

14 And at his hand Iehohanán a captaine, and with him two hundred & foure score thousand.

15 And at his hand Amasiáh the sonne of Zichri, which willingly offered him selfe vnto the Lord, and with him two hundred thousand valiant men.

16 And of Beniamín, Eliadá a valiant man, and with him armed men with bowe and shield two hundred thousand.

1 And Iehoshaphát had riches & honour in abundance, but he was joined in assinitie with Aháb.

2 And after certeine yeres he went downe to Aháb to Samaria: & Aháb slewe sheepe and oxen for him in great number, & he fed the people that he had with him, and committed him to go vnto Ramóth Gileád.

3 And Aháb King of Israël said vnto Iehoshaphát King of Iudáh, Wilt thou go with me to Ramóth Gileád? And he answered him, I am as thou art, & my people as thy people, & we wil sojgne w thee in the warre.

4 And Iehoshaphát said vnto the King of Israël, Aske counsell, I pray thee, at the wordes of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the King of Israël gathered of Prophets foure hundred men, and said vnto them, Shall we go to Ramóth Gileád to battel, or shal I cease? And they said, Go vp: for God shal deliuer it into our hands.

6 But Iehoshaphát said, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord y we might inquire of him?

phát, There is yet one man, by whome we may alke counsel of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doeth not prophecie good vnto me, but allway euil: it is Michaiáh
the sonne of Imlá. The Iehoshaphát said,
Let not the King say so.

And the King of Israël called an eunu che, and said, Call quickly Michaiáh the sonne of Imlá.

¶ And the King of Israël, and Iehoshaphát King of Iudah sate ether of them on his throne clothed in their apparel: they sate euen in the threshing floore at the en tering in of the gate of Samaria: & all the Prophetes prophecied before them.

And Zidkiáh the sonne of Chenaanáh, made him hornes of yron, & said, Thus saith y<sup>e</sup> Lord, With these shalt thou push y<sup>e</sup> Aramites vntil thou hast consumed them.

And all the Prophetes prophecied so,
saying, Go vp to Ramóth Gileád, & prosper:
for the Lord shal deliuer it into the hand of the King.

¶ And the messenger that wēt to call Mi chaiáh, spake to him, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the Prophetes declare good to y<sup>e</sup> King with one accord: let thy worde
therefore, I pray thee, be lyke one of theirs,
and speake thou good.

And Michaiáh said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer my God saith y<sup>e</sup> wil I speake.

¶ So he came to the King, and the King said vnto him, Michaiáh, shal we go to Ra móth Gileád to battel, or shal I fleafe off?
And he said, I Go ye vp, and prosper, and they shal be deliuered into your hand.

And the King said to him, How oft shal I charge thee, that thou tel me nothing but the truth in the Name of the Lord?

Then he said, I sawe all Israël scatered
in the mountaines, as shepe that haue no shepherd: and the Lord said, These haue no master: let the returne euerie man
to his house in peace.

And the King of Israël said to Iehoshaphát,
Did I not tel thee, that he wolde not prophecie good vnto me, but euil?

¶ Again he said, Therefore heare ye the wordes of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

¶ And the Lord said, Who shal persuade Aháb King of Israël, that he may go vp and fall at Ramóth Gileád? And one spake and said thus, and another said that.

¶ The there came forth a spirit and stoode
before the Lord, and said, I wil persuade him. And the Lord said vnto him, Where?

¶ And he said, I wil go out, and be a false
spirit in the mouthe of all his Prophetes.
And he said, Thou shalt persuade, and shalt also preuaile: go forth and do so.

Now therefore beholde, the Lord hathe put a false spirit in the mouthe of these thy Prophetes, & the Lord hathe determi ned euil against thee.

¶ Then Zidkiáh the sonne of Chenaanáh came nere, and smote Michaiáh vpon the cheke, and said, By what way wēt the spi rit of y<sup>e</sup> Lord frō me, to speake with thee?

¶ And Michaiáh said, Beholde, thou shalt se that day whē thou shalt go from cham ber to chamber to hide thee.

¶ And the King of Israël said, Take ye Michaiáh, and carie him to Amón the go uernour of the citie, & to Iosáphat the Kings
sonne,

¶ And say, Thus saith the King, Put this man in the prison house, & fede him with bread of affliction and with water of af fliction vntil I returne in peace.

¶ And Michaiáh said, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hathe not spoken by me.
¶ And he said, Heare, all ye people.

¶ So the King of Israël and Iehoshaphát
the King of Iudah wēt vp to Ramóth Gi leád.

¶ And the King of Israël said vnto Ieho
shaphát, I wil change my selfe, and en tre into the battel: but put thou on thine apparel. So the King of Israël chāged him selfe, and they went into the battel.

¶ And the King of Arám had commanded the captaines of the charets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against y<sup>e</sup> King of Israël onely.

¶ And when the captaines of the charets
sawe Iehoshaphát, they said, It is the King of Israël: and they compassed about him to fight. But Iehoshaphát cryed, & y<sup>e</sup> Lord helped him & moued them to departe from
him.

¶ For when the captaines of the charets
sawe that he was not the King of Israël,
they turned backe from him.

¶ Then a certeine man drewe a bowe my ghtely, & smote the King of Israël betwe
ne the ioyntes of his brigadine: there fore
he said to his charetmán, Turne thine hand, and carie me out of the holste: for I am hurt.

¶ And the battel increafed that day: and the King of Israël stode stil in his cha ret against the Aramites vntil euen, and died at the time of y<sup>e</sup> sunne going downe.

Taxes proclaimed. II. Chron.

Ioash

Amaziah.

of his own servants: After him reigneth Amaziah.

1. King. 12. 1.

Ioash was seven yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

And Ioash did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, all the dayes of Iehoiada the Priest.

And Iehoiada toke him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

And afterward it came into Ioashminde, to renew the house of the Lord.

And he assembled the Priestes and the Levites, & said to them, Go out vnto the cities of Iudah, and gather of all I Israel money to repaire the house of your God, from yere to yere, and haste the thing: but the Levites hastened not.

Therefore the King called Iehoiada, the chief, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Levites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem the tax of Moses the servant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the testimonie?

For wicked Athaliah, & her children brake vp the house of God: and all the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they bestowe vpon Baalim.

Therefore the King commanded, and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord.

And they made proclamacion through Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lord the tax of Moses the servant of God, laid vpon Israel in the wilderness.

And all the princes and all the people reioycd, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

And when it was time, thei brought the chest vnto the Kings officer by the hand of the Levites: and when they sawe that there was muche siluer, then the Kings Scribe (& one appointed by the Priest) came and emptied the chest, and toke it, and carried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered siluer in abundance.

And the King and Iehoiada gaue it to suche as did the labour & worke in the house of the Lord, and hyred masons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to workers of yron and brasse, to repaire the house of the Lord.

So the workemen wrought, and the worke amended through their hands: and they restored the house of God to his state, & strengthened it.

And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the siluer before the King and Iehoiada, and he made there vessels for the house of the Lord, vessels to minister, bothe morters & cups, and vessels of golde, and of silver: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord, continually all the dayes of Iehoiada.

But Iehoiada waxed olde, and was of daies and dyed. An hundredth and twentie yere olde was he when he dyed.

And thei buried him in the citie of David with the Kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

And after the death of Iehoiada, came thei princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the King, & the King hearkened vnto them.

And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued groves and idoles: and wrath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of this their trespass.

And God sent Prophetes among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and they made protestacion among themselves, they wolde not heare.

And the Spirit of God came vpon Zachariah the sonne of Iehoiada the Priest, which stode aboute the people, and said vnto them, Thus saith God, Why transgresse ye the commandements of the Lord, surely it shal not prosper: because ye haue forsaken the Lord, he also hath forsaken you.

Then they conspired against him: and stoned him with stones at the commandement of the King, in the court of the house of the Lord.

Thus Ioash the King remembred not the kindenes which Iehoiada his father had done to him, but slewe his sonne. And when he dyed, he said, The Lord loke vpon it, & require it.

And when the yere was out, the hostes of Aram came vp against him, and they came against Iudah and Ierusalem, & destroyed all the princes of the people among the people, and sent all the spoiles of them vnto the King of Damascus.

Thogh the armie of Aram came with a small company of men, yet the Lord deliuered a very great armie into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they gaue sentence against Ioash.

And when they were departed from him, (for thei left him in great diseases) his owne seruants conspired against him, for the blood of the children of Iehoiada the Priest, and slewe him on his bed, and he dyed, and they buried him in the citie of David: but they buried him not in the the sepulchres of the Kings. And these are they that conspired against him, Zabab the sone of Shimonieffe, and Iehozabab Shimrith a Moabieffe.

But his sonnes, and the taxe gathered by him, and the house of God, be written in the storie of the Kings. And Amaziah his in his stead.

CHAP. XXV.

Amaziah putteth them to death. He sendeth backe them of Edomites. He felleth the King of Israel ouercometh him slayne by a conspiracie.

Amaziah was five and thirtie yere olde, when he began to reigne: and he reigned nine and twentie yere in Ierusalem: & his mothers name was Iehoiada.

And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart. And when the kingdome came vnto him, he slewe his seruants, the King his father.

But he slewe not their children, as it is written in the Law, of Moses, where the Lord sayeth, The fathers shal not be punished for the children, neither the children for the fathers, but euery man for his owne sinne.

And Amaziah assembled thei captaines ouer the houses of their fathers, thei captaines ouer hundredths of Iudah and Beniamin: & he numbered from twentie yere olde and founde among them thre hundred chosen men, to go forth to handle speare and shield.

He hyred also an hundredth thre hundredth of Israel for talents of siluer.

But a man of God came to him, and said, O King, let not the armie of Israel be with thee: for the Lord is not with them, neither with all the house of Israel.

If thou goest to the battell, thou shalt fall before thine enemies: for God shal not be with thee, to helpe, and to cast downe.

And Amaziah said to the man, What shal we do then for our talents? I haue giuen to thei Lo. d. Then the man of God answered, Lo. d. is able to giue thee more. So Amaziah separated thei men that was come to him, to returne to their place, and their wrath was kindled against

CHAP. XXV.

Amaziáh putteth them to death which slewe his father. 10 He sendeth backe them of Israel. 11 He overcometh the Edomites. 12 He forsaketh idolatrie. 17 And Iosh King of Israel overcometh Amaziáh. 27 He is slayn by a conspiracie.

1 Amaziáh was five and twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, & he reigned nine and twentie yere in Ierusalem: & his mothers name was Ichoadán, of Ierusalem.

2 And he did vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfite heart.

3 And when the kingdome was established vnto him, he slewe his seruants, that had slayne the King his father.

4 But he slewe not their children, but did, as it is written in the Law, & in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, * The fathers shal not dye for the children, neither shal the children dye for the fathers, but euerie man shal dye for his owne sinne.

5 And Amaziáh assembled Iudáh, and made them captaines ouer thousands, & captaines ouer hundredes according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Iudáh and Beniamin: & he nombred them for e twentie yere olde and aboue, and founde among them thre hundred thousand chosen me, to go forth to the waire, and to handle speare and shield.

6 He hyred also an hundred thousand valiant men out of Israel for an hundred talents of siluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O King, let not the armie of Israel go with thee: for the Lord is not e with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If not, go thou on, do it, make thy selfe stró to the battell, but God shal make thee fall before thy enemy: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

9 And Amaziáh said to the man of God, What shal we do then for the hundred talents, which I haue giuen to the hoste of Israel? Then the man of God answered, The Lord is able to geue thee more then this.

10 So Amaziáh separated the, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against

Iudáh, and they returned to their places with great angre.

11 Then Amaziáh was encouraged, and led forth his people, & went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Iudáh take alieue, and caryed them to the toppe of a rocke, and cast the downe from the toppe of the rocke, and they all burst to pieces.

13 But the men of the armie, which Amaziáh sent away, that they shulde not go with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Iudáh from Samaria vnto Bethhoron, and smote thre thousand of them, and toke muche spoyle.

14 Now after that Amaziáh was come fro the slaughter of the Edomites, he brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and worshiped them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziáh, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast thou fought the gods of the people, which were not able to deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, he said vnto him, Haue thei made thee Kings counseler? cease thou: why shulde they smite thee? And the Prophet ceased, but said, I knowe that God hath determined to destroye thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsel.

17 Then Amaziáh King of Iudáh toke counsel, and sent to Ioásh the sone of Ichoaház, the sone of Iehú King of Israel, saying, Come, let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Ioásh King of Israel sent to Amaziáh King of Iudáh, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedre that is in Lebanon, saying, * Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: & the wilde beast that was in Lebanon went & trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest so, thou hast smitten Edóm, and thine heart listeth thee vp to bragge: abide now at home: why dost thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shuldest fall, and Iudáh with thee?

20 But Amaziáh wolde not heare: for it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, because they had fought the gods of Edóm.

21 So Ioásh the King of Israel went vp: & he, and Amaziáh King of Iudáh sawe one another in the face at Bethshémesh, which is in Iudáh.

11 Vzziah had also an hoste of fighting men, that wet out to warre by bades, according to the counte of their number vnder the hand of Ieiel the scribe, and Maaseiah ruler, & vnder the hand of Hananiah, one of the Kings captaines.

12 The whole h number of the chief of the families of the valiat men were two thousand and six hundred.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, thre hundred and seuen thousand, and five hundred that foght valiantly to helpe the King against the enemy.

14 And Vzziah prepared them throughout all the hoste, shields, and speares, and helmets, and brigandines, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also verie artificial engines in Ierusalém, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shote arrowes and great stones: and his name spread farre abroad, because God did helpe him meruelously, till he was mightie.

16 ¶ But when he was strong, his heart was lift vp to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, & went to the Temple of the Lord to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah y Priest went in after him, and with him foure score Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstode Vzziah the King, & said vnto him, * It perteineth not to thee Vzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord: but to y Priests the sonnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: & for the of the Sanctuary: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Ahaz an idolater is giuen into the hands of the Syrians,
and the King of Israel. 9 The Prophet reproveth the Israelites crueltie. 18 Iudah is molested with enemies.

21 Ahaz increaseth his idolatrie. 26 His death and successour.

Ahaz was yue and twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned six-tene yere in Ierusalem, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lord, like Dauid
his father.

But he walked in the wayes of Kings
of Israel, and made euen molten images
for Baalim.

Moreouer he burnt incense in the valley of Ben-hinnom, & burnt his sonnes with fyre, after the abominations of the heathē
whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the hie places, and on hilles, and vnder
euerie grene tre.

Wherefore the Lord his God deliuered
him into the hand of the King of the Aramites, and they smote him, and toke of his, manie prisoners, and broght them
to Damascus: and he was also deliuered into the hand of the King of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.

For Pekah the sonne of Remaliah, slewe
in Iudah six score thousand in one day, all valiant men, because they had forsaken
the Lord God of their fathers.

And Zichri a mightie man of Ephraim slewe Maasiah the Kings sonne, and Az-rikam the gouernour of the house, and Elkanah the seconde after the King.

And the children of Israel toke prisoners
of their brethren, two hundred thousand of women, sonnes and daughters, and caryed away muche spoile of them, and broght the spoile to Samaria.

But there was a Prophet of the Lords, (whose name was Obed) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, & said vnto them, Beholde, because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, he hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue slaine them in a rage,
that reacheth vp to heauen.

And now ye purpose to kepe vnder the children of Iudah and Ierusalem, as ser-uants and handmaidens vnto you: but are not you such, that sinnes are with you before the Lord your God?

Now therefore heare me, and deliuer the captaines againe, which ye haue takē prisoners of your brethren: for y<sup>e</sup> feare wrath
of the Lord & toward you.

Wherefore certeine of the chief of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Ichohanan, Berechiah the sonne of Meshillemorh, and Iehizkiah the sonne of Shallum, and Amasiah the sonne of Hadlai, stode vp against them that came from the

vs against the Lord: ye entred to adde mo-

our trespass be great, & the feare wrath
of God is against Israel.

So the armie left the captiues and the

<sup>6</sup> For our fathers haue trespassed, and done euil in the eyes of the Lord our God, and haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, & turned their backs.

<sup>7</sup> They haue also shut the dores of the porche, and quenched the lampes, and haue neither burnt incense, nor offered burnt offerings in the Sanctuarie vnto the God of Israël.

<sup>12</sup> ¶ Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amathai, and Isai the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of the Kohathites, and of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Buhalel: and of the Gershonites, Ishai the sonne of Zimmah, and Eden the sonne of Ioah:

<sup>13</sup> And of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shimri, and Iehiel: & of the sonnes of Azaiah, Zechariáh, and Mattaniah:

<sup>14</sup> And of the sonnes of Hemán, Iehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Jeduthan, Shemaiah and Vzziel.

<sup>15</sup> And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified them selues, & came according to the commandement of the King, and according to the wordes of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

<sup>16</sup> And the Priests went into the house of the Lord, & brought out all the vessels founde in the Temple of the house of the Leuites toke it, to carie it to Kidrón.

<sup>17</sup> They began the first day of the moneth to sanctifie it, and in the moneth came they to the Lord: so they sanctified the Lord in eight dayes, and in the first moneth they made it.

<sup>18</sup> ¶ Then they went in to the King, and said, We haue the house of the Lord and the offering, with all the vessels of the shewbread table, with a thereof:

<sup>19</sup> And all the vessels which had cast aside when he reigned, haue we prepared, and behold, they are before the Lord.

<sup>20</sup> ¶ And Hezekiah the King gathered the princes of the house, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

<sup>23</sup> Then they brought the hegoates, and they laid the sin offering before the King, and they laid upon them.

<sup>24</sup> And the Priests slewe the blood of them they clefēd, and conciled all Israël: for the King commanded for all Israël the blood of the sin offering.

<sup>25</sup> He appointed also the Leuites of the house of the Lord with cymbals, and with harpes, according to the commandement of David King Seer, and Nathán the prophet, the <sup>c</sup> commandement which the Lord, and by the hand of the Leuites.

<sup>27</sup> And Hezekiah commanded to burne offing vpon the altar, and to sing psalms, the song began with the trumpets, and

16 And the Priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, & brought out all the vncleannes that they founde in the Temple of the Lord, into the courte of the house of the Lord: and the Levites toke it, to carie it out vnto the broke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the 8 first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porche of y<sup>e</sup> Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the sixtete day of the first moneth they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the King, and said, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lord and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, & the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof.

19 And all the vessels which King Aház had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the King, rose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seven bullockes, and seven rams, and seven lambes, and seven hegoates, for a sin offering for the kingdome, and for the sanctuarie, and for Iudah. And he commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aarón, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slewe the bullockes, and y<sup>e</sup> Priests receiued the blood, & sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slewe also the rams & sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slewe the lambes, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hegoates for the sinne offering before the King & the Congregation, and they laied their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slewe them, & with the blood of them they clesed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering & the sinne offering.

25 He appointed also the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbales, with viols, and with harpes, according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathán the Prophet: for the commandement was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hád of his Prophetes.

26 And the Levites stode with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: & when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began, with the trumpets, and the instruments of Dauid King of Israel. And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and thei blew the trumpets: all this continued vntil the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the King and all that were present with him, bowed them selues, and worshipped.

30 ¶ The Hezekiah the King & the princes commanded the Levites to praise the Lord with the wordes of Dauid, and of Asaph the Seer. so thei praised with ioye, and thei bowed them selues, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and said, Now ye haue consecrate your selues to the Lord: come nere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, and offerings of praises, and euerie man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seuen bullockes, an hundred rams, and two hundred lambes: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord.

33 And for sanctification six hundred bullockes, and three thousand shepe.

34 But the Priests were to fewe, & were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Levites did helpe them, til they had ended the worke, & vntil other Priests were sanctified: for the Levites were more vpright in heart to sanctifie them selues, then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many with the fat of the peace offerings and the drinke offerings for the burnt offering, so the seruice of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioyced & all the people, that God had made the people so ready: for the thing was done suddenly.

4 And the thing pleased the King, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamacion throughout all Israel from Beerſheba euen to Dan, that they shulde come to kepe the Pascheouer vnto the Lord God of Israel at Ierusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.

6 So the postes went with letters by the commission of the King, and his princes, throughout all Israel and Iudah, and with the commandement of the King, saying, Ye childre of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, and he wil returne to the remnant that are escaped of you, out of the hands of the Kings of Asshur.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate, as ye se.

8 Be not ye now stiffnecked like your fathers, but give the had to the Lord & come into his Sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God: and the scarcenes of his wrath shal turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lord, your brethren and your children shal finde mercie before them that led them captiues, and they shal returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and wil not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 So the postes went from citie to citie through the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, euen vnto Zebulun: but they laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

11 Neuertheles diuers of Asher, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun submitted them selues, and came to Ierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudah, so that he gaue them one heart to do the commandement of the King, and of the rulers, according to the worde of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Ierusalem muche people, to kepe the feast of vnleavened bread in the seconde moneth, a very great assemble.

14 And they arose, & toke away the altars that were in Ierusalem: and all those for incense toke they away, and cast them into the broke Kidron.

15 Afterward they slew the Pascheouer the fourtente day of the seconde moneth: and the Priests and Leuites were ashamed, and sanctified them selues, and broght the burnt offrings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stode in their place after their maner, according to the Law of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the blood, receined of the hands of the Leuites.

17 Because there were manie in the Congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Pascheouer for all that were not cleansed to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephraim, & Manasseh, Issachar & Zebulun had not clenfed them selues, yet did eat the Pascheouer, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be merciful toward him,

19 That he prepareth his whole heart to seek the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not clenfed, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, & healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Ierusalem, kept the feast of the vnleavened bread seuen dayes with great ioye, and the Leuites, and the Priests praised the Lord, day by day, singing with lowde instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge in sing vnto the Lord: & they did eat in that feast seuen dayes, & offered peace offerings, & praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assemble roke consuetudo kepe it other seuen dayes. So they kept it seuen dayes with ioye.

24 For Hezekiah King of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and seuen thousand shepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and ten thousand shepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priests and the Leuites, & all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, & that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioye in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of David King of Israel there was not the like thing in Ierusalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and their prayer came vp to heauen, to his holy habitation.

He commadèd also the people that dwelt in Ierusalem, to giue a parte to the Priests, and Leuites, that they might be encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

And whè the commadement was spred, the children of Israél broght abundance of first frutes, of corne, wine, & oyle, & hony, & of all the increase of the field, and the riches of all things broght they abundantly.

And Hezekiáh questioned w the Priests and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

And Azariáh y chief Priest of the house of Zadók answered him, & said, Since the people begā to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we haue eaten & haue bene satisfied, & there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

And Hezekiáh cõmanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them,

And caryed in the first frutes, and the tithes, & the dedicate things faithfully: & ouer the was Conaniáh the Leuite, y chief, and Shimei his brother the secon.

9 And he toke courage, and buylt all the broken wall, and made vp the towres, & another wall without, & repaired a Millo in the citie of Dauid, and made many darters and shields.

10 And he set captaynes of warre ouer the people and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and

11 spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

12 Be strong and couragious: feare not, neither be a fraied for the King of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: for there be mo with vs, then is with him.

13 With him is an arme of flesh, but with vs is the Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the wordes of Hezekiah King of Iudah.

14 After this, did Sanneherib King of Asshur send his seruants to Ierusalem (while he was against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah King of Iudah and vnto all Iudah that were at Ierusalem, saying,

15 Thus saith Sanneherib the King of Asshur, Wherein do ye trust, that ye will remaine in Ierusalem, during the siege?

16 Doeth not Hezekiah entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine & by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shal deliuer vs out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

17 Hath not y<sup>e</sup> same Hezekiah take awaie his hie places and hisse altars and commanded Iudah and Ierusalem, saying, Ye shal worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

18 Knowe ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreies? Were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

19 Who is he of all the gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that colde deliuer his people out of mine hand? that your God shulde be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

20 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sorte, neither belue ye him: for none of all y<sup>e</sup> gods of any nation or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of mine hand and out of y<sup>e</sup> hand of my fathers: how much lesse shal your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

21 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, & against his seruants Hezekiah.

22 He wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreies colde not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shal not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

23 Then they cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes speache vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wall, to feare it: and to astonish them, that they might take the citie.

24 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, even the workes of man's hands.

25 But Hezekiah the King, and the People Ishaiah the Sonne of Amoz<sup>a</sup> praised against this and cryed to heauen.

26 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the priests and captaynes of the hoste of the King of Asshur: so he returned with shame to his owne land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

27 So the Lord saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem from the hand of Sanneherib King of Asshur, and from the hand of all other, and maintained them euerie side.

28 And many brought offerings vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord to Ierusalem, and presents to Hezekiah King of Iudah, so that he was magnified in the sight of all nacions from thence forth.

29 In those dayes Hezekiah was sickened to the death, and praied vnto the Lord who spake vnto him, and gaue him a signe.

30 But Hezekiah did not rendre according to the rewarde bestowed vpon him: for his heart was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

31 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled him selfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the daies of Hezekiah.

32 Hezekiah also had exceedig much riches & honour, & he gaue him treasures of silver, & of golde, and of precious stones, & of sweete odours, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:

33 And of store houses for the increase of wheat, and wine and oyle, and stalles for all beastes, and rows for the stables.

34 And he made him cities, and had possession of shepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

35 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springs of Gihon, and led the streight vnderneath toward y<sup>e</sup> citie of Dauid Westward, so Hezekiah prospered in all his workes.

36 But because of the ambaces of Babél, which he enquire of the wondre of the land, God left him to knowe all that was in his heart. Concerning the rest of Hezekiah, and his goodnes, he is written in the vision of Ishaiah the sonne of Amoz the Kings of Iudah and Ierusalem. So Hezekiah slept with his fathers: and they buried him in the high place of the sonnes of Dauid: and the inhabitants of Ierusalem mourned at his death: and Manasséh reigned in his stead.

So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of David: and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasséh his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Manasséh an idolater. 9 He causeth Iudah to erre.
11 He led away prisoner into Babylon. 12 He prayeth to the Lord, and is deliuered. 14 He abolissheth idolatrie, 16 And setteth vp true religion. 20 He dyeth and Amón his sonne succedeth, 24 Whome his owne
seruants slay.

Manasséh was twelue yere olde, * when he began to reigne, and he reigned fiftie and fiftie yere in Ierusalem:

And he did euil in the sight of the Lord,
like the abominacions of the heathen, * whome the Lord had cast out before the
children of Israel.

For he went backe and buylt the hie places, * which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baa-lum, and made groues, and worshipped all
the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

Also he buylt altars in the house of the Lord, wherof the Lord had said, * In Jerusalem shal my Name be for euer.

And he buylt altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courtes of the house
of the Lord.

And he caused his sonnes to passe
through y fyre in the valley of Ben-hin-nom: he gaue him selfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to forcerie, and he vsed
them that had familiar spirits, and sothesayers: he did verie much euil in y sight of the Lord to angre him.

He put also the karued image, which he had made, in the house of God: wherof
God had said to David and to Salomon
his sonne, * In this house & in Ierusalem,
which I haue chosen before all the tribes
of Israel, wil I put my Name for euer,

Nether wil I make the foote of Israel to remoue any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heed, & do all that I haue commanded them, according to the Law and statutes and iudgements by the hand of Moses.

So Manasséh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, & to do worse
then the heathen, whome the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

¶ And the Lord spake to Manasséh &
to his people, but they wolde not regarde.

Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them
the captaines of the hoste of the King of Asshur, which toke Manasséh & put him in fettters, and bounde him in chaines, and carryed him to Babel.

And when he was in tribulaciō, he prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled him
selfe greatly before y God of his fathers,

And prayed vnto him: and God was endured of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: the Manasséh knewe that the Lord was God.

Now after this he buylt a wall without the citie of David, on the Westside of Gihon in the valley, euē at the entrie of the fish gate, & compassed about Ophēl,
and raised it very hie, and put captaines of
warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

And he toke away the strange gods and
the image out of the house of the Lord,
and all the altars that he had buylt in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

Also he prepared the altar of y Lord,
and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and
of thanks, and commanded Iudah to ser-ue the Lord God of Israel.

Nevertheless the people did sacrifice stil
in the hie places, but vnto y Lord their God.

¶ Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasséh, and his prayer vnto his God,
and the wordes of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Kings of Israel.

And his prayer and how God was intrea-
ted of him, and all his sinne, and his tref-
passe, and the places wherein he buylt hie places, and set groues and images (before he was humbled) beholde, they are written in the boke of the Seers.

So Manasséh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his owne house: and Amón his sonne reigned in his stead.

¶ Amón was two and twentie yere olde,
when he began to reigne, and reigned two yere in Ierusalem.

But he did euil in the sight of the Lord,
as did Manasséh his father: for Amón sacrificed to all the images, which Manasséh
his father had made, and serued them,

And he humbled not him selfe before the Lord, as Manasséh his father had humbled him selfe: but this Amón trespassed more and more.

And his seruants * conspired against him, and slewe him in his owne house.

all the workes of their <sup>p</sup> hands, therefore shal my wrath fall vpon this place, & shal
not be quenched.

26 But to the King of Iudáh, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shal ye say vnto
him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel,
The wordes which thou hast heard, <sup>shal</sup>
come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did <sup>n</sup> melt, and thou didest humble thy self before God, whē thou heardest his wordes against this place and against the inhabitants thereof,
and humbledst thy selfe before me and which I wil bring vpon this <sup>e</sup> place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they broght the King worde againe.

29 ¶ Then the King sent and gathered all the Elders of Iudáh and Ierusalem.

And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudáh, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all the people
frō the greatest to the <sup>s</sup> smallest, and hered in their eares all the wordes of the boke of the couenant that was founde in the house of the Lord.

And the King stode by his pillar, and made a couenant before the Lord, to wal-ke after the Lord, and to keepe his commandements, and his testimonies, and his sta-
tures, with all his heart, and with all his soule, & <sup>y</sup> he wolde accomplishe the wordes
of the couenant written in the same boke.

And he caused all that were founde in Ierusalem, and Beniamin to stand to it: &
the inhabitants of Ierusalem did according to the couenant of God, <sup>even</sup> the God of their fathers.

30 So Iosiah toke away all the abominations out of all the countreis that pertein-
ed to the children of Israel, and compelled all <sup>e</sup> that were found in Israel, to serue
the Lord their God: so all his daies they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

Iosiah kepeth the Passeouer. 2 He setteth forth the Gods service. 20 He fighteth against the King of egypt, &
dyeth. 24 The people bewaile him.

MOREouer. Iosiah kept a Passeouer vnto the Lord in Ierusalem, & they

slewe the <sup>a</sup> Passeouer in the fourteenth
day of the first moneth.

2 And he appointed the Priests to their charges, and encouraged them to the fir-
uice of the house of the Lord,

3 And he said vnto <sup>y</sup> Leuites, that <sup>b</sup> brought all Israel and were sanctified vnto <sup>y</sup> Lord, Put the holy <sup>A</sup> ke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did buyld: it <sup>shal</sup> be no more a <sup>e</sup> burden vpon your sholders: serue now the Lord your God and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as * Dauid the King of Israel hath written,
& according to the writing of Salomon
his sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuarie according to the diuision of the families of your brethren <sup>n</sup> the children of the people, and after the diuision of the familie of the Leuites:

6 So kil the Passeouer, and sanctifie your selues, and <sup>d</sup> prepare your brethren that they may do according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iosiah also gaue to the <sup>n</sup> people shepe, lã-bes and kiddes, all for the Passeouer, <sup>even</sup> to all that were present, to the number of thirty thousand, & thre thousand bullokes: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his princes offred willingly vnto the people, to the Priests & to the Leuites: Hilkiáh, and Zechariáh, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto <sup>y</sup> Priests for the Passeouer, <sup>even</sup> two thousand and six hundred shepe, & thre hundred bullockes.

9 * Conaniah also and Shemiáh and Nethaneél his brethren, and Hahabiah and Ieiel, & Iozabab, chief of the Leuites ga-ue vnto the Leuites for the Passeouer, fyue thousand shepe, & fyue hundred bullockes.

10 Thus the seruice was preparid, and the Priests stode in their places, also the Leuites in their ordres according to the Kings commandment:

11 And thei slewe the Passeouer, & <sup>y</sup> Priests
sprinkled the blood with their hands, & the Leuites slayed them.

12 And they toke away from the <sup>e</sup> burnt offring to giue it according to the diuisions
of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the boke of Moses, & so of <sup>y</sup> bullockes.

13 And <sup>e</sup> they rotted the Passeouer with fy-re, according to the custome, but the san-ctified things they sod in pottes, pannes,
and caulderns, & distributed them quic-
kely to all the people.

14 Afterwarde also they prepared for the selues & for the Priests for the Priests the

THE PRAYER OF MANASSÉH King of the Iewes.

Lord almightie, God of our fathers, Abram, Isaac and Jacob, and of their righteous sede, which hast made heauen
and earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the worde of thy commandement, which hast shut vp the depe and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whome all do feare & tremble before thy power: for the maie-stie of thy glorie can not be borne, & thine
angrie threatening toward sinners is im-portable, but thy merciful promes is vnmeasurable & vnsearcheable. For thou art
the moste high Lord, of great compassiō,
long suffering & moste merciful, & repētst
for mā miseries. Thou, o Lord, accordig to thy great goodnes hast promised repentance & forgienes to them that sinne
against thee, & for thine infinite mercies
hast appointed repentance vnto sinners
that they may be saued. Thou therefore, o Lord, that art the God of the iuste, hast not appointed repentance to the iuste, as to Abram, and Isaac and Jacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned aboue the nōber
of the sand of the sea. My transgressions,

o Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to beholde & se the height of the heauens for the multitude of mine vnrighte-ousnes. I am bowed downe with many yrō bādes, that I cā not lift vp mine head, nether haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath and done euil before thee.
I did not thy wil, nether kept I thy com-mandements. I haue set vp abominations & haue multiplied offenses. Now therefore I bowe the kne of mine heart, beseechig thee of grace. I haue sinned, o Lord, I haue sinned, & I acknowledge my trasgressiōs:
but I humbly beseeche thee, forgie me: o Lord, forgie me, & destroye me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for euer by referuing euil for me, nether condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, euen the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shewe all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue
me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I wil praise thee
for euer all the dayes of my life. for all the power of the heauens praise thee, &
thine is the glorie for euer & euer, Amen.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lord is ever merciful vnto his Church, and dooth not punish them, but to the intent they shoulde see their owne miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might continue the worlde and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept them in bondage suenitie yeres in a Strange countrey among infidels and idolaters, he remembred his tendre mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, and moued to the heart of the chief ruler to pitie them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding lest they shoulde growe into a contempt of Gods great benefite, he kepeth them stil in exercise, and raiseth domestical enemies, which endeavour as much as they can to hindre their moste worthie enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophetes they went forward by like and like til their worke was finished. The awar of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest, and scribe of the Law, as chap. 7. 6. he returned to Ierusalem the sixt yere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus: that is, more then suenitie yeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was buyt. He broght with him a great companie, and muche treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all suche things as shoulde be necessarie for the Temple: and at this time he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good ordre.

NOW in a first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (the worde of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of Ieremiah, might be accomplished) the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Cyrus

King of Persia, and he made a proclamation through all his kingdome, and also by writing, saying,

Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath given me all the kingdomes of the earth, and he hath commanded me to buyld him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

Who is he among you of all his people with whome his God is? let him go vp to Ierusalem which is in Iudah, and buyld the house of the Lord God of Israel: he is the God, which is in Ierusalem.

And cuerie one that remaineth in anie place (where he sojourneth) let the men of his place relieue him with siluer & with golde, and with substance, & with cattel, and with a willing offering, for the house of God that is in Ierusalem.

Then the chief fathers of Iudah & Benjamin, & the Priests & Leuites rose vp, with all the whose spirit God had raised to go vp, to buyld the house of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

And all they that were about the, strengthened their hands with vessels of siluer, with golde, with substance & with cattel, & with precious thigs, besides all that was willingly offered.

Also the King Cyrus broght forth the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar had takē out of Ierusalem, & had put the in his house of his god.

8 Euen the did Cyrus King of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and counted the vnto Sheshbazzar the prince of Iudah.

9 And this is the number of them, thirtie basins of golde, a thousand basins of siluer, nine and twentie kniues,

10 Thirtie bowles of golde, & of siluer bowles of the second sorte, foure hundred, and ten, & of other vessels, a thousand.

11 All the vessels of golde & siluer were foure thousand & foure hundred. Sheshbazzar broght vp all with the of the captiuitie that came vp fro Babel to Ierusalem.

And in the reigne of Ahasuerós (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote thei an accusation against the inhabitants of Iudáh and Ierusalém.
And in the dayes of Artahsháste, Mithredáth, Tabeél, & the rest of their companiós wrote when it was peace vnto Artahsháste King of Persia, & the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, & the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.
Rehúm the chancelour, and Shimshái the scribe wrote a lettre against Ierusalém to Artahsháste ý King, in this sorte.
Then wrote Rehúm the chancelour, and Shimshái the scribe, & their companions Dinaí, and Apharsathcaí, Tarpelaí, Apharsaí, Archeuaí, Bablaí, Shushan-chaié, Dehaú, Elmaié,
And the rest of the people whome the great & noble Asnappár brought ouer, & set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyonde the Riuer and Cheéneeth.
¶ This is the copie of the letter that they sent vnto King Artahsháste, THE SERVANTS the men beyonde the Riuer and Cheéneeth salute thee.
Be it known vnto the King that the fores, which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierusalém (a citie rebellious & wicked) & buyld, & laye the fundacions of the walles, and haue ioyned the fundacions.
Be it known now vnto the King, that if this citie be buylt, & the fundaciós of the walles layed, thei wil not giue tolle, tribute, nor custome: so shalt thou hinder the Kings tribute.
Now therefore because we haue bene brought vp in the Kings palace, it was not mete for vs to se the Kings dishonour: for this cause haue we sent and certified the King,
That one may seache in the boke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the boke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is rebellious and noysome vnto Kings and prouinces, and that thei haue moued sedicion of olde time, for the which cause this citie was destroyed.
We certifie the King therefore, that if this citie be buylded, and the fundacion of the walles layed, by this meanes the porcion beyonde the Riuer shal not be thine.
¶ The King sent an answer vnto Rehúm.

the chancelour, and Shimshái the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyonde the Riuer, Shelám & Cheéth.
¶ The letter which ye sent vnto vs, hath bene openly red before me,
And I haue commanded and they haue searched, and founde, that this citie of olde time hath made insurrection against Kings, and hath rebelled, and rebellion hath bene committed therein.
There haue bene mightie Kings also ouer Ierusalém, which haue ruled ouer all beyonde the Riuer, and tolle, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.
Make ye now a decree, that those men may cease, and that the citie be not buylt, til I haue giuen another commandement.
Take hede now that ye faile not to do this: why shulde damage growe to hurt the King?
When the copie of King Artahshástes lettre was red before Rehúm & Shimshai the scribe, & their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalém vnto the Iewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.
Then ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Ierusalém, and did stay vnto the secóde yere of Darius King of Persia.

Haggái & Zachariah do prophesie, 3 The worke of the Temple goeth forward contrary to the minde of Tatnáí. 6 Huilettres to Darius.

THE Haggái a Prophet & Zachariáh the sonne of Iddó a Prophet prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudáh, & Ierusalém, in the Name of the God of Israel, euen vnto them.
Then Zerubbabél the sonne of Shealtiel, & Ieshúa the sonne of Iozadák arose, and began to buylde the house of God at Ierusalém, and with them were the Prophetes of God, which helped them.
¶ At the same time came to them Tatnáí, which was captaine beyonde the Riuer, & Shether-boznái and their companions, & said thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandemēt to buylde this house, and to lay the fundacions of these walles?
¶ Then said we vnto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that buylde this buylding?
But the eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they colde not cause them to cease, til the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

7 They sent a lettre vnto him, wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIUS the King, all peace.

8 Be it known vnto the King, that we wēt into the prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is buylded with great stones, and beames are layed in the walles, and this worke is wrought speedely, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and said vnto them thus, Who hath given you commandement to buyld this house, and to laye the fundacion of these walles?

10 We asked their names also, & we might certifie thee, & that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, & said, We are the seruants of y<sup>e</sup> God of heauen & earth, & buyld the house that was buyld of olde & many yeres ago, which a<sup>d</sup> great King of Israél<sup>e</sup> buylded, & founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, he gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzár King of Babel the Caldean, and he destroyed this house, and caryed the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first yere of Cyrus King of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to buyld this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde & siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzár toke out of the Tēple, that was in Ierusalém, and broght them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the King take out of the Tēple of Babel, & they gaue them vnto one<sup>f</sup> Sheshbazzár by his name, whom he had made captaine.

15 And he said vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, & put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalém, and let the house of God be buyld in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzár and layed the fundacion of the house of God, which is in Ierusalém, and since that time euē vntil now, hath it bene in buylding, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the King, let there be searche made in the house of the Kings & treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by King Cyrus, to buyld this house of God in Ierusalém, and let the King send his minde concerning this.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandement of Darius King of Persia, after the Temple was buylded and dedicate, the children of Israél kept the feast of vnleavened bread.

1 Then King Darius gaue commandement, and they made searche in the librarie of the treasures, which were there layed vp in Babel.

2 And there was founde in 2<sup>a</sup> coffre (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, & therein was it thus writ, as a memorial,

3 IN THE FIRST yere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalém, Let the house be buylt, <sup>g</sup>en the place where they offered sacrifices, & let the walles thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be thre score cubites, & the breadth thereof thre score cubites,

4 Thre orders of great stones, and one order of tymbre, and let the expences be giuen of the Kings house.

5 And also let them render y<sup>e</sup> vessels of the house of God (of golde & siluer, w<sup>h</sup> Nebuchadnezzár toke out of the Tēple, which was in Ierusalém, and broght vnto Babel) and let him go vnto the Temple that is in Ierusalém to his place and put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tatnái captaine beyonde the Riuer, and Shethár Boznái (& their companions Apharscaié, which are beyonde the Riuer) be ye farre from thence.

7 Suffre ye the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Iewes & the Elders of the Iewes may buyld this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement whate ye shal do to the Elders of these Iewes for the buylding of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the King, which is of the tribute beyonde the Riuer, there be continually expences giuen vnto them, that they cease not.

9 And that which they shal haue neede of, it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rams, or lambs, or the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine, & oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Ierusalém, that there be no faute,

10 That they may haue to offer sweet odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, y<sup>e</sup> whosoeuer shal alter this sentence, the wood shal be pulled downe from his house, and shal be set vp, & he shal be hanged thereon, & his house shal be made a dung hill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name to dwell there, destroye all Kings and people that put to their hand to alter, and to destroye this house of God, which is in Ierusalém. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with speede.

13 ¶ Then Tatnái the captaine beyonde the Riuer, & Shethár Boznái and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedely.

14 So the Elders of the Iewes buylded, and they prospered by the prophesying of Haggái

¶ Haggái the Prophet, and sonne of Iddó, and they finished it, by the appointment of Israél, and by the commandement of Cyrus and Darius, & Artabanus of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the first day of the moneth 8 Adar, the first yere of y<sup>e</sup> reigne of Darius.

¶ And the children of Israél, & the Leuites, and the rest of the captiuitie kept of this house of God with gladnes.

17 And offered at the dedication of God an hundredth of hundredth rams, foure hundred twelve goates, for the first according to the number of Israél.

18 And they set the Priests and the Leuites in their places, in the service of God in Ierusalém, as is written in the booke of Moses.

19 And the children of the Pasfeouer on the fourth day of the moneth.

20 (For the Priests & the Leuites all together) & they kept the Pasfeouer for all the children of Israél, & for their brethren that were with them.

21 So the children of Israél came againe out of captiuitie, as had separated them from the filthines of the land, to seeke y<sup>e</sup> Lord God of Israél.

22 And they kept the feast of bread seven dayes with gladnes, as had made them glad, and the King of Assyria encouraged them in the worke of God, <sup>g</sup>en the God of Israél.

And I set the Priests in their ordre, and the Leuites in their courses ouer the seruice of God in Ierusalem, as it is written in the booke of Moses.

And the children of the captiuitie kept the Passouer on the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

For the Priests & the Leuites were purified all together, & they killed the Passouer for all the children of the captiuitie, & for their brethren the Priests, & for them selues.

So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all suche as had separated them selues vnto them, from the filthines of the heathen of the land, to seke y Lord God of Israel, did eat.

And they kept the feast of vnleauened bread seuen dayes with ioye: for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the King of Assyria vnto them, to encourage them in the worke of the house of God, euen the God of Israel.

CHAP. VII.

By the commandement of the King, Ezrá and his companions came to Ierusalem. 27 He giueth thanks to God.

Now after these things, in the reigne of Artahshastes King of Persia, Ezrá the sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Hinkiah,

The sonne of Shallum, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Ahitub,

The sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Maraioth,

The sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Vzziah, the sonne of Bukki,

The sonne of Abishua, the sonne of Phineas, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron, the chief Priest.

This Ezrá came vp from Babel, and was a scribe prompt in the Law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had giuen, and the King gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his

God which was vpon him.

And there went vp certaine of the children of Israel, and of the Priests, and the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinims vnto Ierusalem, in the seuenth yere of King Artahshastes.

And he came to Ierusalem in the first moneth, which was in the seuenth yere of the King.

For vpon the first day of the first moneth began he to go vp from Babel, and on the first day of the first moneth came he to Ierusalem, according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

For Ezrá had prepared his heart to seke the Law of the Lord, and to do it, & to teach the precepts & iudgements in Israel.

And this is the copie of the letter that King Artahshastes gaue vnto Ezrá the Priest & scribe, eue a writer of the wordes of the commandements of the Lord, and of his statutes ouer Israel.

ARTAHSHASTES King of Kings to Ezrá y Priest & perfite scribe of the Law of the God of heauen, and to Cheeneth.

I haue giuen commandement, that euerie one, that is willing in my kingdome of the people of Israel, and of the Iudites, and Leuites, to go to Ierusalem with thee, shal go.

Therefore art thou sent of the King and his seuen counsellers, to enquire in Iudah, and Ierusalem, according to the Law of thy God, which is in thine hand,

And to carie the silver and the golde, w the King and his counsellers willingly offer vnto the God of Israel (whose habitation is in Ierusalem)

And all the silver and golde that thou canst finde in all the prouince of Babel, with the fre offering of the people, and that which the Priests offre willingly to y house of their God which is in Ierusalem,

That thou maiest byc speedely with this silver, bullockes, rams, lambes, with their meat offerings and their drinke offerings: & thou shalt offer the vpon the altar of the house of your God, which is in Ierusalem.

And whatsoeuer it pleaseth thee & thy brethren to do with the rest of the silver, and golde, do ye it according to the wil of your God.

And the vessels that are giuen thee for the seruice of the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God in Ierusalem.

And the residue that shalbe nedeful for the house of thy God, which shalbe mate for thee to bestowe, thou shalt bestowe it out of the Kings treasure house,

2 Of the sonnes of Shechaniash, of the sonnes of Pharosh, Zechariah, and with him the counce of the males, an hundredth and fiftie.

3 Of the sonnes of Zerabiah, Elihoenai, the sonne of Zerabiah, and with him two hundredth males.

4 Of the sonnes of Shechaniash, the sonne of Iahaziell, and with him thre hundredth males.

5 And of the sonnes of Adin, Ebed the sonne of Ionathan, and with him fiftie males.

6 And of the sonnes of Elam, Ieshaiash the

sonne of Athaliah, and with him seuentie males.

7 And of the sonnes of Shephatiah, Zebadiah the sonne of Michael, and with him foure score males.

8 Of the sonnes of Ioab, Obadiash the sonne of Iehiel, and with him two hundredth and eightene males.

9 And of the sonnes of Shelomith the sonne of Iosiphiah, and with him an hundredth and thre score males.

10 And of the sonnes of Bebai, Zechariah, the sonne of Bebai, & with him eight and twentie males.

11 And of the sonnes of Azgad, Iohanan the sonne of Bekai, and with him an hundredth and ten males.

12 And of the sonnes of Adonikam, that were the last, whose names are these: Eliaphel, Iehiel and Sheamai, and with them thre score males.

13 And of the sonnes of Biguai, Vthai, and Zabbud, and with them seuentie males.

14 And I gathered them to the Riuer that goeth toward Ahaua, and there abode we thre dayes: then I vewed the people, and the Priests, and founde there none of the sonnes of Levi.

15 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemeiah, & to Elnathan, & to Iarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathai, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chief, and to Ioiarib and to Elnathan, men of vnderstanding,

16 And I gaue them commandement, to Iddo the chiefest at the place of Cassiphia, and I tolde them the wordes that they shulde speake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims at the place of Cassiphia, that they shulde cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

17 So by the good hand of our God which was vpon vs, they broght vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Mahai: the sonne of Levi, the sonne of Israel, and Shezebiah with his sonnes and his brethren, enue eightene.

18 Also Hashabiah, and with him Ieshaiash of the sonnes of Merari, with his brethren, and their sonnes twentie.

19 And of the Nethinims, whome Dauid had set, and the princes for the seruice of the Levites, two hundredth and twentie of the Nethinims, which all were named by name.

20 And there at the Riuer, by Ahaua, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble our selues before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, & for all our substance.

21 For I was ashamed to require of the King an armie and horsemen, to helpe against the enemy in the way, because we had spoken to the King, saying: our God is vpon all them in goodnes, but his power is against all them that forsake him: So we fasted, and besought this: and he was intreated of us.

22 Then I separated twelue of the Priests, Sherebiah, and Hachai, and ten of their brethren with them: And weighed the siluer, & the vessels, even the offering of our God, which the King, his officers, and his princes, and were present had offered.

23 And I weighed vnto their hande fifty talents of siluer vessel, an hundredth golde, an hundredth talents: And twentie basins of golde, and two hundredth and twentie brasses very good, and golde.

24 And I said vnto the Levites, Ye vnto the Lord, and the vessels, and the golde and the silver offered vnto the Lord God of Israel.

25 Watche ye, & keepe them before the chief Priests, and the chief fathers of Ierusalem in the chambers of the Lord.

26 So the Priests and the Levites weighed the siluer and the vessels to bring vnto the house of our God.

27 Then we departed from Ahaua on the twelfth day of the month, to go vnto Ierusalem: for our God was vpon vs, and from the hand of the enemy we were as layed waite by the way.

28 And we came to Ierusalem there thre dayes.

29 And on the fourth day we weighed, and the golde and the silver in the house of our God: Meremoth the sonne of Vithai, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was the sonne of Ieshua, and Noadai of Binnui the Levites,

30 By number and by weight, and all the weight was written.

31 Also the childre of the captiuitie were come out of captiuitie vnto the God of Israel: lockes for all Israel, ninety seuentie and seuen lances, and goates for sinne: all was a blessing to the Lord.

the Lord.
38 So the Priests and the Leuites receiued
the weight of the siluer and of the golde,
and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusa-
lem, vnto the house of our God.
39 Then we departed from the Riuer of Ahauái on the twelfth day of the first mo-neth, to go vnto Ierusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs
from the hand of the enemy, and of such as layed waite by the way.
40 And we came to Ierusalem, and abode
there three dayes.
41 And on the fourth day was the siluer weighed, and the golde and the vessel
in the house of our God by the hand of Meremóth the sonne of Vriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Iozabab the sonne of Ieshua, and Noadiah the sonne
of Binnui the Leuites, 42 By number and by weight of euerie one,
and all the weight was written at the same time.
43 Also the childre of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Israël, twelue bul-locks for all Israël, ninetie and six rams, seuentie and seuen lambes, and twelue he goates for sinne: all was a burnt offering of
the Lord.
44 And they deliuered the Kings commif-

sion vnto the Kings officers, & to the captaines beyonde the Riuer: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

CHAP. IX.

1 Ezrá complaineth on the people that had turned them selues from God, and married with the Gentiles. He praiseth vnto God.

1 W Hen as these things were done, y rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israël, and the Priests and the Leuites are not separated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Iebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians,
and the Amorites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to them selues, and to their sonnes, and they
haue mixed the holy sede with the people of the lands, and the had of the princes & rulers haue bene chief in this trespass.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt of the heere of mine head, and of my beard, &
sate downe astonied.

4 And there assembled vnto me all that feared the wordes of the God of Israël, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I sate downe astonied vntil the euening sacrifice.

5 And at the euenig sacrifice I arose vp fro mine heuines, & when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fel vpon my knees,
and spred out mine hands vnto the Lord
my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am cōfounded & ashamed, to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee
my God: for our iniquities are increased ouer our head, & our trespasse is growen
vp vnto the heauen.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespasse vnto this day, &
for our iniquities haue we, our Kings, and our Priests bene deliuered into the hand
of y Kings of the lands, vnto the sworde,
into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into cō-
fusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a litle space grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remnant to escape, & in giuing
vs a nayle in his holy place, that our God
may light our eyes, & giue vs a litle reui-
uing in our frutude.

9 For though we were bōdemens, yet our God
hathe not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hathe enclined mercie vnto vs in the sight of the Kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah and in Ierusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shal we say after this, for we haue forsaken thy commā-dements.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euil dedes, and for our great trespasses (seing that thou our God hast staied vs from being benethe s for our iniquities, & hast giuen vs such deliuerance)

14 Shulde we returne to breake thy cōman- dements, and ioine in affinitie with the people of such abominaciōs: woldest not thou be angrie toward vs til thou haddest cōsumed vs, so that there shulde be no reman- nor anie eskaping?

law of God.

Now therefore let vs make a couenant with our God, to put away <sup>c</sup> all the wiues (and such as are borne of them) accord- ing to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandements of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

e. Ezra. 8. 22.

4. Then arose Ezra, and caused the chief Priests, the Leuites, & all Israel, to sweare that they wolde do according to this worde. So they sware.

5. *And Ezra rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chambre of Iohanān the sonne of Eliashib: he went euen thither, but he did eat nether bread, nor dronke water: for he mourned, because of the trasgression of the of the captiuitie.

9. ¶ Then all the men of Iudāh & Benia- min assembled them selues vnto Ierusa- lem within thre dayes, which was the twi- tieth day of the <sup>c</sup> ninte moneth, and the people sate in the strete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the <sup>c</sup> raine.

10. And Ezra the Priest stode vp, and said vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wiues, to <sup>c</sup> increase the trespassed of Israel.

11. Now therefore <sup>h</sup> giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his will, and separate your selues from the people of the land, & from the strange wiues.

12. And all the Congregation answered, & said with a loud voyce, So wil we do according to thy wordes vnto vs.

13. But the people are many, and it is ardu- ous for them, and we are not able to do this without, neither is it the worke of one day, or two: for we are many that haue dis- cided in this thing.

14. Let our rulers stand therefore <sup>a</sup> before all the Congregation, and let all them which haue taken strange wiues in our ci- ties, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euerie citie and the iudges thereof, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15. Then were appointed Ionathān the sonne of Asah-ēl, and Iahaziāh the sonne of Tikuah ouer this matter, and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Leuites helped them.

16. And they of the captiuitie did so and <sup>a</sup> de- parted, euen Ezra the Priest, & the me that were chief fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first daye of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17. And vntil the first day of y<sup>e</sup> first moneth they were finishing the busines with all the men that had taken strange wiues,

18. And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men founde, that had taken strange wiues, to wit, of the sonnes of Ieshua, the sonne of Iozabab, & of his brethren, Mar- seiah, A Eliézer, and Iarib and Gedaliah.

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times set vp worthy persones for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compassse of seuentie yeres he raised vp diuers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabél, Esdrá, and Nehemiáh. Whereof the first was their captaine to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was builded: the seconde reformed their manners and planted religion: &
the thirt builded vp the wylles, deliuered the people from oppression, and provided that the Law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godlie man and in great amorie with the King, so that the King favoured him greatly, and gaue him moste ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he coulde desire. This booke is also called of the latins the second of Esdrá, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

Nehemiáh bewaileth the calamitie of Ierusalém.
He confesseth the finnes of the people, & prayeth God
for them.

He wordes of Nche-
miáh the sonne of Hachaliáh, in the moneth
a Chisleu, in the twentieth yere, as I was in the palace of Shushán,

Came Hanáni, one of my brethren, he &
the men of Iudáh, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered,
which were of the residue of the captiuitie,
and concerning Ierusalém.

And they said vnto me, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the pro-

uincc, are in great affliction and in reproche, and the wall of Ierusalém is broken
downe, & the gates thereof are burnt with fyre.

4 And when I heard these wordes, I fate
downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

5 And said, O Lord God of heauen, the <sup>Da. 9. 4.</sup> great and terrible God, that kepeth couenant and mercie for them that loue
him, and obf. rue his commandements,

6 I pray thee, let thine eares be attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee day-
ly, day & night for the children of Israél thy seruants, & confesse the finnes of the children of Israél, which we haue sinned

against thee, bothe I & my fathers house haue sinned:

<sup>11</sup> We haue grievously sinned against thee, and haue not kept the commandements, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements, which thou commandedst thy seruant Moses.

<sup>12</sup> I beseeche thee, remember the worde that thou commandedst thy seruant Moses, saying, Ye wil transgresse, and I wil scatter you abroad among the people.

<sup>13</sup> But if ye turne vnto me, and kepe my commandments, and do them, though your scattering were to the uttermost parte of the heauē, yet wil I gather you from thence and wil bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen, to place my Name there.

<sup>15</sup> O Lord, I beseeche thee, let thine care now hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to feare thy Name, and, I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the Kings butler.

<sup>3</sup> And the King said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorowe of heart. Then was I sore afraid,

<sup>4</sup> And I said to the King, God saue the King for euer: why shulde not my countenance be sad, when the citie & house of my sepulchres of my fathers lieth waste & the gates thereof are deuoured with fyre?

<sup>5</sup> And the King said vnto me, For what thing dost thou require? Then I praied to the God of heauen, <sup>a</sup> I desired God in mine heart so prosper mine enterprise.

<sup>6</sup> And said vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruant haue founde fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou woldest send me to Iudah vnto the citie of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may buylde it.

<sup>7</sup> And the King said vnto me, (the quene also sitting by him) How long shal thy journey be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a time.

<sup>8</sup> After I said vnto the King, If it please thy King, let them giue me letters to the captaynes beyonde the Riuer, that they may conuaye me ouer, til I come into Iudah.

<sup>9</sup> And letters vnto Asaph the keeper of the Kings parke, that he may giue me timber to buylde the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) & for the walles of the citie, and for the house that I shoulde entre into. And the King gaue me according to the good hand of my God vpon me.

<sup>10</sup> ¶ Then came I to the captaynes beyonde the Riuer, & gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had sent captaynes of the armie and horfmen with me.

<sup>11</sup> But Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them sore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

<sup>12</sup> So I came to Ierusalem, and was there three dayes.

<sup>13</sup> And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with me: for I tolde no man, what God had put in mine heart to do at Ierusalem, and there was not a beast with me, save the beast whereon I rode.

<sup>14</sup> And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the dragons well, and to the dung porte, and viewed the walles of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the portes thereof deuoured with the fyre.

<sup>15</sup> Then I went forth vnto the gate of the fountaine, and to the Kings fifth pool, where there was no roume for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

<sup>16</sup> Then went I vp in the night by the broke, & viewed the wall, and turned backe, and comming backe, I entred by the gate of the valley and returned.

<sup>17</sup> And the rulers knewe not whether I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yettel it vnto the King, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

<sup>18</sup> Afterward I said vnto them, Ye see the miserie that we are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fyre: come and let vs buylde the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more a reproche.

<sup>19</sup> Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and also of the Kings wordes that he had spoken vnto me. And they said, Let vs rise, & buylde. So they strengthened their hand to good.

<sup>20</sup> But when Sanballat the Horonite, & Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and Gershem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye do? Wil ye rebel against the King?

<sup>21</sup> Then answered I them, and said to them, The God of heauen, he wil prosper vs, &

we his seruants wil rise vp as for you, ye haue no portion nor memorial in Ierusalem.

But the fifth porte did the men of Ierusalem buylde, which also layeth thereof, and set on the dores thereof, and the barres thereof, and the bolts thereof.

And next vnto the fourth porte the sonne of Uriah, the sonne of Hur, the sonne of the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of the sonne of Shezabeel: and next vnto the sonne of Uriah, the sonne of the sonne of Zedek, the sonne of Baan.

And next vnto them fortie yong men: but the great men of the citie, they set on their neckes to the worke.

unto Aſaph the keeper of the gates of the palace (which was in the house) & for the wall and for the house that I had builded the King gaue me according to the good hand of my God.

I to the captaines beyond the river gaue them the Kings letters: and I had sent captaines of the army with me.

Then the Horonite, and Toan Ammonite heard it, and were sore, that there was come strength to the wealth of the church.

Jerusalem, and was there.

At the night, I, and a few men, we old no man, what God had wrought to do at Jerusalem, and I was as a beast with me, save the Lord.

But by night by the gate of the wall came before the dragon the dung porte, and viewed the wall, how they were broken: and the portes thereof demou-
re.

I forth the vnto the gate of the wall to the Kings fish poole, to come for the beast that was asse.

I vp in the night by the wall, and turned my backe, I entered by the valley and returned.

They knewe not whether I was I did, neither did I as yet I was, nor to the Priests, nor to the rulers, nor to the labourers in the worke.

I said vnto them, Ye see the gates are in, how Jerusalem lieth open: and let vs buyld the wall, that we be no more a repro-

them of the hand of my God: was good ouer me I heard his wordes that he had spoken: and they said, Let vs rise, & we strengthened their hand.

The number of them that buylded the wallles.

Then arose Eliashub the hie Priest with his brethren the Priests, & they buylt the sheppegate: thei repaired it, & set vp the dores thereof: euen vnto the towre of Meith repaired they it, & vnto the towre of Hanan. el.

And next vnto him buylded the men of Erich, and beside him Zaccúr the sonne of Imri.

But the fish porte did the sonnes of Senaah buyld, which also layed the beames thereof, and set on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

And next vnto the fortified Merimóth, the sonne of Vriah, the sonne of Hakkóz: and next vnto them fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiáh, the sonne of Meshazabel: and next vnto them fortified Zidók, the sonne of Baaná:

And next vnto them fortified the Tekoites: but the great man of them put not their neckes to the worke of their lords.

And the gate of the olde fish poole fortified Iehoiada the sonne of Paschah, & Meshullam the sonne of Besodaiáh: thei layed the beames thereof, and set on the dores thereof, and the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

Next vnto them also fortified Melatiáh the Gibeonite, & Iadón & Meronothite, men of Gibeon, and of Mizpáh, vnto the throne of the Duke, which was beyonde the Riuer.

Next vnto him fortified Vzziel the sonne of Harhohiáh of the golde smithes: next vnto him also fortified Hananiáh, the sonne of Harakkahim, and they repaired Ierusalem vnto the broad wall.

Also next vnto them fortified Rephaiáh, the sonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe parte of Ierusalem.

And next vnto him fortified Iedaiáh the sonne of Harumáh, euen ouer against his house: and next vnto him fortified Harúsh, the sonne of Hashabniáh.

Malchiah the sonne of Harim, and Hashub the sonne of Paháth Moáb fortified the seconde portion, & the towre of the fornaces.

Next vnto him also fortified Shallúm, the sonne of Halloésh, the ruler of the halfe parte of Ierusalem, he, & his daughters.

The valley gate fortified Hanúm, & the inhabitants of Zanuáh: thei buylt it, and set on the dores thereof, & lockes thereof, & the barres thereof, euen a thousand cubites on the wall vnto the dung porte.

But the dung porte fortified Malchiáh, the sonne of Recháb, the ruler of the fourte parte of Beth haccárem: he buylt it, & set on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, & the barres thereof.

But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallúm, the sonne of Col-hozéh, the ruler of the fourte parte of Mizpáh: he buylded it, and couered it, and set on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, and the wall vnto the fish poole of Sheláh by the Kings garden, and vnto the steeppes that go downe from the citie of Dauid.

After him fortified Nehemiáh the sonne of Azbúk, the ruler of the halfe parte of Beth-zúr, vntil the other side ouer against the sepulchres of Dauid, and to the fish poole that was repaired, and vnto the house of the mightie.

After him fortified the Leuites, Rehúm the sonne of Bani, and next vnto him fortified Hashabiáh the ruler of the halfe parte of Keilah in his quarter.

After him fortified their brethren: Baui, the sonne of Henadáb the ruler of the halfe parte of Keilah:

And next vnto him fortified Ezer, the sonne of Ieshúa the ruler of Mizpáh, the other portion ouer against the going vp to the corner of the armour.

After him was earnest Barúch the sonne of Zaccái, & fortified another portion from the corner vnto the dore of the house of Eliashub the hie Priest.

After him fortified Merimóth, the sonne of Vriah, the sonne of Hakkóz, another portion from the dore of the house of Eliashub, euen as long as the house of Eliashub extended.

After him also fortified the Priests, the men of the plaine.

After them fortified Beniamín, & Hashub ouer against their house: after him fortified Azariáh, the sonne of Maaseiáh, the sonne of Ananiáh, by his house.

After him fortified Binnú, the sonne of Henadáb another portiõ, from the house of Azariáh vnto the turning and vnto the corner.

CHAP. II.

17 The buylding of Ierusalem is hindered, 18 But God
 breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Iewes buyld with one hand, and holde their weapons in the other.

1 BUt when Sanballát heard that we buylded the wall, then was he wroth
 and sore grieved, and mocked the Iewes,
 And said before his brethren and the armie of Samaria; thus he said, What do these <sup>b</sup> weake Iewes? wil they fortifie the selues? wil thei sacrifice? wil thei finish it

2 And Tobiah the Ammonite <sup>was</sup> beside him, and said, Although they buyld, yet if a foxe go vp, he shal euen breake downe
 their stony wall.

3 Heare, o our God (for we are despise<sup>d</sup>)
 and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray<sup>d</sup> in the land of their captiuitie,

4 And couer not their <sup>e</sup> iniquitie, nether let their sinne be put out in thy presence: for thei haue prouoked <sup>f</sup> before the buylders.
 5 So we buylt the wall, and all the wall was ioynd vnto the <sup>g</sup> halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

6 But when Sanballát, and Tobiah, & the Arabians, and the Ammonites, & the Ashdodims heard that the walles of Ierusalem were repared, (for the breaches begā to be stopped) then thei were, verie wroth,

7 And conspired altogether to come and to fight against Ierusalem, & to <sup>h</sup> hinder the.

8 Then we prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them, day & night, because of them.

9 And Iudáh said, The strength of <sup>i</sup> y bearers is weakened, and there is much earth,
 so that we are not able to buyld the wall.

10 Also our aduersaries had said, Thei shal not knowe, nether se, til we come into the middes of them and slaye them, and cause

the worke to cease.

11 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they tolde vs <sup>i</sup> ten times, from all places whence ye shal returne, they be vpon vs.

12 Therefore set I in the lower places be-hinde the wall vpon <sup>j</sup> y toppes of the stones, & placed <sup>k</sup> y people by their families, with their swordes, their speares, & their bowes.

13 Then I beheld, and rose vp, & said vnto
 the princes, & to the rulers, & to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: remember the great Lord, & fearful, & stand for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.

14 And when our enemies heard that it was known vnto vs, then God brought counsel to nought, & we turned all againe
 to the wall, euerie one vnto his worke.

15 And fro that day, halfe of the yong men
 did the labour, and the other halfe parte
 of them helde the speares, and shields, &
 bowes, and habergins: and the rulers <sup>l</sup> helde
 behinde all the house of Iudáh.

16 They that buylded on the wall, and they
 that bare burdens, & they that laded, did the worke with one hand, & with the other helde the sword.

17 For euerie one of the buylders had his
 sworde girde on his loynes, & <sup>m</sup> y buylded:
 & he that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

18 Then said I vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, & we are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

19 In what place therefore ye heare the sound of the trumpet, <sup>n</sup> resorte ye thither vnto
 vs: our God shal fight for vs.

20 So we laboured in the worke, and halfe
 of them helde the speares, from the appearing of the morning, til the starres came forth.

21 And at the same time said I vnto the people, Let euerie one with his strum-lodge within Ierusalem, that they may be a watche for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

22 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my ser-uants, nor the me of the warde, (which followed me) none of vs did put of our clothes, <sup>o</sup> euerie one put them of for wal-

 people, and of their wives against their brethren the Iewes.

For euen I, my brethren, and my seruants

wine, besides fourtie shekels of siluer: yea,
and their seruants bare rule over the people: but so did not I, because of the feare
of God.

But rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wall, and we bought no land, and all my seruants came thether together vn-
to the worke.

Moreover there were at my table an hundredth and fiftie of the Iewes, and rulers,
which came vnto vs from among the hea-

And there was prepared daiely an ox, &
six chosen shepe, & birdes were prepared for me, and within ten dayes wine for all

not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was griuous vnto this people.

Remember me, o my God, in goodnes,

CHAP. VI.

Nehemiáh answereth with great wisdom, and a ge-

The sent Sanballat and Géshé vnto me, saying, Come thou that we may mete to-

Yet they sent vnto me foure times after

1 And all the people assembled themselves together, in the street that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezr the scribe, that he wolde bring the booke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israël.

2 And Ezr the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation bothe of men and women, and of all that coulde heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the second month,

3 And he red therein in the street that was before the watergate (from the morning vntil the midday) before men and women, and of them that vnderstode it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Law.

4 And Ezr the scribe stode vpon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, & beside him stode Mattithiah, and Shéma, and Ananiáh, and Vriah, & Hilkiáh, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedaiah, & Mishael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezr opened the booke before all the people: for he was aboute all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stode vp.

6 And Ezr praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amén, with lifting vp their hands: & they bowed themselves, and worshiped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua, and Bani, and Sherebiáh, Iamin, Akkáb, Shabbethai, Hodiáh, Maaseiah, Kelitá, Azariah, Izabab, Hanán, Pedaiah, & the Levites caused the people to vnderstand the Law, and the people stode in their place.

8 And they red in the booke of the Law of God distinctly and gaue the sense, & caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiáh (which is Tirshatha) and Ezr the Priest & scribe, and the Levites that instructed the people, said vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neither wepe: for all the people wept, whé they heard the wordes of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, and eat of the fat, & drinke the swete, and send parte vnto them, for whome none is prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not fory therefore: for the ioye of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Levites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Holde your peace: for this day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, and to send away parte, & to make great ioye, because they had vnderstande the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the secóde day the chief fastners of all the people, the Priests and the Levites were gathered vnto Ezr the scribe, that he also might instruct them in the wordes of the Law.

14 And they founde writen in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Moses) that the childre of Israël shulde dwell in booths in the feast of the seuenth month,

15 And that they shulde cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ierusalem, saying, Go forth vnto the mount, and bring oliue branches, and pine branches, and branches of myrtus, and palme branches, and branches of thick trees, to make bootes, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and brought, & made them bootes, euerie one vpon the rofe of his house, and in their courtes, and in the courts of the house of God, in the strete by the watergate, and in the strete of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them were come againe out of the captiuitie, made bootes, & sate vnder the bootes: for since the time of Ieshua the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Israël done so, & there was very great ioye.

18 And he red in the booke of the Law of God euerie day, from the first day vnto the last daye. And they kept the feast seuen dayes, & on the eight daye a soléne assemblie, according vnto the maner.

And I leddest thee in the daye with a pil-

that they went.

Thou camest downe also vpon mount

And declaredst vnto the thine holy Sab-

And gauest them bread from heauen

thirst: & promisedst them that they shulde go in, & take possession of the lānd: for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for
to give them.

But they and our fathers behaued them
selues proudly and hardened their necke,
so that they hearkened not vnto thy com-

But refused to obey, and wolde not rehadest done for them; but hardened their neckes and had in their heades to returne

to their bondage by their rebellion;
but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and full of compassion, of long suffering and
of great mercie, yett forsokeest them not.

Moreouer when they made them a molten calf (and said, This is thy god, y<sup>e</sup> brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) & committed great blasphemies,

Yett thou for thy great mercies forsokeest
them not in the wilderness: the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to lead them the way, neither the piller of fyre by night, to shewe them light, &
the way whereby they shulde go:

Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, & withheldst not thy MAN
from their mouth, and gauest them water
for their thirst.

Thou didest also fede the fourtie yeres
in y<sup>e</sup> wilderness: they lacked nothing: their clothes waxed not olde, and their feet swelled not.

And thou gauest them kingdomes and
people, and scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed the land of Sihon
and the land of the King of Heshbon, &
the land of Og King of Bashan.

And thou didest multiplie their childre,
like the starres of the heauen, & brogh-
test them into the lāde, whereof thou ha-dest spoken vnto their fathers, that they shulde go, and possesse it.

So the children went in, and possessed
the land, and thou subduedst before them

And they toke their strong cities and the & oliues, and trees for fode in abundance,

and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat; & liued in pleasure through thy great goodnes.

Yett they were disobedient, and rebelled
agāst thee, & cast thy Law behinde their backes & slew thy Prophetes (which pro-thee) and committed great blasphemies.

Therefore thou deliueredst them into

mightest bring the againe vnto thy Law: but they behaued them selues proudly, and hearkened not vnto thy commandments, but sinned against thy iudgements (* which a man shulde do and liue in them) and pulled away the shuldre, and were stiffe-necked, and wolde not heare.

Yet thou didest forbear them many yeres, and protestedst among them by thy Spirit, even by the hand of thy Prophetes, but they wolde not heare; therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

Yet for thy great mercies, thou hast not consumed them, nether forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

Now therefore our God, * thou great God, mightie and terrible, that kepest covenant and * mercie, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seme a litle before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our princes, & to our Priests, and to our Prophetes and to our fathers, & to all thy people since the time of the Kings of Asshur vnto this day.

Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou hast delt truly, but we have done wickedly.

And our Kings and our princes, our Priests and our fathers haue not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commandments nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast protested among them.

And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnes that thou shewedst vnto them, and in the large and fat land which thou sittest before them, and haue not conuerted from their euil workes.

Beholde, we are seruants this day, & the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eate the frute thereof, and the goodnes thereof, beholde, we are seruants therein.

And it yeldeth muche frute vnto Kings whome thou hast set ouer vs, because of our sinnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and ouer our cattel at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

Now because of all this we make a sure covenant, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites and our Priests seale vnto it.

CHAP. X.

The names of them that sealed the covenant betweene God and the people.

Now these that sealed were Nehemiah the Tirshatha the sonne of Hachabiah, and Zidkiah,

And the rest of the people, the Priests, the Leuites, the porters, the singers, the Nehinims, and all that were separated from the people of the land vnto the Law of God, their wives, their sonnes, and their daughters, all that coulde vnderstand.

The chief of them receiued it for their brethren, & they came to the castle, and to the other to walke in Gods Law, which was giuen by Moses the seruant of God, to obserue and do all the commandments of the Lord our God and his iudgements and his statutes:

And that we wolde not giue our daughters to the people of the land, nether take their daughters for our sonnes.

And if the people of the land brought ware on the Sabbath on any vitayles to sell, that we wolde not take it of them on the Sabbath and on the holy dayes: * and that we wolde let the seuent yere be free, and the debtes of euery persone.

And we made statutes for our selues to giue by the yere the third parte of a shekel for the seruice of the house of our God,

For the shewebread, and for the dailey offering, and for the dailey burnt offering, the Sabbaths, the newe moones, for the solemne feastes, and for the things that were sanctified, and for the sinne offerings to make an atonement for Israel, and for all the worke of the house of our God.

We cast also lottes for the offering of the wood,

wood, euen the Priests, the Levites, the house of our fathers, appointed, to burne it vpon the Lord our God, as it is written: And to bring the first fruits, and the first of all the fruit yere by yere, into the house of our God. And the firstborne of our cattel, as it is written: the firstborne of our bullocke, shepe, to bring it into the house of our God, vnto the Priests that were in the house of our God.

And that we shulde bring of our dough, and our offering of euery tree, of wine and of oil, to the chambers of God: and the tithes of our Leuites, that the Leuites tithes in all the cities of our land. And the Priest, the sonne of Aaron, be with the Leuites, when they bring the tithes, and the Leuites shal be with the Priests, the tenth parte of the tithes of our God, vnto the treasure house.

For the children of Israel, the children of Levi shal bring vnto the chambers of the wine, and the chambers: and there of the Sanctuary, and the ministers, and the porters, and we wil not forsake the house.

CHAP. XII.

<sup>g</sup> The Priests and Levites, which came with Zerubbabél vnto Ierusalém, are nombred. 27 And the wall is dedicated.

- <sup>h</sup> These also are the Priests & the Levites that <sup>a</sup> went vp with Zerubbabél, the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshúa: <sup>to wit</sup>,
- 1 Seraiáh, Ieremíah, Ezrá,
- 2 Amariáh, Mallúch, Hattúsh,
- 3 Shecaníah, Rechúm, Merimóth,
- 4 Iddó, Ginnethó, Abiáh,
- 5 Miamín, Maadiáh, Bilgáh,
- 6 Shemaiáh, & Ioiarib, Iedaiáh,
- 7 Sallú, Amók, Hilkiah, Iedaiáh: these were the <sup>b</sup> chief of the Priests, & of their brethren in the daies of Ieshúa.
- 8 And the Levites, Ieshúa, Binnúí, Kadmi-él, Sherebiáh, Iudáh, Mattaniáh: were ouer the thanksgiuings, he, & his brethren.
- 9 And Bakkubíah and Vnní, & their brethren were about them in the <sup>c</sup> warches.
- 10 And Ieshúa begate Ioiakím: Ioiakím also begate Eliashib, & Eliashib begate Ioiadá.
- 11 And Ioiadá begate Ionathán, & Ionathán begate Iaddúa.
- 12 And in the daies of Ioiakím were these, the chief fathers of the Priests: vnder <sup>d</sup> Seraiáh was Meraiáh, vnder Ieremíah, Hananiáh,
- 13 Vnder Ezrá, Meshullám, vnder Amariáh, Iehohanán,
- 14 Vnder Melicú, Ionathán, vnder Shebaniáh, Ioséph,

<sup>e</sup> That is, next to Seraiáh, or rather of that ordre, which was called after the name of Seraiáh.

- 15 Vnder Harim, Adná, vnder Meraiáh, Helkái,
- 16 Vnder Iddó, Zechariáh, vnder Ginnethón, Meshullám,
- 17 Vnder <sup>f</sup> Abiáh, Zichrí, vnder Miamín, & vnder Moadiáh, Piltái,
- 18 Vnder Bilgáh, Shámúá, vnder Shemaiáh, Iehonathán,
- 19 Vnder Ioiarib, Mattenáí, vnder Iedaiáh, Vzzi,
- 20 Vnder Sallái, Kallái, vnder Amók, Eber,
- 21 Vnder Hilkiah, Hasbabiáh, vnder Iedaiáh, Nerhaneél.
- 22 In <sup>g</sup> daies of Eliashib, Ioiadá, & Iohanán and Iaddúa were the chief fathers of the Levites written, and the Priests in the reigne of Darius the Persian.
- 23 The sonnes of Leui, the chief fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicle: <sup>to wit</sup> vnto the daies of Iohanán the sonne of Eliashib.
- 24 And the chief of the Levites were Hasbabiáh, Sherebiáh, and Ieshúa the sonne of Kadmiél, & their brethren about them to giue praise and thanks, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, warde ouer & against warde.
- 25 Mattaniáh and Bakkubíah, Obadiáh, Meshullám, Tamón and Akkúb were porters, keeping the warde at the thresholds of the gates.
- 26 These were in the daies of Ioiakím the sonne of Ieshúa, the sonne of Iozadák, & in the daies of Nehemiáh the captain, & of Ezrá the Priest and scribe.
- 27 And in the dedication of the wall at Ierusalém they sought the Levites out of all their places to bring them to Ierusalém, to kepe the dedication and gladnes, bothe with thanksgiuings and with songs,ymbales, viols and with harpes.
- 28 Then the <sup>h</sup> fingers gathered them selues together bothe from the plaine country about Ierusalém, and from the villages of <sup>i</sup> Netophathí,
- 29 And from the house of Gilgá, and out of the countreys of Géba, and Azmáver: for the fingers had buylt the villages rounde about Ierusalém.
- 30 And the Priests & Levites were purified, and censed the people, and the gates, and the wall.
- 31 And <sup>i</sup> I broght vp the princes of Iudáh vpon the wall, & appointed two great companies to giue thanks, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.
- 32 And after them went Hosbabiáh, & halfe of the princes of Iudáh,
- 33 And Azaíah, Ezrá and Meshullám,
- 34 Iudáh, Beniamín, and Shemaiáh, and Ieremíah,
- 35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariáh

Zechariáh the sonne of Iehoiada, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Asaph. And <sup>k</sup> his brethren, Sherebi, Milalai, Gilalai, Manasseh, Hanani, with ym of Dauid the man of God, were before them.

37 And to the gate of the ouer against them went the scribes of the citie of Dauid, euen vnto the water gate, and the seconde companye of thanks, went on the wall after them, and the halfe of the wall beyond the furnices euen vnto the bether.

38 And vpon the gate of the old gate, and vpon the towre of Hananeel, and the scribes of the shepherds, euen vnto the shepherds, and the halfe of the rule.

39 So stood the two companies that gaue thanks in the I and the halfe of the rule.

40 The Priests also, Eliakim, Michaiah, Eliohanan, Hanani, with trumpets.

41 And Maaseiah, and Sherebi, and Vzzi, and Iehoiada, and Elam, & Ezer, sang loude, hauing IZ the ouerfeer.

42 And the same day they sacrificed and reioyced: for them great ioye, so that both the children were ioyful of Ierusalém was heard of.

43 Also at the same time they reioyced ouer the chamber of the offerings (for the first fruits) to gather in to the cities, the portions of the Priests and the Levites, and the Levites reioyced for the Priests that serued.

44 And bothe the fingers kept the warde of their offices of the purification according to the mandement of Dauid, the sonne.

45 For in the daies of Dauid were chief singers, praise and thanksgiuings, in the daies of Nehemiáh, the portions vnto the singers, his portion, and the holy things vnto the Levites, he gaue the holy things of Aaron.

The Law is red. 3 They separate from them all strāgers. 15 Nehemiáh reproveth them that breake the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to serue God.

And on that day did they read in the boke of Moses, in the audience of the people, & it was founde writē therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite * shulde not enter into the Congregation of God, because they met not the children of Israël wth bread & with water, * but hired Ba-laám against the, that he shulde curse the: & our God turned the curse into a blessing.

Now when they had heard the Law, they separated from Israël * all those that were mixed.

¶ And before <sup>b</sup> this had the Priest Eliashib the oversight of the chamber of the house of our God, being <sup>c</sup> kinsman to Tobiah:

And he had made him a great chamber & there had thei aforetime laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the singers, & the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

But in all this time was not I in Ierusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yere of <sup>d</sup> Artahsháshe King of Babel, came I vnto the King, and <sup>e</sup> after certeine dayes I obtained of the King.

¶ And when I was come to Ierusalem, I vnderstode <sup>f</sup> euil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chāber in the court of the house of God,

And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all <sup>g</sup> the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

¶ And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thether brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meat offering and the incense.

¶ And I perceiued that the porcions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euerie one was fled to his lād, euen the Leuites & singers that executed the worke.

The reproveth I the rulers & said, Why is the house of God forsake? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

¶ Then brought all Iudáh the tithes of corne & of wine, & of oyle vnto <sup>h</sup> treasures.

¶ And I made treasurers ouer <sup>i</sup> treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, & Zadók the scribe, & of the Leuites, Pedaiah, & vnder their hand Hanán the sonne of Zaccúr the sonne of Mattaniáh: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

of his disobedience.

CHAP. I.

I declared vnto the, that God wolde not suffer such transgressors of his Law to be punished.

h Was not this a great cause, why God plagued vs in times past? meaning, that if they transgressed now in the same againe, their plague shulde be greater.

i About the time that the sunne went downe for the Sabbath lasted from the sunne going downe of the one day, to the sunne setting of the other.

h Meaning, of the Temple that none, that was vncleane, shulde come.

wine presses on the Sabbath, & that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges and all burdens, and brought them into Ierusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and I protested to them in the day that they solde vitayles.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euery in Ierusalem.

17 Then reproveth I the rulers of Iudah, & said vnto them, What euill thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie? yet ye increase the wrath vpon Irael, in breaking the Sabbath?

19 And when the gates of Ierusalem began to be darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they shulde not be opened til after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there shulde no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and marchants of all marchandise remained once or twise all night without Ierusalem.

21 And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I wil lay hands vpon you. Fro that time came they nomore on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I said vnto the Leuites that they shulde cleanse themselves, and that they shulde come and kepe the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, o my God, concerning this, and pardone me according to thy great mercie.

23 In those dayes also I sawe Iewes that married wiues of Ahdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speache of Ahdod, & coulde not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, & of the other people.

25 Then I reproveth them, and curse them, and smote certeine of them, and paled of their heere, & toke an othe of them by God, Ye shal not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shal ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

26 ¶ Did not Salomon the King of Irael sinne by these things? yet among many nations was there no King like him: for he was beloued of his God, and God had made him King ouer Irael: yet strange women caused him to sinne.

27 ¶ Shal we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, euen to marry strange wiues?

28 And one of the sonnes of Ioiahi the sonne of Eliashib the hie Priest was the sonne in law of Sanballat the Horonites: but I chasid him from me.

29 Remember them, o my God, that I detesteth the Priesthode, and the covenant of the Priesthode, and of the Leuites.

30 Then cleansed I them from all strangers, and appointed the wardes of the Priests of the Leuites, euery one in his office,

31 And for the offering of the wood at times appointed, & for the first frutes. Remember me, o my God, in goodnes.

THE ARGUMENT.

BECAUSE of the diuersitie of names, wherely they vsed to name their Kings, and the supposition of yerres, wherein the Ebrewes, and the Grecians do varie, diuers authors write diuersly as touching this Ahasuerus, but it semeth Daniel 6.1, and 9.1, that he was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahasuerus, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chief, as chief head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church: who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he euer stirreth vp some, by whome he sendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride, and crueltie of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their saleye fall when they are at highest: and how God preserveth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glorie, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

nes to bring it into the Kings tresurie.

Then the King toke his ring from his hand and gaue it vnto Hamán the sonne
of Hammedátha the Agagite the Iewe
adue: sarie.

And the King said vnto Hamán, Let y
siluer be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.

Then were the Kings scribes called on the thirtent day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Hamán commanded) vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer
euerie prouince, and to the rulers of eue-
rie people & to euerie prouince, accordig
to the writing thereof, & to euerie people
according to their language: in the name of King Ahasuerósh was it written, and sealed with the Kings ring.

And the lettres were sent by postes into all the Kings prouinces, to rote out, to kill and to destroye all the Iewes, bothe yong
and olde, children and women, in one day
vpon the thirtent day of the twelfth mo-neth, (which is the moneth Adár) and to spoil them as a pray.

The contents of the writing was, that there shulde be giuen a comandemēt in all prouinces, & published vnto all people, that thei shulde be ready against the same day.

And the postes compelled by the Kings
comandement went for the, and the commandement was giue in the palace at Shushán: and the King and Hamán sate drinking, but the cite of Shushán was in perplexitie.

Jewes, y were
in Shushán.

CHAP. IIIII.

Mordecái giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruel deceit of the King against the Iewes. 16 She willeth
that they pray for her

Now when Mordecái perceiued all that was done, Mordecái rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, & ashes, and went out into the middes of the citie, &
cried with a great crye, and a bitter.

And he came eue before the Kings gate,
but he might not entre within the Kings
gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

Because he wolde aduer-
tise Ester of this cruell proclamation.

And in euerie prouince, & place, whether the Kings charge and his commision came, there was great sorowe among the Ie-
wes, and fasting, & weeping and mournig,
and many laye in sackcloth & in ashes.

Ebr. sackcloth & ashes were spread for morning.

¶ Then Esters maidens and her eunuches
came and tolde it her: therefore the Queene was very heauy, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecái, and to take away his sackcloth fro him, but he receiued it not.

Ebr. had cen-
sed to stand before her.

Then called Ester Hatách one of y Kings eunuches, whome he had appointed to serue her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecái, to knowe what it was, and why it was.

So Hatách wēt forth to Mordecái vnto
the streat of the citie, which was before the Kings gate.

And Mordecái tolde hi of all that which had come vnto him, and of the summe
of the siluer that Hamán had promised to paye vnto the Kings treasures, because of the Iewes, for to destroye them.

Ebr. declaration.

Also he gaue him the copie of the writig
& commision that was giuen at Shushán,
to destroye the that he might shewe it vn-
to Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that she shulde go in to the King, & make petition and supplication
before him for her people.

Or, contrari-

¶ So when Hatách came, he tolde Ester
the wordes of Mordecái.

Then Ester said vnto Hatách, and commanded him, to say vnto Mordecái,

All the Kings seruantes do knowe, that whosoever, man or woman, that cometh
to the King into the inner court, which is not called, there is a lawe of his,

that he shal dye, except him to whom the King holdeth out the golden rod, that he may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the King these thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecái of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordecái said, that thei shulde answer Ester thus, Thinke not with thy self that thou shalt escape in the Kings house, more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, comfort and deliuerance shal appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shal perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to y<sup>e</sup> kingdome for such a time?

15 Then Ester commaded to answer Mordecái,

16 Go, & assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shushán, & fast ye for me, & eat not, nor drinke in thre dayes, day nor night. I also and my maides wil fast likewise, and so wil I go in to the King, which is not according to the Law: and if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mordecái said his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entreth in to the King, and biddeth him and Hamán to a feast. 2 Hamán prepareth a galous for Mordecái.

1 And on the third day Ester put on her royal apparel, and stode in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer against the Kings house: and the King sate vpon his royal throne in the Kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King sawe Ester the Queene standing in the court, she found fauour in his sight: & the King helde out the golde sceptre y<sup>e</sup> was in his hand: so Ester drewe nere, and touched the toppe of the sceptre.

3 Then said the King vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? & what is thy request? it shalbe euen giuen thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let the King and Hamán come this day vnto the baket, y<sup>e</sup> I haue prepared for him.

5 And the King said, Cause Hamán to make hast that he maie do as Ester hath said. So the King and Hamán came to the baket that Ester had prepared.

6 And the King said vnto Ester at the baket of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shal euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and said, My petition and my request is,

8 If I haue founde fauour in the sight of the King, and if it please the King to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the King and Hamán come to the baket that I shal prepare for them, & I wil do tomorowe according to the Kings saying.

9 Then went Hamán forth the same day ioyful & with a glad heart. But when Hamán sawe Mordecái in the Kings gate, he stode not vp, nor moued for him, then was Hamán ful of indignacion at Mordecái.

10 Neuertheles Hamán refrained him self, and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, and Zéresh his wife.

11 And Hamán tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the King had promoted him, and how that he had set him above the princes and seruants of the King.

12 Hamán said moreouer, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the King to the baket that he had prepared, saue me: and tomorowe am I bidden vnto her also with the King.

13 But all this doeth nothing auaille me, as long as I se Mordecái the Iewe sitting at the Kings gate.

14 Then said Zéresh his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tre of fiftie cubites hie, and tomorowe speake thou vnto the King, that Mordecái may be hanged thereon: the shalt thou go ioyfully with the King vnto the baket. And the thing pleased Hamán, and he caused to make the tre.

CHAP. VI.

1 The King turneth ouer the chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecái, so And commandeth Hamán, to caue Mordecái to be had in honour.

1 The same night the King slept not, & he commanded to bring the booke of the records & the chronicles: and they were red before the King.

2 Then it was founde written that Mordecái had tolde of Bigtána, & Tereh two of the Kings eunuches, keepers of the doore, who fought to lay hands on the King Ahassuerós.

3 The King said, What honour & dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecái for this? And the Kings seruants that ministered vnto him, said, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the King said, Who is in the court? (Now Hamán was come into the inner court of the Kings house, that he might speake vnto the King to hang Mordecái on the tre that he had prepared for him.) And the Kings seruants said vnto him, Beholde, Hamán standeth in the court. And the King said, Let him come in.

6 And when Hamán came vnto him, What shalbe done to him? whom the King wil honour in his heart, To whom the King do honour more then all the Kings.

7 And Hamán answered man whom the King wolde. Let the King bring for him royal robe, that the King rydeth vpon crowne royal may be set vpon him.

8 And let the rayment and liured by the hand of one of the noblest princes, and the man (whome the King causeth him to ride vpon the street of the citie, & p<sup>er</sup> him, Thus shal it be done to whome the King wil honour.

9 Then the King said to Hamán, take the rayment & do so vnto Mordecái: that siteth at the Kings gate, saue of all that thou hast.

10 So Hamán toke the rayment and arayed Mordecái, and horse backe through the citie, and proclaimed before it be done to the man wil honour.

11 And Mordecái came agate, but Hamán hatted him, and his head couered.

12 And Hamán tolde Zéresh his friends all that had bene said his wife men, and Zéresh to him, If Mordecái be of Iewes, before whome thou fall, thou shalt not preuaile, but shalt surely fall before him.

13 And while they were yett, came the Kings eunuchs to bring Hamán vnto the King, that he had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

1 The queene biddeth the King & Hamán to a feast for her selfe and her people, and he is hanged on the gallows, for Mordecái.

1 So the King and Hamán went with the Queene Ester to the King. And the King said againe the seconde day at the baket, What is thy petition, Queene? it shalbe euen performed to the kingdome.

and arayed Mordecái, and brought him on horse backe through the strete of the ci-

it be done to the man whome the King
wil honour.

12 And Mordecái came againe to the Kings

and his head couered.

13 And Hamán tolde Zéresh his wife, & all his friends all that had befallen him. Thé

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the Kings eunuches and hasted
to bring Hamán vnto the baket that Estér had prepared.

cket with the Quene Estér.

2 And the King said againe vnto Estér on the seconde day at the banquet of a wine,
What is thy petition, Quene Estér, that it may be giue thee: and what is thy request?
It shalbe euen performed vnto the halfe

if we were solde for seruants, & for handmaides, I wolde haue helde my tongue:
althogh the aduersarie colde not be recō-

5 Thé King Ahasuerósh answered, & said vnto the Quene Estér, Who is he? & where is he that presumeth to do thus?

6 And Estér said, The aduersarie and ene-mie is this wicked Hamán. Then Hamán was afraied before the King & the Quene.

7 And the King arose from the banquet of wine in his wrath, & went into the palace
garden: but Hamán stode vp, to make request for his life to the Quene Estér: for he sawe that there was a mischief prepared for him of the King.

8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Hamán was fallen vpon the bed whereon Estér sate: therefore the King said, Wil he force the Quene also before me in the house? As the worde wet out of the Kings mouthe, they couered Hamans face.

9 And Harbonáh one of the eunuches, said in the presence of the King, Beholde, there standeth yet the tre in Hamans house
fittie cubites hie, which Hamán had prepared for Mordecái, that spake good for the King. Then the King said, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Hamán on the tre, that he had prepared for Mordecái: then was the Kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

After the death of Hamán was Mordecái exalted.

Estér tolde what he was vnto her.

2 And the King toke of his ring, which he had taken from Hamán, and gaue it vnto Mordecái: and Estér set Mordecái ouer
the house of Hamán.

3 And Estér spake yet more before the King,
and fell downe at his fete weeping, and bewickednes of Hamán the Agagite, and

10 And he wrote in the King Ahashueróth name, and sealed it with the Kings ring: & he sent lettres by postes on horsebacke, & that rode on <sup>of</sup> beastes of price, as dromedaries & coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the King granted the Iewes (in what cities soeuer they were) to gather them selues together, & to stand for <sup>of</sup> their life, & to roote out, to slay & to destroye all the power of the people & of the prouince that vexed them, <sup>of</sup> bothe children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

14 So the postes rode vpon <sup>of</sup> beastes of price, & dromedaries, & wet forth with speede, to execute the Kings commandement, & the decree was giuen at Shushán <sup>of</sup> the palace.

15 And Mordecái went out from the King in royal apparell of blew, and white, and with a great crowne of golde, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the citie of Shushán reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and <sup>of</sup> ioye and gladnes, and honour.

17 Also in all and euerie prouince, and in all and euerie citie and place, where the Kings commādemēt & his decree came, there was ioye and gladnes to the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the lād<sup>m</sup> became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

At the commandement of the King the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes kepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

SO in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adár, vpon the thirtent day of the same, when the Kings commandement and his decree drewē nere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it <sup>a</sup> turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

1 The Iewes gathered the selues together into their cities throughout all the prouinces of the King Ahashueróth, to lay hand on suche as sought their hurt, and no man colde withstande them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

2 And all the rulers of the prouinces, & the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the King <sup>b</sup> exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecái fell vpon them.

3 For Mordecái was great in the Kings house, and the reporte of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecái waxed greater and greater.

4 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sworde and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they wold vnto those that hated them.

5 And at Shushán the palace slewe <sup>of</sup> the Iewes and destroyed <sup>of</sup> five hundredth men,

10 On the same day came the number of those that were slayne, vnto the palace of Shushán before the King.

11 And the King said vnto the Quene Ester, The Iewes haue slayne in Shushán the palace and destroyed five hundredth men, and the ten sonnes of Hamán: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy request moreover, that it may be performed?

12 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let it be granted also to morowe to the Iewes that are in Shushán, to do according vnto this dayes decree hang vpon the tre Haman. And the King charged the decree was giuen at Shushán Hamans ten sonnes.

16 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The fyre of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the shepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone, to tel thee.

17 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Caldeans set out thre bandes, and fel vpon the camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sworde: but I onely am escaped alone to tel thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, & said, Thy sonnes, & thy daughters were eating, & drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

19 And beholde, there came a great winde from beyond the wilderness, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fel vpon the childre, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tel thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and rent his garmēt, and shaued his head, and fel downe vpon the grounde, and worshiped,

21 And said, *Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, & naked shal I retorne: whether the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God foolishly.

23 But declared that God did althing according to iudgement.

CHAP. II.

1 Satan hath the permission to assault Iob. 2 His wife reprehendeth him to forsake God. 3 His three friends visite him.

1 And on a day the children of God came, and stood before the Lord, and Satan came also among them, and stood before the Lord.

2 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, and said, From compassing the earth, and from walking in it.

3 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? * an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euil: for yet he continueth in his vprightnes, although thou mouedst me against him, to destroye him without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and said, Skin for skin, & all that euer a man hath, wil he giue for his life.

5 But stretche now out thine hand, and touche his bones and his flesh, to see if he wil not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Lo, he is in thine hand, but saue his life.

7 So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord, and smote Iob with sore boyles, from the sole of his fote vnto his crowne.

8 And he toke a potsharde to scrape him, and he sate downe among the ashes.

9 The said his wife vnto him, Doeſt thou continue yet in thine vprightnes? * blaspheme God, and dye.

10 But he said vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shal we receiue good at the hand of God, and not receiue euil? In all this did not Iob sinne with his lippes.

11 Now when Iobs thre friends heard of all this euil that was come vpon him, they came euerie one from his owne place, to wit, Elipház the Temanite, and Bildád the Shuhite, and Zophár the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

12 So whē they lift vp their eyes a farre off, they knewe him not: therefore thei lift vp their voyces and wept, and euerie one of them rent his garment, & sprinkled a dust vpon their heades toward the heauen.

13 So thei sate by him vpon the grounde seuen dayes, and seuen nights, & none spake a worde vnto him: for they sawe, that the grief was very great.

14 And when their faith is assailed, and when they goeth about to perswade them, that thei trust in God in vayne.

15 For death was appointed to the blasphemers, & so the ment that he shulde be sone rid le out of his peme. n That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as we reioice, when he sendeth prosperitie, & so to acknowledge him to be bothe mercurial and iust. o He lo bridled his affections, that his iugue through impatience did not runne against God. p Which were men of ouri- tye, wife and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, and came to comfort him, but when they saw how he was visited, they conceived an euil opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, and so iustly plagued of God for his finnes. q This was also a ceremonie, which they vied in those countreies, as the renting of their clothes in signe of sorowe &c. r And therefore thought that he wolde not haue hearkened to their counsel.

CHAP. III.

1 Iob complaineth and curseth the day of his birth. 2 He desireth to dye, as though death were the end of all miserie.

1 Afterward Iob opened his mouthe, and cursed his day.

2 And Iob cryed out, and said,

3 Let the daye perish, wherein I was borne, and the night when it was said, There is a manchild conceived.

4 Let y day be darkenes, let not God regarde it from aboue, nether let the light shine vpon it,

CHAP. III.

5 Iob is reprehended of impiencie, 7 And uniuersall,
17 And of the presumption of his owne righteousness.

1 The Elipház the Temanite answered,
and said,

2 If we assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved: but a who can withholde
him self from speaking?
3 Beholde, thou hast taught manie, & hast strengthened the weake hands.

was falling, & thou hast strengthened the weake knees.

9 Let the starres of that twilight be dim through darkenes of it: let it loke for light, but haue none: nether let it & se
the dawning of the daye,

10 Because it shut not vp the dores of my mothers wombe: nor hid sorowe from mine
eyes.

11 Why dyed I not in my birth: or why dyed
I not, when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees preuent me: and why did I sucke the breasts?

13 For so shulde I now haue l yen and bene quiet, I shulde haue slept then, and bene
at rest,

14 With the Kings and counsellors of the earth, which haue buylded them selues
desolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had golde, &
haue filled their houses with siluer.

16 Or why was I not hid, as an vntimely birth, ether as infants, which haue not sene
the light?

17 The wicked I haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that laboured
vanitantly, are at rest.

18 The prisoners rest together, and heare
not the voyce of the oppressour.

19 There are small & great, and the seruāt
is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him
that is in miserie: and a life vnto them that haue heauy hearts?

21 Which long for death, & if it come not,
they wolde euen search it more then treasures:

22 Which ioye for gladnes and reioyce,
when they can finde the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the man whose way is hid, & whome God hath hedged in?

24 For my sighing cometh before I eat, and my rorings are powred out like the water.

25 For the thing I feared, is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afayed of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, nether had I quietnes,
nether had I rest, yet trouble is come.

But now it is come vpon thee, & thou art
griued: it toucheth thee, & thou art bled.

6 Is not this thy feare, thy confidence,
thy patience, and the vprightnes of thy wayes?

7 Remember, I pray thee: who euer perished being an innocent? or where were the right destroyed?

8 As I haue sene, they that plowe iniqui-
tie, and sowe wickednes, reape the same.

9 With the blast of God they perish, and with the breath of his nostriles are consumed.

10 The roring of the lion, and the voice

and the lions whelpes are scared abrode.

12 But a thing was broght to me secretly,
and mine eare hath receiued a litle there-
of.

13 In the thoughts of the visions of the night, when slepe falleth on men,

14 Feare came vpon me, and dread which made all my bones to tremble.

15 And the winde passed before me, & made
the heetes of my flesh to stand vp.

16 Then stode one, and I knew not his face:
an image was before mine eyes, & in silence heard I a voyce, saying,

17 Shal man be more iust then God? or
shal a man be more pure then his maker?

18 Beholde, he founde no stedfastnes in his seruants, & laied folie vpon his angels.

19 How muche more in them that dwell in houses of clay, whose fundacion is in the dust, which shalbe destroyed before the mothe?

CHAP. VII.

Job sheweth the shortness and miserie of mans life.

1 Is there not an appointed time to man
vpon earth? and are not his dayes as the dayes of an hyreling.

2 As a seruant longeth for the shadowe, & as an hyreling loketh for the end of his worke,

3 So haue I had as an inheritance the mo-neths of vanitie, and painefull nights haue
bene appointed vnto me.

4 If I laied me downe, I said, When shal
I arise, and measuring the euening I am eu-enful with tossing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is clothed with wormes & fil-thines of the dust: my skin is rent, & become horrible,

6 My dayes are swifter then the weauers shittle, and they are spent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a winde, &
that mine eye shal not returne to see pleasure.

8 The eye that hath sene me, shal se me no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I shalbe
no longer.

9 As the cloude vanisheth & goeth away,
so he that goeth downe to the graue, shal
come vp nomore.

10 He shal returne nomore to his house,

18 Or thei departe from their way & course,
yea, they vanish and perish.

19 Thei that go to Temá, considered the,
& thei that go to Shebá, waited for them.

20 But they were confounded: when thei hoped, thei came thither and were ashamed.

21 Surely now are ye like vnto it: ye haue
sene my fearful plague, and are a frayd.

22 Was it because I said, Bring vnto me, or
giue a rewarde to me of your substance?
23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand,
or ransom me out of the hand of tyrants?

24 Teach me, & I wil holde my tongue: & cause me to vnderstand, wherein I haue erred.

25 How stedfast are the wordes of righte-ousnes: and what can any of you iustly re-proue?

26 Do ye imagine to reprove wordes, that the talke of the afflicted shulde be as the winde?

27 Ye make your wrath to fall vpon the fa-
therles, and digge a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content to lye vpon
me: for I wil not lye before your face.

29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none in-iquitie: returne, I say, & ye shal se yet my righteousnes in that behalfe. Is there in-iquitie in my tongue? doeth not my mouth
speake for sorowes?

30 Do you censure at my wordes, because I shalbe bethought to speake foolishly, when an now in miserie? Consider whether I speake as one that is drunken to this impietie through very sorowes, or as an hypocrite, as you condemne me.

nether shal his place knowe him any more.

11 Therefore I wil not spare my mouth:
but wil speake in the trouble of my spirit,
& muse in the bitterness of my minde.

12 Am I a sea, or a whales fish, that thou pest me in warde?

13 When I say, My couche shal relice me,
& my bed shal bring comfort in my meditation,

14 Then fearest thou me with dreames,
and astonishest me with visions.

15 Therefore my soule chooseth rather to be strangled, & to dye, then to be in my bones.

16 I abhorre it, I shal not liue alway: spea-
re me then, for my daies are but vani-
tie.

17 What is man, that thou doest mag-
nifie him, and that thou settest thine heart
vpon him?

18 And doest visit him euerie morning, and tryest him euerie moment?

19 How long wil it be, yet thou departe
from me? thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may swallowe my spittle.

20 I haue sinned, what shal I do vnto thee?
& thou persuerest of men, why hast thou set me as a mark against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

21 And why doest thou not pardon my trespass, and take away mine iniquities? for now
shal I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest
me in the morning, I shal not be founde.

22 He perfection, that he colde bridel him selfe fro reasoning, so that he shal trye his faith.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad sheweth that Job is a sinner, because God
punisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.

1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite,
and said,

2 How long wilt thou talke of these things?
& how long shal the wordes of thy mouth
be as a mightie winde?

3 Doest God peruert iudgement? or doest
the almighty subuert iustice?

4 If thy sonnes haue sinned against him, &
he hath sent them into the place of their iniquitie,

5 Yet if thou wilt early seke vnto God, &
pray to the Almighty,

6 If thou be pure and vp right, then surely he wil awake vp vnto thee, & he wil make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning be small,
yet thy latter end shal greatly increase.

8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the

CHAP. IX.

Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteousnes is nothing.
Then Iob answered, and said,
I knowe verely that it is so: for how shulde man compared vnto God, be a iusti-fied?
1 If he wolde dispute with him, he colde
not answer him one thing of a thousand.
2 He is wise in heart, & mightie in strength:
who hath bene feare against him & hath prospered?
3 He remoueth the mountaines & they sele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.
4 He remoueth the earth out of her place,
that the pillars thereof do shake.
5 He commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signet.
6 He him self alone spreadeth out the hea-uens, and walketh vpon the height of the fla.
7 He maketh the starres, & Arcturus, Orion,
and Pleiades, and the climats of the South.
8 He doeth great things, and vnsearche-able: yea, meruelous things without number.

11 Lo, when he goeth by me, I se him not:
& when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.
12 Beholde, when he taketh a pray, & who can make him to restore it? who shal say
vnto him, What doest thou?
13 God wil not withdraw his angre &
the moste mightie helpe do stoupe vn-
der him.
14 How muche lesse shal I answer him? or how shulde I finde out my wordes with
him?
15 For though I were iuste, yet colde I not answer, but I wolde make supplication to my Iudge.
16 If I crye, and he answer me, yet wolde
I not beleue, that he heard my voyce.
17 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, &
woundeth me without cause.
18 He wil not suffer me to take my breath,
but filleth me with bitternes.
19 If we speake of strength, beholde, he is strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shal bring me in to plaide?
20 If I wolde iustifie my self, mine owne mouth shal condemne me: & if I wolde be perfite, he shal iudge me wicked.
21 Though I were perfite, yet I knowe not my soules therefore abhorre I my lyfe.
22 This is one point: therefore I said, He destroyeth the perfite and the wicked.
23 If the scourge shulde suddenly slay me, shulde God laugh at the punishment of the innocent?
24 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: he couereth the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is he? or who is he?
25 My daies haue bene more swift then a post: they haue fled, & haue sene no good
thing.
26 They are passed as with the moste swift shippes, and as the egles that flieth to the praye.
27 If I say, I wil forget my complaint, I wil cease from my wrath, & comfort me, 28 Then I am afrayed of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.
29 If I be wicked, why labour I thus in vaine?
30 If I wash my self with snowe water,
and purge mine hands moste cleane, 31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the pit, and mine owne clothes shal make me filthy.

with according to his iustice, he wil destroye aswel them that are coated per-fit, as them that are wicked. q To witte, the wicked. r This is spoken according to our apprehension, as though he wolde say, if God destroye but the wicked, as chap 5, why shulde he suffer the innocents to be so long tormented by them? s That they can not see to iustice. t That can knowe the contrary. u I thinke not to fall into these afflictions, but my sorowes bing me to these manifold infirmities, & my conscience condemneth me. x Why doest not God destroye me at once? thus he speaketh according to the infirmities of the flesh. y Though I seme neuer so pure in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God. z Whatsoever I wolde vie to count my filthy-nes with, shal disclofe me so muche more.

I am not able to cope with his wor-kes, which are commune and
daily before
me: my eyes
muche lesse
in these things,
which are hid
and secret.
f He sheweth
that whē God
doeth execute
his power, he
doeth it iuste-
ly, for as much as none can
controle him.
g God wil not be appealed
for that which
man can laie
for him self
for his iustifi-
cation.
h That is, all reasons that men can laie
to approue
their cause.
i How shulde
I be able to answer him?
j By eloquen-

noteth his friends, that albeit they were eloquent
in talke, yet thei
felt not in be-

thei spoke.

his owne opinion, signifying that man wil
sometime flatter
him selfe
with his iustice,
which before
God is abomi-

l Whiles I am
in my pangs,
I can not but brink forth
into many in-
conueniences,
although I know full that God is iust.
m I am not able to fele my

But the eyes <sup>c</sup> of the wicked shal faile,
and their refuge shal perish, and their hope shal be sorowe of minde.

CHAP. XII.

Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth
the might, and power of God. 17 And how he changeth the course of things.

Then Iob answered, and said,
In dede because that ye are the people onely, a wisdom must dye with you.

But I haue vnderstanding as wel as you, &
am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth
not suche things?

I am <sup>c</sup> as one mocked of his neighbour,
who calleth vpon God, and he <sup>c</sup> hea-
reth him: the iuste and the vpight is laughed to scorne.

He that is ready to fall, is as a lampe
despised in the opinion of the riche.

The tabernacles of robbers do prosper,
and they are in fauour, that prouoke God,
whome God hath enriched with his hand.

Allie now the beastes, <sup>c</sup> and they shal
teache thee, and the foules of the heauen,
and they shal tel thee:

Or speake to the earth, and it shal shewe thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shal declare vnto thee.

Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

In whose hand is the soule of euerie
liuing thing, and the breath of all mankinde.

Doeth not the eares <sup>c</sup> discerne the wor-
des? and the mouth talke meat for it self?

Among the <sup>c</sup> ancient is wisdom, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

With him is wisdom and strength: he hath counsel and vnderstanding.

Beholde, he wil breake downe, and it can not be buylt: he shutteth a man vp, and he can not be loosed.

Beholde, he withholdeth the waters, and they drye vp: but when he sendeth the out,
they destroye the earth.

He maketh the barren to be wise in iudging, and
afew to know the right waye.

Why God hath giuen them eares, as he hath done a mouth. 8 Though they haue
the continuance of time attaine to wisdom,
yet it is not comparable to Gods wisdom, nor able to comprehend
his iudgements, where is he that reacheth to that, which was alledged, Chap. 38.

Iob. Iobs confidence. 226

With him is strength and wisdom: he
that is deceiued, and that <sup>c</sup> deceiueth, are his.

He causeth the counselors to go as spoiled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

He loseth <sup>c</sup> the colar of Kings, and gi-
deth their loines with a girdle.

He leadeth away the princes as a pray, &
ouerthroweth the mightie.

He taketh away the speache from the faithful counselors, & taketh away the iud-gement of the ancient.

He powreth cōtempt vpon princes and
maketh the strength of the mightie weak.

He discouereth the depe places from their darkenes, & bringeth forth the shadow of death to light.

He <sup>c</sup> increaseth the people, and de-stroyeth them: he enlargeth the nacions, &
bringeth them in againe.

He taketh away the hearts of them that are the chief ouer the people of the earth,
and maketh them to wader in the wilder-
nes out of the way.

They grope in the darke without light:
he maketh them to stagger like a dron-
ken man.

CHAP. XIII.

Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shal be saved, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God that he wolde not handle him rigorously.

O, mine eye hath sene all this: mine
eare hath heard, and vnderstand it.

I knowe also as muche as you knowe: I am not inferior vnto you.

But I wil speake to the Almightye, and I desire <sup>c</sup> to dispute with God.

For in dede ye forge lyes, and all you are
b p hicians of no value.

Oh, that you wolde holde your tongue,
that it might be imputed to you for wis-
dome!

Now heare my disputation, and giue eare
to the arguments of my lippes.

Wil ye speake <sup>c</sup> wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

Wil ye accept his person: or wil ye contend for God?

Is it wel y<sup>e</sup> he shulde sike of you? wil you make a lye for him, as one lyeth for a mā?

He wil surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept anie persone.

Shal not his excellencie make you afraid:
and his feare fall vpon you?

Your <sup>c</sup> memories may be copared vnto
ashes, and your bodies to bodies of clay.

Holde your tongues in my presenche, that I may speake, and let come vpon what wil.

Wherefore do I <sup>c</sup> take my flesh in my
tethe, and put my soule in mine hand?

Lo, though he slay me, yet wil I trust in him,
and I wil reprove my wayes in his sight.

Ll.ii.

Eter. 102.

16 He shal be my saluation also: for the hypocrite shal not come before him.
17 Heare diligently my wordes, and marke
my talke.
18 Beholde now: if I prepare me to iudge
ment, I knowe that I shal be s iustified.
19 Who is he, that wil pleade with me for
if I now holde my tongue, I dye.
20 But do not these two things vnto me: the wil I not hide my self from thee.
21 Withdrawe thine hand from me, and let not thy feare make me afraied.
22 Then call thou, and I wil answer: or let me speake, and answer thou me.
23 How manie are mine iniquities and finnes: shewe me my rebellion, and my sinne.
24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and ta
kest me for thineemie?
25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the drye stubble?
26 For thou writest bitter things against me,
and makest me to possesse the iniquities
of my youth.
27 Thou puttest my fete also in the stocks,
and lokest narrowly vnto all my paths,
and makest the printe thereof in the hee
les of my fete.
28 Suche one consumeth like a rotten thing,
and as a garment that is motheaten.

CHAP. XIII.

Iob describeth the shortenes and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope susteineth the godlie. 22 The condition of mans life.

Man a y is borne of woman, is of short continuance, and full of trouble.
He shooteth forth as a flowre, and is cut downe: he vanissheth also as a shadow, & continueth not.
And yet thou openest thine eyes vp o
fuch one, and causest me to entre into iudgement with thee.
Who can bring a cleane thing out of
filthines: there is not one.
Are not his dayes determined: the nōber
of his moneths are with thee: thou hast appointed his boundes, which he can not passe.
Turne from him that he may cease vntil
his desired day, as an hyreling.
For there is hope of a tre, if it be cut downe, that it wil yet sproute, and the branches thereof wil not cease.
Thogh y rote of it waxe olde in the earth,
& the stocke thereof be dead in y grounde,
yet by the sent of water it wil bud, and
bring forth the bowes like a plant.
But man is sicke, and dyeth, & man per
issheth, and where is he?
As the waters passe from the sea, and as
the flood decayeth and dryeth vp,
So man slepeth and riseth not: for he shal not wake againe, nor be raised from his sleep til the heauen be nomore.

Oh that thou woldest hide me in the gra ue, and kepe me secret, vntil thy were past, and woldest giue me terme, and remember me.
If a man dye, shal he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time wil I wa
te, til s my changing shal come.
Thou shalt call me, and I shal answer thee: thou louest the worke of thine owne
hands.
But now thou nombrest my steps, and
doest not delay my finnes.
Mine iniquitie is scaled vp, as in a ba ge, and thou addest vnto my wickednes.
And surely as the moūtaine that falleth, cometh to noght, and the rocke that is
remoued from his place:
As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which growe
in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest
the hope of man.
Thou preuailest alway against him, so that he passeth away: he changeth his fa ce when thou castest him away.
And he knoweth not if his finnes shal be honorable, nether shal he vnderstand con cerning thē, whether they shal be of lower degree,
But while his flesh is vpon him, he shal
be sorowful, and while his soule is in him,
it shal mourne.

CHAP. XV.

Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, because he ascribeth his dome, and pures to himself. 16 He describeth curses that fall on the wicked, reking Iob to him
of the number.

Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite,
and said,
Shal a wise man speake wordes of the winde, and fill his belly with the East
winde?
Shal he dispute with wordes not comely,
or with talke that is not profitable?
Surely thou hast cast of s feare, and restrainest prayer before God.
For thy mouth declareth thine iniqui
tie, seing thou hast chosen the tongue
of the crafty.
Thine one mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lippes testifie against
thee.
Art thou the first man, that was borne,
and wast thou made before the hills?
Hast thou heard the secret counsel of God, and doest thou restraine wisdom
to thee?
What knowest thou that we knowe not:
and vnderstandest that is not in vs?
With vs are bothe ancient and ver
aged men, sane older then thy father.
See the consolations of God s smit
vnto thee: is this thing strange vnto thee?

Why doest thou heart
and what do thine eyes me That thou answerest to pleasure, and bringest such thy mouth?
What is man, that he sh

Beholde, he founde no st Saintes: yea, the heauens a
his sight.
How muche more is man
filthie, which drinketh
water?
I wil tel thee: heare me,

h Vse painted words in stead of true consolation.
i Thus by his great torments he is carryed away, and bracken out his passions, and speaketh vnto himselfe as though God should intreat man more gently, feeling he hath but a short time here to liue.

Chap. xviii.
a In stead of comfort, being now at death dore, he had but them that mocked at him, and discouraged him.
b If he felt that they like but to vex one else reasoneth with God as a man belide himselfe to the intent of his cause might be brought to light, and answer for their.
c That these mine afflictions are thy iust iudgements, though man know not the cause.
d He that flattereth a man, and only iudgeth him happy in his prosperitie, shall not him selfe only, but in his prosperitie be punished.
e God hath made all the world to speake of me, because of mine afflictions.
f That is, as a continual sounde in their eares.
g To wit, when they see God lie punished: but in the end they shall come to vnderstanding, and knowe what shall be the reward of the hypocrite.
h That is, will not be discounting that the godlie are punished as well as the wicked.
i Job speaketh to the three, y came to comfort him. What is, haue brought me sorrow in stead of comfort.
j Though I shoulde hope to come from aduersitie to prosperitie as your discourses pretendeth.
k I haue nomore hope in father, mother, sister, or any worldly thing: for the dust and wormes shall be to me in stead of comfort.
l All worldly hope, and prosperitie faile, which you say, are only signes of Gods fauour: but seeing that these things perill, I see mine hope in God, and in his life everlasting.

20 My friends speake eloquently against me: but mine eye powreth out teares vnto God.
21 Oh that a man might please with God, as man with his neighbour.
22 For the yerres accounted come, and I shall go the way, whence I shall not returne.

CHAP. xviii.

Job sayeth that he consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 He exhorreth his friends to repentance, 13 Shewing that he looketh but for death.

My breath is corrupt: my daies are cut off, and the graue is ready for me.
2 There are none but mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in their bitterness.
3 Laye downe now and put me in suretie for thee: who is he, that wil touche mine hands?
4 For thou hast hid their heart from vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not see them vpon his.
5 For the eyes of his children shall faile, that speaketh flatterie to his friends.
6 He hath also made me a byworde of the people, and I am as a tabret before them.
7 Mine eye therefore is dim for grief, and all my strength is like a shadowe.
8 The righteous shall be astonied at this, and the innocent shall be moued against the hypocrite.
9 But the righteous wil holde his waye, and he whose hands are pure, shall increase his strength.
10 All you therefore turne you, and come now, and I shall not finde one wise among you.
11 My dayes are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart.
12 Haue changed the night for the day, and the light that approached, for darkenes.
13 Though I hope, yet the graue shall be mine house, and I shall make my bed in the darke.
14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the worme, Thou art my mother and my sister.
15 Where is then now mine hope, for who shall consider the thing, that I hoped for?
16 They shall go downe into the bottoome of the pit: surely it shall lye together in the dust.

CHAP. xix.

Job rebearseth the prizes of the vnfaythful, and mocked.

Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, & said,

1 When wilt thou make an end of thy words? cause vs to vnderstand, & thou wilt speake.
2 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and are vile in your sight?
3 Thou art as one that teareth his fowle in anger. Shall the earth be forsaken for thy sake? or thy rocke remoued out of his place?
4 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be quenched, & the sparke of his fyre shall not flame.
5 The light shall be darke in his dwelling, and his candel shall be put out with him.
6 The steps of his strength shall be reuersed, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe.
7 For he is taken in the net by his feet, & he walketh vpon the snares.
8 The gonne shall take him by the heels, & the thefe shall come vpon him.
9 A snare is laid for him in the grounds, & a trappe for him in the way.
10 Fearfulness shall make him afraid on every side, and shall driue him to his fete.
11 His strength shall be as famine: & destruction shall be readie at his side.
12 It shall deuoure the partes of his skinned, & the fast borne of death shall deuoure his strength.
13 His hope shall be roted out of his dwelling, & shall cause him to go to the King of feare.
14 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not his) and brimstone shall be scttered vpon his habitation.
15 His rotes shall be dried vp beneath, and aboue shall his branche be cut downe.
16 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall haue no name in the streete.
17 They shall driue him out of the light vnto darkenes, and chase him out of the worlde.
18 He shall nether haue sonne nor nephew among his people, nor any posteritie in his dwellings.
19 The posteritie shall be astonied at his day, & feare shall come vpon the ancient.
20 Surely such are the habitacions of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. xix.

Job reprooueth his friends, 15 And reciteth his miseries & grievous paines, 25 He assureth him selfe of the generall resurrection.

But Job answered, and said,
1 How long wilt thou vex me, and torment me with wordes?
2 Ye haue now ten times reproched me, & are not ashamed: ye are impudēt toward me.
3 And though I had in dede erred, mine error remaineth with me.
4 But in dede if ye wil aduise your selues against me, against me, & rebuke me for mine iniquitie, knowe now, y God hath heard me, & hath compassed me about with his arm.

2 Beholde, I crye out of violence, none answer: I crye but troublement.
3 He hath hedged vp my waye, & I cannot passe, and he hath kept my paths.
4 He hath spoiled me of my strength, & taken the crowne away from me.
5 He hath destroyed me, & am gone: & he hath remoued me like a tree.
6 And he hath killed his strength, & counteth me as one of the dead.
7 His armies came together vpon me, & cast downe my tabernacle.
8 He hath remoued my bosome, and also mine acquisition.
9 My neighbours haue forgotten me, & my familiars haue forgotten me.
10 They that dwell in mine house, haue broken the covenant: they haue sought for my life, & haue set a snare for my feet.
11 I called my seruants, but they did not answer: though I praied him, but they despised me.
12 The wicked also despised me, & they spake against me.
13 All my secret friends abhorred me, & those whom I loved, are turned against me.
14 My bone cleaueth to the flesh, and I haue escaped from the net of my teethe.
15 Haue pittie vpon me: haue pittie, O ye my friends, for he hath touched me.
16 Why do ye persecute me, & are not satisfied with my iniquitie?

And he hath kidled his wrath against me,
and counteth me as one of his enemies.
His armies came together, and made their way vpon me, & camped about my

He hathe remoued my brethren farre fro

My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.
They that dwell in mine house, and my stranger in their sight.

I called my seruāt, but he wolde not an

My breath was strange vnto my wife,
though I praied her for the childrens sake
of mine owne body.
The wicked also despised me, & when I

All my secret friends abhorred me, & thei

reines are consumed within me.
But ye said, Why is he persecuted? And there was a depe matter in me.
Be ye afraid of the sword: for y sword
will be tauoged of wickednes, that ye may know that there is a iudgement.

CHAP. XX.

Zophar sheweth that the wicked and the couetous shal
be destroyed. y God hathe declared that he is a deper con
trarye to the faith & patience, and so to be an example to God will reuenge of this hatie iudgement, whereby against

haue a shorte end, as Though for a time they flourish.
He answered Zophar the Naamathite
and said,
Douteles my thoghts cause me to an swer, and therefore I make haste.
I haue heard the correction of my re
proche: therefore y spirit of mine vnder
standing causeth me to answer.
Knowest thou not this of olde? & since
God placed man vpon the earth?
That the reioycing of the wicked is shor
te, & that the ioye of hypocrites is but a moment?
Though his excellencie mounte vp to the heauen, and his head reache vnto the
cloudes,
yet shal he perish for euer, like his dung,
and they which haue sene him, shal say,
Where is he?
He shal slee away as a dreame, & thei shal
not finde him, and shal passe away as a vi sion of the night.
So that the eye which had sene him, shal
do so no more, and his place shal se him
no more.
His children shal flatter the poore, and
his hands shal restore his substance.
His bones are ful of the sinne of his youth,
& it shal lye downe with him in the dust.
Whē wickednes was sweete in his mou th, & he hid it vnder his tongue,
and fauoured it, and wolde not forsake
it, but kept it close in his mouth,
Then his meat in his bowels was turned:
the gall of aspes was in the middes of hi
belly.
He hathe deuoured substance, and he shal vomit it: for God shal drawe it out of his belly.
He shal sucke the gall of aspes, and the
vipers tongue shal slay him.
He shal not se the riuers, nor the floods
& streames of hony and butter.
He shal restore y labour, & shal deuou
re nomore: euen according to the substan ce shalbe his exchange, and he shal enioye
it nomore.
For he hathe vndone man: he hathe for saken the poore, & hathe spoiled houses
which he buylded.
Surely he shal sele no quietnes in his body, neither shal he referue of that which he desired.
There shal none of his meat be left:
therefore none shal hope for his goods.
Whē he shalbe filled with his abundace,
he shalbe in paine, & the hand of all the wicked shal assaile him.
He shalbe about to fill his belly, but God
shal send vpō hī his fierce wrath, & shal
cause to raine vpō him, euen vpō his meat.
He shal slee from the y on weapons, and
the bowe of stele shal strike him through.

a Your dilige makinge of my wordes shalbe to me a great consolation.
b As though he wolde say, I do not talke with man, but with God, who wil not answer me, & therefore my minde must needs be troubled.
c He chargeth them as if they were not able to cōprehend this his feeling of Gods iudgement, & exhorteth thē therefore to silence.
d Job proreth against his aduersaries that God punisheth not straight waies the wicked, but oftentimes giueth the long life, and prosperitie: so that we must not iudge God lisse or vniust by the things that appeare to our eye.

25 The arrowe is drawn out, and cometh forth of the body, and shineth of his gall, so feare cometh vpon him.
26 All darkenes shalbe hid in his secret places: the fyre that is not blowne, shal deuoure him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle, shalbe destroyed.
27 The heauen shal declare his wickednes, and the earth shal rise vp against him.
28 The increase of his house shal go away: it shal flowe away in the day of his wrath.
29 This is the porcion of the wicked man from God, & the heritage that he shal haue of God for his wordes.

CHAP. XXII.

Job declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proude, in so muche that they blaspheme God.
10 Their destruction is at hand. 23 None egi to be iudged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperitie.

BUt Job answered, and said,
1 Hear diligently my wordes, and this shalbe in stead of your consolations.
2 Suffre me, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.
3 Do I direct my talke to man? If it were so, how shulde not my spirit be troubled?
4 Marke me, and be abashed, and lay your hand vpon your mouth.
5 Euen when I remember, I am afraied, & feare taketh holde on my flesh.
6 Wherefore do the wicked liue, and waxe olde, and growe in welth?
7 Their sede is established in their fight with them, and their generacion before their eyes.
8 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.
9 Their bullocke gendreth, & faileth not: their cowe calueth, and casteth not her calfe.
10 They send forth the children e like shepe, and their sonnes dance.
11 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sounde of the organs.
12 They spend their daies in welth, and suddenly they go downe to the graue.
13 They say also vnto God, Depart fro vs: for we desire not the knowledge of thy waies.
14 Who is the Almighty, that we shulde serue him? and what profite shulde we haue, if we shulde pray vnto him?
15 Lo, their welth is not in their hand: therefore let the counsel of the wicked be farre from me.
16 How oft shal the candell of the wicked be put out, and their destructio come vpon them? he wil deuide their liues in his wrath.
17 They shal be as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme caryeth away.

18 God will lay vp the sorow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he shal knowe it.
19 The eyes shal se his destruction, and shal drinke of the wrath of Almighty.
20 For what pleasure hath he in his wealth after him, when the number of his nephews is cut off?
21 Shal any teache God knowledge, and iudgeth the hieft things?
22 One dyeth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.
23 His breasts are full of milke, and his benes runne full of marowe.
24 And another dyeth in the bitterness of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.
25 They shal sleepe bothe in the dust, and the wormes shal couer them.
26 Beholde, I know your thoughts, and enterprises, wherewith ye do me wrong.
27 For ye say, Where is the princes dwelling, and where is the tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?
28 May ye not aske thē that go by y way, and ye can not denie their signes.
29 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of his destructio, & they shal be broght forth to the day of wrath.
30 Who shal declare his waie to his face, and who shal rewarde him for that he hath done?
31 Yet shal he be broght to the graue, and remaine in the heape.
32 The slimie valley shalbe swete vnto him, and euerie man shal drawe after him, before him there were innumerable.
33 How the comfort ye me in vaine, say in your answers there remaine but lyes.

CHAP. XXIII.

Eliphaz affirmeth that Job is punished for his sinne.
6 He accuseth him of unmercifubnes, and denieth Gods providence.
21 He exhorteth him to repentance.
THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said,
1 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise, may be profitable to himselfe?
2 Is it any thing vnto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes right?
3 Is it for feare of thee that he wil accuse thee? or go with thee in to iudgement?
4 Is not thy wickednes great, & thine iniquities innumerable?
5 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for night, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.
6 To such as were weary, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withheld bread from the hungry.

Job exhorted to repent
8 But the mightie man as he that was in autoritie,
9 Thou hast cast out wide the armes of the father.
10 Therefore snares are reared, and feare shal suddenly trample.
11 Or darkenes that thou art, and abundance of water.
12 Is not God on his in holde the height of the they are.
13 But thou saiest, How shal I can be iudge through the cloude hid in the se, and he walketh in the night.
14 Hast thou marked the where in wicked men haue been cut downe, whose fundacion is ouerflowed:
15 Which said vnto God, vs, and asked what the Almightie would do for them.
16 Yet he filled their houses with things: but let the counsellors be farre from me.
17 The righteous shal see ioyce, and the innocent to scorne.
18 Surely our substance is deuoured, and we haue deuoured the reuerend: therefore acquaint thyself with him, and make peace: shalst thou haue prosperitie.
19 Receiue, I pray thee, mouth, and laie vp his heart.
20 If thou returne to the se, shalt thou be buyt vp, & shalt thou be quiete farre from thy tabernacle?
21 Thou shalt lay vp golde of Ophir, as the riuers.
22 Yea, the Almighty shal be with thee, and thou shalt haue plenty.
23 And thou shalt delight in the deliuerie, and lift vp thy face vnto the heauen.
24 Thou shalt make thy vow, and he shal heare thee, and dre thy vowes.
25 Thou shalt also decree, and establish it vnto thee, and shine vpon thy waies.
26 When others are cast downe, thou say, I am lifted vp: the humble persone.
27 The innocent shal deliuer, and it shalbe preserued in thine hands.
28 The counsel of the wicked. 29 He exhorteth Job to repentance.
30 God wil restore vnto thee all that thou hast deliuered, and thou shalt be deliuered from the hand of the wicked.
31 God wil deliuer thee from the hand of the wicked.

lay vp the sorow of the fatherles: when he rewardeth him.

He shall see his destruction, and he shall see the wrath of the Almighty: for he hath pleasure in his trouble: when the number of his misdeeds shall be full.

He shall know the knowledge of his misery: for he shall see the chief things.

He shall see his ful strength, being in prosperity.

He shall see that he is full of milke, and his bow shall be of marowe.

He shall see that he dyeth in the bitterness: and he shall neuer ease with pleasure.

He shall see that he slepe both in the dust, and in the ful strength, being in prosperity.

He shall know your thoughts, and he shall see where ye do me wrong.

Where is the princes house? where is the tabernacle of the wicked?

He shall see that he aske the that go by way, and he shall not denie their signes.

He shall see that he is kept vnto the day of wrath: they shall be brought forth by wrath.

He shall declare his waie to his face: and he shall reward him for that he hath done.

He shall be brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

But the mightie man had the earth, and he that was in autoritie dwelt in it.

Thou hast cast out widowes empirie, and the armes of the fatherles were broken.

Therefore snares are rounde about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:

Or darkenes that thou shouldest not feare, and abundance of waters shall couer thee.

Is not God on his high in the heauen? & beholde the height of the starres how hee they are.

But thou saiest, How shulde God knowe can he iudge through the darke cloude?

The cloude hid him that he can not see, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.

Hast thou marked the way of the world, wherein wicked men haue walked?

Which were cut downe before the time, whose fundacion was as a riuer that overflowed:

Which said vnto God: Departe from vs, and aske what the Almighty colde do for them.

Yet he filled their houses with good things: but let the counsel of the wicked be farre from me.

The righteous shall see them, and shall reioyce, and the innocent shall laugh them to scorne.

Surely our substance is hid: but the fyre hath deuoured the remnant of them.

Therefore acquaint thy self, I pray thee, with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.

Receiue, I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and laie vp his wordes in thine heart.

If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt be buylt vp, and thou shalt put iniurie farre from thy tabernacle.

Thou shalt lay vp golde for dust, and the golde of Ophir, as the flints of the riuers.

Yea, the Almighty shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.

And thou shalt the delite in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.

Thou shalt also decree a thing, & he shall establish it vnto thee, and the light shall shine vpon thy waies.

When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble persone.

The innocent shall deliuer the yland, and it shall be preferred by the purenes of thine hands.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

He shall see that the valley shall be swete vnto him, and he shall drawe after him, as the waters were innumerable.

He shall see that he comfort ye me in vaine, for the waters there remaine but lyes.

He shall see that he is brought to the graue, and he shall heape.

CHAP. XXIII.

Job affirmeth that he both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the Iudge. And that he is not punished onely for his finnes.

But Iob answered and said, Though my talke be this day in bitterness, and my plague greater than my gronings, Wolde God yet I knewe how to finde him, I wolde entre vnto his place.

I wolde pleade the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

I wolde knowe the wordes, that he wolde answer me, and wolde vnderstand what he wolde say vnto me.

Wolde he plead against me with his great power? No, but he wolde put strength in me.

There the righteous might reason with him, so I shoulde be deliuered for euer from my Iudge.

Beholde, if I go to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I can not perceiue him:

If to the North where he worketh, yet I can not see him: he wil hide him self in the South, and I can not beholde him.

But he knoweth my way, and cryeth me, and I shall come forth like the golde.

My fote hath followed his steppes: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.

Nether haue I departed from the commandement of his lippes, for I haue esteemed the wordes of his mouth more than mine appointed fode.

Yet he is in one minde, and who can turne him? yea, he doeth what his minde desireth.

For he wil performe that, which is decreed of me, and many such things are with him.

Therefore I am troubled at his presence, & in considering it, I am afrayed of him.

For God hath softened mine heart, & the Almighty hath troubled me.

For I am not cut of in darkenes, but he hath hid the darkenes from my face.

Iob confesseth that at this present he felt not Gods fauour, and yet was assured, that he had appointed him to a good end: in many pointes man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements.

He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth none end, neither yet knoweth the cause.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Job describeth the wickednes of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked. How all things are governed by Gods prouidence. And the destruction of the wicked.

How shulde not the times be hid from the Almighty, seeing that thei which knowe him, se not his daies?

Some remove the land markes, that robbe the flockes and fede thereof.

They lead away the asse of the fatherles: and take the widowes ox to pledge.

Amn.

When he punisheth the wicked and rewardeth the good.

He sheweth the iuste cause of his complaining, & as touching that which he had exhorted him to returne to God, chap. 22, 23, he declareth that he desired nothing more: but it seemed that God wolde not be foule of him.

By sing his absolute power & saying, Because I am God, I may do what I will: Of his mercie he wolde giue me way: to answer him: When he of his mercie hath giuen strength to mainteine their cause.

Meaning, if he could consider Gods iustice, he is not able to cõprehende his iudgements on what fide he standeth: neuer he turneth him self.

God hath this preeminence about me that he knoweth my way: I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his workes: he sheweth also his confidence, that God doeth visite him for his profite.

His wordes is more precious vnto me, then the most wherewith the body is furnished.

Thus Iob speaketh in his passions: and after the iudgment of the flesh: that is, he seeth not the things that are done at times, neither yet hath a peculiar care ouer all, because he punisheth not the wicked, nor reuengeth the godlie.

4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide them selues together.
Beholde, others as wilde asses in the wildernes, go forth to their busines, and arise early for a pray: the wildernes giueth him & his children fode.
5 They reape his prouisiō in the field, but they gather the late vitage of the wicked.
6 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, & without couering in the colde.
7 They are wet with the shewes of the mountaines, and they imbrace the rocke for want of a couering.
8 They plucke the fatherles from the breast, and take the pledge of the poore.
9 They cause him to go naked without clothing, and take the gleining from the hungry.
10 They make oyle betweene their walles, and treade their winepresses, suffer thirst.
11 Me crye out of the citie, & the soulles of the slayne crye out: yet God doeth not charge them with follicke.
12 These are they, that abhorre the light: they knowe not the waies thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof.
13 The murderer riseth early & killeth the poore and the nedie: and in the night he is as a theefe.
14 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twylight, and saith, None eye shal see me, and disguiseth his face.
15 They digge through houses in the darke, which they marked for them selues in the day: they knowe not the light.
16 But the morning is euen to them as the shadow of death: if one knowe the, they are in the terrors of the shadowe of death.
17 He is swift vpon the waters: their portion shalbe cursed in the earth: he wil not beholde the way of the vineyardes.
18 As the drye grounde & heat consume the snowe waters, so shal the graue consume the sinners.
19 The pitiful man shal forget him: the worme shal fele his sweetenes: he shalbe no more remembred, & the wicked shalbe broken like a tre.
20 He doeth euil intreat the baren, that doeth not beare, nether doeth he good to the widowe.
21 He draweth also y mightie by his power, & whē he riseth vp, none is sure of life.
22 Though men giue him assurance to be in sauetie, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.
23 They are exalted for a litle, but they are gone, and are brought lowe as all others: they are destroyed, and cut of as the top of an eare of corne.
24 Though God suffer the wicked for a time, yet their end shal be moste vile destruction, & in this point Iob cometh to him self and sheweth his confidence.
x He sheweth why the wicked shal not be lamented, because he did not pitee others.
y He declareth that after that the wicked haue destroyed the wicked, they will do like to the strongest, and therefore are iustly presented by Gods iudgements.

25 But if it be not so, where is he? or who wil proue me a lyer, & make my wordes of no value?
Biddad proueth that no man is cleane nor without sinne before God.
Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, & said,
a Power & feare is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.
b Is there any number in his armies? & vpon whome shal not his light arise?
c And how may a man be iustified with God? or how can he be cleane, that is borne of woman?
d Beholde, he wil giue no light to the moon, & the starres are vncleane in his sight.
e How muche more man, a worme, euē the sonne of man, which is but a worme?

CHAP. XXV.

1 Iob sheweth that man can not helpe God, & proueth it by his miracles.
2 But Iob answered, and said,
a Whome helpest thou? him that hath no power? fauest thou the arme that hath no strength?
b Whome counselst thou? him that hath no wisdom? thou shewest right wel as the thing is.
c To whome dost thou declare these wordes? or whose spirit cometh out of thee?
d The dead things are formed vnder the waters, and nere vnto them.
e The graue is naked before him, & there is no couering for destruction.
f He stretcheth out the North over the emptie place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.
g He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloude is not broken vnder them.
h He holdeth backe the face of his throne, & spreadeth his cloude vpon it.
i He hath set bondes about the waters, vntil the day and night come to an end.
j The pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reprove.

1 The constancie and perfines of Iob. 2 The remembrance of the wicked and of the tyrants.
Moreover Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The living God hath iudgement: for the Almighty soule in bitterness.
Yet so long as my breath is, the Spirit of God in my mouth, my lips surely shal speake, & my tongue shal shew.
God forbid, that I shoulde vntill I dye, I wil neuer be innocent from my sinne.
I wil kepe my righteousness, for I mine heart shal forsake it: mine heart shal forsake it.
Mine enemy shal be as that riseth against me, as for what I hope hath he, he hath heaped vpon rich way his soule.
Wil God heare his cry, cometh vpon him?
Wil he see his delite, wil he call vpon God, & I wil teach you what is, & I wil not conceal that which is.
Beholde, all ye your selfe, why then do you thus vnto this? This is the portion with God, & the heritage which they shal receiue of the.

perfitnes of Iob. 13 The rewarde
the tyrants.

r Iob proceeded and conti
parable, saying,

3 The liuing God hath taken away my iudgement: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.

Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

My lips surely shall speake no wickednes,
and my tongue shall utter no deceit.

God forbid, that I should be iustified you:
vntill I dye, I wil neuer take away mine

innocencie from my self.

I wil kepe my righteousness, and wil not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove me
of my dayes.

Mine enemy shall be as the wicked, & he
that riseth against me, as the vnrighteous.

For what? hope hath he the hypocrite whē
he hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?

Will God heare his crye, when trouble
cometh vpon him?

Will he set his delite on the Almighty?
wil he call vpon God at all times?

I wil teach you what is in? had of God,
I wil not conceit that which is with the Almighty.

Beholde, all ye your selues haue sene it:
why then do you thus vanish in vanities?

This is the portion of a wicked man with God, & the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almighty.

His children be in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie
shall not be satisfied with bread.

His remnant shall be buried in death, &
his widowes shall not wepe.

Though he should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay,

He may prepare it, but the iust shall put
it on, and the innocent shall deuide? siluer.

He buyldeth his house as the mothe,
and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

When the riche man slepeth, he shall not be gathered to his sithers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

Terrours shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carie him away by night.

The East wind shall take him away, & he shall depart: and it shall hurle him out of his place.

And God shall cast vpon him & not spare,
though he wolde saine slee out of his hand.

Euery man shall clap their hands at him,
and hisse at him out of their place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisdom of God is vnsearchable.

The siluer surely hathē his vaine, & the
golde his place, where they take it.

Yron is taken out of the dust, and brasie
is molten out of the stone.

God putteth an end to darknes, & he try-eth the perfectiō of all things: he setteth a boile of darkenes, & of? shadow of death.

The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, and the waters are forgotten of the foote, being higher than the mā, are gone away.

Out of the same earth cometh bread, &
vnder it, as it were fyre is turned vpon.

The stones thereof are a place of sap-
phirs, and the dust of it is golde.

There is a path which no foule hath known, neither hath the kites eye sene it.

The lions whelps haue not walked it, nor
the lion passed thereby.

He putteth his hand vpon the rocks, &
ouerthroweth the mountaynes by? rootes.

He breaketh riuers in the rocks, and his eye seeth euery precious thing.

He bindeth the floods, that they do not ouerflowe, & the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

But where is wisdome to be? & where
is the place of vnderstanding?

Man knoweth not the price thereof: for
it is not found in the land of the liuing.

The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea
also saith, It is not with me.

Golde shall not be giuen for it, neither
shall siluer be weighed for? price thereof.

It shall not be valued with the wedge of golde of Ophir, nor with the precious o-nix, nor the saphir.

The golde nor the cristall shall be equal
vnto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate
of fine golde.

No mencioni shall be made of coral, nor
of the? gabazin: for wisdome is more precious then perles.

The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equal vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure golde.

Whence? cometh wisdomē? and where is the place of vnderstanding?

Seing it is hid from the eyes of all the li-
uing, & is hid fro the? foules of? heauē?

Destruction and death say, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.

But God vnderstandeth the way thereof,
and he knoweth the place thereof.

For he beholdeth the ends of? worlde,
& seeth all that is vnder heauen,

To make the weight of the windes, & to weigh the waters by measure.

When he made a decree for the raine, &
a way for the lightning of the thunders.

Then did he se it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.

And vnto man he said, Beholde, the fear of the Lord is wisdomē, and to depart from euil is vnderstanding.

ne.

When his light shined vpon mine head:
when by his light I walked through the
darkenes,

As I was in the dayes of my youth: when Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle:
When the Almighty was yet with me, &
my children rounde about me:

When I washed my paths with butter, and when the rocke powred me out ri-
uers of oyle:

When I went out to the gate, enem to the iudgemēt seat, and when I caused them to prepare my seat in the strete.

The yong men sawe me, and hid them
selues, and the aged arose, and stode vpon.

The princes stayed talke, and laied their hand on their mouth.

The voyce of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to the rooofe of their mouth.

And when the care heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye sawe me, it gaue witnes to me.

For I deliuered the poore that cryed,
and the fatherles, and him that had none
to helpe him.

The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

I put on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the fete to the lame.

I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knewe not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

I brake also the chawes of the vnrighteous man, and plucked the praye out of his tethe.

Then I said, I shal dye in my nest, and
I shal multiplie my dayes as the sande.

For my roote is spread out by the water,
and the dewe shal lye vpon my branche.

My glorie shal renue toward me, and my bowe shal be restored in mine hand.

Vnto me men gaue care, and waited,
and helde their tongue at my counsel.

After my wordes thei replied not, & my talke dropped vpon them.

And they waited for me, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth as for the latter raine.

If I laughed on them, they beleued it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance to fall.

I appointed out their way, and did sit
as chief, and dwelt as a King in the armie,
and like him that comforteth y<sup>e</sup> mourner.

CHAP. XXX.

Iob complaineth that he is contemned of the moste contemptible, 11. 21. Because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23. Death is the house of all flesh.

BVt now they that are yonger then I,
mocke me: yea, thei whose fathers I

haue refused to set with the dogges
my flockes.

For where to shulde the strength of their hands haue serued me, seing age perished
in them?

For pouertie and famine they were solitirie, fleeing into the wildernes, which dwelt ke, desolate and waste.

They cut vpon nettles by the bushes, and
the iuniper rootes was their meat.

They were chased forth from among men:
they shewed at them, as at a thefe.

Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of ri-
uers, in the holes of the earth and rocks.

They roared among the bushes, and under the thistles they gathered them selues.

They were the children of fooles and children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

And now am I their song, & I am their talke.

They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

Because that God hathe lofed my corde,
and humbled me, & they haue lofed the bridel before me.

The youth rise vpon at my right hand: they
haue pusht my fete, and haue trode on me
as on the paths of their destruction.

They haue destroyed my paths: they toke pleasure at my calamitie, they haue
none helpe.

They came as a great breache of waters,
and vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

Fear is turned vpon me: and thei pursue
my soule as the winde, and mine heales
passeth away as a cloude.

Therefore my soule is now powred
out vpon me, and the dayes of affliction
haue taken holde on me.

It perceith my bones in the night, and
my sinewes take no rest.

For the great vehemencie is my garnished, which compasseth me about as the colar of my coate.

He hathe cast me into the myre, and I am become like ashes and dust.

When I crye vnto thee, y<sup>e</sup> doest not he-
are me, neither regardest me, while I stand vpon.

Thou turnest thy self cruelly against me, and art enemy vnto me with the strength of thine hand.

Thou takest me vpon, and causest me to ride vpon the winde, and makest my strength to faile.

Surly I know that thou wilt bring me
to death, and to the house appointed for all the liuing.

Let my wife <sup>g</sup> grinde vnto another ma,

and let other men bowe downe vpon her.

For this is a wickednes, and iniquitie to be condemned.

Yea, this is a fyre that shal deuoure <sup>h</sup> to destruction, and which shal roote out all mine increase,

If I did condemne the iudgement of my

he had with his three friends.

<sup>3</sup> Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they colde not finde an answer, and yet condemned Iob.

<sup>4</sup> (Now Elihu had waited til Iob had spoken: for <sup>d</sup> they were more ancient in yeres then he)

<sup>5</sup> So when Elihu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel, the Buzite answered, and said, I am yong in yeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afrayed to shewe you mine opinion.

<sup>7</sup> For I said, The dayes <sup>e</sup> shal speake, and the multitude of yeres shal teache wisdom.

<sup>8</sup> Surely there is a spirit in man, <sup>f</sup> but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstanding.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore I say, Heare me, and I will shewe also mine opinion.

<sup>12</sup> Yea, when I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reproveth Iob, nor answered his wordes:

<sup>19</sup> Beholde, my bellie is as the wine, which hath no vent, & like the newe bottels that bratt.

<sup>20</sup> Therefore wil I speake, that I may take breath: I wil open my lippes, and wil answer.

<sup>21</sup> I wil not now accept the persone of mā, nether wil I giue titles to man.

<sup>2</sup> Beholde now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hathe spoken in my mouth.

<sup>6</sup> Beholde, I am according to thy wish in Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.

<sup>7</sup> Beholde, my terror shal not feare thee, nether shal mine hand be heauy vpon thee.

<sup>9</sup> I am <sup>d</sup> cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

<sup>10</sup> Lo, he hathe founde occasions against me, and counted me for his enemy.

<sup>15</sup> In dreames & visions of the night, while slepe falleth vpon men, and they sleepe vpon their beddes,

<sup>16</sup> Then he openeth the eares of me, & correcteth me by his corrections, which he <sup>h</sup> had sealed.

<sup>23</sup> If there be <sup>m</sup> a messenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thousand, to declare vnto man his righteousnes,

CHAP. XXXIII.

Elihu chargeth Iob, that he called him selfe righteous.
12 He sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God
despreth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite rageth.

Oreouer Elihu answered, and said, Heare my wordes, ye a wise men, and
hearkē vnto me, ye that haue knowledge.

For the eare tryeth the wordes, as y mouth
tasteth meat.

Let vs seke iudgement among vs, & let
vs knowe among our selues what is good.

For Iob hathe said, I am righteous, and God hathe taken away my iudgement.

Shulde I lye in my d right? my wounde of
the arrowe is grievous without my sinne.

What mā is like Iob, that drinketh scor-
neselnes like water?

Which goeth in the companie of them
that worke iniquitie, & walketh with wicked men?

For he hathe said, It profiteth a mā nothing that he shulde walke with God.

Therefore hearken vnto me, ye men of wisdom, God forbid y wickednes shulde be in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.

For he wil rendre vnto man according to his worke, & cause euerie one to finde according to his way.

And certainly God wil not do wickedly,
neither wil the Almighty peruert iudge-
ment.

Whome hathe he appointed ouer y earth
beside him self? or who hathe placed the whole worlde?

If he set his heart vpon man, and gather
vnto him self his spirit, and his breath,

All flesh shal perish together, and man
shal returne vnto dust.

And if y hast vnderstanding, heare this & hearken to the voyce of my wordes.

Shal he that hateth iudgement, gouerne? & wilt thou iudge him wicked that is moste iust?

Wilt thou say vnto a King, Thou art a wicked? or to princes, Te are vngodlie?

How muche lesse to him that accepteth
not the persones of princes, & regardeth
not the riche, more then the poore? for thei
be all the worke of his hands.

They shal dye suddenly, and the people
shal be troubled at midnight, & they shal
passe forth and take away the mightie
without hand.

For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man,
and he seeth all his goings.

There is no darkenes nor shadowe of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

For he wil not lay on man so muche,
that he shulde enter into iugement with God.

He shal breake the mightie without seeking, and shal set vp other in their ste-ade.

Therefore shal he declare their workes:
he shal turne the night, and they shal be destroyed.

He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the seers,

Because they haue turned backe from
him, and wolde not consider all his waies:

So that they haue caused the voyce of
the poore to come vnto him, and he hathe
heard the crye of the afflicted.

And when he giueth quietnes, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can beholde him, whether it be vpon nacions, or vpon a man onely?

Because the hypocrite doeth reigne,
& because the people are snared.

Surely it apperteineth vnto God to say, I haue pardoned, I wil not destroye.

But if I se not, teache thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I wil do no more.

Wil he performe the thing throughout thee? for thou hast reprobud it, because that thou hast chosen, and not I. now
speake what thou knowest.

Let men of vnderstanding tel me, and
let a wise man hearken vnto me.

Iob hathe not spoken of knowledge, nether were his wordes according to wis-
dome.

I desire that Iob may be tryed, vn-
to the end touching the answers for wicked men.

For he addeth rebellion vnto his sin-
ne: he clappeth his hands among vs, & mul-tiplieth his wordes against God.

Neither doeth godlines profite, or vngodlines hurt God, but man. 13 The wicked crye vnto God and are not heard.

ELihú spake moreouer, and said, Thikest thou this right, that thou hast said, I am a more righteous then God? For thou hast said, What profiteth it thee and what auaieth it me, to purge me from my sinne?

Therefore wil I answer thee, and thy companions with thee.

Loke vnto the heauen, and se and beholde the c<sup>e</sup> cloudes which are hier then thou.

If thou sinnest, what doest thou against him, yea, when thy sinnes be many, what doest thou vnto him?

If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiueh he at thine hand?

Thy wickednes may hurt a man as thou art: thy rigteousnes may profite the sonne of man.

They cause many that are oppressed, to crye, which crye out for the violence of the mightie.

But none saith, Where is God that made me, which giueth songs in the night?

Which teacheth vs more the the beastes of the earth, and giueth vs more wisdom than the foules of the heauen.

Then they crye because of the violence of the wicked, but he answereth not.

Surely God wil not heare vanitie, neither wil the Almighty regarde it.

Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regarde it, yet iudgement is before him: trust thou in him.

But now because his angre hathe not vnsified, nor called to coue the euil with great extremitie,

ELihú also proceded and said,

Suffie me a litle, & I wil instruct thee: for I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

I wil fetch a my knowledge a farre of, & wil attribute righteousnes vnto my Maker.

For truely my wordes shal not be false, & he that is <sup>c</sup> perfite in knowledge, speakeh with thee.

Beholde, the mightie God casteth away none that is <sup>c</sup> mightie & valiant of courage.

He mainteineth not the wicked, but he giueth iudgement to the afflicted.

He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with <sup>c</sup> Kings in the throne, where he placeth them for euer: thus they are exalted.

And if thei be bound in fetters & yokes with the cordes of affliction,

Then wil he shewe them their wickednes and their sinnes, because they haue bene proud.

He openeth also their eare to discipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.

If they obey and serue him, they shal end their dayes in prosperitie, & they shal yeres in pleasures.

But if they wil not obey, they shal passe by the sword, & perishe without knowledge.

But the hypocrites <sup>h</sup> of heart increase the wrath: for thei call not when he bindeth them.

Their soule dyeth in <sup>k</sup> youth, & their life among the whoremongers.

He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

Euen so wolde he haue taken thee out of the straight place into a broad place & not shut vp beneath: and that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene ful of fat.

But thou art ful of the <sup>m</sup> iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie mainteine all things.

For Gods wrath is, lest he shulderake thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of giftes can deliuer thee.

Wil he regarde thy riches? he regardeth not golde, nor all them that excell in strength.

Be not careful in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

Take thou hede: loke not for iniquitie for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

Beholde, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

Who hath appointed to him his way, or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men beholde.

All men se it, and men beholde it a farre of.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Elia's mouth that the vnsearchable wisdom of God is manifest by his workes, 4 As by the thunders, 6 The storme, 9 The whirle winde, 11 And the rage.

At this also mine heart is attonied, & is moued out of his place.

Hear the sounde of his voyce, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.

He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the world.

After is a noyse soundeth: he thundreth with the voyce of his maiestie, and he will not stay when his voyce is heard.

God thundreth maruelously wth his voyce: he worketh great things, which we knowe not.

For he saith to the snowe, Be thou vpon y<sup>e</sup> earth: likewise to the smale raine and to the great raine of his power.

With the force thereof he shutteth vp euerie man, that all men may knowe his worke.

Then the beasts go into the denne, and remaine in their places.

The whirle winde cometh out of y<sup>e</sup> South, and the colde from the North winde.

At the breath of God the frost is giuen, & the breadth of the waters is made narrower.

He maketh also the cloudes to labour, to water the earth, & scattereth the cloudes of his light.

And it is turned about by his gouernment, that they may do whatsoeuer he commandeth them vpon the whole worlde:

Whether it be for punishment, or for his land, or of mercie, he causeth it to come.

Hearken vnto this, O Iob: stand and consider the wonderous workes of God.

Didst thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the light of his cloudes to shine?

Hast thou knowen the varietie of the cloudes, & the wonderous workes of him, that is perfit in knowledge?

How thy clothes are warme, when he maketh the earth quiet through the South winde?

Hast thou stretched out y<sup>e</sup> heauens, which are strong, & as a molten glasse?

Tel vs what we shal say vnto him: for we cannot dispose our matter because of his darkenes.

For thereby he iudgeth the people, and giueth meate abundantly.

He couereth the light with the cloudes, and commandeth them to go against it.

His companion riseth him thereof, and there is angre in fiew vp.

At this also mine heart is attonied, & is moued out of his place.

Hear the sounde of his voyce, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.

He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the world.

After is a noyse soundeth: he thundreth with the voyce of his maiestie, and he will not stay when his voyce is heard.

God thundreth maruelously wth his voyce: he worketh great things, which we knowe not.

For he saith to the snowe, Be thou vpon y<sup>e</sup> earth: likewise to the smale raine and to the great raine of his power.

With the force thereof he shutteth vp euerie man, that all men may knowe his worke.

Shal it be tolde him when I speake? shal ma<sup>n</sup> speake when he shalbe destroyed?

And now men se not the light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeth and clenfeth them.

The brightness cometh out of y<sup>e</sup> North: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.

It is the Almighty: we can not finde him out: he is excellent in power & iudgement, & abundant in iustice: he afflicteth not.

Let men therefore feare him: for he will not regarde any that are wise in their owne conceit.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakenes of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellencie the power, iustice and prouidence of the Creator is knowne.

Then answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the whirle winde, & said,

Who is this that darkeneth the counsel by wordes without knowledge?

Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demande of thee and declare thou vnto me.

Where wast thou when I layed the fundacions of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnderstanding,

Who hath layed the measures thereof, if thou knowest, or who hath stretched the line ouer it?

Where vpon are the fundacions thereof set: or who layed the corner stone thereof?

When the starres of the morning praised me together, and all the children of God reioyced:

Or who hath shut vp the sea with dores, when it yfused and came forth out of the wombe?

When I made the cloudes as a couering thereof, & darkened the swadeling bandes thereof:

When I stablished my commandement vpon it, and set barres and dores,

And said, Hereto shalt thou come, but no farther, and here shal it stay thy proude waues.

Hast thou commanded the morning since thy dayes? hast thou caused the morning to knowe his place?

That it might take holde of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be shaken out of it?

It is turned as clay to faeion, & all stand vp as a garment.

And from the wicked their light shalbe taken away, and the hie arme shalbe broken.

For thereby he iudgeth the people, and giueth meate abundantly.

He couereth the light with the cloudes, and commandeth them to go against it.

His companion riseth him thereof, and there is angre in fiew vp.

At this also mine heart is attonied, & is moued out of his place.

Hear the sounde of his voyce, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.

He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the world.

After is a noyse soundeth: he thundreth with the voyce of his maiestie, and he will not stay when his voyce is heard.

God thundreth maruelously wth his voyce: he worketh great things, which we knowe not.

For he saith to the snowe, Be thou vpon y<sup>e</sup> earth: likewise to the smale raine and to the great raine of his power.

With the force thereof he shutteth vp euerie man, that all men may knowe his worke.

He hath God made that man should reioyce when man murmureth against him?

And now men se not the light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeth and clenfeth them.

17 Have the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or hast thou sene the gates of the shadow of death?

18 Hast thou perceiued the breadth of the earth? tel if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth; and where is the place of darkenes,

20 That thou shouldest receive it in the boundes thereof, and that thou shouldest knowe the paths to the house thereof?

21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast then borne, & because the number of thy daies is great?

22 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snowe? or hast thou sene the treasures of the hayle,

23 Which I haue hid against the time of trouble, against the day of warre & battell?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East winde vpon the earth?

25 Who hath decider the spowtes for the raine, or the way for the lightening of the thunders,

26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is; & in the wilderness where there is no man?

27 To fulfil the wilde & waste place, & to cause the bud of the herbe to sprig forth?

28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the dropes of the dewe?

29 Out of whose wombe came the yce; who hath ingedred the frost of heauen?

37 Who can number cloudes by wisdom; or who can cause to cease the bottles of heauen,

38 When the earth groweth into hardenes, and the clottes are fast together?

39 After he had declared Gods workes in the heauen, he sheweth his maruolous prouidence in earth, and the brute beasts.

40 The bountie and prouidence of God, which extendeth euen to the yong rauen, giueth man full occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Job confesseth & humbleth himself.

CHAP. XL.

How weak mans power is, being compared to the might of God: 10 Whose power appeareth in the creation, and governing of the great beastes.

Againe the Lord answered Iob out of the whirlewinde, and said,
2 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I wil
demde of thee, & declare thou vnto me.
3 Wilt thou disanul my iudgement, or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be iustified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God: or doest
thou thunder with a voyce like him?
5 Decke thy self now with maiestie and excellencie, & araye thy self with beautie
and glorie.

6 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and beholde euerie one that is proude, and abase him.

7 Loke on euerie one that is arrogant, and bring him low: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, & binde
their faces in a secret place.

9 Then wil I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can saue thee.

10 Beholde now Behemoth, (whome I made with thee) which eateth grassie
as an ox.

11 Beholde now, his strength is in his loines,
and his force is in the naui of his belly.

12 When he taketh pleasure, his taile is like a cedar: & sinewes of his stopes are wrapt
together.

13 His bones are like stauies of brasse, and his small bones like stauies of yron.

14 He is the chief of the wayes of God:
he that made him, wil make his sword to approche vnto him.

15 Surely the mountaines bring him forthe
grassie, where all the beasts of the field playe.

16 Lyeth he vnder the trees in the couert of the rede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their shadowes? or can the willowes of the riuer co-passe him about?

18 Beholde, he spoileth the riuer, and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iordan into his mouth.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, and thrusteth
his nose through whatsoeuer meteth him.

20 Canst thou draw out Liuiathan with an hooke, and with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue?

21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose?
canst thou perce his iawes with an angle?

22 Wil he make manie prayers vnto thee,
or speake thee fautes?

23 Wil he make a couenant with thee? and wilt thou take him as a seruant for euer?

24 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird:
or wilt thou binde him for thy maides?

25 Shal the companions banquet with him?
shal they deuide him among the mar-
chants?

26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skinne: or the sissipanyer with his head?

27 Laye thine hand vpon him: remember
the battell, and do nomore for him.

28 Beholde, & his hope is in vaine: for shal
not one perish euen at the sight of him?

CHAP. XLI.

By the greatness of this monster Liuiathan God sheweth
his greatness, and his power, which nothing can resist.

1 One is so feare that dare stirre him
vp. Who is he then that can stand before me?

2 Who hath preuented me that I shulde
make an end? All vnder heaven is mine.

3 I wil not kepe silence concerning his partes, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.

4 Who can discover the face of his garment: or who shal come to him with a double bridle?

5 Who shal open the dozes of his face:
his teeth are fearful round about.

6 The maiestie of his scales is like strong shields, and are sure sealed.

7 One is fet to another, that no winde can come betweene them.

8 One is ioyned to another: they sticke to-

rotten wood.
19 The archer can not make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble
vnto him.
20 The dartes are counted as straw: and
he laugheth at the shaking of the speare.
21 Sharpe stones are vnder him, and he spreadeth sharpe things vpon the myre.
22 He maketh the depth to be boyle like a pot, and maketh the sea like a pot of oym-
ment.
23 He maketh a path to shine after him:
one wolde thinke the depth as an hore
head.
24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without feare.
25 He beholdeth all his things: he is King ouer all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The repentance of Iob. 2 He prayeth for his friends.
3 His goods are restored double vnto him. 4 His children, age and death.

1 Then Iob answered the Lord, and said,
2 I knowe that thou canst do all things,
and that there is no thought hid from
thee.
3 Who is he that hideth counsell without knowledge: therefore haue I spokē that I vnderstode not, euen things to wonderful
for me, and which I knewe not.
4 Heare, I beseeche thee, and I wil speake: I wil demaunde of thee, and declare thou vnto me.
5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 Now after that the Lord had spoken
these wordes vnto Iob, the Lord also said
vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye haue not spokē of me a thing that is right, like my seruant Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you now seuen bul-locks, and seuen rams, and go to my seruant Iob, & offer vp for your felues a burnt offring, and my seruant Iob shal pray for you: for I wil accept him, lest I shoulde put you to shame, because ye haue not spoke of me the thing, which is right, like my seruant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad
the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had said vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 Then the Lord turned the capti-
tie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends:
also the Lord gaue Iob twise so muche as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his brethren,
and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house, and had compassion of him, and comforted him for all the euill, that the Lord had broghe vpon him, and euerie man gaue him a piece of money, & euerie one an earring of golde.

12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Iob
more then the first: for he had foure-tene thousand shepe, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand the asses.

13 He had also seuen sonnes, and thre daughters.

14 And he called the name of one Lemmah, and the name of the second Keziah, and the name of the thirde Ker-happuch.

15 In all the land were no women founde so faire as the daughters of Iob, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this liued Iob an hundred and fourtie yeres, and sawe his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generations.

17 So Iob dyed, being olde, & full of dayes.

THE PSALMES of Dauid.

THE ARGUMENT.

This booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holie Ghost to be esteemed as a moste precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that apperteyne to true felicitie: aswel in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heauenlie wisdom are here set open for vs, to take thereof moste abundantly. If we wolde knowe the great, and hie maiestie of God, here we may see the brightnes thereof shine moste clearly. If we wolde seeke his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the scholl of the same profession. If we wolde comprehend his inestimable bounty, and appoche nere thereunto, and fil your hands with that treasure, here we may haue a moste sweete, and comfortable taste thereof. If we wolde knowe wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attaine to life everlasting, here is Christ our onely redemer, and mediator moste evidently described. The riche man may learne the true vse of his riches. The poore man may fynde ful contentation. He that wil reioyce, shal knowe the true ioy, and how to kepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shal see wherein standeth their comforte, and how they ought to praise God when he sendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecutors of the children of God shal see how his hand of God is euer against them: and thogh he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he bridleth them, in so muche as they can not touche an heere of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their destruction is moste miserable. Briefly, here we haue moste present remedies against all tentations, and troubles of minde and conscience, so that being wel practised herein, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare, and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glorie, which is laid vp for all them that loue the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

* Or, Psaltes, according to the Hebrewes: and were chiefly inkriture to praise, and giue thanks to God for his benefices. They are called the Psalmes, or Songs of Dauid because the moste parts were made by him.

PSALME I.

Whether it was David, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it semeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godlie men to studie, and meditate the heauenlie wisdom. For the effect hereof is, 1 That they be blessed, which giue them selues wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures. 4 And that the wicked conuicers of God, shogh they seme for a while happy, yet at length shal come to miserable destruction.

Blessed is the man that doeth not walke in the counsell of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornful:

But his delite is in the Law of the Lord, & in his Law doeth he meditate day and night.

For he shal be like a tree planted by the riuers of waters, that wil bring forth her fruite in due season: whose lease shal not fade: so whatsoeuer he shal do, shal prosper.

The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde driueth away.

Therefore the wicked shal not stand in the Iudgement, nor sinners in the assemblie of the righteous.

For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shal perish.

For he shal be like a tree planted by the riuers of waters, that wil bring forth her fruite in due season: whose lease shal not fade: so whatsoeuer he shal do, shal prosper.

PSAL. II.

The Prophet David saith that notwithstanding his sinnes, yet God will continue his kingdom for ouer & aduance it vnto the end of the worlde, so And therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they wolde humbly submit them selues vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resiste God. Herein is figured Christi kingdom.

Why do the heathen rage, & the people murmure in vaine?

The Kings of the earth band them selues, and the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

Let vs breake their bands, and cast their cords from vs.

But he that dwelleth in the heauen shal laugh: the Lord shal haue the in derisio.

Then shal he speake vnto them in his wrath, & vexe them in his sore displeasure, saying,

When I haue set my King vpon Zion mine holic mountaine.

I wil declare the decree: that is, the Lord hath said vnto me, Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

Aske of me, & I shal giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the endes of the earth for thy possession.

Thou shalt crush them with a sceptre of yron, & breake them in pieces like a potters vessel.

Be wise now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye Iudges of the earth.

Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

Kisse the Sonne, lest he be angrie, and ye perish in the waie, when his wrath shal be kindled against you.

PSAL. III.

1 Dauid driue forth of his kingdome, was greatly tormēt in minde for his ſinnes againſt God: 4 And therefore calleth vpon God, & waſheth holde through his promeſes againſt the great railings and terrors of his enemies yea, againſt death it ſelf, which he ſaw preſent before his eyes. 7 Finally he reioyeth for the good ſucceſſe, that God gave him, and all the Church.

A Psalm of Dauid, when he fled from his ſonne Abſalom.

*L*ord, how are mine aduerſaries 1 increaſed: how manie riſe againſt me? 2 Manie ſaye to my ſoule, There is no helpe for him in God. 3 Sélah. 3 But thou Lord art a buckler for me: my glorie, and the liſter vp of mine head. 4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, and he heard me out of his holie moutaine. Sélah. 5 I laied me downe & ſlept, and roſe vp againe: for the Lord ſuſtained me. 6 I wil not be afrayed for ten thouſand of the people, that ſhulde beſet me round about. 7 O Lord, ariſe: helpe me, my God: for thou haſt ſmitten all mine enemies vpon the cheke bone: thou haſt broken the teeth of the wicked.

a This was a token of his ſtable faith, that for all his troubles he had his reſourſe to God. b Sélah here ſignifieth a liſting vp of the voyce, to cauſe vs to conſider the ſentence, as a thing of great importance.

c When he conſidered the truth of Gods promeſes, and eried the ſame, his faith increaſed maruelouſly.

d Be the dangers neuer ſo great or manie, yet God hath cuer meanes to deliuer his.

8 Saluatiō belongeth vnto the Lord, & thy bleſſing is vpon thy people. Sélah.

PSAL. IIII.

When Saul perſecuted him, he called vpon God, truſting moſte aſſuredly in his promeſes, and therefore boldly reproſeth his enemies, who wilfully reſſed his dominion. 7 And finally preferreth the ſauour of God before all worldly meſures.

A To him that excelleth on Reginōth. A Psalm of Dauid.

a Among the that were appointed to ſing the Psalmes, and to play on the inſtruments, one was appointed chief to ſing, and to begin: who had the charge, becauſe he was moſte excellent, and he ſung this Psalm on the inſtrument called Reginōth, or in a tune ſo called.

b Thou art defender of my cauſe. c Bothe of minde and body. d Ye that ſhake your knees noble in this worlde.

e Though your enterpriſes pleaſe you neuer ſo muche, yet God wil bring them to naught.

f A King that walketh in his vocatiō. g For feare of Gods iudgement. h Ceſſe your rage. i Serue God purely and not with outward ceremonies. k The multitude ſeke worldly wealth, but Dauid ſeeketh his felicity in Gods fauour.

*H*ear me when I call, 6 & God of my righteouſnes: thou haſt ſet me at libertie, when I was in diſtreſſe: haue mercie vpon me and hearken vnto my prayer. 2 O ye ſonnes of men, how long wil ye turne my glorie into ſhame, & louing vanitie and ſeking lyes: Sélah. 3 For be ye ſure that the Lord hath choſen to him ſelf a godlie man: the Lord wil heare when I call vnto him. 4 Tremble, and ſinne not: examine your owne heart vpon your bed, and be ſil. Sélah.

5 Offer the ſacrifices of righteouſnes, and truſt in the Lord.

6 Manie ſaye, Who wil ſhew vs anie good? but Lord, liſt vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

7 Thou haſt giuen me more ioye of heart, then they haue had, when their wheat and their wine did abunde.

8 I wil lay me downe, & alſo ſlepe in peace.

PSAL. V.

1 Dauid oppreſſed with the crueltie of his enemies, ſearing greater dangers, calleth to God for ſuccour ſhewing how requiſite it is that God ſhoulde paſſe by the malice of his aduerſaries. 7 After being aſſured of a proſperous ſucces, he conceiueſt comfort, & conſidereth that when God ſhal deliuer him, others alſo ſhal be partakers of the ſame mercie.

To him that excelleth vpon Rehilōth. A Psalm of Dauid.

*H*ear my wordes, 6 Lord: vnderſtand my meditation. 2 Hearken vnto the voice of my crye, my King & my God: for vnto thee do I praye. 3 Hear me my voice in the morning, 6 Lord: for in the morning will I direct me vnto thee, and I wil wait. 4 For thou art not a God that ſloueth wickednes: nether ſhal euil dwell with thee. 5 The fooliſh ſhal not ſtand in thy ſight: for thou hateſt all them that worke iniquitie. 6 Thou ſhalt deſtroy them that ſpeake lyes: the Lord wil abhorre the bloodie man and deceitful. 7 But I wil come into thine houſe in the multitude of thy mercie: & in thy ſeate will I worſhip towards thine holie Temple. 8 Lead me, 6 Lord, in thy righteouſnes: becauſe of mine enemies: make thy waye plaine before my face. 9 For no coſtance is in their mouth: within, they are very corruption: their throat is an open ſepulchre, & they flatter with their tongue. 10 Deſtroye them, 6 God: let them ſtumble from their counſels: caſt them out from the multitude of their iniquities, becauſe they haue rebelled againſt thee. 11 And let all them that truſt in thee, reioyce & triumphe for euer, & couer thou them: and let them, that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee. 12 For thou Lord wilt bleſſe the righteouſ, & with fauour wilt compaſſ him, as with a ſhield.

13 Thou ſhalt deſtroy them that ſpeake lyes: the Lord wil abhorre the bloodie man and deceitful.

14 But I wil come into thine houſe in the multitude of thy mercie: & in thy ſeate will I worſhip towards thine holie Temple.

15 Lead me, 6 Lord, in thy righteouſnes: becauſe of mine enemies: make thy waye plaine before my face.

PSAL.

PSAL. XI.

This psalme containeth two partes. In the first David sheweth how harde assailes of temptations he sustained, & how great anguish of minde he was, when Saul did persecute him. 4 Then next he reioyceth that God sit him succour in his necessitie, declaring his iustice as in punishinge the good, and the wicked men, as the whole worlde.

To him that excelleth. A Psal. of David.

IN the Lord put I my trust: how say ye then to my soule, a Flee to your mountaine as a bird.

For lo, the wicked bend their bowe, and make readie their arrowes vpō the string, that they may secretly shoote at the, which are vp right in heart.

For the b fundaciōs are cast downe: what hathe the c righteous done?

The Lord is in his holie palace: y Lords throne is in the heauen: his eyes d wil consider: his eye lids wil trye the children of men.

The Lord wil trye the righteous: but the wicked & him that loueth iniquitie, doeth his soule hate.

Vpon the wicked he shal raine snares, & fyer, and brimstone, & stormie tempest: this is the f porcion of their cup.

For the righteous Lord loueth righteounes: his countenance doeth beholde y iust.

PSAL. XII.

The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to send succour to his children. 7 The comforting him self and others with the assurance of Gods helpe, he commendeth the constant veritie that God obserueth in keeping his promises.

To him that excelleth vpon the eight tune. A Psalme of David.

HE pe Lord, for there is not a godlie man left: for the faithfull are failed from among the children of men.

They speake deceitfully euerie one with his neighbour, b flattering with their lippes, and speake with a double heart.

The Lord cut of all flattering lippes, & the tongue that speaketh proude things:

Which haue said, c With our tongue wil we preuaile: our lippes are our owne; who is lord ouer vs?

d Now for the oppression of the medie, & for the sighes of the poore, I wil vp saie the Lord, and wil e set at libertie him, whom the wicked hathe snared.

The wordes of the Lord are pure wordes, as y siluer, tryed in a fornace of earth, fined seven folde.

Thou wilt kepe f them, o Lord: thou wilt preferre him from this generaciō for euer. The wicked walke on euerie side: when they are exalted, g it is a shame for the sonnes of men.

PSAL. XIII.

David as it were ouercome with sundrie and new afflictions, fleeth to God as his onlie refuge. 3 And so at the length being encouraged through Gods promises, he conceiueh mosse sure confidence against the extreme horrors of death.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

How long wilt y forget me, o Lord, a for euer? how long wilt thou hyde thy face from me?

2 How long shal I take b coufel within my self, hauing wearines dailey in mine heart? how long shal mine enemy be exalted a boue me?

3 Beholde, & heare me, o Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I slepe not in death:

4 Lest mine enemy saie, I haue c preuailed against him: & they that afflict me, reioyce when I slide.

5 But I trust in thy d mercie: mine heart shal reioyce in thy saluacion: I wil sing to the Lord, because he hathe e delt louingly with me.

PSAL. XIII.

He describeth the peruerse nature of men, which were so grown to licentiousnes, that God was brought to utter contempt. 7 For the which thing although he was greatly grieved, yet being perswaded that God wolde send some present remedie, he comforteth him self & others.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

THE foole hathe said in his heart, a There is no God: thei haue b corrupted, and done an abominable worke: there is none that doeth good.

2 The Lord loked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to se if there were anie that wolde vnderstand, and seke God.

3 c All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Do not all y workers of iniquitie knowe that they eat vp my people, as they eat bread? they call not vpon the Lord.

5 d There they shal be taken with feare, because God is in the generation of the iust.

6 You haue made e a mocke at the counsel of the poore, because the Lord is his trust.

7 Oh giue saluacion vnto f Israēl out of Zión: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iacob shal reioyce, and Israēl shal be glad.

PSAL. XV.

This psalme teacheth on what conditiō God did chuse the Iewes for his peculiar people, and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by liuing vprightly and godly, might witness that they were his special and holie people.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

Lord, who shal dwel in thy Tabernacle? who shal rest in thine holie Mountayne?

a He describeth his afflictions laked a long time, & y his faith faileth not. b Chasing my purpose as the sickemā doeth his place.

c Which might turne to Gods dishonour, if he did not defend his. d The mercie of God is the cause of our saluacion. e Bothe by the benefices past and by others to come.

Psalm 13. a He sheweth that the cause of all wickednes is to forget God. b There is nothing but disorder & wickednes among them.

c David here makeith comparison betwene the faithfull and the reprobate. d Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally. e Where they thinke themselves moste sure.

f He prayeth for the whole Church, whom he is assured God will deliuer: for none but he onely, can do it.

stance for their children.

14 But I wil beholde thy face in righteounes, & when I awake, I shall be satisfide with thine image.

PSAL. XVIII.

1 This Psalme is the first beginning of his gratulation,
and thanksgiving in the cutting into his kingdom,
wherein he extollet & praiseth most highly the mar-uelous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preserved and defended him. 2 Also he setteth forth the image of Christs kingdom, that the faithfull may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquer & ouercome
by the vnspokeable power of his Father, though all the whole worlde shulde striue thereagainst.

1 To him that excellet. A Psalme of David the seruant of the Lord, which speaketh vnto the Lord
the wordes of this song (in the day that the Lord
deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, & from the hand of Saül) and said,

I wil call vpon the Lord, which is wor-
the to be praised: so shal I be safe from mine enemies.
The sorowes of death compassed me,
and the floods of wickednes made me a-fraied.
The sorowes of the graue haue compassed
me about: the snares of death ouertoke me.
But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cryed vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my crye did come before him, even into his e-ares.
Then the earth trembled, and quaked:
the fundacions also of the mountaines mo-
ued and shoke, because he was angrie.
Smoke went out at his nostrils, and a co-suming fyre out of his mouth: coles were kindled thereat.
He bowed the heauens also and came
downe, and darkened vnder his fete.
And he rode vpon Cherubim and did flye, and he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.
He made darkenes his secret place, &
his pavilion rounde about him, even dar-
kenes of waters, and cloudes of the aire.
At the brightnes of his presence his
cloudes passed, hailestones & coles of fyre.
The Lord also thundred in the heauen,
and the Highest gaue his voyce, haile-
stones and coles of fyre.
Then he sent out his arrowes & scattered them, and he increased lightnings
and destroyed them.
And the chanel of waters were sene, and
the fundacions of the worlde were discouered at thy rebuking, o Lord, at the bla-
sing of the breath of thy nostrils.
He hath sent downe from aboue and taken me: he hath drawen me out of manie waters.
He hath deliuered me from my strong emie, and from them which hate me: for they were to strong for me.
They preuented me in the daye of my
calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.
He brought me forth also into a large place: he deliuered me because he fauored me.
The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness: according to the pu-renes of mine hands he recompensed me:
Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, &
did not wickedly against my God.
For all his Lawes were before me, and I did not cast away his commandements
from me.
I was vpright also with him, & haue kept
me from my wickednes.

24 Therefore y Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness, & according to the purenes of mine hands in his sight.
25 With the godlie thou wilt shewe thy self godlie: with the vpright ma thou wilt shewe thy self vpright.
26 With the pure thou wilt shewe thy self pure, & with the frowarde thou wilt shewe
thy self froward.
27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people,
& wilt cast downe the proude lokes.
28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenes.
29 For by thee I haue broken through an hoste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.
30 The waye of God is vncorrupt: the worde of the Lord is tried in the fyre: he is a shield to all that trust in him.
31 For who is God besides the Lord: and who is mightie saue our God?
32 God girdeth me with strength, and ma-
keth my waye vpright.
33 He maketh my fete like hindes fete, and
setteeth me vpon mine high places.
34 He teacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of brasse is broken with mine
armes.
35 Thou hast also giue me a shield of thy saluacion, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy louing kindenes hath caused me to increase.
36 Thou hast enlarged my steppes vnder
me, and mine heles haue not slid.
37 I haue pursued mine enemies, and take them, and haue not turned againe til I had consumed them.
38 I haue wounded the, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my fete.
39 For thou hast girded me with strength to battel them, that rose against me, thou hast subdued vnder me.
40 And thou hast giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroye them
that hate me.
41 They cryed, but there was none to saue
them, even vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.
42 Then I did beate them finite as the dust
before the winde: I did tread them flat as the claye in the stretes.
43 Thou hast deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the heathen: a people, whome I haue not known, shal ser-ue me.
44 As sone as thei heare, thei shal obey me:
the strangers shal be in subiection to me.
45 Strangers shal stirrinke away, & feare
in their priuie chambers.
46 Let the Lord liue, and blessed be my strength, and the God of my saluacion be exalted.

PSAL. XIX.

To the intent he might moue the faithfull to a deeper consideration of Gods glorie, he setteth before their eyes
the most exquisite workmanship of the heauens with their proportion, and ornaments: <sup>3</sup> And afterward
callethe the to the Law, wherein God hath reueiled him self more familiarly to his chosen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Law he setteth forth
more at large.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

The <sup>4</sup> heauens declare the glorie of God, and the firmament sheweth the workes of his hands.

<sup>5</sup> Daie vnto daie vttereth the same, and night vnto night teacheth knowledge.

<sup>6</sup> There is no speache nor <sup>7</sup> language, where their voyce is not heard.

<sup>8</sup> Their <sup>9</sup> line is gone forth through all the earth, and their wordes inco the ends of the worlde: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne.

<sup>10</sup> Which commeth forth as a bridegrome out of his <sup>11</sup> chambre, and reioyceth like a mightie man to runne his race.

<sup>12</sup> His going out is from the end of the heauuen, and his compass is vnto the ends of the same, & none is hid from the heate
thereof.

<sup>13</sup> The <sup>14</sup> Law of the Lord is perfitte, con-
uerting the soule: the testimonie of the Lord is sure, and giueth wisdom vnto
the simple.

<sup>15</sup> The statutes of the Lord are right and re-ioyce the heart: the commandement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the
eyes.

<sup>16</sup> The feare of the Lord is cleane, and indureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are <sup>17</sup> truth: they are righteous <sup>18</sup> all
together,

the strength of my life, of whome shal I
be afraid?

When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes came vpon me to eat vp my flesh
they stumbled and fel.

Though an holte pitched against me, mine heart shulde not be afraid: though warre

his pavilion shal he hide me, & set me vp vpon a rocke.

And now shal he lift vp mine head aboue mine enemies round about me: therefore wil I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifici-es of ioye: I wil sing and praise the Lord.

Hearken vnto my voice, O Lord, when I crys: haue mercie also vpon me and heare
me.

When thou saidst, Seeke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I wil
seeke thy face.

Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor
call thy seruante awaie in displeasure: thou halt bene my succour: leaue me not, ne-

ther forsake me, O God of my saluation.

Though my father and my mother
shulde forsake me, yet the Lord wil gather me vp.

Teache me thy waie, O Lord, and leade
me in a right path, because of mine enemies.

Giue me not vnto the lust of mine ad-
uersaries: for there are false witnessers rise
vp against me, & suche as speake cruelly.

I shoulde haue fainted, except I had beleued to see the goodnes of the Lord in the land of the liuing.

Hope in the Lord: be strong, & he shal
comfort thine heart, & trust in the Lord.

PSAL. XXVIII.

Being in great feare & heauines of heart to see God de-honored by the wicked, he desireth to be rid of them.
4 And cryeth for vengeance against them: & as length assureth him selfe, that God hath heard his prayer. 6 Vnto whose tuition he commendeth all the faithful.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

Vnto thee, O Lord, do I crye: O my strength, be not deafe toward me,
lest, if thou answer me not, I be like them
that go downe into the pit.

Hear the voice of my petitions, when I crye vnto thee, when I holde vp mine hands toward thine holy Oracle.

Drawe me not awaie with the wicked,
and with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.

Reward them according to their dedes,
and according to the wickednes of their inuentions: recompense them after the worke of their hands: reder them their re-warde.

For thei regard not the workes of thy Lord,
nor the operation of his hands: therefore breake them downe, & buylde the not vp.

Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard
the voice of my petitions.

The Lord is my strength and my shield:
mine heart trusted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shal reioyce, &
with my song wil I praise him.

The Lord is their strength, and he is the strength of the deliuerances of his anointed.

Saueth people, and blesse thine inheritance: fede them also, & exalt the for euer.

PSAL. XXXIII.

After David had escaped Achish, according as is written in the 1. Sam. 21. 11, whome in this title he calleth Abimelech (which was a general name to all the Kings of the Philistines) he praiseth God for his deliuerance, 3. Prouoking all others by his example to trust in God, to feare & serue him: 14. Who defendeth the godlie with his Angles, 15. And utterly destroyeth the wicked in their sinnes.

A Psalm of David, when he changed his behaviour before Abimelech, who drewe him a waie, & he departed.

1 I Wil a waile giue thanks vnto the Lord: his praise shal be in my mouth continually.
 2 My soule shal glorie in the Lord: the humble shal heare it, and be glad.
 3 Praise ye the Lord with me, and let vs magnifie his Name together.
 4 I sought the Lord, and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my feare.
 5 They shall loke vnto him, and runne to him: and their faces shal not be ashamed, saying,
 6 This poore man cryed, & the Lord heard him, and saued him out of all his troubles.
 7 The Angel of the Lord pitcheth route about them, that feare him, and deliuereth them.
 8 Tasse ye & se, how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.
 9 Feare the Lord, ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that feare him.
 10 The Lyons do lacke, and suffer hunger, but they, which seke the Lord, shal want nothing that is good.
 11 Come children, hearken vnto me: I wil teache you the feare of the Lord.
 12 What man is he, that desireth life, and loueth long daies for to se good?
 13 Kepe thy tongue from euil, and thy lip- pes, that they speake no guile.
 14 Eschew euil and do good: seke peace & followe after it.
 15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, & his eyes are open vnto their crye.
 16 But the face of the Lord is against them that do euil, to cut of their remembrance from the earth.
 17 The righteous crye, and the Lord heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.
 18 The Lord is nere vnto them that are of a contrite heart, and wil saue suche as be afflicted in spirit.
 19 Great are the troubles of the righteous:

but O Lord deliuereth him out of the all.
 20 He kepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shal slay the wicked: & they that hate the righteous, shal perish.

22 The Lord redemeth the soules of his seruants: & none y trust in him, shal perish.

So long as Saül was enemy to David, all that had any authority vnder him to slatter their King (as in the course of the world) did also messe cruelly perse- cuting him: David against whome he praieth God to please & to auenge his cause, 8. good & doeth not abhorre euil.

He scorneth the godlie to beware of these vices.

Thy mercie, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heavens, and thy faithfulness vnto the

cloudes.
Thy righteousness is like the mightie

mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great deepe: thou, Lord, dost saue man and beast.

How excellent is thy mercie, O God!

therefore the children of men trust vnder
the shadowe of thy wings.

They shall be satisfied with the farnes of thine house, & thou shalt giue them drin-

ke out of the riner of thy pleasures.
For with thee is the well of life, & in thy light shall we see light.

Extend thy louing kindenes vnto them

that knowe thee, and thy righteousness
vnto them that are vpright in heart.

Let not the force of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked

move me.
There they are fallen that worke ini-quities: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

PSAL. XXXVII.

This Psalm containeth exhortation & consolation for the weakes, that are grieved at the prosperitie of the wicked, & the affliction of the godlie. 7 For how prosperously flourish the wicked do line for the time, he doeth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the end they are destroyed as his enemies, 11 And how miserably that the righteous seemeth to line in the world, yet his end is peace, & he is in the fauour of God;

he is deliuered from the wicked & persecuted.

A Psalm of Dauid.

Reate not thy self because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the evil doers.

For they shall soone be cut downe like

grasse, and shall wither as the grene herbe.
Trust thou in the Lord & do good: dwell

in the land, & thou shalt be fed assuredly.
And delite thy self in the Lord, and he shall giue thee thine hearts desire.

Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.

And he shall bring forth thy righteounes as the light; & thy iudgement as the noone daye.

Waite patiently vpon the Lord & hope in him: fret not thy self for him which prospereth in his waye: nor for the mā that bringeth his entreprises to passe.

Cease from angre, & leaue of wrath: fret
not thy selfe: also to do euil.

For euil doers shall be cut of, and they

Mat. 5. 1.

i The godlie are assured of the power and craft of the wicked, that not preiail against them, but fall on their owne neckes, & therefore ought patiently to abide Gods times, & in the meane while bewaile their finnes, & offer vp their reares as a sacrifice of their obedience.

k For they are daily fed as wth Manna fro heauen, & haue sufficient when y<sup>e</sup> wicked haue neuer ynough, but euer huger. l God knoweth what dangers hang ouer his, & by what means to deliuer them.

m For God will giue them comforted mindes, & that wth shall be necessarie. n They shall vanishe away suddenly: for they are fed for the daie of slaughter.

o God so furniseth him with his blessing, that he is able to helpe others. p God prospereth the faithfull, because they walke in his waies with an vpright conscience.

q When God doeth exercise his faith wth diuers tentations.

r Though the iust man dyeth, yet Gods blessings are extended to his posteritie, and though God suffer some iuste man to lacke temporal benefites, yet he recompenseth him with spiritual treasures.

s They shall continually be preferred vnder Gods wings, and haue at least inward rest. t These three pointes are required of the faithful, that their talke be godlie. y Gods law be in their heart, & their life be vpright.

wicked shal not appeare, and thou shalt loke after his place, and he shal not be founde.

11 But meeke men shal possesse the earth, and shal haue their delite in the multitude of peace.

12 The wicked practiseth against the iust, and gnasheth his teeth against him.

13 But the Lord shal laugh him to scorn: for he seeth, that his daye is coming.

14 The wicked haue drawne their sworde, and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe the poore and nedie, and to slay suche as be of vpright conuersation.

15 But their sworde shal entre into their owne heart, & their bowes shal be broken.

16 A small thing vnto the iust man is better, then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked shalbe broken: but the Lord vpholdeth the iust men.

18 The Lord knoweth y<sup>e</sup> dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance shalbe perpetual.

19 They shal not be confounded in the perillous time, and in the dayes of famine they shal haue ynough.

20 But the wicked shal perish, and the enemies of the Lord shalbe consumed as the fat of lambes: euen with the smoke shal they consume away.

21 The wicked boroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is merciful, and giueth.

22 For suche as be blessed of God, shal inherit the land, & they that be cursed of him, shalbe cut of.

23 The paths of man are directed by the Lord: for he loueth his waye.

24 Though he fall, he shal not be cast of: for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue bene yong and am olde: yet I saw neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his seede begging bread.

26 But he is euer merciful and lendeth, and his seede enioyeth the blessing.

27 Flee from euil and do good, and dwell for euer.

28 For the Lord loueth iudgement, & forsaketh not his Saints: they shalbe preferred for euermore: but the seede of the wicked shalbe cut of.

29 The righteous me shal inherit the land, and dwell therein for euer.

30 The mouth of the righteous wil speake of wisdom, and his tongue wil talke of iudgement.

31 For the Law of his God is in his heart, & his steppes shal not slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 But y<sup>e</sup> Lord wil not leaue him in his had, nor condemne him, when he is iudged.

34 Waite thou on the Lord, and kepe his waye, & he shal exalt thee, that thou shalt inherit the land: when the wicked men shal perish, thou shalt se.

35 I haue sene the wicked strong, & spreading him self like a grene baye tre.

36 Yet he passed away, and lo, he was gone, and I sought him, but he colde not be founde.

37 Marke the vpright man, and behold the iust: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressours shalbe destroyed together, and the end of the wicked shalbe cut of.

39 But the saluation of the righteous shalbe of the Lord: he shalbe their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord shal helpe them, and deliuer them: he shal deliuer them from the wicked, and shal saue them, because they trust in him.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

i David lying sicke of some grieuous dis ease, acknowledgeth him self to be chastised of the Lord for his sinnes, & therefore praiesh God to turne away his wrath. s He uttereth the greatness of his grief by manie wordes & circumstances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, forsaken of his friends, euil treated of his enemies. as But in the end with firme confidence he commendeth his cause to God, & hopeth for speedie helpe at his hand.

Q A Psalme of David for a remembrance.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, nether chastise me in thy wrath.

2 For thine arrowes haue light vpon me, and thine hand lieth vpon me.

3 There is nothing founde in my flesh, because of thine anger: nether is there resting my bones because of my sinne.

4 For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, & as a weightie burden they are to heaue for me.

5 My woundes are putrified, and corrupted because of my foolishnes.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore: I grieve mourning all the daye.

7 For my reines are full of burning, & the reins are nothing founde in my flesh.

8 I am weakened and sore broken: I sorrowe for the verie grief of mine heart.

9 Lord, I powre my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart panteth: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen are not mine owne.

11 My louers and my friends stand aside from my plague, and my kinsmen stand a farre of.

12 They also, that like after my life, laye snares, and they that go about to do me euil, talke wicked things and imagine deceit continually.

13 But as for me, I will trust in the Lord: for he will reuenge my cause, and will save my life.

14 And thou, O Lord, be not wroth with me, because of mine iniquities: for thine iniquities are many, and thy sinnes are great.

15 But O Lord, be merciful vnto me, according to thy great mercie: for thine iniquities are many, and thy sinnes are great.

But I as a deafe man, am as a dumme man, his mouth.

Thus am I as a man, in whose mouth are no words.

For on thee, O Lord, doe I heare me, my Lord, my God.

For I said, Heare me, O Lord, my God.

When my extollment selues are extolled, I am ready to me.

When I declare my sinnes, thou art ready to me.

Then mine enemies are manie, and they that hate me are manie.

They also, that reuenge are mine aduersaries, O Lord, my God.

For sake me not, O Lord, my God.

Haste thee to helpe me, O Lord, my God.

Saluation.

PSAL. XLIII.

The Prophet grievouſly complaineth, that being deſerued by his perſecutors, he coulde not be preſent in the Congregation of Gods people, proteſting that although he was ſeparated in bodie from them, yet his heart was continually affeſtioned to them. And laſt of all he ſheweth, that becauſe he ſo ſurre overcame with theſe ſorowes & tribulations, that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.

To him that excelleth. A Pſalme to be ſung, committed to the ſonnes of Korah.

1 As the hart braieth for the riuer of waters, ſo paſteth my ſoule after thee, O God.

2 My ſoule thiſteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when ſhal I come and appeare before the preſence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meat daie and night, while they daiele ſay vnto me, Where is thy God?

4 When I remembred theſe things, I poured out my verie heart, becauſe I had gone with the multitude, & led them into the Houſe of God with the voice of ſinging, & praife, as a multitude y kept a feaſt.

5 Why art thou caſt downe, my ſoule, and waquieſt within me? waite on God: for I wil yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his preſence.

6 My God, my ſoule is caſt downe within me, becauſe I remember thee, from the land of Iordén, and Harmonim, and from the mount Mizar.

7 One depe calleth another depe by y noſe of thy water ſpoutes: all thy waues and thy floods are gone ouer me.

8 The Lord wil grante his louing kindnes in the daie, and in the night ſhal I ſing of hi, euen a praiſe vnto O God of my life.

9 I wil ſai, vnto God, which is my rock: Why haſt thou forgotten me? why goll mourning, when the enemy oppreſſeth me?

10 My bones are cut a ſunder, while mine enemies reproche me, ſaying daiele vnto me, Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou caſt downe, my ſoule? why art thou diſquieted within me? waite on God: for I wil yet giue him thanks: he is my preſent helpe, and my God.

PSAL. XLIII.

He praiech to be deliuered from them which conſpire againſt him, that he might ſoyfully praife God in his holie Congregation.

1 Iudge me, O God, & defend my cauſe againſt the vnmereiful people: deliuer me from the deceitful and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my ſtrength: why haſt thou put me awaie? why go I lo mourning, when the enemy oppreſſeth me.

3 Send thy light and thy truth: let them lead me: let the bring me vnto thine holy Mountaine and to thy Tabernacles.

4 To wit, thy fauour, which appeareth by the performance of thy promiſes.

Then wil I go vnto the God of my life, and vpon the harpe will I ſing to thee, O God, my God.

Why art thou caſt downe, my ſoule? why art thou diſquieted within me? waite on God: for I wil yet giue him thanks: he is my preſent helpe.

PSAL. XLIV.

The faithfull remember the graces of God to his people. 9 After their complainte, they ſhew that they are not more. 17 Alſo they alledge the example of Abraham for the keeping of his promiſe, which was things they ſuffered. 23 Finally they ſhew that their affliction is not to be counted as a ſin, but as a ſign of Gods love.

To him that excelleth. A Pſalme to be ſung, committed to the ſonnes of Korah.

1 We haue heard thee, O God: our fathers ſay, that thou haſt done wonders in the old time:

2 How thou haſt driuen out the Canaanites with thine hand, and how thou haſt deſtroyed the ſtrong hold of them.

3 For they inherited not the land by their owne ſword, neither did they ſaue them: but thy right hand, and the light of thy countenance didſt thou fauour them.

4 Thou art my King, O God: vnto thee I ſay, O God: through thee haue we aduerſaries: by thy Name we haue downe them that roſe againſt us.

5 For I do not truſt in mine armie, neither do I ſaue my ſelfe by my ſword.

6 But thou haſt ſaued me from all mine aduerſaries, & haſt put the toe of thy right hand vpon me, & thou haſt ſaue me from all mine enemies.

7 Therefore wil we praife thee, O God, & wil confeſſe thy Name before all thy people.

8 But now thou art farre from me: thou art in confuſion, & goeſt ſeeking for thine armies.

9 Thou makeſt vs to be aduerſaries, and theiſe we are: thou makeſt vs to be ſeekers for thine felues.

10 Thou gulleſt vs as a ſnake, & thou ſcattereſt vs amongſt the heathen.

11 Thou ſelleſt thy people for nothing, & doeſt not increaſe their number.

12 Thou makeſt vs a reprobation, & a ſcandalum: that are round about vs, they ſay, They are vaine.

13 Thou makeſt vs a pſalm, & a nodding to the people.

14 My confuſion is d, & the ſhame of my face is hid: for the voice of the enemy is heard, & the enemy is ſeeking for thine felues.

15 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

17 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

18 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

19 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

20 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

21 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

22 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

23 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

24 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

25 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

26 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

27 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

28 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

29 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

30 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

31 Thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues: thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues, & thou haſt ſeeked for thine felues.

PSAL. XLIIII.

The faithful remember the great mercie of God toward the people. After thei complaine, because thei fele it no more. 17 After thei alledge the couenant made with Abraham for the King whereof thei shewe what grie-uous things thei suffer. 23 Finally they praise vnto God
to cōtinue their affliction, using the same redoun-
ders thei contempe of his honour.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.
We haue heard with our eares, O God: our fathers haue tolde vs the workes, that thou hast done in their daies,
in the olde time:

How thou hast driuen out the heathen with thine hand, and planted c them: how thou hast destroyed the people, and caused them to growe.

For thei inherited not the land by their own: sword, nether did thei owne arme
saue them: but thy right hand, & thine arme and the light of thy countenance, because thou didest fauour them.

Thou art my King, O God: send helpe
vnto me: I haue called.

Through thee haue we thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy Name haue we troade
downe them that rose vp against vs.

For I do not trust in my bowe, nether can
my sword saue me.

But thou hast saued vs from our aduer-
saries, & hast put the confusion y. hate vs.
Therefore wil we praise God continually,
& wil confesse thy Name for euer. Selah.

But now thou art farre of, and putteth vs
to confusion, & goest not forth with our armies.

Thou makest vs to turne backe from the aduersarie, and thei, which hate vs, spoile
for them selues.

Thou giest vs as shepe to be eaten, &
doest scatter vs among the nations.

Thou sellest thy people without gaine,
and doest not increase their price.

Thou makest vs a reproche to our neighbours, a ielle and a laughing stocke to the
that are round about vs.

Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nations, & a nodding of the head among
the people.

My confusion is daieily before me, and
the frame of my face hath covered me,

For the voice of the sclanderer and rebu-
ker, for the enemy and a ouercomer.

For the voice of the sclanderer and rebu-
ker, for the enemy and a ouercomer.

For the voice of the sclanderer and rebu-
ker, for the enemy and a ouercomer.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet do we not forget thee, nether deale we falsely concerning thy couenant.

18 Our heart is not turned backe: nether
our steppes gone out of thy paths,

19 Albeit thou hast smitten vs downe into the place of dragons, and couered vs with the shadowe of death.

20 If we haue forgottē y. Name of our God, & holden vp our hāds to a strange go,

21 Shal not God searche this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

22 Surely for thy sake we are slaine cōtinu-
ally, & scarce couēd as shepe for slaughter.

23 Vp, why sleepest thou, O Lord? awake, be not farre of for euer.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face? & forgettest our miserie and our affliction?

25 For our soule is beaten downe vnto the dust: our belly cleueth vnto the ground.

26 Rise vp for our succour, and redeme vs
for thy mercies sake.

PSAL. XLV.

The maiestie of Salomon his honour, strength, beautie,
riches & power are praised, & also his marriage with the Egyptian being a heathen woman is blessed, to showe that she can reuolue her people & the loue of her coun-trei, and giue her selfe wholly to her husband. Under the which figure the wonderfull maiestie & cre-se of the kingdom of Christ and the Church his spouse
now taken of the Gentiles is described.

To him that excelleth on a sh shawim a song of loue to give instruction, committed to
the sonnes of Korah.

My heart wil utter forth a good matter: I wil intreat in my workes of the King: my congue is as the penne of a swift writer.

Thou art fairer than the childre of men:
grace is powred in thy lippes, because God
hath blessed thee for euer.

Giude thy sworde vpon thy thigh, O moste
mightie, to wit, thy worship & thy glorie.

And prosper with thy glorie: hide vpon
the worde of truth and of mekeries of righteousnes: so thy right hand shal reache thee terrible things.

Thine arrowes are sharpe to pierce the heart of the Kings enemies: therefore the people
shal fall vnder thee.

Thy throne, O God, is for euer and euer:
the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter
of righteousness.

Thou louest righteousness, and hatest wickednes, because God, euen thy God hath anointed thee with the oile of gladnes
above thy fellows.

All thy garments smell of myrrhe and aloes, and cassia, when thou comest out of thy yuorie palaces, & where thei haue made thee glad.

PSAL. XLIX.

The holie Ghost calleth all men to the consideration of manly life, 7 shewing them not to be misse blessed, shew are misse wealthy, & therefore not to be feared: but contrary wise be lieth vpon our mindes to consider how all things are ruled by Gods providence: 14 Who as he ingeth these worldes misers to everlasting torments, so dooth he procure his & wil reward the
in the day of the resurrection. 2 Thess. 1. 6.
To him that excedeth. A psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

Hear, this, all ye people: giue eare,
all ye that dwell in the worldes,
Aswell lowe as he, bothe riche & poore.
My mouth shal speake of wisdom, and
the meditation of mine heart is of knowledge.
I will incline mine eare to a parable, and
vnto my graue matter vpon the harpe.
Wherefore shulde I feare in the euil
daies, when iniquitie shal compassie me about, as at mine heles?
They trust in their goods, & boast them selves in the multitude of their riches.
Yet a man can by no meanes redeme his brother: he can not giue his ransom to God.
(So) precious is the redemption of their soules, & the continuance for euer)
That he may liue still for euer, & not se
the graue.
For he seeth that wisdom is dye, & also that the ignorant and foolish perish, and leaueth their riches for others.
Yet they thinke, their houses, & their habitations shal continue for euer, euen from one to another, but to strangers yet the wicked
take by these examples, but shal dreame an immortalitie in earth.

generation to generation, and call their lands by their names.
But man shal not continue in honour: he is like the beasts that dye.
This their waite uttereth their foolishnes:
yet their posteritie delite in their talke.
Selah.
Like shepe thei lie in graue: death
deuoureth the, & the righteous shal haue
domination ouer them in the morning:
for their beaurie shal consume, when they
shal go from their house to graue.
But God shal deliuer my soule from the power of the graue: for he wil receiue
me. Selah.
Be not thou afraied when one is made riche, & when the glorie of his house is increased.
For he shal take nothing awaie when he dyeth, nether shal his pompe descend after him.
For while he liued, he reioyced him self: and men wil praise thee, when thou
make it muche of thy self.
He shal enter into the generation of his fathers, & they shal not liue for euer.
Man is in honour, and vnderstandeth
not: he is like to beasts that perish.

PSAL. L.

Because the Church is alwaie full of hypocrites, which do imagine that God wil be worshiped with outward ceremonies only, without the heart: and especially the Iewes were of this opinion, because of their figures and ceremonies of the Law, thinking that their sacrifices were sufficient. 21 Therefore the Prophet doeth re-proue this grosse error, & pronounceth the Name of God
to be blasphemed, where holines is set in ceremonies.
23 For he declareth the worship of God to be spiritual, whereof are two principal parties, iuuocation, & thankgiuing.

A psalme of a Asaph.

The God of gods, euen the Lord hath spoken and called the earth from the rising vpon of the sunne vnto the going downe
thereof.
Out of Ziō, which is the perfection of
beaurie, hath God shined.
Our God shal come and shal not kepe silence: a fyre shal deuoure before him, &
a mightie tempest shal be moued rounde
about him.
He shal call the heauen above, and the earth to iudge his people.
Gather my Saints together vnto me,
those that make a couenant with me with sacrifice.
And the heauens shal declare his righ-
teousnes: for God is Iudge him self. Selah.
Hear, O my people, & I wil speake: heare,
O Israel, and I wil testifie vnto thee: for I am God, euen thy God.

God in respect of his elect, calleth the whole bodie holie. Saints & his people. Which shalde knowe that sacrifices are seals of the couenant betweene God and his people, and not for religion therein.

The true sacrifice.

1 For I will not for sacrifice, except <sup>1</sup> true vie be there, which is to confirme your faith in my promises. <sup>2</sup> Though he did desire in sacrifice, yet had he no need of mans helpe therunto. <sup>3</sup> Though mans life for the infirmities thereof had the need of fode, yet God, whose life quickeneth all the world, hath no need of such meanes. <sup>4</sup> I shew thy self mindful of Gods benefices by thanksgiving. <sup>5</sup> Why dost thou fainter of my people and talkest of my covenant, seeing thou art but an hypocrite? <sup>6</sup> And to line according to my worde. <sup>7</sup> He sheweth what are the frutes of them that concerne Gods word. <sup>8</sup> He noteth the crueltye of hypocrites, & spare not in their talke or iudgement their owne mothers sonne. <sup>9</sup> I wil write all thy wicked dedes in a role and make thee to read & acknowledge the whether thou wilt or no. <sup>10</sup> Under the w is contained faith and inuocation. <sup>11</sup> As God hath appointed. <sup>12</sup> That is, declare my self to be his servant.

8 I wil not <sup>1</sup> reprove thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt offerings, that have not bene continually before me. <sup>2</sup> I wil take no bullocke out of thine house, nor goates out of thy foldes. <sup>3</sup> For all the beasts of the forest are mine, and the beasts on a thousand mountaines. <sup>4</sup> I knowe all the foules on the mountaines: & the wilde beasts of the field are mine. <sup>5</sup> If I be hungrie, I wil not tel thee: for the worlde is mine, and all that therein is. <sup>6</sup> Wil I eat the flesh of bulles? or drinke the blood of goates? <sup>7</sup> Offre vnto God praise, & I paie thy vowes vnto the moste High, <sup>8</sup> And call vpon me in the daie of trouble: so wil I deliuer thee, & thou shalt glorifie me. <sup>9</sup> But vnto the wicked said God, What hast thou to do to declare mine ordinances, that thou shuldest take my covenant in thy mouth, <sup>10</sup> Seeing thou hatest <sup>1</sup> to be reformed, and hast cast my wordes behind thee? <sup>11</sup> For whē thou seest a thefe, thou runnest with him, and thou art partaker with the adulterers. <sup>12</sup> Thou giuest thy mouth to euil, & with thy tongue thou forgett deceite. <sup>13</sup> Thou <sup>1</sup> fittest, and speakest against thy brother, and slanderest thy mothers sonne. <sup>14</sup> These things hast thou done, & I helde my tongue: therefore thou thoughtest that I was like thee: but I wil reprove thee, and I set them in order before thee. <sup>15</sup> Oh consider this, ye that forget God, lest I teare you in pieces, & there be none that can deliuer you. <sup>16</sup> He that offereth praise, shal glorifie me: and to him, that disposeth his waie aright, wil I shewe the saluacion of God.

When David was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan, for his great offences, he did not only acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his natural corruption and iniquitie, but also left a memorial thereof to his posteritie. 7 Therefore first he desireth God to forgive his finnes, 10 And to renew in him his holie Spirit, 13 With promises that he wil not be unmindeful of those great graces. 15 Finally fearing lest God wolde punish the whole Church for his faute he requireth that he wolde rather increase his graces towards the same.

To him that excelleth. A psalme of David, when the Prophet Nathan came vnto him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba.

1 H Ave mercie vpon me, o God, according to thy louing kindness: according to the multitude of thy compassions put awaie mine iniquities. <sup>2</sup> Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquities.

Wolde giue him the selling of his excellent and abundant mercies. My finnes haue I hid in me, that I haue made of them singularly hidden.

Psalmes. The corrupt nature of

tie, and cleanse me from my sinne. <sup>3</sup> For I knowe mine iniquities, & my sinne is cuer before me. <sup>4</sup> Against thee, against thee onely haue I sinned, & done euil in thy sight, that thou maiest be iuste when thou speakest, and pure when thou iudgest. <sup>5</sup> Beholde, I was borne in iniquitie, and in sinne hath my mother conceiued me. <sup>6</sup> Beholde, thou louest trueti in inuariance: therefore hast thou taught me wisdom in the secret of mine heart. <sup>7</sup> Purge me with hyssope, and I shall be cleane: wash me, & I shall be whiter than snowe. <sup>8</sup> Make me to heare ioye and gladnes, that the bones, which thou hast broken, may reioyce. <sup>9</sup> Hide thy face from my finnes, and put awaie all mine iniquities. <sup>10</sup> Create in me a cleane heart, o God, & renew a right spirit within me. <sup>11</sup> Cast me not awaie from thy presence, and take not thine holie Spirit from me. <sup>12</sup> Restore to me the ioye of thy saluacion, and stablish me with thy fre Spirit. <sup>13</sup> Then shall I reache thy waies vnto the wicked, and sinners shal be conuerted vnto thee. <sup>14</sup> Deliuer me from blood, o God, which art the God of my saluacion, and my tongue shal sing ioyfully of thy righteousness. <sup>15</sup> Open thou my lippes, o Lord, and my mouth shal shewe forth thy praise. <sup>16</sup> For thou desirest no sacrifice, though I wolde giue it: thou desirest not in burnt offering. <sup>17</sup> The sacrifices of God are a contrite spirit: a contrite & a broken heart, o God, thou wilt not despise. <sup>18</sup> Be fauourable vnto Zion for thy good pleasure: buyld the wallies of Ierusalem. <sup>19</sup> Then shalt thou accept the sacrifices of righteousness, euen the burnt offering and oblation: then shal they offer calues vpon thine altar.

PSAL. LII.

David describeth the arrogant tyrannie of his aduersarie Doeg: who by false seruises caused Abimelech with the rest of the Priests to be slayne. David prophesieth his destruction, & And incourageth the faithful to put their confidence in God, whose judgement are moste sharpe against his aduersaries. And finally he rendereth thanks to God for his deliuerance in this psalme is liuely set forth the kingdom of Anthonie.

To him that excelleth. A psalme of David to giue instruction. When Doeg the Egyptian slewed Saul & fled to him, David is come to the house of Achish.

Glue thy iudgements to the King,
o God, and thy righteoutnes to the Kings sonne.

Then shal he iudge thy people in righte-
outnes, and thy poore with equitie.
The 4 mountaines and the hills shal bring peace to the people by iustice.

He shal iudge the poore of the people:
he shal saue the children of the nedie, and
shal subdue the oppressor.

They shal feare thee as long as the sunne
and moone endureth, from generation to generation.

He shal come s downe like the raine
vpon the mowen grasse, & as the showres
that water the earth.

In his daies shal the righteous flourish, & abundance of peace shalbe so long as the moone endureth.

His dominion shalbe also from sea to sea, and from the Riuer vnto the ends of the land.

They that dwell in the wildernes, shal
knele before him, and his enemies shal lie-ke the dust.

The Kings of Tarsish & of the yles
shal bring presents: the Kings of Shebā
and Sebā shal bring gifts.

Yea, all Kings shal worship him: all nations shal serue him.

For he shal deliuer the poore when he cryeth: the nedie also, and him that hathe
no helper.

He shalbe merciful to the poore and nedie, and shal preserue the soules of the poore.

He shal redeme their soules from deceit
and violence, and i deare shal their blood
be in his sight.

Yea, he shal liue, and vnto him shal
they giue of the 12 golde of Shebā: they shal also praye for him continually, and daily blesse him.

An handful of corne shalbe sowne in the earth, euen in the top of the mountaines,
and the frute thereof shal shake like the trees of Lebanon: and the children shal florish out of the citie like the grasse of the earth.

His name shalbe for euer: his name shal
indure as long as the sunne: all natiōs shal
blesse o him, and be blessed in him.

Blessed be the Lord God, euen the God
of Israēl, which onely doeth wonderous
things.

And blessed be his glorious Name for euer: and let all the earth be filled with his glorie. So be it, euen so be it.

HERE END THE 4 praieres of Dauid,
the sonne of Ithai.

God doth prosper them for his sake. p He confesseth that excepte
God, he can not prosper his people, that neither the King nor the kingdome can continue.

q Concerning his sonne Salomōn.

The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the
w. delie prosperitie of the vngodlie. 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children:
but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers providence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 19 For asmuche as the wicked vanish away, 24 And the godlie enter into life euerlasting. 28 In hope whereof he resigneth him self into Gods hand.

¶ A Psalm committed to Asaph.

Et God is good to Israēl: euen, to the pure in heart.

As for me, my fete were almost gone: my steps had welnere slipt.

For I treated as the foolish, when I sawe
the prosperitie of the wicked.

For there are no bands in their death,
but they are lustie & strong.

They are not in trouble as other men, nether are they plagued with other men.

Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto thes,
& cruelrie couereth them as a garment.

Their eyes stand out for fatnes: they
haue more then heart can wish.

They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppresion: thei talke presump-tuously.

They set their mouth against heauen, &
their tongue walketh through the earth.

Therefore his people turne hither: for waters of a ful cup are wrung out to them.

And they say, How doeth God knowe
it: is there knowledge in y moste High?

Lo, these are the wicked, yet prosper thei
alway, & increase in riches.

Certainly I haue clenst mine heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.

For daily haue I bene punished, and cha-stened euerie morning.

If I say, I wil iudge thus, beholde
the generaciō of thy children: I haue tres-pased.

The thought I to knowe this, but it was to painful for me,

Vntil I went into the Sanctuarie of God: then vnderstode I their end.

Surely thou hast set them in slipperie places, and castest them downe into desolation.

How suddenly are they destroyed, perished & horribly consumed,

As a dreame when one awaketh! o Lord,
when thou raisest vs vp, thou shalt make their image despised.

Certainly mine heart was vexed, & I was pricked in my reines:

So foolish was I and ignorant: I was a beast before thee.

Yet I was alway with thee: thou hast worde & holie spirit. y thou orderest all things moste wisely & iustly. i By thy feareful iudgment. k When thou openst out eyes to consider thy heutenlie felicie, we conterne all their vaine pompe. l For the more doeth he declare him self a beast. m By faith I was assured that thy proudence did watche alwayes ouer me to preserue me.

As it were

the into this affliction, being assured y God
wolde continue
his fauour to-

were godlie in deeds, and not hypocrites.
b The wicked

ue at pleasure, & are not dra-
wen to death
like prisoners:
that is by sic-
kenes, & is dea-
thes messinger.
c They glorie
in their pride
as some do in
their chaitie:
& in cruckies,
as some do in
apparel.
d They blaspheme God &
scare not his power, & raille
vpon men, because they se-
sume the fel-
ices aboute all others.
e No onely y
rprobate, but also y people
of God often times fall ba-ken, & scing y
perous efface
of the wicked,

f Thus y de-
mouth euen y
godlie to dispute with God
touching their poore state &
the prosperitie
of the wicked.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

The faithful complains of the destruction of the Church & true religion. 2 Under the name of Zion, and the Temple destroyed: 11 And trusting in the might & fre mercies of God, 20 By his covenant, 21 They require helpe & succour for the glorie of Gods holie Name, for the saluation of his poore afflicted seruants, 23 And the confusion of his proude enemies.

¶ A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.

O God, why hast thou put vs away for euer? why is thy wrath kindled against the shepe of thy pasture?

2 Thinke vpon thy Congregation, which thou hast possessed of olde, & on the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed, & on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift vp thy strokes, that thou maiest for euer destroye euerie enemy that doeth euil to the Sanctuary.

4 Thine aduersaries roare in the middes of thy Congregation, & set vp their banners for signes.

5 He that lifted the axes vpon the thicke trees, was renowned, as one, that brought a thing to perfection:

6 But now they breake downe the carued worke thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They haue cast thy Sanctuary into the fyre, & raised it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They said in their hearts, Let vs destroye them altogether: they haue burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 We se not our signes: there is not one Prophet more, nor anie with vs that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shal the aduersarie reproche thee? shal the enemy blaspheme thy Name for euer?

11 Why withdrawest thou thine hand, euen thy right hand? drawe it out of thy bosome, & consume them.

12 Euen God is my King of olde, working saluation in the middes of the earth.

13 Thou didest diuide y<sup>e</sup> Sea by thy power:

Meaning, in the sight of all the world.

thou brakest the heades of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of Leviathan in pieces, and gauest him to be meat for the people in wilderness.

15 Thou brakest vp the fountaine and riuers: thou driedst vp mightie riuers.

16 The daye is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of y<sup>e</sup> earth: thou hast made somer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproched the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Giue not the foule of thy turtle dooer vnto the beast, & forget not the Congregation of thy poore for euer.

20 Consider thy covenant: for the daies places of the earth are ful of the habitations of the cruel.

21 Oh let not the oppressed returne ashamed, but let the poore & nedie praise thy Name.

22 Arise, O God: mainteine thine owne cause: remember thy daillie reproche by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: for the tumulte of them, that rise against thee, ascendeth continually.

PSAL. LXXXV.

4 I said vnto the foolish, Be not so foolish, and to the wicked, Lift not vp the horn.

5 Lift not vp your horn on high, neither speake with a stiffe necke.

6 For to come to preferment is neither from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South,

7 But God is the iudge: he maketh low and he maketh hie.

8 For in the hand of the Lord is a cup, and the wine is red: it is ful mixt, and he powreth out of the same: surely all the wicked of the earth shal wring out & drinke the dregs thereof.

9 But as the wicked are made so dronke, that by drinking till they come to the dregs, they are utterly destroyed.

1 Cor. 10. 4.
wis. 11. 6.

k Their wicked malice col-
de be overcome by no benefites, which were great &
manie.

l Then to require more the-
is necessarie, &
to separate Gods power from his wil, is to tempt God.

m Thus when we are place to sinne, we are moued to doubt of Gods power, except he wil always be ready to serue our lust.

n That is, in his Fatherlie prouidence, whereby he careth
for his and prouideth sufficiency.

3 Which we haue heard and knowen, and our fathers haue tolde vs.

4 We wil not hide them from their children, but to the generacion to come we wil
shewe the praises of the Lord, his power
also, and his wonderful workes that he hathe done:

5 How he established a testimonie in Iaakob, and ordeined a Law in Israél, which he commanded our fathers, that they shulde teache their children:

6 That the posteritie might knowe it, and the children, which shulde be borne,
shulde stand vp, & declare it to their children:

7 That they might set their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God
but kepe his commandments:

8 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generacion: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithfull vnto God.

9 The children of Ephraim being armed & shooting with the bowe, turned backe
in the day of battel.

10 They kept not the couenant of God, but refused to walke in his Law,

11 And forgate his Actes, and his wonderful workes that he had shewed them.

12 He did maruelous things in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt: when
in the field of Zoan.

13 He deuised the Sea, and led them
through: he made also the waters to stand
as an heape.

14 In the daietime also he led them with a cloude, and all the night with a light of fyer.

15 He claue the rockes in the wildernes,
and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 He brought floods also out of the stonie
rocke, so that he made the waters to def-
cend like the riuers.

17 Yet they sinned stil against him, and prouoked the Highest in the wildernes, and tempted God in their heartes in requiring meat for their lust.

18 They spake against God also, saying,
Can God prepare a table in the wilder-
nes?

19 Beholde, he smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can he giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

20 Therefore the Lord heard and was an-grie, and the fyer was kindled in Iaakob,
and also wrath came vpon Israél,

21 Because they beleued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

22 Yet he had commanded the cloude to boue, and had opened the dores of hea-
uen,

23 And had rained downe man vpon the
for to eat, and had giuen them of the wheat of heauen.

24 Man did eat the bread of Angels: he sent them meat ynowh.

25 He caused the Eastwinde to passe in the heauen, and through his power he brogt
in the Southwinde.

26 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered foule as the fand of the sea.

27 And he made it fall in middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

28 So thei did eat and were wel filled: for he gaue them their desire.

29 They were not turned from their lust, but the meat was yet in their moun-thes,

30 When the wrath of God came euen vpon
them, and slew the strongest of them,
and smote downe the chosen men in Israél.

31 For all this, thei sinned stil, and beleued
not his wonderous workes.

32 Therefore their daies did he consume in vanitie, and their yerres hastily.

33 And when he slew them, thei fought with him, & they returned, & fought God early.

34 And thei remembered that God was their strength, & the moste high God their redemer.

35 But thei flattered him with their mouth,
and dissembled with him with their conscience.

36 For their heart was not vpright with him: neither were they faithfull in his couenant.

37 Yet he being mercifull forgave their in-iquitie, and destroyed them not, but oft times called backe his angre, and did not stirre vp all his wrath.

38 For he remembered that they were flesh:
yea, a winde that passeth and commeth not
againe.

39 How oft did they prouoke him in the
wildernes? & grieue him in the desert?

40 Yea, they returned, and tempted God,
and limited the Holie one of Israél.

41 Thei remembered not his hand, nor the daie when he deliuered them from the ene-
mie,

42 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt,
his wonders in the field of Zoan,

43 And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods, that thei colde not drinke.

44 He sent a swarme of flies among them,
which deuoured them, & frogs, which destroyed them.

45 Some take it for all forces of serpents: some for all wormes. Some take it for all forces of serpents: some for all wormes.

46 He gaue also their cerpillar, and their labo-opper.

47 He destroyed their
their wilde figgetree

A Psalm committed to Asaph.
God standeth in the assemblie of gods: he iudgeth among gods.

How long wil ye iudge vniufully, and accept the persones of the wicked? Selah.
Do right to the poore and fatherles: do
iustice to the poore and nedie.

Deliver the poore and nedie: saue them
from the hand of the wicked.

They knowe not & vnderstand nothing:
they walke in darknes, albeit all the fun-
dations of the earth be moued.

I haue said, Ye are gods, and ye all are children of the most High.

But ye shal dye as a man, & ye princes,
shal fall like others.

O God, arise, therefore iudge thou the earth: for thou shalt inherite all nations.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

The people of Israel praise vnto the Lord to deliver the
from their enemies both at home and farre of, which imagined nothing but their destruction. 9 And thei dere that all suche wicked people maie, according as God was accustomed, be stricken with the storme temple of

A song, or Psalm committed to Asaph.

Kepe not thou silence, O God: be not still and cease not, O God.

For lo, thine enemies make a tumulte: &
they hate thee, haue lifted vp the head.

Thei haue taken craftie counsell against thy people, and haue consulted against thy secret ones.

Thei haue said, Come and let vs cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel be no more in remembrance.

For thei haue consulted together in heart, & haue made a league against thee:

The tabernacles of Edom, & the Ishmae-
lites, Moab and the Agarims:

Gebal and Ammon, and Amalech, the Philistims with the inhabitants of Tyrus:

Ashur also is ioyned with the: thei haue

Do thou to them as vnto the Midiani-

Thei perished at En-dor, & were don-gue for the earth.

Make the, euen their princes like Oreb
and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes like Zebah and like Zalmunah.

Which haue said, Let vs take for our possession the habitations of God.

By these examples, thei were confirmed that God wolde be vnto them as he was vnto the Midianites, Iudg 7.21 and 4.35 that he wolde be vnto them as he was vnto the Philistines, 1 Sam 13.17 that he wolde be vnto them as he was vnto the Amalekites, 1 Sam 14.20

O my God, make the like vnto a whele,

As the fyre burneth the forest, and as the flame setteth the mountaines on fyre:

So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraied with thy storme.

Fil their faces with shame, that thei maie
seke thy Name, O Lord.

Let them be confounded and troubled for euer: yea, let them be put to shame and perish.

That they maie knowe that thou, which
art called Iehovah, art alone, euen the mo-

To him that excellen vpon Gittith. A psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

O Lord of hostes, how amiable are thee, & in whose heart are thy waies.

They going through the vale of Baca,
make welles therein: the raine also coue-
reth the pooles.

They go from strength to strength, till euerie one appeare before God in Zion.

O Lord God of hostes, heare my praier: hearken, O God of Iacob. Selah.

Beholde, O God, our shield, & loke vpon
the face of thine Anointed.

For a daie in thy courtes is better the
a thousand o'er where: I had rather be a dore keeper in the House of my God, then
to dwell in the tabernacles of wickednes.

For the Lord God is the sunne & shield
of his chosen: the Lord wil giue grace & glorie, & no good thing wil he withholde from them that walke vprightly.

O Lord of hostes, blessed is the man that

How we
but that

1 Let me incline
 2 my ear to
 3 your words,
 4 O Lord.
 5 For my
 6 heart is
 7 troubled,
 8 and my
 9 eyes are
 10 weary,
 11 and my
 12 heart is
 13 broken.
 14 For my
 15 heart is 16 broken,
 17 and my
 18 eyes are 19 weary,
 20 and my
 21 heart is
 22 broken.
 23 For my
 24 heart is
 25 broken,
 26 and my
 27 eyes are
 28 weary,
 29 and my
 30 heart is
 31 broken.
 32 For my
 33 heart is 34 broken,
 35 and my
 36 eyes are
 37 weary,
 38 and my
 39 heart is
 40 broken.
 41 For my
 42 heart is
 43 broken,
 44 and my
 45 eyes are 46 weary,
 47 and my
 48 heart is
 49 broken.
 50 For my
 51 heart is 52 broken,
 53 and my
 54 eyes are
 55 weary,
 56 and my
 57 heart is 58 broken.
 59 For my
 60 heart is 61 broken,
 62 and my
 63 eyes are
 64 weary,
 65 and my
 66 heart is
 67 broken.
 68 For my
 69 heart is 70 broken,
 71 and my 72 eyes are
 73 weary,
 74 and my
 75 heart is
 76 broken.
 77 For my
 78 heart is
 79 broken,
 80 and my
 81 eyes are
 82 weary,
 83 and my
 84 heart is
 85 broken.
 86 For my
 87 heart is
 88 broken,
 89 and my
 90 eyes are
 91 weary,
 92 and my
 93 heart is
 94 broken.
 95 For my
 96 heart is
 97 broken,
 98 and my
 99 eyes are
 100 weary,
 101 and my
 102 heart is 103 broken.
 104 For my
 105 heart is 106 broken,
 107 and my
 108 eyes are
 109 weary,
 110 and my
 111 heart is
 112 broken.
 113 For my
 114 heart is 115 broken,
 116 and my
 117 eyes are
 118 weary,
 119 and my
 120 heart is 121 broken.
 122 For my
 123 heart is 124 broken,
 125 and my
 126 eyes are 127 weary,
 128 and my
 129 heart is
 130 broken.
 131 For my
 132 heart is
 133 broken,
 134 and my
 135 eyes are 136 weary,
 137 and my
 138 heart is
 139 broken.
 140 For my
 141 heart is
 142 broken,
 143 and my
 144 eyes are 145 weary,
 146 and my
 147 heart is
 148 broken.
 149 For my
 150 heart is 151 broken,
 152 and my
 153 eyes are
 154 weary,
 155 and my
 156 heart is
 157 broken.
 158 For my
 159 heart is
 160 broken,
 161 and my
 162 eyes are
 163 weary,
 164 and my
 165 heart is 166 broken.
 167 For my
 168 heart is 169 broken,
 170 and my
 171 eyes are 172 weary,
 173 and my
 174 heart is 175 broken.
 176 For my
 177 heart is 178 broken,
 179 and my
 180 eyes are 181 weary,
 182 and my
 183 heart is 184 broken.
 185 For my
 186 heart is
 187 broken,
 188 and my
 189 eyes are
 190 weary,
 191 and my
 192 heart is
 193 broken.
 194 For my
 195 heart is
 196 broken,
 197 and my
 198 eyes are
 199 weary,
 200 and my
 201 heart is
 202 broken.
 203 For my
 204 heart is 205 broken,
 206 and my
 207 eyes are
 208 weary,
 209 and my
 210 heart is 211 broken.
 212 For my
 213 heart is 214 broken,
 215 and my
 216 eyes are
 217 weary,
 218 and my
 219 heart is 220 broken.
 221 For my
 222 heart is
 223 broken,
 224 and my
 225 eyes are
 226 weary,
 227 and my
 228 heart is
 229 broken.
 230 For my
 231 heart is
 232 broken,
 233 and my
 234 eyes are 235 weary,
 236 and my
 237 heart is 238 broken.
 239 For my
 240 heart is 241 broken,
 242 and my
 243 eyes are
 244 weary,
 245 and my
 246 heart is
 247 broken.
 248 For my
 249 heart is
 250 broken,
 251 and my
 252 eyes are 253 weary,
 254 and my
 255 heart is 256 broken.
 257 For my
 258 heart is
 259 broken,
 260 and my
 261 eyes are 262 weary,
 263 and my
 264 heart is 265 broken.
 266 For my
 267 heart is
 268 broken,
 269 and my
 270 eyes are
 271 weary,
 272 and my
 273 heart is 274 broken.
 275 For my
 276 heart is
 277 broken,
 278 and my
 279 eyes are 280 weary,
 281 and my
 282 heart is 283 broken.
 284 For my
 285 heart is
 286 broken,
 287 and my
 288 eyes are 289 weary,
 290 and my
 291 heart is
 292 broken.
 293 For my
 294 heart is 295 broken,
 296 and my
 297 eyes are 298 weary,
 299 and my
 300 heart is
 301 broken.
 302 For my
 303 heart is 304 broken,
 305 and my
 306 eyes are 307 weary,
 308 and my

 331 broken,
 332 and my
 333 eyes are 334 weary,
 335 and my
 336 heart is
 337 broken.
 338 For my
 339 heart is
 340 broken,
 341 and my
 342 eyes are 343 weary,
 344 and my
 345 heart is
 346 broken.
 347 For my
 348 heart is 349 broken,
 350 and my
 351 eyes are
 352 weary,
 353 and my
 354 heart is 355 broken.
 356 For my
 357 heart is
 358 broken,
 359 and my
 360 eyes are 361 weary,
 362 and my
 363 heart is
 364 broken.
 365 For my
 366 heart is
 367 broken,
 368 and my
 369 eyes are 370 weary,
 371 and my
 372 heart is 373 broken.
 374 For my
 375 heart is
 376 broken,
 377 and my
 378 eyes are
 379 weary,
 380 and my

1 Let me incline
 2 my ear to
 3 your words,
 4 O Lord.
 5 For my
 6 heart is
 7 troubled,
 8 and my
 9 eyes are
 10 weary,
 11 and my
 12 heart is
 13 broken.
 14 For my
 15 heart is 16 broken,
 17 and my
 18 eyes are 19 weary,
 20 and my
 21 heart is
 22 broken.
 23 For my
 24 heart is
 25 broken,
 26 and my
 27 eyes are
 28 weary,
 29 and my
 30 heart is
 31 broken.
 32 For my
 33 heart is 34 broken,
 35 and my
 36 eyes are
 37 weary,
 38 and my
 39 heart is
 40 broken.
 41 For my
 42 heart is
 43 broken,
 44 and my
 45 eyes are 46 weary,
 47 and my
 48 heart is
 49 broken.
 50 For my
 51 heart is 52 broken,
 53 and my
 54 eyes are
 55 weary,
 56 and my
 57 heart is 58 broken.
 59 For my
 60 heart is 61 broken,
 62 and my
 63 eyes are
 64 weary,
 65 and my
 66 heart is
 67 broken.
 68 For my
 69 heart is 70 broken,
 71 and my 72 eyes are
 73 weary,
 74 and my
 75 heart is
 76 broken.
 77 For my
 78 heart is
 79 broken,
 80 and my
 81 eyes are
 82 weary,
 83 and my
 84 heart is
 85 broken.
 86 For my
 87 heart is
 88 broken,
 89 and my
 90 eyes are
 91 weary,
 92 and my
 93 heart is
 94 broken.
 95 For my
 96 heart is
 97 broken,
 98 and my
 99 eyes are
 100 weary,
 101 and my
 102 heart is 103 broken.
 104 For my
 105 heart is 106 broken,
 107 and my
 108 eyes are
 109 weary,
 110 and my
 111 heart is
 112 broken.
 113 For my
 114 heart is 115 broken,
 116 and my
 117 eyes are
 118 weary,
 119 and my
 120 heart is 121 broken.
 122 For my
 123 heart is 124 broken,
 125 and my
 126 eyes are 127 weary,
 128 and my
 129 heart is
 130 broken.
 131 For my
 132 heart is
 133 broken,
 134 and my
 135 eyes are 136 weary,
 137 and my
 138 heart is
 139 broken.
 140 For my
 141 heart is
 142 broken,
 143 and my
 144 eyes are 145 weary,
 146 and my
 147 heart is
 148 broken.
 149 For my
 150 heart is 151 broken,
 152 and my
 153 eyes are
 154 weary,
 155 and my
 156 heart is
 157 broken.
 158 For my
 159 heart is
 160 broken,
 161 and my
 162 eyes are
 163 weary,
 164 and my
 165 heart is 166 broken.
 167 For my
 168 heart is 169 broken,
 170 and my
 171 eyes are 172 weary,
 173 and my
 174 heart is 175 broken.
 176 For my
 177 heart is 178 broken,
 179 and my
 180 eyes are 181 weary,
 182 and my
 183 heart is 184 broken.
 185 For my
 186 heart is
 187 broken,
 188 and my
 189 eyes are
 190 weary,
 191 and my
 192 heart is
 193 broken.
 194 For my
 195 heart is
 196 broken,
 197 and my
 198 eyes are
 199 weary,
 200 and my

O Lord God of my saluatiõ, I crye day
and night b before thee.

Let my prayer enter into thy presence:
incline thine eare vnto my crye.

For my soule is filled with euils, and my life draweth nere to the graue.

I am counted among them that go downe vnto the pit, and am as a man without strength:

As I amõg the dead, like the slaine lying in the graue, whome thou remembrest no more, and they are cut of from thine
hand.

Thou hast laied me in the lowest pit, in Thine indignation lieth vpon me, and thou hast vexed me with all thy e waues.

Sélah.

Thou hast put away mine f acquaintance farre fro me, & made me to be abhorred of them: s I am shut vp, and can not get forth.

Mine eye is sorrowful through mine affliction: Lord, I call dailey vpon thee: I stretche out mine hands vnto thee.

Wilt thou shewe a miracle to y dead:
or shal the dead rise & praise thee? Sélah.

Shal thy louing kindenes be declared
in the graue? or thy faithfulness in destruction?

Shal thy wonderous workes be known in the darke? and thy righteousness in the land of obliuion?

But vnto thee haue I cryed, o Lord, and early shal my praier come before thee.

Lord, why doest thou reiect my soule, &
hidest thy face from me?

I am afflicted and at the point of death:
from my youth I suffer thy terroures, dou-
ting of my life.

Thine indignations go ouer me, & thy feare hath cut me of.

They came round about me dailey like water, & compassed me together.

My louers and friends hast thou put away from me, and mine acquaintance hid them selues.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

With manie wordes doeth the Prophet praise the goodnes of God. 23 For his testament & covenant, that he had made betwene him and his elect by Iesus Christ
the same of Dauid: 28 Then doeth he complaine of the great ruine, and deolation of the kingdome of Da-uid, so that the outwarde appearance the promes was broke. 46 Finally he praieeth to be deliuered fro his affliction, making mention of the shortnes of mans life, & confirming him self by Gods promes.

A Psalm to giue instruction, of Echan the Exrahitte.

I Wil sing the mercies of the Lord for euer: with my mouth wil I declare thy truth from generation to generation.

For I b said, Mercie shalbe set vp for e-uer: thy truth shalt thou e stablish in the

I haue made a couenāt with my chosen:
I haue swoine to Dauid my seruant,

Thy seide wil I stablish for euer, and set vp thy throne from generation to generation. Sélah.

O Lord, euen the e heauens shal praise
thy wonderous worke: yea, thy truth in

The truth of Gods promises. Psalms.

The shortnes of man

The providence of God

- 20 I haue founde David my seruant: with mine holie oyle haue I anointed him.
 21 Therefore mine hand shalbe established with him, and mine arme shal strengthen him.
 22 The enemye shal not oppresse him, neither shal the wicked hurt him.
 23 But I wil <sup>f</sup> destroye his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.
 24 My trueth also and my <sup>f</sup> mercie shalbe with him, and in my Name shal his <sup>a</sup> horn be exalted.
 25 I wil set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the <sup>a</sup> floods.
 26 He shal crye vnto me, Thou art my <sup>f</sup> Father, my God and the rocke of my saluation.
 27 Also I wil make him my first borne, higher then the Kings of the earth.
 28 My mercie wil I keepe for him for euermore, and my couenant shal stand fast with him.
 29 His fede also wil I make to endure <sup>a</sup> for ever, and his throne as the dayes of heauen.
 30 But if his children forsake my Lawe, and walke not in my iudgements:
 31 <sup>a</sup> If they breake my statutes, and kepe not my commandements:
 32 Then wil I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquitie with strokes.
 33 <sup>a</sup> Yet my louing kindenes wil I not take from him, neither wil I falsifie my trueth.
 34 My couenant wil I not breake, nor <sup>a</sup> alter the thing that is gone out of my lippes.
 35 I haue sworne once by mine holines, that I wil not faile David, saying,
 36 His sede shal endure for ever, and his throne shalbe as the sunne before me.
 37 He shalbe established for euermore as the moon; & as a faithful <sup>a</sup> witnes in the heauen. Selah.
 38 But thou hast reiected and abhorred, thou hast bene angrie with thine Anointed.
 39 Thou hast <sup>a</sup> broken the couenant of thy seruant, & profaned his <sup>a</sup> crown, casting it on the grounde.
 40 Thou hast broken downe all his walles: thou hast layed his fortresses in ruine.
 41 All that go by the way, spoile him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.
 42 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.
 43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sworde, and hast not made him to stand in the battell.
 44 Thou hast caused his dignitie to decay, and cast his throne to the grounde.
 45 The dayes of his <sup>f</sup> youth hast thou shortened, and couered him with shame. Selah.

<sup>f</sup> Though there shalbe euermore enemies against Gods kingdome, yet he promisseth to ouercome them.

<sup>a</sup> I wil mercifully performe my promises to him, notwithstanding his iniquities & offences. In his power, glorie & estate. He shal enioye the land round about. His excellēt dignitie shal appeare here in that he shal be named the sonne of God, & his first borne, wherein he is a figure of Christ.

<sup>a</sup> Though for sinnes of the people, & state of this kingdome decayed: yet God reiecteth it a rote, till he had accomplished this promise in Christ.

<sup>a</sup> Sam. 7. 14. a Though the faithful sweet nooſen all point to their protection, yet God wil not breake his couenant with them.

<sup>b</sup> For God in promising hath the respect to his mercie and not to mans power in performing.

<sup>c</sup> Else if I lie vnto David: which is a matter of shame.

<sup>d</sup> As long as I sinneke noone endure, they shalbe witnesses to me of this promise.

<sup>e</sup> Because of his horrible confusion of things, the Prophete complaineth to God as though he sawe not the performance of his promises. And thus discharging his charges on God, he reiecteth doubt & impatience.

<sup>f</sup> By this he meaneth his horrible dissolution and reuelling of Kingdome, which was vnder the Roboſamor els by the Spirit of prophetic Echān speaketh of those great miseries, which came ſone afterwarde to paſſe at the captiuitie of Babylon. He ſheweth that the kingdome failed before it came to perfection or was ripe.

- 46 Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe for euill: shal thy wrath burne like fyre?
 47 Remember <sup>a</sup> of what time I am weak: therefore shouldest thou creat in vaine all the children of men?
 48 What man lueth, & shal not ſe death: shal he deliuer his soule from the hand of the graue? Selah.
 49 Lord, where are thy former mercies, which thou ſwareſt vnto David in thy trueth?
 50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy seruants, which I beare in my <sup>a</sup> boſome of all the mightie people.
 51 For <sup>a</sup> thine enemies haue reproched thee, O Lord, because they haue reproched thee: for they haue foretold of thine Anointed.
 52 Praiſed be the Lord for euermore. So be it, euen ſo be it.

A Psalm.

Sing vnto the Lord a new song: for he shat he done maruclous things: <sup>o</sup> his right hand, and his holie arme haue gotten him the victorie.

The Lord declared his saluation: his righteousnes hathe he reueiled in y<sup>e</sup> sight of the nations.

He hath remembred his mercie and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth haue sene the saluation
of our God.

All the earth, sing ye loude vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord:
crye out and reioyce, and sing praises.

Sing praise to the Lord vpon the harpe,
euen vpon the harpe with a singing voice.

With shalmes and bande of trumpets
sing loude before the Lord the King.

Let the sea roare, and all that therein is,
the worlde, and thei that dwell therein.

Let the floods clap their hands, & let the mountaines reioyce together

Before the Lord: for he is come to iudge
the earth: with righteousness shal he iudge
the worlde, and the people with equitie.

PSAL. XCIX.

He commendeth the power, equitie and excellencie

¶ A Psalm of David.

MY soule, praise y the Lord, & all that is within me, praise his holie Name.
My soule, praise thou the Lord, and forget not all his benefites.

Which forgiveth all thine iniquitie, &
healeth all thine infirmities.

Which edmeth thy life from y grave,
and crowneth thee with mercie and com-
pssions.

Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy youth is renewed like the egles.

The Lord executeth righteousness and
iudgement to all that are oppressed.

He made his waies known vnto Mosés,
& his workes vnto the children of Israël.

The Lord is ful of compassion and mer-
cie, slowe to angrie and of great kindenes.

He wil not alwaie chide, nether kepe his angre for euer.

He hath not dealt with vs after our finnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

For as high as the heauen is above the earth, so great is his mercie toward them
that feare him.

As farre as the East is from the West:
so farre hath he remoued our finnes from vs.

As a father hath compassio on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.

For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembereth that we are but dust.

The daies of y mā are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.

For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone,
and the place thereof shal knowe it no
more.

But the louing kindenes of the Lord en-

dureth for euer & euer vpon them that fea-
re him, and his righteousness vpon childrens children,

Vnto them that kepe his couenant, and
thinke vpon his commandements to do them.

The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome rulth ouer
all.

Praise the Lord, ye his Angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandement in obeying the voice of his worde.

Praise the Lord, all ye his hostes, ye his seruants that do his pleasure.

Praise the Lord, all ye his workes, in all places of his dominion: my soule, praise
thou the Lord.

PSAL. CIII.

An excellent Psalm to praise God for the creation of the worlde & the gouernance of the same by his mar-uelous prouidence, 33 44 herein the Prophet prateh against the wicked, who are occasions that God dimished his blessings.

MY soule, praise thou y Lord: o Lord
my God, thou art exceeding great, y
art clothed with glorie & honour.

Which couereth him self with light as
with a garment, & spreadeth the heauens
like a curtaine.

Which laeth the beames of his chābers
in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of
the winde.

Which maketh the spirits his messengers, & a flaming fyre his ministers.

He set the earth vpon her fundacions, so y
it shal neuer moue.

Thou coueredst it with y deepe as with a garment: the waters wolde stand about the mountaines.

But at thy rebuke thei flee: at the voice of thy thunder thei haste awaie.

And the mountaines ascend, & the valleis descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

But thou hast set them a bonde, which thei
shal not passe: thei shal not returne to couer the earth.

He sendeth the springs into the valleis,
which runne betwene the mountaines.

Thei shal giue drinke to all the beastes
of the field, and the wilde asses shal quen-
che their thirst.

By these springs shal the foules of the
heauen dwell, and sing among the brāches.

He watereth the mountaines from his chambers, & the earth is filled with the fruite of thy workes.

He causeth grasse to growe for the cat-
tel, and herbe for the vse of man, that he maie bring forth the bread out of the earth,

And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, & oyle to make the face to shine,

Sea, enen at the red Sea.

Nevertheless he saued them for his Names sake, that he might make his power to be known.

For they shew that they had hope that God according to his mercie would change the order of nature, rather then his people shoulde be chastised, although they were wicked.

And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dried vp, and he led them in the depe, as in
the wilderness.

And he saued them fro the aduersaries
hand, and deliuered them from the hand of the enimie.

And the waters covered their oppressors: not one of them was left.

Then beleued they his wordes, & sang praise vnto him.

But incontinently they forgate his wor-
kes: they waited not for his counsel,

But lusted with concupiscēce in the wil-
dernes, & tempted God in the desert.

Then he gaue them their desire: but he sent leannes into their soule.

They enuid Mosés also in the tentes, &
Aarón the holie one of the Lord.

Therefore the earth opened and swallowed vp Dathan, and couered the companie of Abirám.

And the fyre was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

They made a calfe in Horeb, & worshi-ped the molten image.

Thus they turned their glorie into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth
grasse.

They forgate God their Sauour, which had done great things in Egypt,

Wonderous workes in the land of Ham,
and fearful things by the red Sea.

Therefore he minded to destroye them,
had not Mosés his chosen stand in the
breache before hi to turne away his wrath,
lest he shoulde destroye them.

Also they contemned that pleasant
land, & beleued not is worde,

But murmured in their tentes, & hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

Therefore he lifted vp his had against them, to destroye them in the wilderness,

And to destroye their sede among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countreys.

They ioyned them selues also vnto Baal-peór, & did eat the offringes of the dead.

Thus they prouoked him vnto angre
with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

But Phinehas stode vp, and executed
iudgement, and the plague was staied.

And it was imputed vnto him for righteousnes from generation to generaciō
for euer.

They angered him also at the waters of Meribáh, so that Mosés was punished
for their sakes,

Because they vexed his spirit, so that he
spake vnaduisedly with his lippes.

Nether destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them,

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalm is composed of two other Psalmes before, the seven and fiftieth & the sixtieth. The matter here contained is, 1 That Dauid giueth him self with heart and reioyce to praise the Lord. 2 And assureth him self of the promise of God concerning his kingdome ouer Israel, and his power against other nations: 3 If he though he come to forsake vs for a time, yet he alone wil
 in the end cast downe our enemies.

As song or Psalm of David.

O God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I wil sing & giue praise,
 Awake vnto the Lord, I wil awake early.
 I wil praise thee O Lord, among the people,
 and I wil sing vnto thee among the nations.
 For thy mercie is great above the heauē,
 and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.
 Exalt thy self, O God, above the heauē,
 and let thy glorie be vpon all the earth,
 That thy beloued maie be deliuered:
 helpe with thy right hand and heare me.
 God hath spoken in his holines: therefore I wil reioyce, I shal diuide Shechem
 and measure the valley of Succoth.
 God ouer all, & so cōfesse that thou art glorious. 4 When thy enemies miseth vs parakers of his mercies, he commeth to requite them: as thou wilt continue in faith his graces. 5 As thou wilt requite them: as thou wilt continue in faith his graces. 6 As thou wilt requite them: as thou wilt continue in faith his graces.

8 Gilead shall be mine, and Manassah shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Iuda is my Lawgiuer.
 9 Moab shall be my washpott: our Edom wil
 I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina wil I triumph.
 10 Who wil leade me into the strong citie:
 who wil bring me vnto Edom?
 11 While I asethou, O God: which haddest forsaken vs, & diddest not go forth, O God,
 with our armie.
 12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine
 is the helpe of man.
 13 Through God we shal do valiantly: for
 he shal tread downe our enemies.

H Ode not thy tongue, O God of my praise.
 2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth of deceit are opened vpon me:
 they haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.
 3 They compassed me about also with wordes of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.
 4 For my friendship they were mine aduer-saries: but I gaue my self to praier.
 5 And they haue rewarded me euil for good, and hatred for my friendship.
 6 Set thou the wicked against him, and let his aduersarie stand at his right hand.
 7 When he shal be mugged, let him be condemned, and let his praier be turned into sinne.
 8 Let his daies be fewe, and let another
 take his charge.
 9 Let his children be fatherles, & his wife
 a widow.
 10 Let his children be vagabunds & begge
 and seeke bread, coming out of their places
 destroyed.
 11 Let the extortioner catche all y the ha-
 the, and let the stranger spoile his labour.
 12 Let there be none to extend mercie vn-
 to him: neither let there be anie to shewe
 mercie vpon his fatherles children.
 13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, & in the generation following let their name be put out.
 14 Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let
 not the sinne of his mother be done auaie.

Praise ye the Lord.
Praise, o ye seruants of the Lord, a praise the Name of the Lord.
Blessed be the Name of the Lord from
hence forth and for euer.
The Lords Name is praised from the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same.
The Lord is high about all nacions, &
his glorie about the heauens.
Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling on high!
Who abaseth him self to beholde things
in the heauen and in the earth.
He raiseth the nedie out of the dust, & lif-
teth vp the poore out of the dung,
That he maie set him with the princes, e-

PSAL. CXVI.

David being in great danger of Saile in the desert of Maab, perceiving the great and inestimable love of God toward him, magnifieth such great mercies, and protesteth that he will be thankfull for the same.

Love y Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my prayers.

For he hath inclined his care vnto me, when I did call vpon him in my daies.

When the snares of death compassed me, and the griefs of the graue caught me: when I founde trouble and sorowe,

Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseeche thee, O Lord, deliuer my soule.

The Lord is merciful & righteous, and our God is full of compassion.

The Lord preserueth the simple: I was in miserie and he saued me.

Returne vnto thy rest, O my soule: for y Lord hath bene beneficial vnto thee, because thou hast deliuered my soule from death, mine eyes from teares, & my feet from falling.

I shal walke before the Lord in the land of the liuing.

I beleued, therefore did I speake: for I was fore troubled.

I said in my feare, All men are liyers.

What shal I rendre vnto the Lord for all his benefices toward me?

I wil take the cup of saluacion, and call vpon the Name of the Lord.

I wil paie my vowes vnto y Lord, euen now in the presence of all his people.

Precious is the sight of the Lord is the death of his Saints.

Beholde, Lord: for I am thy seruant, I am thy seruant, & the sonne of thine hand maide: thou hast broken my bonds.

I wil offer to thee a sacrifice of praise, & wil call vpon the Name of the Lord.

I wil paie my vowes vnto the Lord, euen now in the presence of all his people.

In the courtes of the Lords house, as in the middes of thee, O Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

He exhorteth the Gentiles to praise God, because he hath accomplished a sile to them as to the Lewites promises of life euertlasting by Iesus Christ.

All nations, praise ye the Lord: all ye people, praise him.

For his louing kindenes is great toward vs, and the truth of the Lord endureth for euer. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXVII.

David reiects of Saile and of the people, at the time appointed, obtained the kingdome. For the which he biddeth all them that feare the Lord, to be thankfull. And vnder his person in all this was Christ liuely for those, who shoulde be of his people raised.

All nations, praise ye the Lord: all ye people, praise him.

Thei haue compassed me, yea, they haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord shal I destroye them.

Thei came about me like bees, but they were quenched as a fyre of thornes: for in the Name of the Lord I shal destroye them.

Thou hast thrust fore at me, that I might fall: but the Lord hath holpen me.

The Lord is my strength and song: for he hath bene my deliueance.

The voice of ioye and deliueance shal be in the tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

The right hand of the Lord is exalted: the right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

I shal not dye, but liue, and declare the workes of the Lord.

The Lord hath chastened me sore, but he hath not deliuered me to death.

Open ye vnto me the gates of righteousness, that I maie go in to the, & praise the Lord.

This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shal entre into it.

I wil praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and hast bene my deliueance.

The stone, which the builders refused, is the head of the corner.

This was the Lords doing, & it is maruelous in our eyes.

This is the day, which the Lord hath made: let vs reioyce and be glad in it.

O Lord, I praie thee, saue now: O Lord, I praie thee now giue prosperitie.

He sheweth that we ought not to iustifie ourselues by our owne merits, except hee giue us grace by his mercie.

Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

Let Israell now saie, That his mercie endureth for euer.

Let the house of Aaron now saie, That his mercie endureth for euer.

Let them, that feare the Lord, now saie, That his mercie endureth for euer.

PSAL. CXX.

The Prophet exhorteth the children of God to frame their liues according to his holie worde. 123 Also he sheweth wherein the true seruice of God standeth: that is, in the seruice him according to his worde, and not after the sense of man.

ALEPH.

Blessed are those that are vpriight in their waie, & walke in the Lawe of the Lord.
Blessed are they that kepe his testimonies, & seke him with their whole heart.
Surely they worke none iniquitie, that walke in his waies.
Thou hast commanded to kepe thy precepts diligently.
O that my waies were directed to kepe thy statutes.
Then shoulde I not be confounded, when I haue respect vnto all thy commandements.

I wil praise thee with an vpriight heart, when I shall learne the iudgements of thy righteousness.
I wil kepe thy statutes: forsake me not for euersong.

BETH.

Wherewith shall a young man redresse his waie: in taking heed thereto according to thy worde.
With my whole heart haue I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commandements.
I haue hid thy promises in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.
Blessed art thou, O Lord: teache me thy statutes.

With my lipps haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.
I haue had as great delite in the waie of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

I wil meditate in thy precepts, and consider thy waies.
I wil delite in thy statutes, & I wil not forget thy worde.

GIMEL.

Beneficial vnto thy seruant, that I maie liue and kepe thy worde.
Open mine eyes, that I maie see the wonders of thy Law.

I am a stranger vpon earth: hide not thy face from me, O Lord.
I haue said, I will not be able to see the face of the Lord: for I am a stranger vpon earth.

I haue said, I will not be able to see the face of the Lord: for I am a stranger vpon earth.

I haue said, I will not be able to see the face of the Lord: for I am a stranger vpon earth.

thy commandements from me.
Mine heart breaketh for desire to thy iudgements alwaie.
Thou hast destroyed the proude: cursed are they that do erre from thy commandements.
Remove from me shame and contempt: for I haue kept thy testimonies.
Princes also did sit, & speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.
Also thy testimonies are my delite, & my counsellors.

DALETH.

My soule cleaueth to the dust: quicken me according to thy worde.
I haue declared my waies, and thou heardest me: teache me thy statutes.
Make me to vnderstand the waie of thy precepts, and I wil meditate in thy wordes.
My soule melteth for heauines: raise me vp according vnto thy worde.
Take from me the waie of lying, and grant me graciously thy Law.
I haue chosen the waie of truth, & thy iudgements haue I laied before me.
I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, O Lord: confounde me not.
I wil runne the waie of thy commandements, when thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

HE.

Teache me, O Lord, the waie of thy statutes, and I wil kepe it vnto the end.
Giue me vnderstanding, and I wil kepe thy Law: yea, I wil kepe it with my whole heart.

Direct me in the path of thy commandements: for therein is my delite.
Incline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to couetousnes.
Turne awaie mine eyes from regarding vanitie, & quicken me in thy waie.
Stablish thy promises to thy seruant, because he feareth thee.
Take awaie my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.
Beholde, I desire thy commandements: quicken me in thy righteousness.

VAU.

And let thy louing kindenes come vnto me, O Lord, & thy saluacion according to thy promises.
So shall I make answer vnto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy worde.
And take not the worde of truth vtterly out of my mouth: for I wait for thy iudgements.
So shall I alwaie kepe thy Lawe for euer and euer.

And I wil walke at libertie: for I seke to be able to confute the slanderers of his aduersaries: & ply walke after Gods worde, haue no lets to intangle them, where as they, that do contrary, are euer in nets and snares.

VII.

In all ages I haue plagued all such, & maliciously & contemptuously depart from thy truth. When the powers of the worlde gaine false sentence against me, thy worde was a guide & counsellor to teache me what to do, & to comfort me. That is, it is almost brought to the grave, & without thy worde I can not liue. I haue confessed mine offences, and thou hast wholly on thee. If God did not mainteine vs by his worde, O life wolde we were like water. Instruct me in thy worde, when by my sinne I am purged to vanitie & thought to obey thy wil. By this he sheweth I we can neither choose good, cleaue to Gods word, nor runne forward in his waies, except he make a hearts large: to receiue his grace, & to follow his will. He sheweth that he can not followe vnto the end, except God teache him oile times and lead him forward. Not onely in outward conversation, but also inward affection. He sheweth meaning by meaning, because y couetousnes is the rote of all euil. Meaning all his senses. Let me not fall to thy dishonour, but let mine heart shal delite in thy gracious worde. Giue me strength to continue in thy worde euen to the end. He sheweth y Gods grace and loue is the first cause of our saluacion. By trusting in Gods worde he sheweth that he hath no feare of the enemy, where as they, that do contrary, are euer in nets and snares.

hath accomplished his promises, and placed his Ark in Zion. 1 For the which he giueth thanks. 8 And praiseth for the prosperitie of the Church.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of David.

Reioyced, when they said to me, We will go into the house of the Lord.

Our feet shal stand in thy gates, O Ierusalem.

Ierusalem is buylded as a citie, that is compact together in it self.

Whereunto the tribes, euen the tribes
of the Lord go vp according to the testimonie to Israhel, to praise the Name of the Lord.

For there are thrones set for iudgement,
euen the thrones of the house of David.

Praise for the peace of Ierusalem: let the prosper that loue thee.

Peace be within thy walles, & prospe-
ritie within thy palaces.

For my brethren and neighbours sake
I wil wish thee now prosperitie.

Because of the House of the Lord our God, I wil procure thy welth.

PSAL. CXXIII.

A prayer of the faithful, which were afflicted either in Babylon or vnder Antiochus by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

A song of degrees.

Lift vp mine eyes to thee, that dwel-
lest in the heauens.

Beholde, as the eyes of seruants lye vn-
to the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden vnto the had of her master: so our eyes waite vpon the Lord our God vntil he haue mercie vpon vs.

Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs: for we haue sinned to mu-che contempt.

Our soule is filled to ful of the mocking of the welthe, & of the despitulnes of the proude.

The people of God, escaping a great peril, do acknowledge them selues to be deliuered, not by their owne forces, but by the power of God. 4 They declare the great-nes of the peril, 6 And praise the Name of God.

A song of degrees or Psalme of David.
If the Lord had not bene on our side,
I (maie Israhel now say)

If the Lord had not bene on our side, whē
men rose vp against vs,

They had then swallowed vs vp quickly, whē their wrath was kindled against vs.

Then the waters had drowned vs, and
the streame had gone ouer our soule:

Then had the swelling waters gone ouer
our soule.

Praised be the Lord, which hathe not gi-
uen vs as a praye vnto their teeth.

Our soule is escaped, euen as a birde out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare
had not caught any fauorously rage against the faithful, but crately

PSAL. CXXV.

He describeth the assurance of the faithful in their afflictions, 4 And desireth their welth, And the destrution of the wicked.

A song of degrees.

Thou that trust in the Lord, shal be as a mount Zion, which can not be remo-
ued, but remaineth for euer.

As the mountaines are about Ierusalem:
so is the Lord about his people from hence forth, and for euer.

For the rod of the wicked shal not rest
on the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous put forth their hand vnto wicked-
nes.

Do wel, O Lord, vnto those that be good
and true in their hearts.

But these that turne aside by their cro-ked waies, them shal the Lord leade with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shal be vpon Israhel.

PSAL. CXXVI.

This psalme was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meane of their deliuerance was wonderful after the seuentie yerres of captiuitie foretold by Ieremie chap. 25. 12. & 29. 10.

A song of degrees or Psalme of David.

When the Lord brought againe the captiuitie of Zion, we were like them that dreame.

Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioye: then said
thei among the heathē, The Lord hathe done great things for them.

The Lord hathe done great things for vs, whereof we reioyce.

O Lord, bring againe our captiuitie, as the riuers in the South.

Thei that sowe in teares, shal reape in
ioye.

Thei went weeping and caried precious seede: but thei shal returne with ioye and bring their sheaues.

It is no more impossible to God
to deliuer his people, then to cause the riuers to runne in the wilderness and barren places.
That is, seede which was scarce & deriding, that thei which trusted in Gods promes to returne, had their desire.

2 When thou eatest the labours of thine hands, thou shalt be blessed, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine on the sides of thine house, and thy children like the olive plants round about thy table.

4 Lo, surely thus shall the man be blessed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zion shall bless thee, and thou shalt see the welth of Jerusalem all the dayes of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy childrens children, and peace vpon Israel.

PSAL. CXLI.

This Psalm was composed, when the kingdom of David was restored. & Wherein he describeth the wonderful prouidence of God, as wel in governing man, as in preserving all the rest of his creatures. 17 He praiseh God for his iustice & mercie, 18 But specially for his loving kindenes toward those that call vpon him, that fear him, and love him: 21 For the which he pro-
miseth to praise him for euer.

A Psalm of David of praise.

My God and King, I wil extoll thee, and wil blesse thy Name for e-uer and euer.

I wil blesse thee daily, and praise thy Name for euer and euer.

Great is the Lord, & moste worthie to be praised, and his greatnes is incomprehensible.

Generacion shal praise thy workes vnto
generacion, and declare thy power.

I wil meditate of the beautie of thy glorious maiestie, & thy wonderful workes,
and they shal speake of the power of thy & fearful Actes, and I wil declare thy greatnes.

They shal breake out into the mencion
of thy great goodnes, & shal sing aloude
of thy righteousness.

The Lord is gracious and merciful,
slowe to anger, and of great mercie.

The Lord is good to all, & his mercies
are ouer all his workes.

All thy workes praise thee, O Lord, and thy Saints blesse thee.

They shewe the glorie of thy kingdo-
me and speake of thy power,

whereafter what forte God sheweth him self to all his creatures: & how he hath punished the wicked, & how he hath pardoned the finnes of his elect, but in doing good euen to those they can not feele the swete comfort of the same. & The more appereth in all thy creatures: & though the wicked wolde be by their office, yet the faithful are euer mindful of the same.

To cause his power to be knowne to the sonnes of men, & the glorious renome
of his kingdome.

Thy kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, & thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

The Lord vpholdeth all that fall, and
lifteth vp all that are readie to fall.

The eyes of all waite vpon thee, and thou giuest them their meat in due season.

Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

The Lord is righteous in all his waies,
and holie in all his workes.

The Lord is nere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in truth.

He wil fulfil the desire of them that feare him: he also wil heare their crye, &
wil saue them.

The Lord preserueth all them that loue
him: but he wil destroye all the wicked.

My mouth shal speake the praise of the Lord, and all flesh shal blesse his holie
Name for euer and euer.

liuing them. 1 Which onely appertaineth to the faithfull: and this ver-tue is contrarie to infidelitie, doubting, impacience and murmuring.
m For they will do or wish for nothing, but according to his wil. 1. Job 4 n That is, all men shal be bounde to praise him.

PSAL. CXLVI.

David declareth his great zeale that he hath to praise God. 3 And teacheth, not to trust in man, but only in God almightie. 7 Which deliuereth the afflicted. 9 Defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fa-therles, and the widowes. 10 And reigneth for euer.

Praise ye the Lord.

Praise thou the Lord, O my soule.
I wil praise the Lord during my life: as long as I haue anie being, I wil sing
vnto my God.

Put not your trust in princes, nor in the
sonne of mā, for there is none helpe in hi.

His breath departeth, & he returneth to his earth: then his thoughts perish.

Blessed is he, that hath the God of Iaa-kōb for his helpe, whose hope is in the Lord
his God.

h He assureth the Church of Gods reigneth for euer for preference of the same.

10 The Lord shal <sup>h</sup> reigne for euer: <sup>o</sup> Zión,thy God endureth from generation to generation. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet praiseth the bountie, wisdom, power, iustice & prouidence of God vpon all his creatures, 2 But specially vpon his Church, which he gathereth together after their dispersion, 3 Declaring his worde and iudgements so vnto them, as he hath done to none other people.

1 Praise yet the Lord, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is a pleasant thing, & praise is comelie.

2 The Lord doeth buyld vp Ierusalém, & gather together the disperfed of Israel. 3 He healeth those that are broken in heart, and bindeth vp their sores.

4 He counteth the number of the starres, & calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: his wisdom is infinite.

6 The Lord releueth the meke, & abaseth the wicked to the ground.

7 Sing vnto the Lord with praise: sing vpon the harpe vnto our God,

8 Which couereth the heauē with cloudes and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the grasse to growe vpon the mountaines:

9 Which giueth to beastes their fode, and to the yong rauens that crye.

10 He hath not pleasure in the strength of an horse, nether deliteth he in the legges of man.

11 But the Lord deliteth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercie.

13 For he hath made the barres of thy gates strong, and hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 He setteth peace in thy borders, & satisfieth thee with the floure of wheat.

15 He sendeth forth his commandemēt vpon earth, and his worde runneth verie swiftly.

16 He giueth snow like wool, & scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his yce like morsels: who can abide the colde thereof?

18 He sendeth his worde and melteth the ice: he causeth his winde to blowe, & the waters flowe.

19 He sheweth his worde vnto Iakób, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with euery nation, neither haue they known his iudgements. 1 He doeth not only furnish his Church with all things necessarie, but preferreth also the same, & maketh it strong against all outward force. 2 His secret working in all creatures is as a commandemēt to kepe the in order, & to giue the mouing & force. 3 For iudicially & without rethiking all things obserueth. 4 As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his worde he meant here, by his worde, Iudicium of life euerslasting, & he hath left his Church, as a most precious treasure. 5 The cause of this difference is Gods free mercie, which hath elected his in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluation: & his other iudgemēt, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

a He sheweth wher we ought to exercise our felicitie continually, & to take our pastime: to wit, in praising God. b Because the Lord is the founder of the Church, he can not be destroyed, though many members thereof be disperfed, and some, as it were, for a time to be cut off. c With affliction or sorrow for sinne. d Though it seeme to man incredible, that God should assemble his Church, being so disperfed, yet nothing can be so hard to him, that can move & name all the starres. e For the more high that the wicked climb, the greater is their fall in the end. f He sheweth by the examples of Gods mightie power, goodnes & wisdom, that we cannot without occasion to praise God. g For their crying is as it were a confession of their need, which cannot be relieved but by God. h Onely then if God shew him self mercifull to those contemptible foules, can he suffer them to dye in famine, whome he hath assured of life euerslasting? i Though to vs lawfull meates be bothe profitable & pleasurable, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraude God of his honour. k He doeth not only furnish his Church with all things necessarie, but preferreth also the same, & maketh it strong against all outward force. l His secret working in all creatures is as a commandemēt to kepe the in order, & to giue the mouing & force. m As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his worde he meant here, by his worde, Iudicium of life euerslasting, & he hath left his Church, as a most precious treasure. n The cause of this difference is Gods free mercie, which hath elected his in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluation: & his other iudgemēt, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 He prouoketh all creatures to praise the Lord in heauē and earth and all places, 2 Specially his Church, the power that he hath giuen to the same after that he had chosen them and rayned them vnto him.

1 Praise ye the Lord.

2 Praise ye him in the high places.

3 Praise ye him, all ye his Angels, praise him, all his armie.

4 Praise ye him, sunne and moone: praise him all bright starres.

5 Praise ye him, heauens of heauens, & waters, that be about the heauens.

6 Let them praise the Name of the Lord for he hath created them, and they were created.

7 And he hath established them for euer, and euer: he hath made an ordinance, which shal not passe.

8 Praise ye the Lord fro the earth, ye dragons and all depth:

9 Fyre and haille, snowe and vapors, stormie winde, which execute his worde:

10 Mountaines and all hilles, fruitfull trees and all cedres:

11 Beastes and all cattel, creeping things, & feathered foules.

12 Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all iudges of the worlde:

13 Yong men and maidens, also olde men and children:

14 Let them praise the Name of the Lord, for his Name onely is to be exalted, and his praise about the earth and the heauens.

15 For he hath exalted the horne of his people, which is a praise for all his Saints, euen for the children of Israel, a people that is nere vnto him. Praise ye the Lord.

16 By Gods appointed ordinance, 17 For the greatest gift, received, and the more high that one has preferred, the more he praye God for the same, but neither high nor lowe can be exempted from this doctrine. 18 That is, the almightie power of his Church. 19 By reason of his covenant made with Abraham.

20 An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lord for his victorie and conquest, that he giueth his Saints against all mans power.

21 Praise ye the Lord.

22 Sing ye vnto the Lord, a new song: let his praise be heard in the Congregation of Saints.

23 Let Israel reioyce in him that made him, and let the children of Zión reioyce in their King.

24 Let them praise his Name with the fluttimber and harpe.

25 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: he will make the make glorious by his luicance.

26 Let the Saints be ioyful with glorie: let them sing loude vpon their beddes.

27 continually flicke vnto him as to their most lawfull King to that continual rest, and quietnes; which they shall haue.

28 Let the high Actes of God be mouth, and a two edged sword hands;

The foolish hate wisdom. Prouerbes. The harlot desireth the chiefest treasure.

Whereby he concludeth the covetous man is a murderer.

This wisdom is the eternal word of God.

So that none can pretend ignorance.

Wisdom reprooveth three kinds of men: the foolish or simple, which are of ignorance, and mockers, that can not suffer to be taught, and fools which are drowned in worldly lusts, and hate the knowledge of godliness.

This is spoken according to our capacity, signifying that the wicked, who mock & scoff at Gods words, shall have the just reward of their mocking.

That is, your destruction, & thing you feared.

Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their owne grief.

Shewing without faith and obedience we can not call upon God aright.

They shall see what commodity their wicked life shall give them.

That is, the prosperitie, & sensualitie, wherein they delite.

That is, keepe them in thine heart.

If thou give thy self to the true knowledge of God without hypocrisie.

Meaning, if we must reke the knowledge of God with care and diligence.

Shewing, no labour must be spared.

This sayeth he, the true wisdom to knowe, & feare God.

Or, desireth the salvation.

Suche are the wayes of everie one that is greedy of gaine: he wolde take away the life of the owners thereof.

¶ A wisdom cryeth without: she uttereth her voyce in the streets.

She calleth in the hye strete among the prease in the entrings of the gates, & uttereth her wordes in the citie, saying,

O ye foolish, how long wil ye loue foolishnes: & the skornefull take their pleasure in skorning, & the foolkes hate knowledge.

(Turne you at my correction: lo, I wil powre out my minde vnto you, & make you vnderstand my wordes)

Because I haue called, and ye refused: I haue stretched out mine hand, and none wolde regarde.

But ye haue despised all my counsell, & wolde none of my correction.

I wil also laugh at your destruction, and mocke, when your feare cometh.

When your feare cometh like sudden desolation, and your destruction shall come, like a whirle winde: when affliction & anguish shall come vpon you,

Then shall they call vpon me, but I wil not answer: they shall seeke me early, but they shall not finde me,

Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord.

Thei wolde none of my counsell, but despised all my correction.

Therefore shall they eat of the frute of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuises.

For a ease slayeth the foolish, and the prosperitie of foolkes destroyeth them.

But he that obeith me, shall dwell safely, & be quiet from feare of euil.

CHAP. II.

Wisdom exhorteth to obey her. She teacheth the feare of God. & She is giuen of God. She preferreth from wickednes.

My sonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and hide my commandements within thee,

And cause thine eares to hearken vnto wisdom, & encline thine heart to vnderstanding,

(For if thou callest after knowledge, & cryest for vnderstanding:

If thou seekest her as siluer, and searchest for her as for treasures,

Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, and finde the knowledge of God.

For the Lord giueth wisdom, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.

He preferreth the state of righteous: he is a shield to them that walke vprightly,

That they may kepe the wayes of iudgement: and he preferreth the way of the Saints)

Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousness, and iudgement, and equitie, & euery good path.

¶ When wisdom entreth into thine heart, and knowledge deliteth thy soule,

Then shall counsell preferre thee, & vnderstanding shall kepe thee,

And deliuer thee from the euil way, and from the man that speaketh flatterie,

And from them that leaue the waies of righteousness to walke in the waies of crokenes:

Which reioyce in doing euil, & delight in the frowardnes of the wicked,

Whose waies are crooked and they are lewde in their paths.

And it shall deliuer thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes.

Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.

Surely her house tenderth to death, & her paths vnto the dead.

All they that go vnto her, returne not againe, neither take they holde of the waies of life.

Therefore walke thou in the waies of good men, & kepe the waies of the righteous,

For the iust shall dwell in the land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.

But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

CHAP. III.

The words of God giue life. Trust in God. Truste him. Honour him. Suffre his correction. Let them that follow the words of God, all things shall succede well.

My sonne, forget not thou my Law, but let thine heart kepe my commandements.

For they shall increase the length of thy daies, and the yers of life, and thy prosperitie.

Let not mercie and trueth forsake thee: binde them on thy necke, & write them vpon the table of thine heart.

So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.

Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdom.

In all thy waies acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy waies.

Be not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord, and departe from euil.

So health shall be vnto thy navel, and marrow

marrow vnto thy bones.

Honour the Lord with thy riches, with the first frimes of all thine income.

So shall thy barnes be filled with dance, and thy presses shall be full of wine.

¶ My sonne, refuse not the correction of the Lord, neither be grieved when he reuerceth.

For the Lord correcteth him whom he loveth, euen as the father doeth the sonne whom he deliteth.

Blessed is the man that findeth correction, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.

For the marchandise thereof is more precious than the marchandise of siluer, and she gaineth thereof is better then gold.

It is more precious then pearles, things that thou canst desire, are compared vnto her.

Length of daies is in her right hand, in her left hand riches and glory.

Her waies are waies of pleasure, her paths prosperitie.

She is a tree of life to them that take heed on her, and blessed is he that feareth her.

The Lord by wisdom hath laid the fundacion of the earth, and hath blisshed the heavens through vnderstanding.

By his knowledge the deepes are ken vp, and the cloudes droppe dewe.

¶ My sonne, let not these things escape thee, but obserue wisdomes counsel.

So thei shall be life to thy soule, & vnto thy necke.

Thei shall thou walke safely, and thy foot shall not stumble.

If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be troubled, and when thou sleepest, thy sleep shall be sweete.

Thou shalt not feare for anie reuersion, neither for the destruction of the land, when it cometh.

For the Lord shall be for thine helper, & thou shalt kepe thy foot from the snare.

Withholde not the good word, but thou shalt be the owners thereof, though thou be in thine hand to do it.

Saie not vnto thy neighbour, I will not do this, for thou shalt do it againe, and to morowe wil I be ashamed, for thou now haue it.

Incline none hurt against thy neighbour, for he doeth dwell without thee.

Strive not with a man, for he hath done thee no harme.

Be not enuious for the wealth of the rich, for he shall be cut off, and thou shalt be his heir.

¶ My sonne, let not thy heart be enuious for the wealth of the rich, for he shall be cut off, and thou shalt be his heir.

Let not thy heart be enuious for the wealth of the rich, for he shall be cut off, and thou shalt be his heir.

Let not thy heart be enuious for the wealth of the rich, for he shall be cut off, and thou shalt be his heir.

Let not thy heart be enuious for the wealth of the rich, for he shall be cut off, and thou shalt be his heir.

of the Lord, nether be grieued with his cor rection.

For the Lord correcteth him, whome he looueth, euē as the father doeth the childe in whome he delicteth.

Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom,
and the man that getteth vnderstan
ding.

For the marchandise thereof is better
then the marchandise of siluer, and the gaine thereof is better then golde.

It is more precious then pearls: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.

Length of daies is in her right hand, &
in her left hand riches and glorie.

Her waies are waies of pleasure, and all her paths prosperitie.

She is a tre of life to them that laie
hold on her, and blessed is he that reticneth
her.

The Lord by wisdom hath laied the
fundacion of the earth, and hath sta
bilished the heauens through vnderstan
ding.

By his knowledge the deeps are bro ken vp, and the cloudes droppe downe the dewe.

My sonne, let not these things departe frō
thine eyes, but obserue wisdom, and coun sel.

So thei shal be life to thy soule, and gra ce vnto thy necke.

The shalt thou walke safely by thy waie:
and thy fore shal not stumble.

If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afraied,
and when thou sleepest, thy slepe shal be swete.

Thou shalt not feare for anie suddē fea
re, nether for the destruction of the wic ked, when it cometh.

For the Lord shal be for thine assurance, & shal preserue thy fore from taking.

Withholde not the good from the owners thereof, though there be power
in thine hand to do it.

Saie not vnto thy neighbour, Go & come again, and to morowe wil I giue thee, if thou now haue it.

Incede none hurt agāst thy neighbour,
suing he doeth dwell without feare by
thee.

Strive not with a man causeles, when
he hath done thee no harme.

Be not enuious for the wicked man,
nether chafe anie of his waies.

For the froward is abomination vnto
the Lord: but his secret is with the right eous.

The curse of the Lord is in the house
of the wicked: but he blesseth the habita
tion of the righteous.

With the skorneful he skorneth, but
he giueth grace vnto the humble.

The wise shal inherite glorie: but fool
es dishonour, though they be exalted.

CHAP. IIII.

Wisdom and her frutes ought to be searched. 14 The way of the wicked must be refused. 20 By the wordes
of God the heart, eyes and course of life must be gui ded.

Hear, o ye children, the instruction
of a father, and giue care to learne
vnderstanding.

For I do giue you a good doctrine: there fore forsake ye not my law.

For I was my fathers sonne, tender and deere in the sight of my mother,

When he taught me, and said vnto me,
Let thine heart holde fast my wordes: kepe
my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

Get wisdom: get vnderstanding: forget
not, nether decline from the wordes of my mouth.

Forsake her not, and she shal kepe thee:
loue her and she shal preserue thee.

Wisdom is the beginning: get wisdom therefore: and about all thy possession get vnderstanding.

Exalt her, and she shal exalt thee: she shal bring thee to honour, if thou embrace
her.

She shal giue a comelie ornament vnto
thine head, yea, she shal giue thee a crowne
of glorie.

Hear me my sonne, and receiue my wor
des, and the yerres of thy life shal be ma
nie.

I haue taught thee in the waie of wis
dome, and led thee in the paths of right eousnes.

When thou goest, thy gate shal not be strait, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

Take holde of instruction, & leaue not:
kepe her, for she is thy life.

Entre not into the way of the wicked, &
walke not in the waie of euil men.

Avoid it & go not by it: turne from it, & passe by.

For thei can not slepe, except thei haue done euil, and their slepe departeth, except thei cause some to fall.

For they eat the bread of wickednes,
and drinke the wine of violence.

But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that shineth more and more vn till.

That is, his

14 Lewer things are in his heart: the imagineth euil at all times, and raiseth vp contentions.

15 Therfore shal his destructiō come spe-dely: he shalbe destroyed suddenly without recoverie.

16 These six things doeth the Lord hate:
yea, his soule abhorreth seuen:

17 The haucie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shede innocent blood,

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, a fete that bewist in running to mischiefe,

19 A falsse winnes that speaketh lyes, & him
that raiseth vp cōtentions amōg brethré.

20 My sonne, kepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21 Binde them alway vpon thine heart, and
tye them about thy necke.

22 It shal leade thee, when thou walkest: it shal watch for thee, when thou slepest, and when thou wakest, it shal talke with thee:

23 For the commandement is a lantern,
and instruction a light: and cōreCTIONS
for instruction are the waie of life,

24 To kepe thee from the wicked woman,
& from the flatterie of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, nether let her take thee with her eyeliddes.

26 For because of the whoorish womā a man
is brought to a morsel of bread, & a woman
wil hunt for the precious life of a man.

27 Can a man take fyre in his bosome, &
his clothes not be burne?

28 Or can a man go vpon coles, and his fete
not be burne?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shal not be innocent, whosoeuer toucheth her.

30 Men do not despise a thief, when he stealeth, to satisfie his soule, because he is hungry.

31 But if he be founde, he shal restore seuen fold, or he shal giue all the substance of his house.

32 But he that committeth adulterie with a woman, he is destitute of vnderstanding:
he y doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He shal finde a wounde and dishonour,
& his reproche shal neuer be put away.

34 For ielousie is y rage of a man: therefore he wil not spare in the day of vengeance.

35 He can not beare the sight of anie raun-
some: neither wil he consent, though thou augment the giftes.

CHAP. VII.

An exhortation to wisdom and to the wordes of God,
which wil preserve vs from the harlots, & whose maner are described.

MY sonne, kepe my wordes, and hide
my commandements with thee.

2 Kepe my commandements, & thou shalt liue, and mine instruction as the apple of thine eyes.

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 Saie vnto wisdom, Thou art my sister:
and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman,

5 That they maie kepe thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger that is smothe in her wordes.

6 As I was in the windowe of mine
house, I looked through my windowe,

7 And I sawe among the fooles, and considered among the children a yong man destitute of vnderstanding,

8 Who passed through the strete by her
corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the euening, when the night began to be blacke and darke.

10 And beholde, there met him a woman with an harlots behauiour, and subtil in
heart.

11 (She is babling and lowde: whose fete
cannot abide in her house.

12 Now she is without, now in the stretes, &
liech in waite at currie corner)

13 So she caught him & kissed him & with an impudent face said vnto him,

14 I haue peace offings: this day haue
I paid my vowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to te mete thee: y
I might seke thy face: & I haue founde thee.

16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments,
carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrrhe,
aloes, and cynamom.

18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntil the
mornig: let vs take our pleasure in dallie,

19 For mine husband is not at home: he is gone a iourney farre of.

20 He hath taken with him a bagge of siluer, and wil come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft she caused him to yelde, & with her flattering lippes
she entised him.

22 And he followed her straightwaies, as an oxe that goeth to the slaughter, & as a foole to the stockes for correction,

23 Til a darte strike through his liuer, as a birde hath to the snare, not knowing that he is in danger.

24 Heare me now therefore, & children,
and hearken to the wordes of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her waies:
wander thou not in her paths.

26 For she hath caused manie to fall downe
wounded, and the strong men are all slay-ne by her.

27 Her house is the waie vnto the graue,
which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

by this diuer

he meaneth y

of his owne

that he can pretend no ignorance, for al-

3 She cryeth besides the gates before the
citie at the entrie of the dores, 4 O men, I call vnto you, and vnto my voice to the children of men.
5 O ye foolish men, vnderstand wisdom,
and ye, o fooles, be wise in heart.
6 Giue care, for I wil speake of excellent things, and the opening of my lippes shal
teache things that be right.
7 For my mouth shal speake the trueth, and my lippes abhorre wickednes.
8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous, there is no lewdenes, nor frowardenes in them.
9 They are all plain to him that wil vn-derstand, and straight to them that wolde
finde knowledge.
10 Receiue mine instruction, and not sluer,

11 For wisdom is better then precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be com-

12 I wisdom dwell with prudence, and I finde forthe knowledge and counsels.
13 The feare of the Lord is to hate euil
as pride, and arrogancie, and the euil waie:
and a mouth that speaketh lewde things,
I do hate.
14 I haue counsell and wisdom: I am vnderstanding, & I haue strength.
15 By me, Kings reign, and princes decree iustice.
16 By me princes rule and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.
17 I loue them that loue me: & they that seeke
me early, shal finde me.
18 Riches and honour are with me: eu-
er durable riches and righteousness.
19 My fruit is better then golde, euen the fine

20 I cause to walke in the waie of righte-ousnes, & in the middes of the paths of iudgement, 21 That I maie cause them that loue me, to inherit substance, and I wil fill their treasures.
22 The Lord hath possessed me in the beginning of his waie: I was before his wor-kes of olde.
23 I was set vp from euerlasting, from the beginning & before the earth.
24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines
abundant with water.

25 Before the mountaines were feeld:
before the hilles, was I begotten.
26 He had not yet made the earth, nor open places, nor the height of the dun-
the worlde.
27 When he prepared the heauens, I was there, when he set the compas vpon
the depe.
28 When he established the cloudes above,
when he confirmed the fountaines of
the depe,
29 When he gaue his decree to the sea, that
the waters shoulde not passe his commadement: when he appointed the foundations of the earth,
30 Then was I with him as a nou-risher: and I was daily his delite reioycing
before him,
31 And toke my place in the compasse
of his earth: & my delite was with the children of men.
32 Therefore now hearken, o children, vn-
derstand: for blessed are they that kepe my wordes.
33 I heare instruction, and be ye wise, & reflect it not: blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, & gi-
uing attendance at the postes of my dores.
34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and shal obteine fauour of the Lord.
35 But he that sinneth against me, hurte-
th his owne soule: & all that hate me, longeth death.

wicked, getteth to him self a blot.
8 Rebuke not a scorner, lest he hate thee:

9 Giue admonition to the wise, and he wil

THE PARABLES OF SA.

1 A Wife a sonne maketh a foolish sonne: but a foolish sonne is an honor to his mother.
2 The treasures of wickednes
are nothing: but righteousness deliueth death.
3 The Lord wil not famish the righteous: but he catcheth aw-fullnes of the wicked.
4 A mouthful hand maketh poor:
and the diligent maketh rich.
5 He that gathereth in summer,
is of wisdom: but he that slepeth
in autumn, is the sonne of confusion.
6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquity shal couer
of the wicked.
7 The memorial of the iust shal
not be cut off: but the name of the wicked shal
be forgotten.
8 The wife in heart wil receive
the fruit: but the foolish in heart shal
be forgotten.
9 He that walketh vprightly, wyl
be known.
10 He that winketh with the eye, shal be hated: and he that is foolish, shal be beaten.
11 The mouth of a righteous man
bringeth forth life: but iniquity bringeth forth death.
12 Hatred stirreth vp contention:
but charitie couereth all trespasses.
13 In the lippes of him that hath wisdom, is sound, and a
for the backe of him that is doubtful.

he mountaines were seled: & the hills, was I begotten. not yet made the earth, nor the height of the dust. he prepared the heauens; I was then he set the compass vpon the earth. he established the cloudes above: & confirmed the fountaines of the earth. he gaue his decree to the sea: & the waves shulde not passe his commaundment. when he appointed the fundamēt of the earth, I was I with him as a nourisher, & daily his delite reioicing alwaies in me. my solace in the compass of the earth: & my delite is with the children of men.

re now hearken, O children, vnto the word of the Lord: for he hath spoken, & he will do it. blessed is the man that heareth the word of the Lord, & keepeth it. he shall be like a tree, that bringeth forth his fruit in due season: & his leaf shall not wither: neither shall he be cut down, nor shall he be cut off. the word of the Lord shall be in his heart, & he shall not be ashamed, nor shall he be confounded, when he shall speak with the wise, & shall be as the meek water.

CHAP. IX.

Wisdome hath buyt her a house, & she hath dwelt in it. she hath hewen out her seven pillars: & she hath killed her vitayles, & drawn her wine, & she hath prepared her table. she hath sent forth her maidens, & she hath called them vnto the highest places of the city. she hath said, let him come hether: who is destitute of wisdom, & the faith of my meat, & drink, & my oil. I have drawn you out of your way, ye foolish, & ye shall walke in my waie of vnderstanding. I shall proueth a scorne, & purchasse a shame: and he that rebuketh him, shall be a blot. he that is a scorner, & he will loue thee: & he will be as a friend to the wife, & he will be as a companion to the wife, & he will be as a teacher to the righteous man, & he will be as a learner. the beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord: & the knowledge of holy things is the beginning of wisdom.

For the wicked wil contemne him: & he will be as a scorner to him: & he will be as a friend to the wife, & he will be as a companion to the wife, & he will be as a teacher to the righteous man, & he will be as a learner.

is vnderstanding. For thy dayes shall be multiplied by me, & the yerres of thy life shall be augmented. If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thy self, & if thou be a scorner, thou alone shalt suffice. A foolish woman is troublesome: she is ignorant, & knoweth nothing. But she sitteth at the dore of her house on a seat in the hye places of the citie, & she saith, I will be a scorne to all that passe by the way, & they shall go right on their way, saying, Who so is simple, let him come hether, & to him that is destitute of wisdom, she saith also, Stollen waters are swete, & hid bread is pleasant. But he knoweth not, that the dead are there, & that her ghesles are in the depth of hel.

CHAP. X.

In this chapter and all that followe vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which he calleth parables, to followe vertue, and flee vice: and sheweth also what profite cometh of wisdom, & what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnes.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

A Wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heauines to his mother. The treasures of wickednes are profite nothing: but righteousness deliuereth fro death. The Lord wil not famish the soule of the righteous: but he calteth away the substance of the wicked. A slouthful hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh riche. He that gathereth in sommer, is the sonne of wisdom: but he that slepeth in haruest, is the sonne of confusion. Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall cower the mouth of the wicked. The memorial of the iuste shall be blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rotte. The wise in heart wil receiue commendements: but the foolish in talke shall be beaten. He that walketh vprightly, walketh boldly: but he that peruerteth his waies, shall be known. He that winketh with the eye, worketh forowe, and he that is foolish in talke, shall be beaten. The mouth of a righteous man is a well spring of life: but iniquitie cowereth the mouth of the wicked. Hatred stirreth vp contentions: but loue couereth all trespasses. In the lippes of him that hath vnderstanding wisdom is founde, and a rod shall be for the backe of him that is destitute of wisdome. Wise men laye vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction. The riche mans goods are his strong citie: but the feare of the Lord is their pouertie. The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne. He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way. He that dissembleth hatred with lying lippes, and he that inuenteth sculdrie, is a foole. In manie wordes there can not wit iniquitie: but he that refraineth his lippes, is wise. The tongue of the iuste man is as a fined siluer: but the heart of the wicked is litle worthe.

The lippes of the righteous doe fede manie: but fooles shall dye for want of wisdom. The blessing of the Lord, it maketh riche, and he doeth adde no forowes with it. It is as a passe time to a foole to do wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man. That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God wil grante the desire of the righteous. As the whirle winde passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerlasting fundacion. As vinegre is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slouthful to them that send him. The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yerres of the wicked shall be diminished. The patient abiding of the righteous shall be gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shall perish. The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall be for the workers of iniquitie. The righteous shall neuer be remoued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land. The mouth of the iuste shall be fruteful in wisdom: but the tongue of the frowarde shall be cut out. The lippes of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh frowarde things.

CHAP. XI.

False balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfecte weight pleaseth him. When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowlie is wisdom.

And for maketh him belde to do euill, where as puerie bridel the poore from manie euill things.

For they speake truth and edifie manie by exhortations, admonition and counsel. Meaning of all worldlie things brag care, & sorow, where as they that relye the blessings of God, haue none.

He is but a trouble, and gret to him & scatter him aboute with busshes. The time of their prosperitie shall be short, because of their great fall, though they seeme to lue long.

They enioy in this life by faith, and hope their euertlasting life.

Vnder this worde he conuinceth all false weights, measures and deceit. When man forgetteth him self, and alloweth to be exalted aboue his vocation, then God bringeth him to confusio

- 3 The vprightnes of the iuste shal guide them: but the frowardnes of the transgressors shal destroye them.
- 4 * Riches auail not in the day of wrath: but righteousnes deliuereth from death.
- 5 The righteousnes of the vpright shal direct his way: but the wicked shal fall in his owne wickednes.
- 6 The righteousnes of the iuste shal deliuer them: but the transgressors shal be take in their owne wickednes.
- 7 * When a wicked man dyeth, his hope perissheth, and the hope of the vniust shal perissh.
- 8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, & the wicked shal come in his stead.
- 9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shal be deliuered by knowledge.
- 10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the citie is exalted: and when the wicked perissheth, there is ioye.
- 11 By the blessing of the righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.
- 12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of vnderstanding wil kepe silence.
- 13 He that goeth about as a scladerer, discovereth a secret: but he that is of a faithful heart, concealeth a matter.
- 14 Where no counsel is, the people fall: but where manie counselors are, there is health.
- 15 He shal be sore vexed, that is suretie for a stranger, and he that hateth suretieship, is sure.
- 16 A gracious woman atteineeth honour, & the strong men attein riches.
- 17 He that is merciful, rewardeth his owne soule: but he that troubleth his owne flesh, is cruel.
- 18 The wicked worketh a disceitful worke: but he that soweth righteousnes, shal receive a sure reward.
- 19 As righteousnes leadeth to life: so he that followeth euil, seeketh his owne death.
- 20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delite.
- 21 Though hand ioyne in bad, the wicked shal not be unpunished: but the fede of the righteous shal escape.
- 22 As a iewel of golde in a swines snoute: so is a faire woman, which lacketh discretio.
- 23 The desire of the righteous is only good: but the hope of the wicked is indignation.
- 24 There is that scattereth, and is more increased: but he that spareth more, then is right, surely cometh to pouertie.
- 25 The liberal persone shal haue plentie: and he that watereth, shal also haue raine.

c That is, shal enter into trouble.

i He is caught out without iudgement, and consideration of the circumstances put him self in danger.

k Is bothe good to him self, and to others.

l Though they make neuer so manie friends, yet thinke the selues neuer so sure, yet they shal not escape.

m Is of rascally behaviour in they can looke for nothing but Gods vengeance.

n Meaning the, that give liberally, whom God blesseth.

o That is, the niggard.

p Eke, the fault of lying shal be made fit.

- 26 He that with draweth the corne, the people wil curse him: but blessing shal be upon the head of him that selleth corne.
- 27 He that seeketh good things, getteth honour: but he that seeketh euil, it shal come to him.
- 28 He that trusteth in his riches, shal fall: but the righteous shal flourish as a leafe.
- 29 He that troubleth his owne house, shal inherit the wind, and the foole shal be vnto the wife in heart.
- 30 The frute of the righteous is as a tree of life, and he that winneth soules, is wise.
- 31 Beholde, the righteous shal be recompensed in the earth: how much more the wicked and the sinner?

CHAP. XII.

- 1 He that loveth instruction, shal know a foole.
- 2 A good man getteth fauoure of the Lord, but the man of wicked imaginations wil be condemne.
- 3 A man can not be established by wickednes: but the roote of the righteous shal not be moued.
- 4 A vertuous woman is the crowne of the housband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.
- 5 The thoghts of the iuste are righteous: but the counsels of the wicked are disceitful.
- 6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the righteous wil deliuer them.
- 7 God ouerthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of the righteous shal stand.
- 8 A man shal be commended for his wisdom: but the froward of heart shal be despised.
- 9 He that is despised, and is his owne servant, is better then he that boasteth himself, and lacketh bread.
- 10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruel.
- 11 He that tilleth his land, shal be satiated with bread: but he that followeth the vain imagination, is destitute of vnderstanding.
- 12 The wicked desireth the net of euil: but the roote of the righteous giueth fruite.
- 13 The euil man is snared by the wickednes of his lippes, but the iust shal come out of aduersitie.
- 14 A man shal be satiate with good things by the frute of his mouth, and the recompense of a mans hands shal God giue him.
- 15 The way of a foole is straight in his own eyes: but he that heareth counsell, is wise.
- 16 A foole in a day shal be known by his

- anger: but he that couereth his face, he shal be wise.
- 17 He that speaketh trueth, wil flourish: but a false witness shal perish.
- 18 There is that speaketh words of pricking: as a sword: but the tongue of wise men is health.
- 19 The lippe of trueth shal be established: but a lying tongue shal be made void.
- 20 Disceit is in the heart of them that imagine euil: but to the counsellors shal be ioye.
- 21 There shal none iniquitie be hid: but the wicked are full of deceit.
- 22 The lying lippes are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deale truth, shal be his delite.

- 23 A wise man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of the fool shal publish it.
- 24 The hand of the diligent ruleth: but the idle shal be vnder tribute.
- 25 Heauines in the heart of man, is made low: but a good worde reioyceth the heart.
- 26 The righteous is more excellent than his neighbour: but the way of the wicked shal be made straight.
- 27 The disceitful man roseth himself in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.
- 28 Life is in the way of righteousness: but there is no death in that pathway.

CHAP. XIII.

- 1 A wise sonne wil obey the Lord: but a scorner wil despise his father: but a skornefull sonne shal bring rebuke.
- 2 A man shal eat good things of his mouth: but the soule of the froward shal suffer violence.
- 3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lippes, shal be brought down.
- 4 The sluggard is lusteth, but he hath nothing: but the soule of the diligent shal be full.
- 5 A righteous man hateth lying: but the wicked causeth scandal.
- 6 Righteousnes preferueth the life: but wickednes ouercometh the sinner.
- 7 There is that maketh him himselfe nothing, & that maketh himselfe poor, hauing great riches.
- 8 A man wil giue his riches for his life: but the poore wil not reprove.
- 9 The light of the righteous shal be as a candle: but the candle of the wicked shal be put out.
- 10 Onely by pride doeth man contend: but with the well intention.
- 11 The riches of vanitie shal be as a wind: but he that gathereth with labour, shal be as a tree.

He that speaketh trueth, wil shewe right-
counses: but a false witness shall disceit.

There is that speaketh wordes like the prickings of a sword: but the tongue
of wise men is health.

The lippe of trueth shall be stable for euer:
but a lying tongue varieth incontinently.

Disceit is in the heart of them that imagine euil: but to the counsellors of peace shall be ioye.

There shall none iniquitie come to the
iuste: but the wicked are ful of euil.

The lying lippest are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deale truly are his delite.

A wife man conceileth knowledge: but the heart of the foolles publisheth foolishnes.

The hand of the diligent shall beare
rule: but the idle shall be vnder tribute.

Heauines in the heart of man doeth bring
it downe: but a good worde reioyceth it.

The righteous is more excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked
wil disceiue them.

The disceitful man roseth not, that he is toke in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.

Life is in the way of righteousness, and in that pathway there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

A wife sonne wil obey the instruction
of his father: but a scorner wil heare
not rebuke.

A man shall eat good things by the frute
of his mouth: but the soule of the tref-
passers shall suffer violence.

He that keepeth his mouth, kepeth his life: but he that openeth his lippest, destruction shall be to him.

The sluggarde lusteth, but his soule
hath noight: but the soule of the diligent shall haue plentie.

A righteous man hateth lying wordes: but
the wicked causeth selander and shame.

Righteousnes preferreth the vpright of life: but wickednes overthroweth the sinner.

The e is that maketh him self riche, and hath nothing, and that maketh him self poore, hauing great riches.

A man wil giue his riches for the rauosome
of his life: but the poore can not heare the reproche.

The light of the righteous reioyceth:
but the candle of the wicked shall be put out.

Onely by pride doeth man make con-
tentation: but with the wel aduised is wis-
dome.

The riches of vanitie shall diminish: but he that gathereth with the hand, shall increase them.

The hope that is differred, is the fainting
of the heart: but when the desire com-
meth, it is as a tree of life.

He that despiseth the worde, he shall be destroyed: but he that feareth the commadement, he shall be rewarded.

The instruction of a wife man is as the well spring of life, to turne away from the snarcs of death.

Good vnderstanding maketh acceptable:
but the way of the disobedient is hated.

Euerie wise man wil worke by knowle-
ge: but a foole wil spread abroad follie.

A wicked messenger falleth into euil:
but a faithful ambassadour is preserua-
tion.

Pouertie and shame is to him that refuseth instructiō: but he that regardeth correction, shall be honored.

A desire accomplished delicteth the soule:
but it is an abominatiō to foolles to depar-
te from euil.

He that walketh with the wise, shall be wise: but a companion of foolles shall be afflicted.

Afflictio followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God wil recompense good.

The good man shall giue inheritance vn-
to his childrens children: and the riches
of the sinner is laied vp for the iuste.

Muche foode is in the field of the poore:
but the field is destroyed without discretiō.

He that spareth his rod, hateth his sonne:
but he that loucheth him, chasteneth him be-
time.

The righteous eateth to the contentatiō of his minde: but the bellie of the wicked shall want.

CHAP. XIII.

A wife woman buildeth her house:
but the foolish destroyeth it with her
owne hands.

He that walketh in his righteousness,
feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his waies, despiseth him.

In the mouth of the foolish is the rodde
of pride: but the lippest of the wise preserue them.

Where none oxen are, there the crib is empty: but muche increase cometh by the strength of the ox.

A faithful witness wil not lye: but a false
recorde wil speake lyes.

A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth
it not: but knowledge is easie to him that wil vnderstand.

Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lippest of knowledge.

The wisdom of the prudent is to vnder-stand his way: but the foolishnes of the fooles is disceit.

peth his owne soule: but he that despiseth
his waies, shall dye.
He that hath mercie vpon the poore,
lendeth vnto the Lord: and the Lord wil
recopense him that which he hath giue.

Chasten thy sonne while there is hope,
and let not thy soule spare for his murmuring.

A man of muche angre shall suffer punishment: & though thou deliuer him, yet
wil his angre come againe.

Heare counsell, and receiue instruction,
that thou maiest be wise in thy latter end.

Manie deuices are in a mans heart: but the counsell of the Lord shall stand.

That that is to be desired of a man, is his goodnes, and a poore man is better then a lyer.

The feare of the Lord leadeth to life: and he that is filled therewith, shall continue, &
shall not be visited with euil.

* The slouthful hideth his hand in his bosome, and wil not put it to his mouth again.

* Smite a scorner, and the foolish wil
beware: and reprove the prudent, and he wil vnderstand knowledge.

He that destroyeth his father, or chaseth
away his mother, is a lowde and shameful
childe.

My sonne, heare no more the instructiō,
that causeth to erre from the wordes of knowledge.

A wicked witnes mocketh at iudgemēt,
and the mouth of the wicked swalloweth
vp iniquitie.

But iudgemēt is prepared for the scor-
ners, & stripes for the backe of the fool.

CHAP. XX.
Wine is a mocker & strong drin-ke is raging: & whosoever is de-ceiued thereby, is not wise.

* The feare of the King is like the roaring of a lyon: he that prouoketh him vnto
angre, sinneth against his owne soule.

It is a mans honour to cease from strife:
but euerie foole wil be meddling.

The slouthful wil not plowe, because of winter: therefore shall he begge in sommer,
but haue nothing.

The counsell in the heart of a man is like
depe waters: but a man that hath vnder-
standing, wil drawe it out.

Manie men wil boast, euerie one of his owne goodnes: but who can finde a faithful man?

He that walketh in his integritie, is iuste:
& blessed shall his children be after him.

A King that sitteth in the throne of iud-gement, chaseth away all euil w his eyes.
Who can say, I haue made mine heart
cleane, I am cleane from sinne?

Diuers weightes, and diuers measures,
bothe these are euen abomination vnto
the Lord.
A childe also is known by his doings,
whether his worke be pure and right.

25 It is a destruction for a man to deuoure that which is sanctified, and after the vowes to inquire.

CHAP. XXII.

The Kings heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the riuers of waters: he turneth it whithersoener it pleaseth him.

2 But the way of a man is right in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

3 * To do iustice and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lord then sacrifice.

4 A haucie loke, and a proude heart, which is the b<sup>l</sup>ight of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent do surely bring abundance: but who soeuer is hastie, cometh surely to pouertie.

6 * The gathering of treasures by a disceitful tongue is vanitie tossed to and fro of them that seeke death.

7 The robbery of the wicked shal destroy them: for thei haue refused to extende iudgement.

8 The way of some is peruerted and straggled: but of the pure man, his worke is right.

9 * It is better to dwell in a corner of a house, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

10 The soule of the wicked wisheth euil: and his neighbour hath no fauour in his eyes.

11 * When the scorner is punished, the foolish is wise: and when one instructeth a wife, he wil receiue knowledge.

12 The righteous teacheth the house of the wicked: but God ouerthroweth the wicked for their euil.

13 He that stoppeth his eare at the cry of the poore, he shal also crye and not be heard.

14 As gift in secret pacifieth anger, and gift in the bosome great wrath.

16 A man that wandereth out of the way of wisdom, shal remaine in the congregacion of the dead.

17 He that loueth pastime, shalbe a poore man: he that loueth wine & oyle, shal not be riche.

- 20 For there shal be none end of <sup>h</sup> plagues to the euil man: the light of the wicked shal be put out.
- 21 My sonne, feare the Lord, and the King: <sup>i</sup> meddle not with the that are sedicious.
- 22 For their destruction shal rise suddenly, & who knoweth the ruine of the <sup>j</sup> bothe?
- 23 ALSO THESE THINGS PERTENE TO THE WISE, It is not good to haue respect of anie persone in iudgement.
- 24 He that saith to the wicked, *Thou art righteous, him shal the people curse, and the multitude shal abhorre him.
- 25 But to them that rebuke him, shal be pleasure, and vpon them shal come the blessing of goodness.
- 26 They shal kisse the lippes of him that answereth vp right wordes.
- 27 Prepare thy worke without, and make ready thy things in the field, <sup>k</sup> and after, buylde thine house.
- 28 Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause: for wilt thou deceiue with thy lippes?
- 29 *Say not, I wil do to him, as he hath done to me, I <sup>l</sup> wil recompense euerie man according to his worke.
- 30 I passed by the field of the slothful, & by the vineyarde of the man destitute of vnderstanding.
- 31 And lo, it was all growen ouer with thornes, & nettles had couered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken downe.
- 32 Then I behelde, and I considered it well: I loked vpon it, and <sup>m</sup> received instruction.
- 33 For a little sleepe, <sup>n</sup> a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleepe.
- 34 So thy pouertie cometh as one that trauielleth by the way, and thy necessitie like an armed man.

THESE ARE ALSO PROVERBS OF SALOMON, WHICH THE KING OF JUDAH COPIED.

The glorie of God is to <sup>o</sup> conceale a thing secret: but the <sup>p</sup> King is to searche out a thing.

The heavens in height, and the earth in depenes, and the Kings heart can searche out.

Take the <sup>q</sup> droffe from the silver, and there shal procede a vessel for the King.

Take away the wicked from before the King, and his throne shal be stablished in righteousness.

Boast not thy self before the King, and stand not in the place of great men.

*For it is better, that it be said vnto the King, Come vp hither, than thou be in the presence of the prince when thy eyes haue sene.

Go not forth hastily to strife, for thou knowe not what to do in the end, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

Debate thy matter with thy neighbour, and discouer not the secret to another.

Lest he that heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamie do not cease.

A worde spokē in his place, is like silver, & gold, & pictures of siluer.

He that reproveth the wise, is like a golden earring, & a golden earring.

As the colde of the snow in harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the face of his masters.

A man that boasteth of false words, is like a cloude and winde without.

A prince is pacified by staying, and a softē tongue breaketh the knot.

If thou haue founde honie, <sup>r</sup> sufficient for thee, lest thou be full, and vomit it.

Withdrowe thy fote from thy neighbours house, lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour, is like a hammer that shal breake the stone, and a sharpe arrowe.

Confidence in an vnfaithfull man, is like a broken torow, and a broken fote.

He that taketh away the garment of a poor man, is like a vineger poured vpon his face, and like him that singeth songs to an enemy.

If he that hateth thee be hungry, do not bread to eat, and if he be thirsty, do not him water to drinke.

For thou shalt lay <sup>s</sup> coles vpon him, and the Lord shal recompense thee.

CHAP. XXV.

THESE ARE ALSO PARABLES OF SALOMON, which the men of Hezekiah King of Iudah copied out.

The glorie of God isto conceile a thing secret: but the Kings honour is to seache out a thing.

The heauens in height, and the earth in depenes, and the Kings heart can no man seache out.

Take the drossie from the siluer, and there shal procede a vessel for the finer.

Take away the wicked from the King, and his throne shalbe stablished in righteousness.

Boast not thy self before the King, and stand not in the place of great men.

For it is better, that it be said vnto thee, Come vp hither, then thou to be put lower in the presence of the prince whome thine eyes haue sene.

Go not forthe hastily to strife, lest thou knowe not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

Debate thy matter with thy neighbour, & discouer not the secret to another,

Lest he that heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamie do not cease.

A worde spokē in his place, is like appels of golde with pictures of siluer.

He that reproveth the wife, & the obedient eare, is as a golden earing and an ornament of fine golde.

As the colde of the snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soule of his masters.

A man that boasteth of false liberalitie, is like cloudes and winde without raine.

A prince is pacified by staying of angers, and a softie rogue breaketh y bones.

If thou haue founde honie, eat that is sufficient for thee, lest thou be ouerfull, and vomit it.

Withdrowe thy fote from thy neighbours house, lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour, is like an hammer & a sword, and a sharpe arrowe.

Confidence in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble is like a broken toche and a sliding fote.

He y taketh away the garment in colde season, is like vinegar powred vpon nitre, or like him y singeth songs to an heauie heart.

If he that hateth thee be hungrie, giue him bread to eat, and if he be thirftie, giue him water to drinke.

For thou shalt lay thy coles vpon his head, and the Lord shal recompense thee.

As the Northwind driueth away the raine, so doeth an angrie countenance y scolding tongue.

It is better to dwell in a corner of the house toppe, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

As are the colde waters to a wearie soule, so is good newes from a farre country.

A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, and a corrupt spring.

It is not good to eat muche honie: so to search their owne glorie is not glorie.

A man that refraineth not his appetite, is like a citie which is broken downe, & without walles.

CHAP. XXVI.

As the snow in the sommer, and as the raine in the haruest are not mete, so is honour vnseemly for a foule.

As the sparow by flying, and the swallowe by flying escape, so the curse that is causeles, shal not come.

Vnto the horse belongeth a whip, to the asse a bridle, and a rodde to the fooles backe.

Answer not a foole according to his foolishnes, lest thou also be like him.

Answer a foole according to his foolishnes, lest he be wise in his owne conceite.

He that sendeth a message by the hand of a foole, is as he that cutteth of the fete, and drinketh iniquitie.

As they that lift vp the legges of the lame, so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

As the closing vp of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is he that giueth glorie to a foole.

As a thorne standing vp in the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fooles.

The excellent that formed all things, bothe rewardeth the foole and rewardeth the transgressors.

As a dogge turneth againe to his owne vomite, so a foole turneth to his foolishnes.

Seest thou a man wise in his owne conceite: more hope is of a foole then of him.

The slouthful man saith, A lyon is in the waye: a lyon is in the streets.

As the dore turneth vpon his hinges, so doeth the slouthful man vpon his bed.

The slouthful hideth his hand in his bosome, and it grieveth him to put it agayne to his mouth.

The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceit, then seuen men that can rendre a reason.

He that passeth by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dogge by the eares.

18 As he that faineth him self mad, casteth fyre brandes, arrowes and mortal things, 19 So dealeth the deceitful man with his friend and faith, Am not I in sporte?

<sup>f</sup> Which dis-
combleth him self to be that he is not.

20 Without wood the fyre is quenched, &
without a tale bearer strife ceaseth.

Eccles. 31. 12.

21 *As the cole maketh burning coles, and to kindle strife.

Chap. 11. 2.

22 *The wordes of a tale bearer are as flat-terings, and they go downe into the bowels
of the bellie.

<sup>k</sup> They will so-

and utter the secrets.

23 As siluer droffe ouerlayed vpon a pot-
shard, so are burning lippes, and an euil

lippes, but in his heart he layeth vp deceit.

Job. 6. 6.

5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.

6 The woundes of a louer are faithful, and the kisses of an enemy are <sup>c</sup> pleasant.

7 *The person that is full, despiseth an ho-

man sharpen the face of his friend.

18 He that kepeth the figge tre, shal eat the fruite thereof: so he that waiteth vpon his 19 As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man.

20 The graue and destruction can neuer be filled, so the eyes of man can neuer be satisfied.

21 *As is the fining pot for siluer & the furnace for golde, so is euery man according to his dignitie.

22 Thogh thou shuldest braye a foole in a mortar among wheat brayed with a pestel,
yet wil not his foolishnes departe
from him.

23 Be diligent to knowe the state of thy flocke, and take hede to the heards.

grass appeareth, and the herbes of the mountaines are gathered.

the goats are the price of the field.

27 And let the milke of the goats be sufficient for thy foode, for the foode of thy familie, and for the sustinance of thy mandes.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The wicked <sup>a</sup> see when none pursueth
them: but the righteous are bolde as a lyon.

2 For the transgression of the land <sup>b</sup> there are manie princes thereof: but by a man of vnderstanding and knowledge <sup>c</sup> a remedie likewise endureth long.

3 A poore man, if he oppresse the poore,
is like a raging raine, that leaueth no
foode.

4 They that forsake the Law, praise the wicked: but they that kepe the Law, set their soules against them.

5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgements,
but they that feare the Lord, vnderstand all
things.

6 *Better is the poore that walketh in vprightnes, then he that peruertereth his waies, thogh he be riche.

He that kepeth the law, is a child
derstanding: but he that fedeth
himself, shameh his father.

He that increaseth his riches by interest, gathereth them for himself: but he that is merciful vnto the poore.

He that turneth away his eare from the Law, euen his praier shal be counted vnto him as vain.

He that causeth the righteous to stray by an euil way, shal fall into the pit, and the vpright shal inherit the same.

The riche man is wise in his owne conceits: but the poore

As a roaring lyon, and an huging lion, so is a wicked
ruler ouer the poe-
ple.

A prince destitute of vnder-
standing, shal also a great oppressour: but he that couetousnes, shal prolong his daies.

A man that doeth violence against a poore person, shal
lose his blood, and thei
shal not stay him.

He that walketh vprightly,
shal be hated: but he that is froward in his heart, shal once fall.

He that tilleth his land,
shal be filled with bread:
but he that followeth

A faithful man shal

A man with a wicked

and thei shall not stay him.

He that walketh vprightly, shall be sa-

He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but he y followeth the ydle,
shall be filled with pouertie.

A faithful man shall abound in blef-
sings, & he that maketh halte to be riche,
shall not be innocent.

To haue respect of persones is not good:
for that man wil transgresse for a peece of bread.

A man with a wicked eye hasteth to ri-

He that rebuketh a man, shall finde more
fauour at the length, then he that flatter-

He that robbeth his father and mother, & saith, it is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.

He that is of a proude heart, stirreth vp strife: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shall

He that trusteth in his owne heart, is a

lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shall haue
many curses.

28 * When the wicked rise vp, men hide the selues: but when thei perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXIX.

A Man that hardeneth his necke, when he is rebuked, shall suddenly be destroyed and can not be cured.

* When the righteous are in autoritie,
the people reioyce: but when the wicked
beare rule, the people sigh.

A mā that loueth wisdom, reioyceth his father: * but he that fedeth harlots, wa-
steth his substance.

A King by iudgement mainteineth the countrie: but a man receiuing giftes, de-stroyeth it.

A man y flattereth his neighbour, & spre-
deth a net for his steppes.

In the transgression of an euil man is his snare: but the righteous doeth sing and reioyce.

The righteous knoweth the cause of the
poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

Scornful men bring a citie into a snare:
but wise men turne away wrath.

If a wise man contend with a foolish
man, whether he be angrie or laugh, there is no rest.

Bloodie men hate him that is vpright:
but the iuste haue care of his soule.

A foole powreth out all his minde: but a wise man kepeth it in til afterwaide.

Of a prince that hearkeneth to lyes, all
his seruants are wicked.

* The poore and the vsurer mete together, and the Lord lighteneth bothe their eyes.

* A King that iudgeth the poore in tru-eth, his throne shall be established for e-uer.

The rodde and correction giue wisdom:
but a childe set at libertie, maketh his mother ashamed.

When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.

Correct thy sonne and he wil giue thee
rest, and wil giue pleasures to thy soule.

Where there is no vision, the people
decay: but he that kepeth the Law, is bli-ssed.

A seruant wil not be chastised with wordes: though he vnderstand, yet he wil

ECCLESIASTES, OR
the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

Alomón, as a preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluacion, describeth the Succinable vanities of this worlde, that man shoulde not be addicted to anie thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heauenlie life: therefore he consulteth their opinions, which set their felicitie, ether in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is united with God and shal inioye his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, save in as much as thei further vs to attaine to this heauen lie treasure, which is sure and permanent, and can not be founde in anie other saue in God, alone
uail, which he suffreth vnder the sunne.

CHAP. I.

All things in this worlde are full of vanitie, and of none insurance. 13 All manys wisdom is but folie and grief.

He wordes of the Preacher, the sonne of Dauid
King in Ierusalem.

Vanitie of vanities,
saith the Preacher: vanitie
of vanities, all is vanitie.

What remaineth vnto mā in all his tra

One generacion passeth, and another gene racion succedeth: but the earth remaineth
for euer.
The sunne riseth, & the sunne goeth downe,
& draweth to his place, where he riseth.
The winde goeth toward the South, & co
passeth toward the North: the winde goeth
round about, & returneth by his circuites.
All the riuers go into the sea, yet the sea
is not full: for the riuers go vnto the place, & i.

One man dieth
after another,
and the earth
remaineth
longer, re
uenue to the last
date, which yet
is subiect to corruption.
By the sunne,
winde and ri
uers he shew
eth that the great labour
and longest
hath an end,
and therefore
there can be no felicitie in this worlde.

better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one wil lift vp his fellowe: but two vnto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a seconde to lift him vp.

11 Also if two slepe together, then shal they haue heat: but to one how shulde there be heat?

12 And if one ouercome him, two shal stande against him: and a threfolde s coard is not easly broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise childe, then an olde and foolish King, which wil no more be admonished.

14 For out of the prison he cometh for the to reigne: when as he that is borne in his kingdome, is made poore.

15 I behelde all the liuing, which walke vnder the sunne, with the seconde childe, which shal stande vp in his place.

16 There is none end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shal not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanitie and vexation of spirit.

17 Take hede to thy foote when thou enrest into the House of God, and be more nere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of foolcs: for they knowe not that they do euill.

CHAP. V.

Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The courteous can neuer haue yrough. 11 The laborers slepe is swete. 14 Man when he dyeth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue ioyfully, and with a conſidered minde is the gift of God.

Be not rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be halie to vtter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on y earth: therefore let thy wordes be fewe.

For as a dreame cometh by the multitude of busines: so the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of wordes.

When thou hast vowed a vowe to God, deferre not to pay it: for he deliteth not in foolcs: paye therefore y thou hast vowed.

It is better that thou shuldest not vowe, then that thou shuldest vowe and not paye it.

Suffer not thy mouth to make thy flesh to sinne: nether say before the Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shal God be angrie by thy voyce, & destroye the worke of thine hands?

For in the multitude of dreames, & vanities are also manie wordes: but feare thou God.

If in a country thou seest the oppresſiõ of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, be not astonied at the matter: for he that is higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

8 And the abundance of the earth is sowne: all the King also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loueth siluer, shal not be satisfied with siluer, & he that loueth riches, shal without the frute thereof: this also is vanitie.

10 When goods encrease, they are encreased: that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The slepe of him that trauaileth, is sweete, whether he eat little or much: but the societie of the riche wil not suffer him to slepe.

12 There is an euil sickenes that I haue seene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches referred to the owners thereof for their euil.

13 And these riches perish by euil trauail, & he begetteth a sonne, and in his hand is nothing.

14 As he came forth of his mothers belly, he shal returne naked to go as he came, & shal beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.

15 And this also is an euil sickenes that in all pointes as he came, so shal he go, and what profite hath he that he hath trauailed for the winde?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in darkness with muche grief, and in his sorow & angre.

17 Beholde then, what I haue seene good, that it is comelie to eat, and to drinke, & to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein he trauaileth vnder the sunne, y whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to euerie man to whome God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eat thereof, and to take his parte, and to enioye his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely he wil not muche remember the dayes of his life, because God answereth to the ioye of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whome God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

There is an euil, which I sawe vnder the sunne, and it is muche among men: A man to whome God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that it desireth: but God giueth him not power to eat thereof, but a strange man shal eat it: this is vanitie, and this is an euil sickenes.

If a man beget an hundred children and liue manie yeres, and the dayes of his yeres be multiplied, and his soule be not satisfied with good things, and he be buried, I say that an vntimelie fruit is better then he.

4 For he cometh into vanitie and goeth

into darkenes: & his name shal be forgotten with darkenes.

Also he hath not sene y sunne: it is therefore this hath more reioyce then other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yerolde, and had sene no good, he goeth to one place.

All the labour of man is for his soule: the soule is not filled.

For what hath the wise man the soule: what hath the poore man the soule: how to walke before the liue?

The sight of the eye is better than the lustre: this also is vexation of spirit.

What is that that hath bene thereof is now named: and it is that it is man: and he can not him that is stronger then he.

CHAP. VII.

Where precepts to followe that which is good, and to shunne the contrary.

Surely there be manie thinges vnder the sunne: & what auerſe vanitie: & what auerſe

For who knoweth what is a good name in the life, & in the number of the life of his vanitie, seing that as a shadow? For who can man what shalbe after him vn

A good name is better then a ment, and the day of death, that one is borne.

It is better to go to the house of mourning, then to go to the house of feasting: for in the end of all man liuing shal lay it to his heart.

Anger is better then laughing: for the heart is made better by the heart.

The heart of the wife is in mourning: but the heart of the foole is in mirth.

Better it is to heare the rebuke of a man, then that a man shulde be full of foolcs.

For like the noise of the thimble, so is the laughter of the foole: also is vanitie.

Surely oppresſiõ maketh a wretched man, and the rewarde destroyeth the man.

The end of a thing is the beginning thereof, & the pac is better then the proude in spirit.

Benot y of an halste spirit for angre resteth in the bosom of a man.

1 Surely there be manie things that in crease vanitie: & what auaileth it mā?
2 For who knoweth what is a good for man

that one is borne.

4 It is better to go to the house of mourning,
then to go to the house of feasting,
because this is the end of all men: and the liuing shal lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad loke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of foolos is in the house of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wise man, then that a mā shulde heare the song of foolos.

8 For like the noise of the thornes vnder
the pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanitie.

9 Surely oppressio maketh a wife mā mad:
an the rewarde destroyeth the heart.

10 The end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, & the patient in spirit
is better then the proude in spirit.

11 Benot y of an hastie spirit to be angrie:
for anger resteth in the bosome of foolos.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former daies were better then these? for thou doest
not enquire wisely of this thing.

13 Wisdome is good with an inheritance,
and excellent to them that se the sunne.

14 For man shal rest in the shadowe of wis dome, & in y shadowe of siluer: but the ex
cellencie of the knowledge of wisdome

giueth life to the possessers thereof.

15 Beholde the worke of God: for who can make a straight that which he hathe made crooked?

16 In the day of wealth be of good comfort,
& in the day of affliction consider: God
also hathe made this contrary to that, to the intent that mā shulde finde nothing
after him.

17 I haue sene all things in the daies of my vanitie: there is a iuste man that perisheth
in his iustice, and there is a wicked man
that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not thou iuste ouermuche, nether
make thy self ouer wise: wherefore shul
dest thou be desolate?

19 Be not thou wicked ouermuche, nether
be thou foolish: wherefore shuldest thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou laie holde on this:
but yet withdrawe not thine hand from it that: for he that feareth God, shal come forthe of them all.

21 Wisdome shal strengthen the wife man more then ten mightie princes that are in the citie.

22 Surely there is no man iust in the earth,
that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Giue not thine heart also to all y wor
des that men spake, lest thou do heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For often times also thine heart know
esh that thou likewise hast cursed others.

25 All this haue I proued by wisdome: I thought I wil be wise, but it went farre from
me.

26 It is farre of, what maier it be: and it is a profound depenes, who can finde it?

27 I haue compassed about, but I and mine heart to knowe and to enquire and to sear che w. s. o. m. e. and reason, and to knowe the wickednes of folie, and the foolishnes of madnes.

28 And I finde more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nettes & snares,
and her hands, as bands: he that is good be fore God, shalbe deliuered from her, but y
sinner shalbe taken by her.

29 Beholde, saith the Preacher, this haue I founde, seking one by one to finde y couter

30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I finde it not: I haue founde on: man of a thousand:
but a woman among them all haue I not founde.

31 Onely so, this haue I founde, that God
hathe made man righteous: but they haue sought manie inuentions.

oeth man knowe his time,
which are taken in an eu

es, & as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euil time when it falleth vpon them
suddenly.

I haue also sene this wisdome vnder the
sunne, and it is great vnto me.

A litle citie and fewe men in it, and a great King came against it, and compas
sed it about, and buylded fortes against it.

And there was founde therein a poore
and wise man, and he deliuered the citie
by his wisdome: but none remembred this poore man.

Then said I, Better is wisdome then strength: yet the wisdome of the poore is despised, and his wordes are not heard.

The wordes of the wife are more heard in quietnes, then the cye of him that ru leth among fooles.

Better is wisdome then weapons of war
re: but one sinner destroyeth muche good.

CHAP. X.
The difference of foolishnes and wisdome. 11 A scorpion dovet is like a serpent that can not be charmed. 16 Of foolish Kings, and drunken princes. 17 And of good Kings and princes.

Dead flies cause to stinke, and putrifie
the ointment of the apoticarie: so doeth
a litle folie him that is in estimation for wisdome, and for glorie.

The heart of a wise man is at his right had:
but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

And also whē the foole goeth by the way,
his heart faileth, and he b telleteth vnto all
that he is a foole.

If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gen
tlenes pacifieth great sinnes.

There is an euil that I haue sene vnder the sunne, as an error that procedeth fro the face of him that ruleth.

Folie is set in great excellencie, and the
riche set in the lowe place.

I haue sene seruants on horses and prin
ces walking as seruants on the grounde.

He that diggeth a pit, shal fall into it, &
he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shal
bite him.

He y remoueth stones, shal hurt him self thereby, & he that cutteth wood, shal be in danger thereby.

If the yron be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, he must chieuen to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdome.

If the serpent bite, when he is not char
med, no better is a babler.

The wordes of the mouth of a wise man
haue grace: but the lippes of a foole deuou
re him self.

The beginning of y wordes of his mou th is foolishnes, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madnes.

For the foole multiplieth wordes saying,
Man knoweth not what shalbe: and who can tel him what shalbe after him?

The labour of the foolish doeth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the city.

Wo to thee, o land, when thy King is a childe, and thy princes eat in the mor ning.

Blissed art thou, o land, when thy King
is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes
eat in time, for strength and not for dron kennes.

By slouthfulness y rooffe of the house go eth to decay, and by the ydienes of the hands the house droppeth through.

Thei prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but siluer an swereth to all.

Curse not the King, no not in thy thoght,
neither curse the riche in thy bed cham ber: for the soule of the heau n shal cary
the voice, & that which hath wings, shal declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.
To be liberal to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods pro vidence. 5 All ydelitie prospereth: but vanitie y God will iudge all.

Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after manie daies thou shalt fin
de it.

Giue a portion to seuen, & also to eight:
for thou knowest not what euil shalbe v

If the cloudes be ful, they wil powre
forthe raine vpon the earth: and if the tre do fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tre falleth,
there it shalbe.

He that obserueth the winde, shal not sowe, and he that regardeth the cloudes,
shal not reape.

As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do growe in the wombe of her that is with childe: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

In the morning sowe thy sede, and in the euening let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether shal prosper, this or that, or whether bothe shalbe alike good.

Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see y sunne.

Thogh a man liue manie yeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet he shal remember the daies of his darknes, because thei are manie, all that cometh is vanitie.

Reioyce, o yong man, in thy youth, & let thine heart chere thee in the daies of thy youth: and walke in the waies of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but knowe that for all these things, God wil
bring thee to iudgement.

AN EXCELLENT SONG

which was Salomons.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this Song, Salomon by moste swete and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfeite loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon and King of peace, and the faithful soule his Church, which he haue sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste, and without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and great and excellent benefites wherewith he doth enriche her of his pure bountie and grace without anie of her deservings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, asiring to be more and more ioynted to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for anie spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. II.

The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadowe of Christ. 1 She heareth his voyce. 12 She is compared to the dooue, 13 And the enemies to the foxes.

I Am the rose of the field, & the lillie of the valleis.

Like a lillie among the thornes, so is my loue among the daughters.

Like the apple tre amog the trees of the forest: so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadowe had I delite, & sate downe: and his frute was swete vnto my mouth.

He broght me into the wine celler, and loue was his banner ouer me.

Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sicke of loue.

His left hand is vnder mine head, & his right hand doeth imbrace me.

I charge you, o daughters of Ierusalém, by the roes & by the hundes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor waké my loue, vntil she please.

It is the voice of my welbeloued: beholde, he cometh leaping by the mountaines, and skipping by the hilles.

My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong heart: lo, he standeth behinde our wall, looking forth of the windowes, shewing him selfe through the fgates.

My welbeloued spake & said vnto me, Arise, my loue, my faire one, & come thy way.

For beholde, winter is past: the raine is changed, and is gone away.

The flowers appeare in y earth: the time of the singing of birds is come, & the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.

The figre hath brought forth the her yong figges: & the vines with their small grapes

haue cast a saour: arise my loue, my faire one, and come away.

My dooue, that art in the holes of the rocke, in y secret places of y staires, shewe me thy sight, let me heare thy voice: for thy voyce is swete, and thy sight comelie.

Take vs y foxes, y litle foxes, w destroy the vines: for our vines haue smale grapes.

My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: he fedeth among the lilies,

Vntil y day breake, & the shadowes flee away: returne, my welbeloued, & be like a roe, or a yong hart vpon the mountaines of Béther.

The Church desireth to be ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband. 6 Her deliuerance out of the wilderness.

I N my bed by a night I foght him that my soule loued: I foght him, but I founde him not.

I wil rise therefore now, and go about in the citie, by the stretes & by the open places, & wil seke him that my soule loueth: I foght him, but I founde him not.

The watchemen that went about the citie, founde me: to whome I said, Haue you sene him whome my soule loueth?

When I had past a litle from them, then I founde hi whome my soule loued: I toke holde on him and left him not, til I had broght him vnto my mothers house into the chamber of her that conceiued me.

I charge you, o daughters of Ierusalém, by the roes and by the hundes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor waké my loue vntil she please.

Who is she that commeth vp out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrhe and incense, & with all the spices of the marchant?

Beholde his bed, which is Salomons: threscore strong men are round about it, of the valiant men of Israël.

Thei all handle the swordes, & are expert in warre, euerie one hath his sword vpon his thigh for the feare s by night.

King Salomón made him selfe a palace of the trees of Lebanón.

He made the pillers thereof of siluer, & y pauemēt thereof of golde, the hangings thereof of purple, whose middes was paued w the loue of y daughters of Ierusalém.

Come forth, ye daughters of Zión, & beholde the King Salomón w the crowne, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his mariage, and in the day of the gladnes of his heart.

CHAP. VII.

The beautie of the Church in all her members. 10 She is assured of Christ's loue towardes her.

How beautiful are thy goings with thy shoes, & princes daughter: the iointes
of thy thighs are like iewels: the worke
of the hand of a cunning workeman.

Thy navel is as a rounde cuppe that wan

wheat compassed about with lilies.

Thy two breastes are as two yong roes
that are twinnes.

Thy necke is like a towre of yuorie: thine
eyes are like fish pooles in Heshbōn
by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the towre of Lebanōn, that loketh toward Damascus.

Thine head vpon thee is as skarlet, and
the bush of thine head like purple: the King is tyed in the rafters.

How faire art thou, and how pleasant art
thou, & my loue, in pleasures!

This thy stature is like a palme tree, and thy breastes like clusters.

I said, I wil go vp into the palme tre, I

wil take holde of her boughes: thy breas
tes shal now be like the clusters of the vi
ner: and the fauour of thy nose like apples,

And the roufe of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth straight to my welbe loved, & causeth the lippes of the ancient to speake.

I am my welbeloued, and his desire is toward me.

Come, my welbeloued, let vs go forthe
into the field: let vs remaine in villages.

Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs se
if the vine flourish, whether it hath bud
ded the finale grape, or whether the pome granates flourish: there wil I giue thee my loue.

The mādrakes haue giue a smel, & in our gates are all swete things, newe & olde:
my welbeloued, I haue kept them for thee.

OH that thou wert as my brother, &
I sucked the breastes of my mother: I wolde finde thee without, I wolde kisse
thee, then thou shuldest not despise me.

I wil lead thee & bring thee into my mo thers house: there thou shalt teache me: &
I wil cause thee to drinke spiced wine, &
newe wine of the pomegranate.

His left hand shal be vnder mine head, &
his right hand shal embrace me.

I charge you, & daughters of Ierusalem,
that you stirre not vp, nor waken my loue,
vntill the pleafe.

(Who is this that commeth vp out of the wildernes, leaning vpon her welbeloued?)
I raised thee vp vnder an apple tree: there thy mother conceived thee: there she concei
ued that bare thee.

Set me as a scale on thine heart, & as a signet vpon thine arme: for loue is strong as death: ielouise is cruel as the graue: the coles thereof are fyrie coles, & a vehement flame.

Muche water can not quenche loue, neither can the floods drowne it: if a man shulde
giue all the substance of his house for loue,
they wolde greatly conteme it.

We haue a little sister, and she hath no
breastes: what shal we do for our sister whō
she shalbe spoken for?

If she be a walle, we wil buyld vpon her a siluer palace: and if she be a dore, we wil
kepe her in with bordes of cedre.

I am a walle & my breastes are as tow
res: then was I in his eyes as one that fin
deth peace.

Salomōn had a vine in Baal-hamōn: he gaue the vineyard vnto keepers: euerie one

ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God, according to his promes Deut. 18, 15. that he wold neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof they had a special reuelation, but also to interpret & declare the Law, and to apply particularly the doctrine, contained briefly therein, to the viliie & profite of those, to whome they thought it chiefly to appertine, and as the time and state of they required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to thre things, which were the groundes of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the twotables; secondly to the promises & threatenings of the Law; & thirdly, to the covenant of grace & reconciliation, grounded vpon our Sauour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regarde to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safegarde by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation they haue more clearly intreated it then Moses, and set forth the more lively Iesu. Christ, in whome the covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophetes, and was moste diligent to set out the same, with moste vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: and applying the doctrine, as he sawe that the disease of the people required. He declareth also many notable propheties which he had receiued of God, as touching the promes of the Messias, his office, and his kingdome. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vniou with the Iewes. Which are as moste principal pointes contained in this booke, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached. Which after certeine daies that they had stur vpon the Temple dore (for the manner of the Prophetes was to sit vpon the summe of their doctrine for certeine daies that the people might the better marke it, as Isa. 8, 1. & Habak. 2, 2.) the Priests toke it downe and reserued it among their registers: and so by Gods prouidence these booke were preserved as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person and time, he was of the Kings stocke: for Amoz his father was brother to Azarish King of Iudah, as the best written agree, and propheticall more then 63 yeres from the time of Vaxiah vnto the reigne of Manasse, whose father in Lawe he was (as the Ebrewe write) and of whome he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophetes this one thing among other is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certieintie thereof, and that they coulde not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsel, and so reueiled them to his Prophetes.

reproveh the Iewes of their ingratitude, that neither for benefites nor punishment amend. ii He sheweth why their sacrifices are refused, and wherein Gods true seruice standeth. 24 cause of the destruction of Ierusalem, as of the reformation thereof.

A vision of Iſaiah sonne of Amoz, he sawe the comenſation of Iudah and Ierusalem in the daies of Iocham, Ahaz, & Manasse, the kings of Iuda.

Hear, O heavens, and hearken for the Lord hath said, I haue nurtured and brought vp children, but they rebelled against me.

The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his masters cryb, but Israel hath forgotten my people hath not vnderknown: my people hath not vnderknown: a sinful nation, a people laden with iniquities, a sede of the wicked, corrupted: they haue forsaken the Lord, the maker of heaven and earth, the holy one of Israel: they are gone backward.

Wherefore shulde ye be smitten? more for ye fall away more and more: whole head is sicke, and the whole house is heauie.

From the sole of the foote to the head, there is nothing whole in them: wounded, & swelling, and fores corruption: they haue not bene wrapped in bandes vp, nor mollified with oil: Your land is waste: your cities are without inhabiters: strangers deuoure you by your presence, and it is desolate: it is the house of strangers.

And the daughter of Zion shall be like a cottage in a vineyard, like a garden of cucumbers, like a fenced citie.

Except the Lord of hostes preserve vs, when a small remnant shall be left: as Sodóm, & Gomorrah.

Hear the worde of the Lord, our God, O people of Gomorrah: What haue I to do with the multitude of your sacrifices, saith the Lord: I desire not the burnt offerings of rams, & of fed beastes: and I desire not the

to see to amend you by punishment, saith the Lord. By turning the chief priests, that there was no part of the whole body. I haue purged the body, also all the kingdome. Their plagues were so grievous that they would not repent. A Meaning of them, that they take for no advantage of that, which remaineth in Ierusalem. Because that he hath named. That is, all destroyed. You be destroyed as they of Sodóm, saith the Lord. Lam. 4, 22. Although God command as aides and exercises of their faith: yet with true repentance, God detesteth them. Plal.

CHAP. I.

Isaiah reproveh the Lewes of their ingratitude and faithlesnes, that neither for benefites nor punishment woulde amend. 11 He sheweth why their sacrifices are reiecte, and wherein Gods true service standeth. 24 He propheseth of the destruction of Ierusalem, 25 And of the regeneration thereof.

A vision of Iſaiâh, the ſonne of Amôz, which he ſawe <sup>b</sup> concerning Iudâh and Ieruſalem: in the daies of <sup>c</sup> Vzziah, Iochâm, Ahâz & Hezekiah Kings of Iudâh.

Hear, ô <sup>a</sup> heavens, and hearken, ô earth: for the Lord hathe ſaid, I haue nourished and brought vp <sup>e</sup> children, but they haue rebelled againſt me.

The <sup>f</sup> ox knoweth his owner, and the aſſe his maſters cryb, but Iſraël hathe not known: my people hathe not vnderſtand. Ah, ſinful nation, a people laden with iniquitie: a ſede of the wicked, corrupt children: thei haue forſaken the Lord: thei haue prouoked the <sup>g</sup> holy one of Iſraël to anger: they are gone backward.

Wherefore ſhulde ye be <sup>i</sup> ſmitten anie more: for ye fall away more and more: the whole <sup>k</sup> head is ſicke, and the whole heart is heauie.

From the <sup>l</sup> ſole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but woundes, & ſwellings, and forces ful of corruption: thei haue not bene wrapped, nor bounde vp, nor mollified with oyle.

Your land is waſte: your cities are burnt with fyre: ſtrangers deuoure your land in your preſence, and it is deſolate like the outworne <sup>m</sup> of ſtrangers.

And the daughter of <sup>n</sup> Zión ſhal remaine like a cottage in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, & like a beſieged citie.

Except the Lord of hoſtes <sup>o</sup> had reſerued vnto vs, euen a ſmale remnant: we ſhulde haue bene <sup>p</sup> as Sodôm, & ſhulde haue bene like vnto Gomorâh.

Hear the worde of the Lord, ô <sup>r</sup> princes of Sodôm: hearken vnto the Law of our God, ô people of Gomorâh.

What haue I to do with the multitude of your ſacrifices, ſaith the Lord: I am ful of the burnt offrings of rams, & of the fat of fed beaſtes: and I <sup>s</sup> deſire not the blood of

bullockes, nor of lambes, nor of goates.

<sup>t</sup> Whē ye come to appeare before me, who required this of your hâds to tread in my courtes?

<sup>x</sup> My ſoule hateth your <sup>y</sup> newe moonēs & your appointed feaſts: they are a burden vnto me: I am weary to beare them.

<sup>z</sup> And whē you ſhal ſtretch out your hâds, I wil hide mine eyes from you: and though ye make manie prayers, I wil not heare: for your hands are ful <sup>a</sup> of blood.

<sup>b</sup> Waſh you, make you cleane: take away the euil of your workes from before mine eyes: ceaſe to do euil.

<sup>e</sup> Come now, <sup>f</sup> & let vs reaſo together, ſaith the Lord: though your ſinnes were as crimſin, they ſhalbe made <sup>g</sup> white as ſnowe: though they were red like ſkarlet, they ſhal be as well.

<sup>j</sup> But if ye reſuſe and be rebellious, ye ſhalbe deuoured with the ſworde: for the mouth of the Lord hathe ſpoken it.

<sup>t</sup> Then I wil turne mine hand vpon thee, and burne out thy droſſe, til it <sup>u</sup> be pure, & take away all thy tynne.

The zeale of the godly.

Isaiāh. Gods terrible iudgement.

m By iustice
is meant Gods
faithful promises, & is the cause of y<sup>e</sup> deliverance of his Church.
n The wicked
shalnor bepar-
takers of Gods promises, Psal 92.9.

o That is the trees & pleasant places,
where ye commit idolatrie,
which was forbidden,
Deut 16.22.

p The false
god, wherein ye put your confidence, shall be consumed
as easily, as a piece of tow.

afterwarde shalt thou be called a citie of
righteousnes, & a faithful citie.

27 Zión shalbe redemed in iudgement, and they that returne in her, in iustice.

28 And the destruction of the transgressours and of the sinners shalbe together:
and they that forsake the Lord, shalbe consumed.

29 For thei shalbe cōfounded for the oaks,
which ye haue desired, and ye shalbe ashamed of the gardens, that ye haue chosen.

30 For ye shalbe as an oke, whose leafe fa-
deth: & as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shalbe as towes, and the maker thereof, as a sparke: and they shal
bothe burne together, & none shal quenche them.

CHAP. II.

2 The Church shalbe restored by Christ, and the Gentiles called. 6 The punishment of the rebellious & obstinate.

1 The worde that Isaiāh the sonne of Amōz sawe vpon Iudāh and Ierusa-lēm.

2 *It shalbe in the last daies, that the mōu-taine of the house of the Lord shalbe prepared in the top of the mōuntaines, & shal
be exalted aboue the hilles, & all nacions
shal flowe vnto it.

3 And manie people shal go, & say, Come,
and let vs go vnto the mōuntain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iakōb, &
he wil teache vs his waies, and we wil wal-ke in his paths: for the Law shal go forth
of Zión, and the worde of the Lord from Ierusalem,

4 And he shal iudge among the natiōs, &
rebuke manie people: thei shal breake
their swordes also into mattocks, & their speares into fishes: nacion shal not lift vp a sword against nacion, nether shal they learne to fight anie more.

5 O house of Iakōb, come ye, and let vs
walke in the light of the Lord.

6 Surely thou hast forsaken thy people,
the house of Iakōb, because thei are ful
of the East maners, and are forcerers as the Philistims, and abunde with strange children.

7 Their land also was ful of silver and golde, and there was none end of their treasures: and their land was ful of horses,
and their charetes were infinite.

8 Their land also was ful of idoles: they worshipped the worke of their owne hāds,
which their owne fingers haue made.

Mich. 4.1. a The decree and ordinance
of God, concerning the restauracion of the Church, &
is chiefly
ment of the time of Christ.
b In an euident
place to be se-
ene and discerned.

c When the kingdome of Christ shalbe enlarged by preaching of
the doctrine.
Here also is declared the zeale of the children of God, when they are called.

d Alluding to mount Zion,
where the visible Church
then was.

e Meaning the whole doctrine of saluacion.
f That was accomplished,
when the Gospel was first
preached in Ierusalem, and from thence went through
all the worlde.

g The Lord, &
is Christ, shal
haue all power given him.
h That they may acknowledge their sins, & turne to him.

i He sheweth the fruit of the peace,
which the Gospel shal bring:
to wit, that men
shal doo good
one to another,
where as before they were enemies.

k He speeth out against the vse
of weapons and
lawful warre,
but sheweth how
the hearts of the godlie shal be affected one
toward another:
which peace and loue doeth beginne and growe
in this life,
but shal be perfected when we are ioined with our heaue Christ
teisti.

l Song the Gentiles
will be so ready,
make you haile,
and shewe them
the way to worship God.

m The Prophet seig the false hope, that the Iewes wolde conceit, complaineth to God, as though he had vicerly forsaken them for their finnes. A ful of the corrupcions that reigned chiefly in the East partes.

n They altogether giue them selues to the fictions
of other nacions.
o The Prophet first condemned their superstiti-
on and idolatrie:
next their deuoutnes, and
thirdly their
aine trust in
worldlie riches.

And a man bowed him self, and a hūbled him self: therefore spare the dust from before the feare of the Lord,
and from the glorie of his maiestie.

11 The hie lōke of man shalbe humbled,
and the loftines of men shalbe abased:
Lord onely shalbe exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lord of hostes is on all the proude and haucie, and vpon
that is exalted: and it shalbe made lowe.

13 Euen vpon all the cedres of Leban-that are hie and exalted, and vpon
oakes of Bashān,

14 And vpon all the high mōuntaines
vpon all the hilles that are lifted vp,

15 And vpon euerie hie towre, and vpon
uerie strong wall,

16 And vpon all the fippes of Tarshish,
and vpon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the hauntes of men shalbe broghe
lowe, and the loftines of men shalbe abasfed, and the Lord shal onely be exalted
in that day.

18 And the idoles wil be vtterly destroye.

19 Then they shal go into the holes of the rockes, and into the caues of the earth,
from before the feare of the Lord, & from
the glorie of his maiestie, when he shal
rise to destroye the earth.

20 At that day shal man cast away his siluer idoles, and his golden idoles (which they had made them selues to worship them-
sels to the mowles and to the backes,

21 To go into the holes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the ragged rockes from before the feare of the Lord, and from
the glorie of his maiestie, when he shal
rise to destroye the earth.

22 Cease ye from the man whose breath is in his nostrilles: for wherein is he to estemed?

CHAP. III.

1 For the sūne of the people God wil take away the men, and giue them foolish princes. 12 The conuulsi-on of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

For lo, the Lord God of hostes take away from Ierusalem and from Iudāh the stay, and the strength: euen
the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, and the man of warre,
the iudge and the Prophet, the prudent
and the aged,

3 The captain of fiftie, and the honorable
and the counseler, and the cunning artifi-
cer, and the eloquent man.

4 And I wil appoint children to be their
princes, and babes shal rule ouer them.

5 The people shalbe oppressed one of
another, & euerie one by his neighbour:
children shal presume against the ancies,
the vile against the honorable.

6 And in that day shal the Lord take away
the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

7 The strong man, and the man of warre,
the iudge and the Prophet, the prudent
and the aged,

8 The captain of fiftie, and the honorable
and the counseler, and the cunning artifi-
cer, and the eloquent man.

9 And I wil appoint children to be their
princes, and babes shal rule ouer them.

10 The people shalbe oppressed one of
another, & euerie one by his neighbour:
children shal presume against the ancies,
the vile against the honorable.

11 And in that day shal the Lord take away
the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

12 The strong man, and the man of warre,
the iudge and the Prophet, the prudent
and the aged,

Pride of women.

When euerie one shal take his brother of the house of his father, thou hast clothing: thou shalt be rich, and let this fall be vnder thee:
in that day he shal sweare, saying, I am not be a helper: for there is no
mine house, nor clothing: there is no prince of the people.

13 Douteles Ierusalem is fallen, and is fallen downe, because their workes are against the Lord, to the eyes of his glorie.

14 Thei shall be as a chastei-ment against them, yea, thei declare themselves as Sodom, they hide them
vnto their soules: for they haue ruined vnto them selues.

15 Say ye, Surely it shalbe wel with them, for they shal eat the frute of the earth: Wo be to the wicked, it shal
be as a chastei-ment for the rewarde of his hāds
vnto him.

16 Children are extortioners,
and women haue rule ouer
the people, they that lead thee, carene, and destroye the way of the Lord standeth vp to please
the people.

17 The Lord shal entre into iudge-ment, the Ancies of his people and thereof: for ye haue eaten vp the de: the spoyle of the poore houses.

18 What haue ye to do, that ye be ple to pieces, and grinde the poore, saith the Lord, euen the holles?

19 The Lord also saith, Because the daughters of Zión are haucie, and stretched out neckes, and wring eyes, walking and going, and making a tinkling

CHAP. V.

Under the similitude of the vine he describeth the state of the people, 8 Of their auarice. 11 Their drunken-
nes. 13 Of their captiuitie.

Now will I sing to my beloued a song of my beloued to his vineyard, * My be-loued had a vineyard in a very fruitful hil,

And he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best plants, and he buylt a towre in y mid-
des thereof, & made a wine presse therein:

thē he looked y it shulde bring forth the grapes: but it broght forth the wilde grapes.

Now therefore, o inhabitants of Ierusa-lēm & me of Iudah, iudge, I pray you, be-twene me, and my vineyard.

What colde I haue done anie more to my vineyarde y I haue not done vnto it: why haue I looked that it shulde bring forth the grapes, & it bringeth forth the wilde grapes?

And now I will tel you what I wil do to my vineyard: I wil take away y hedge

as it was cuēt: y they were the cause of their owne ruine
no more care for it meaning y he wolde take fro the his worde & muniters, & thereof, & it shal be eaten vp: I wil breake the wall thereof, & it shal be trode downe:

 6 And I wil lay it waste, it shal not be cut, nor digged, but briars, & thornes shal growe vp: I wil also commande the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it.

7 Surely the vineyarde of the Lord of hostes is the house of Israēl, and the men of Iudah are his pleasant plant, and he looked for iudgement: but beholde oppression for righteousness, but beholde a crying.
 8 Wo vnto the that ioyne house to house, and lay field to field, til there be no place, that ye may be placed by your selues in the middes of the earth.

9 This is in mine eares, saith the Lord of hostes. Surely manie houses shalbe desolate, euē great, & sayre without inhabitant.
 10 For ten acres of vines shal yelde one bath, & the sedge of an homer shal yelde an ephāh.

11 Wo vnto them, that rise vp early to followe drunkennes, and to them that continue vntil a night, til the wine do inflame them.

12 And the harpe and viole, timbrel, and pipe, and wine are in their feastes: but they regarde not the worke of the Lord, nether consider the worke of his hands.

13 Therefore my people is gone into captiuitie, because they had no knowledge, and the glorie thereof are men famished, & the multitude thereof is dryed vp with thirst.

14 Therefore he hath enlarged it self, and hath opened his mouth, without measure, and their glorie, and their multitude, and their pompe, and he that reioyced among them, shal descende into it.

15 And man shalbe brought downe, and man shalbe humbled, euē the eyes of the proude shalbe humbled.

16 And the Lord of hostes shalbe exalted in iudgement, and the holie God shalbe sanctified in iustice.

17 Then shal the lambes fede after their manner, and the strangers shal eat the desolate places of the fat.

18 Wo vnto them, that drawe iniquitie wth cordes of vanitie, and sinne, as with cart ropes:

19 Which say, Let him make spede: let him hasten his worke, that we may se it: & let the counsell of the holie one of Israēl drawe nere and come, that we may knowe it.

20 Wo vnto them that speake good of euil, a and euil of good, which put darkenes for light, and light for darkenes, that put bitter for swete, and swete for sowre.

21 Wo vnto them that are wise in their owne eyes, and prudent in their owne sight.

22 Wo vnto them that are mightie to drinke wine, and to them that are strong to poure in strong drinke:

23 Which iustifie the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as flame offyre deuoureth the stubble, and as the chaffe is consumed of the flame: so their roote shalbe as rottennes, and their budde shal rise vp like dust, because they haue cast of the Law of the Lord of hostes, and contemned the worde of the holie one of Israēl.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, & he hath stretched out his hand vpon them, and hath smitten them that mountaines did treble: and their carcasses were torne in the middes of the fire, & for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out stil.

26 And he will lift vp a signe vnto the nations a farre, and wil hille vnto them from the end of the earth: & beholde, they shal come hastily with spede.

27 None shal faint nor fall among them: none shal slumber nor slepe, neither shal the girdle of his loynes be loosed, nor the latchet of his shoes be broken:

28 Whose arrowes shalbe sharpe, & all bowes bent: his horse shalbe thought like flint, & his wheles like a whirle wind.

29 His roaring shalbe like a lyon, and he shal roare like lyons whelpes: they shal roar, and lay holde of the pray: they shal take it away, and none shal deliuer it.

30 And in that day they shal roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: & if they loke vnto the earth, beholde darkenes, sorrow, and the light shalbe darkened in their skie.

CHAP. VI.

Isaiāh sheweth his vocation by the Vision of the Lord maieſtie. 9 He sheweth the obſtinacie of the people. 11 The destruction of the land. 13 The remnant reserved.

IN the yere of the death of King Vazrahiah, I sawe also the Lord sitting vpon an high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower partes thereof filled the temple.
 2 The Seraphims stood vpon it: euery one had six wings: with twaine he covered his face, and with twaine he covered his feet, and with twaine he did sit.

3 And one cryed to another, and said, Ho-

4 As a iudge ready to giue sentence. 5 Of his garment. 6 They were Angels in called, because they were of a higher order. 7 They burnt in the love of God, and were light as fire. 8 Signifying, that they are not able to endure the glory of God. 9 Thereby was declared the vocation of the prophet. 10 Which thing is, that the holy Angels can not satisfie them selues in praising of God.

h Iudgement and righteousness are true frutes of the feare of God, and therefore in the cruel oppressors there is no religion. i Of them that are oppressed. k To wit, for the poore to dwell in.

l I haue heard the complaint, and crye of the poore. m Which contineth about the potells: so the acie shalbe but yelde one potell.

n Which contineth an hundred potells. o An Ephāh contineth ten potells: & is in drye things as much as bath is in licours.

p That spare no paine nor diligence to followe their lusts. q Which are neuer weary of their rioting and excessive pleasures: but vse all meanes to prouoke to the same.

r They regarde not the prouident care of God ouer them, nor for what end he hath created them.

s That is, that certainly goe for so the Prophets vse to speake, as though the thing which shal come to passe, were done already.

t Because they woulde not obey the worde of God. u Meaning, y graue that swallowe vp them that shal dye for hunger and thirst, and yet for all this great destruction it shal neuer be satisfied.

x God comforteth the poore lambes of his Church. y had bene strangers in other countreys, promising that they shoulde dwell in those places againe, whereof they had bene depriv'd by the satan and cruel tyrants.

z Which vse all illumes, occasions, and excuses to harden their conscience in sinne. 7 He sheweth what are the wordes of the wicked, when they are moued with Gods iudgements. 1 Pet. 3. 4. a Which are not ashamed of sinne, nor care for honestie, but are grown to a desperate impietie.

ly, holy, holy is the Lord of hostes: the worlde is ful of his glorie.

And the lincels of the dore chokt: and the voyce of him that cryed at the house was filled with smoke.

Then I said, Wo is me: for I am done, because I am a man of pollutes, and I dwell in the middes of polluted lippes: for mine eyes haue seen the King and Lord of hostes.

Then flewe one of the Seraphims me with an hote cole in his hand: he had take from the altar with tennes, and he touched my mouth, and this hath touched thy lippes, and iniquitie shalbe taken away, and thou shalt be purged.

Also I heard the voyce of the Lord saying, Whome shal I send? and who will for vs? Then I said, Here am I, send me. And he said, Go, and say vnto the people, Ye shall heare in dede, but shall not vnderstand: ye shall plainly see, but shall not perceiue.

Make the heart of this people steepe: their eares heauie, and shut their eyes: lest they see with their eyes, & heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their heart, and conuert; and he shall heale them.

Then said I, Lord, p how long? he answered, Vntil the cities be without inhabitant, and the house man, and the land be utterly desolate.

And the Lord haue removed away, and there be a great desolation in the middes of the land.

But yet in it shalbe a tenth, a turne, and shalbe eaten vp as an oke, which haue a substance when they cast their leaues: so the substance shalbe the substance thereof.

As they will not learne thereby to obey his will, and to do their dutie, and as they are so obstinate, that through their owne malice they haue made themselves so hard, that they are not to be moved with a charitable affection towards them: or as some write, it was reuelled vnto him, that the remnant of the people of Iuda, and of Ierusalem, were from Ierusalem to Ierusalem, & for the sake of the remnant they shal after flourish as a tree, which is cut downe to be dead, yet in summer is fresh, and flourisheth.

Thou hast multiplied the nation, & not increased their ioye: thei haue reioyced
before thee according to the ioye in har

For the yoke of their burdē, & the staffe

Surely euerie battel of the wariour is iudgement and with iustice, from hence forth, eue for euer: the zeale of the Lord

of hostes wil performe this.

The Lord hath sent a worde into Iaa
kōb, and it hath lighted vpon Israēl.

And all the people shal knowe, eue Ephra im, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that saie in y pride & presumptio of y heart,

The bricke are fallē, but we wil buyl
de it with hewen stones: the wilde figtrees are cut downe, but we wil change the in to cedres.

Neuertheles the Lord wil raise vp the aduersaries of Rezin against him, & ioi
ne his enemies together.

Arām before & the Philistims behind,
and thei shal deuoure Israēl with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not tur ned awaie, but his hand is stretched out
stil.

For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth the, nether do thei seke the Lord of hostes.

Therefore wil the Lord cut of from Israēl head and taile, branch and rush in one daie.

The ancient and the honorable man, he is the head: & the prophet that teacheth
lies, he is the taile.

For we wil make our

16 For the leaders of the people cause the
to erre: and thei that are led by them, are deuoured.

17 Therefore shal the Lord haue no plea sure in their young men, nether wil he haue compassion of their fatherles and of their widowes: for euerie one is an hypo
crite and wicked, and euerie mouth spea keth folie: yet for all this his wrath is not turned awaie, but his hand is stretched out
stil.

18 For wickednes burneth as a fyre: it deu
oureth briars & the thornes & wil kin dle in the thicke places of the forest: and thei shal moune vpon like the lifting vp of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hostes shal
the land be darken d, and the people shal
be as fyre: no man shal spare
his brother.

20 And he shal snatche at the right hand, &
be hungry: & he shal eat on the left hand,
and shal not be satisfied: euerie one shal
eat the flesh of his owne arme.

21 Manassēh, Ephraim: & Ephraim Mana

yet for all this his wrath is not turned a g Seeing that I haue ouercome, as wel one citie as another, so that none cold resist, shall Ierusalem be able to escape mine hands?

h Whē he hath the sufficient ly chastised his people (for he beginneth at his owne house) the wil he burne the rodde: i Meaning, of Sancherib.

k Here we see that no creature is able to do any thing, but as God appointeth him, & that they are all but his instruments to do his worke, though the intentions be diuerse, as ver. 6. i Meaning, that God is a light to comfort his people, & a fyre to burne his enemies. m That is, the Assyrians n To win, bodie and soule vnto ly. o When y barabell is lost, and the handeraken. p This is the end of Gods plagues towards his, to bring them to him and to forsake all trust in others. q This female number, is seemed to be consumed, and yet according to Gods decree is fined, shall be sufficient to fill all the world with righteousnes. r God will destroy this hill as he hath determined, and after saue a female portion.

8 For he saith, Are not my princes, all together Kings?
9 Is not Calnó as Carchemish: Is not Hamath like Arpad: Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine had hath founde the kingdoms of the idoles, seing their idoles were aboute Ierusalem, and aboute Samaria:

11 Shall not I, as I haue done to Samaria, & to the idoles thereof, so do to Ierusalem and to the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accōplished all his worke vpon mount Zión and Ierusalem, I wil visit the frute of the proude heart of the King of Asshúr, and his glorious and proude lokes,

13 Because he said, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wisdom, because I am wise: therefore I haue remoued the borders of the people, and haue spoiled their treasures, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And mine hand hath founde as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whisper.

15 Shall the axe boast it self against him that heueth therewith? or shall the saw exalt it self against him that moueth it? as if the rod shulde lift vp it self against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe shulde exalt it self, as it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hostes send among his fat men, leanenes, and vnder his glorie he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of fyre.

17 And the light of Israël shall be as a fyre, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it shall burne, and deuoure his thornes and his briars in one day:

18 And shall consume the glorie of his forest, & of his frutefull fields bothe soule and flesh: and he shall be as the fainting of a stander bearer.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be fewe, that a childe may tel them.

20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israël, and such as are escaped of the house of Iakób, staye no more vpon him that smote them, but shall stay vpon the Lord, the holy one of Israël in trueth.

21 The remnant shall returne, then the remnant of Iakób vnto the mightie God.

22 For though thy people, o Israël, be as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant of the returne. The consumption decreed shall ouerflowe with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hostes shall make the consumption, euen determined, in the middes of all the land.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, O my people, that dwellest in Zión, be not afraid of Asshúr: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee after the maner of Egypte.
25 But yet a very litle time, and the wate shall be consumed, and mine anger in that destruction.

26 And the Lord of hostes shall raise vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of Midian in the rocke Oré: and shall staffe was vpon the Sea, so he wil lift vp after the maner of Egypte.

27 And at that day shall his burde be taken away from of thy shulder, & his yoke from of thy necke: & the yoke shall be destroyed, because of the anointing.

28 He is come vnto Aiath: he is passed into Migron: at Michmash shall he lay downe his armour.

29 They haue gone ouer the forde: they lodged in the lodging at Gebá: Ramah is afraid: Gibeon of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift vp thy voice, o daughter Gallim, cause Laish to heare, o poore Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is remoued: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered them selues together.

32 Yet there is a time y he wil stay at Nob: he shall lift vp his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zión, the hill of Ierusalem.

33 Beholde, the Lord God of hostes shall cut of the bough with feare, and the high stature shall be cut of, and the hie shall be humbled.

34 And he shall cut away the thicke places of the forest with yron, & Lebanon shall haue a mightie fall.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ borne of the roote of Ithai. 2 His Vertues and kingdom. 3 The frutes of the Gospell. 4 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 Vnto there shall come a rod forthe of the stocke of Ithai, & a grafe shall grow out of his rootes.

2 And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest vpon him: the Spirit of wisdom and vnderstanding, the Spirit of counsel & strength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord,

3 And shall make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for he shall not iudge after the sight of his eyes, nether reprove by the hearing of his eares.

4 But with righteousness shall he iudge the poore, and with equitie shall he reprove the meke of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rodde of his mouth, & with the breath of his lippes shall he slay the wicked.

5 And iustice shall be the girdle of his loynes, & faithfulness the girdle of his raiment.

The wolfe also shall dwell with the lambe, and the leopard shall lye with the kidde, and the lion, and the asse shall graze together, and a childe shall lye with the asse, and the kowe and the beare shall feed together, and the lyon shall eat strawe like the bullocke.

And the sucking childe shall play in the hole of the aspe, & the wained childe shall put his hand vpon the cockatrice.

Then shall none hurt nor destroy in all the mountaine of mine holines: for I shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters that cover the sea.

And in that day y roote of Ithai shall stand vp for a signe vnto the nations, that shall seeke vnto it, & his shall be glorious.

And in the same day shall the Lord put his hand againe the second time, and shall gather the remnant of his people, which he hath left, of Asshúr, and of Egypte, of Pathros, and of Ethiopia, and of Shinar, and of Hamath, and of the yles of the sea.

And he shall set vp a signe to the people, and shall assemble the dispersed of Iudah, and shall gather the scattered of Iudah, from the foure corners of the worlde.

The harred also of Ephraim shall be gathered, and the aduersaries of Iudah shall be gathered: Ephraim shall not enuie Iudah, and Iudah shall vex Ephraim.

But they shall slee vpon the flanks of the Philistims toward the West, and they shall spoyle them of the East together: Moab shall be the stretching of hands, & the children of Ammon shall be in obedience.

The Lord also shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptians sea, and the mightie winde shall lift vp his voice, and shall smite him in the streames, and cause men to wade with shoes.

And there shall be a path to the desert, which shall be left of his people, which are left of Iudah, as it was vnto Israël in the day that he came vp out of the land of Egypte.

the weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

Howle f you, for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almightie.

Therefore shall all hands be weakened, &
all mens hearts shall melt,

And they shall be afayed: anguish & sorrow shall take them, and they shall haue peine, as a woman that travaileth: euerie one shall be amaled at his neighbour, and their faces
shall be like flames of fyre.

Beholde, the daye of the Lord cometh,
cruel, with wrath and fierce angre to lay
the land waste: and he shall destroy the sin ners out of it.

For the starres of heauen and the plan
ets thereof shall not giue their light: the sune shall be darkened in his going forth,
and the moone shall not cause her light to

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

End ye a lambe to the ruler of the sworde from the rocke of the wilder-
nes, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zión.

For it shalbe as a birde that flyeth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shal
be at the foordes of Arnōn.

Gather a counſel, execute iudgement:
make thy shadowe as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out:
bewraye not him that is fled.

Let my banished dwel with thee: Moab be-thou their couert from the face of the destroyer: for the extorcionier shal end:
the destroyer shalbe consumed, & the op-
pressour shal cease out of the land.

And in mercie shal the throne be prepared, & he shal sit vpon it in stedfa-stnes, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and hastning iustice.

We haue heard of the pride of Moab (he is verie proud) euen his pride, and his ar-rogancie, and his indignacion, but his lies shal not be so.

Therefore shal Moab howle vnto Moab:
euerie one shal howle: for the fundacions
of Kir-hareseth shal ye mourne, yet thei
shalbe still kin.

For the vineyardes of Heshbōn are cut
downe, & the vine of Sibmáh: the lords of the heathen haue broken the principal
vines thereof: they are come vnto Iazér:
they wandred in the wilderness: her good-
lie branches stretched out them selues, &
went ouer the sea.

Therefore wil I wepe with the weping
of Iazér, & of y vine of Sibmáh, o Hesh-bōn: and Elealéh, I wil make thee drunke
with my teares, because vpon thy summer

1 Because God wolde haue his couenēt stable, he promiffeth to referre some of this people, and to bring them to repentance. k He sheweth that Gods corrections euer bring forth some frute, and cause his to turne from their finnes, and to humble them selues to him. l As the Canaanites left their cities, whē God did plague the Israelites there, so the cities of Iſrael ſhal no more be able to defend their inhabitants, then buſhes, when God ſhal ſend the enemy to plague them.

10 And gladnes is taken away, & ioye out of the plentiful field: and in the vineyardes shalbe no fingring nor shouting for ioye: the treader shal not tread wine in the wine presses: I haue caused the reioycing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my bowels shal founde li-

12 And when it shal appeare that Moab
shalbe wearie of his hie places, then shal
he come to his a temple to pray, but he shal not preuaile.

13 This is the worde that the Lord hathe
spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And now the Lord hathe spoken, saying,
15 In thre yeres, as the yeres of a phryeling,
and the glorie of Moab shalbe contēned
in all the great multitude, & the remnant shalbe very small & feeble.

The cities of <sup>c</sup>Aroër shalbe forsaken: they shalbe for <sup>y</sup>flockes: for their shal lye there,
and none shal make them afraide.
The munition also shal cease from <sup>d</sup>Ephraim, & the kingdome from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shalbe as the <sup>e</sup>glorie of the children of Israël, saith the Lord of hostes.
And in that day the glorie of <sup>f</sup>Isakób
shalbe impouerished, and the farnes of his flesh shal be made leane.
And it shalbe as when the haruest man
gathereth <sup>g</sup>the corne, and reapeth the eares
with his arme, and he shalbe as he that gathereth the eares in the valley of <sup>h</sup>Re-

of Israël.
And he shal not loke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, neither shal he loke to those things, which his owne fingers haue made, as groues and images.
In that day shal the cities of their strength
be as the forsaking of boughs & bráches,
which <sup>l</sup>they did forsake, because of the

childre of Israel, & there shalbe desolation.
10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not remembered
the God of thy strength, therefore thou set pleasant plants, and shal graffe
strange vine branches:
11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant
growe, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the harvest
thou shalt be gone in the day of possession,
and there shalbe a desperate sorow.

rebuke them, and they shal flee farre of,

hostes.

Then the waters of the sea shal faile, &
the riuers shal be dried vp, and wasted.

And the riuers shal go farre away: the riuers of defense shalbe emptyed & dried vp: the redes & laggas shalbe cut downe.

The grasse in the riuers, and at the head of the riuers, and all that growth by the riuers, shal wither, & be driuen away, and

And it shalbe for a signe and for a wit-

CHAP. XXI.

Of the destruction of Babylon by the Persians and Medes. 11 The ruine of Iudaea, 13 And of Arabia.

The burden of the desert sea. As the whirlwindes in the South vse to passe from the wilderness, so shal it come from the horrible land.

A grieuous vision was shewed vnto me, The transgression against a trisigressour, and the destroyer against a destroyer. Go vp Elam, besige Media: I haue caused all the mourning thereof to cease.

Therefore are my sorowes filled w sorowes: sorowes haue taken me as the sorowes of a woman that trauielerh: I was bowed downe when I hearde it, & I was amased when I sawe it.

Mine heart failed: fearfulness troubled me: the night of my pleasures hath he turned into feare vnto me.

Prepare thou the table: watche in thy watchetowre: eat, drinke: arise, ye princes, anynt the shield.

For thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Go, set a watchman, to tel what he seeth.

And he sawe a charet with two horsemen: a charet of an asse, & a charet of a camel: and he hearkened & toke diligent hede.

And he cryed, A lyon: my lord, I stand continually vpon the watch towre in the day time, and I am set in my watch euerie night.

And beholde, this mans charet cometh with two horsemen. And he answered and said, Babél is fallen: it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath he broken vnto the grounde.

O my threshing, and the corne of my floor. That which I haue heard of the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, haue shewed vnto you.

The burden of Dumah. He calleth to me out of Seir, Watchman, what was in the night? Watchman, what was in the night?

The watchman said, The morning cometh, & also the night. If ye will aske, enquire: retorne & come.

The burden against Arabia. In the rest of Arabia shal ye tary all night, in the waies of Dedanum.

Inhabitants of the land of Temah: for the water to meete the chariots, prevent him that sleeth with his bread.

For they flee from the drawn sword, euen from the drawn sword, and from the bent bowe, and from the grieuousness of warre.

For thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Yet a yere according to the yeres of sin, & reeling, & all the glorie of Kedar shal fall.

And the residue of the number of the strong archers of the sonnes of Kedar shal be fewe: for the Lord God of Israel hath spoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

The prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem by Nebuchadnezzar. 11 A threatening against Shinar, 20 To whose office Eliakim is preferred.

The burden of the valley of vision. What aileth thee now that thou art wholly gone vp vnto the house toppes?

Thou that art full of noise, a citie full of brute, a ioyous citie: thy slaine men shal not be slaine with sword, nor dye in battle.

All thy princes shal flee together from thee: bowe: thei shal be bound: all that shal be founde in thee, shal be bounde together, which haue fled from farre.

Therefore said I, Turne away from me: I wil wepe bitterly: labour not to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, & of perplexitie by the Lord God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and a crying vnto the mountaynes.

And Elam bare the quiver in a mans charet with horsemen, and Kir vncouered the shield.

And thy chief valles were full of charers, & the horsemen set them selues in aray

And he discovered the <sup>k</sup> covering of Tuda: & thou didest loke in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

And ye have sene the breaches of the citie of David: for they were manie, and ye gathered the waters of the lower poole.

And ye nombred the houses <sup>m</sup> of Ierusalem, and the houses haue ye broken downe to fortifie the wall,

And haue also made a ditch betwene the two walles, for the <sup>n</sup> waters of the olde poole, and haue not looked vnto the maker thereof, neither had respect vnto him that formed it of olde.

And in that day did <sup>y</sup> Lord God of hostes call vnto weeping & mourning, & to baldnes and girding with sackcloth.

And behold, ioye and gladnes, slaying oxen and killing shepe, eating flesh, and drinking wine, <sup>p</sup> eating and drinking: for to morowe we shal dye.

And it was declared in the eares of the Lord of hostes. Surely this iniquitie shal not be purged from you, til ye dye, saith the Lord God of hostes.

Thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Go, get thee to that <sup>r</sup> treasurer, to Shebna, the steward of the house, & say,

What hast thou to do here? and whome hast thou <sup>s</sup> here? that thou shuldest here howe thee out a sepulchre, as he <sup>y</sup> heweth out his sepulchre in an hie place, or that graueth an habitacion <sup>t</sup> for him self in a rocke?

He wil surely rolle & turne thee like a ball in a large cuntry: there shalt thou dye, and there the charers of thy glorie shal be the <sup>u</sup> shame of thy lords house.

And I wil dryue thee from thy statiõ, & out of thy dwelling wil he destroy thee.

And in that day wil I <sup>v</sup> call my seruant Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiáh,

And with thy garments wil I clothe him, and with thy girdle wil I strengthen him: thy power also wil I commit into his hand, and he shal be a father of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the house of Iuda.

And the <sup>w</sup> keye of the house of David wil I laie vpon his shoulder: so he shal open & no man shal shut: and he shal shut, and no man shal open.

And I wil fasten him as a <sup>x</sup> nail in a sure place, and he shal be for the throne of glorie to his fathers house.

And thou shalt hang vpon him all the ancient rites, as length it wil come to the shame of those Priests.

A prophesie against Tyrus. 17 A promise that it shal be restored.

The <sup>a</sup> burden of Tyrus. Howle, ye shippes of <sup>b</sup> Tarshish: for it is destroyed, so <sup>y</sup> there is none house: none shal come from the land of <sup>d</sup> Chittim: it is <sup>reueiled</sup> vnto them.

Be still, ye that dwell in the yles: the marchants of Zidon, & such as passe ouer the sea, haue <sup>r</sup> replenished thee.

The <sup>s</sup> fede of Nilus growing by the abundance of waters, & the haruest of the riuer was her reuenues, and she was a marre of the nations.

Be ashamed, thou Zidon: for the <sup>h</sup> sea hath spoken, <sup>even</sup> the strength of the sea, saying, I haue not <sup>t</sup> trauailed, nor brought forth the childre, neither nourished yong men, nor brought vp virgins.

When the same commeth to the Egyptians, they shal be <sup>k</sup> forie, concerning the rumor of Tyrus.

Go you ouer to <sup>i</sup> Tarshish: howle, ye that dwell in the yles.

Who hath decreed this against Tyrus (that <sup>m</sup> crowne men) whose marchants are princes: whose chapmen are the nobles of the worlde?

The Lord of hostes hath decreed this, to staine the pride of all glorie, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

Pass through thy land like a flood to <sup>y</sup> daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

He stretched out his hand vpon the sea: he shoke the kingdomes: the Lord hath giuen a commandement concerning the place of marchandise, to destroye the power thereof.

And he said, Thou shalt no more reioyce when <sup>y</sup> art oppressed: <sup>o</sup> virgin <sup>n</sup> daughter of Zidon: rise vp, go ouer vnto Chittim: yet there thou shalt haue no rest.

All men knowe of this destruction. I have heard tell of it, and enriched thee. Meaning the countreys of Egypt which was fed by overflowing of Nilus. ## A curse for sinnes.

<sup>r</sup> The people of <sup>s</sup> Chaldea destroyed the Assyrians: whereby the Prophet meaneth, that the Chaldeans were able to overcome the Assyrians, who were so great a nation, much more shall these two nations of Chaldea & Assyria be able to overthrow Tyrus. <sup>f</sup> This is Ty-

<sup>15</sup> And in that daie shall Tyrus be forgotte seuentie yeres, (according to the yeres of one King) at the end of seuentie yeres shall Tyrus be as an harlot.

<sup>16</sup> Take an harpe, & go about the citie: (thou harlot that hast bene forgotten) make swete melodie, sing mo songs that thou maiest be remembred.

<sup>17</sup> And at the end of seuentie yeres shall the Lord visite Tyrus, & she shall returne to her wages, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the world.

<sup>18</sup> Yet her occupying and her wages shall be holie vnto the Lord: it shall not be laied vp nor kept in store, but her marchandise shall be for the that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

<sup>19</sup> She shall labour by all means to recover her first credit, as an harlot when she is long forgotten, seeketh by all means to entice her louers.

<sup>4</sup> The earth lamenteth and fadeth away: the world is feble & decayed: the proude people of the earth are weakened.

<sup>5</sup> The earth also deceiueh, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they trasgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerlasting couenant.

<sup>7</sup> The wine faileth, vine hath no might: all that were of mery heart, do mourne.

Wherefore, heare the worde of the Lord;
ye scornful men y<sup>e</sup> rule this people, which is at Ierusalem.

Because ye haue said, We haue made a covenant with death, & w<sup>e</sup> hell are we at agreement: thogh a scourge runne ouer, & passe through, it shal not come at vs: for we haue made a fallshode our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid,

Therefore thus saith the Lord God,
Beholde, I wil lay in Ziō a stone, a tryed
stone, a precious corner stone, a sure fun dacion. He that beleueth, shal not make

Iudgement also wil I laye to the rule, &

And your covenant with death shalbe
disanulled, & your agreement with hel shal
not stand: when a scourge shal runne ouer
and passe through, then shal ye be trodde
downe by it.

When it passeth ouer, it shal take you a way: for it shal passe through euerie mor ning in the day, and in the night, and there shal be onely feare to make you to vnder stand the hearing.

For the bed is streit that it can not suf
fice, and the couering narrowe that one ca
not wrap him self.

For the Lord shal stand as in mount <sup>P</sup>e

Gibeōn, y<sup>e</sup> he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his acte, his strange acte.

Now therefore be no mockers, lest your bonds increase: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen deter mined vpon the whole earth.

Hearken ye, and heare my voyce: hearkē
ye, and heare my speache.

Doeth the plow man plow all the day,
to sowe? doeth he open, and breake the clot
res of his grounde?

When he hathe made it plaine, wil he not then sowe the fitches, and sowe cum min, and cast in wheat by measure, & the appointed barley and rye in their place?

For his God doeth instruct him to haue discretion, and doeth teache him.

For fitches shal not be threshed with a threshing instrument, nether shal a cart

be used to plow, and some at another, some after one sorte and some after another: for his chosen seeds is beaten, and tryed, but not broken, as whole be turned about vpon the cummin:

but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe
and cummin with a rod.

Bread cometh when it is threshed, he doeth
not alway thresh it, nether doeth the whe
le of his cart make any se, nether wil he breake it with the rethe thereof.

This also cometh from the Lord of ho
stes, which is wonderful in counsel, & ex

against thee on a mount, & wil cast vp ramparts
against thee.

So shalt thou be humbled, & shalt speake
out of the d<sup>y</sup> grounde, and thy speache shal be as out of the dust: thy voyce also shalbe out of the grounde like him that hathe a spirit of diuination, and thy tal king shal whisper out of the dust.

Moreover, the multitude of thy stran gers shal be like smale dust, and the mul titude of strong men shalbe as chaffe that passeth away, and it shalbe in a moment,
euen suddenly.

Thou shalt be visited of y<sup>e</sup> Lord of hostes
with thundre, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlwinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fyre.

And the multitude of all the nacions y<sup>e</sup>
fight against the altar, shalbe as a dreame
or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holds a gainst it, and laye sege vnto it.

And it shalbe like as an hūgrie man drea meth, and beholde, he eateth: and when he awaketh, his soule is emptie: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and lo, he is drin king, and when he awaketh, beholde, he is fainte, and his soule longeth: so shal the multitude of all nacions be that fight a gainst mount Ziō.

Stray your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, & make you blinde: they are dron ken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

For the Lord hathe couered you with a spirit of slomber, and hathe shut vp your eyes: the Prophetes, and your chief Seers
hathe he couered.

And the vision of them all is become vn
to you, as the wordes of a boke that is se led vp, which they deliuer to one that can read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. Then shal he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

A wonderous worke of God. Iſaiah. In quietnes is ſtrength for the Lord.

20 And the boke is given vnto him that can not read; ſaying, Read this; I pray thee. And he ſhal ſay, I can not read.

21 Therefore the Lord ſaid, Becauſe this people <sup>a</sup> come nere vnto me with their mouth, and honour me with their lippes, but haue remoued their heart far fro me, and their <sup>b</sup> feare toward me was taught by the precept of men,

22 Therefore beholde, I wil againe do a maruelous worke in this people, <sup>c</sup> euen a maruelous worke, and a wonder: for the wiſdome of their wiſemen ſhal <sup>d</sup> periſh, and the vnderſtanding of their prudent men ſhalbe hid.

23 Wo vnto them that <sup>e</sup> ſeke depe to hide their counſel from the Lord: for their workes are in darknes, and they ſay, Who ſeeeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

24 Your turning of <sup>f</sup> deuſes ſhal it not be eſtimated: as the potters claye: for ſhal <sup>g</sup> worke ſay of him that made it, He made me not: or the thing formed, ſay of him that facioned it, He had none vnderſtanding?

25 Is it not yet but a litle while, and Lebanon ſhalbe <sup>h</sup> turned into Carmel: & Carmel ſhalbe counted as a foreſt?

26 And in that day ſhal the deafe heare the wordes of the boke, & the eyes of the blind ſhal ſe out of obſcuritie, and out of darkenes.

27 The meke in the Lord ſhal receiue ioye againe, and the poore men ſhal reioyce in the holic one of Iſrael.

28 For the cruel man ſhal ceaſe, and the ſcorneful ſhalbe conſumed: and all that haſted to iniquitie, ſhalbe cut off:

29 Which made a man to ſinne in <sup>i</sup> y wordes, & toke him in a ſnare: which reſproued them in the gate, and made the iuſt to fall without cauſe.

30 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord vnto the houſe of Iaakob, <sup>j</sup> euen he that redeemed Abraham, Iaakob ſhal not now be confounded, nether now ſhal his face be pale.

31 But when he ſeeeth his children, the worke of mine haſds, in the middes of him, they ſhal ſanctifie my Name, and ſanctifie the holic one of Iaakob, & ſhal feare the God of Iſrael.

32 Then they that erred in ſpirit, ſhal haue vnderſtanding, and they that murmured, ſhal learne doctrine.

He reſproueth the Lerner which in their aduerſitie Used their owne counſels, and ſought helpe of the Egyptians 20 Deſpiſing the Prophetes. 26 Therefore he ſheweth what deſtruction ſhal come vpon them. 28 But offereth mercie to the repentant.

WO to the <sup>a</sup> rebellious children, ſaith the Lord, that take counſel, but not of me, and <sup>b</sup> couer with a coun-

2 Which walke forth to go downe into Egypt (& haue not asked at my mouth) to ſtrengthen them ſelues with the ſtrength of Pharaoh, and truſt in the ſhadowe of Egypt.

3 But the ſtrength of Pharaoh ſhalbe your ſhame, & the truſt in <sup>c</sup> y ſhadowe of Egypt your confuſion.

4 For his <sup>d</sup> princes were at Zoan, and his ambaffodours came vnto Haneſ.

5 They ſhalbe all aſhamed of the people: they can not profite them, nor helpe nor doe them good, but ſhalbe a ſhame and alſo a reproche.

7 For the Egyptians are vanitie, and they ſhal helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto <sup>g</sup> her, Their ſtrength <sup>h</sup> is to ſtil.

8 Now go, & write <sup>i</sup> it before them in a table, & note it in a boke that it may be for the <sup>j</sup> laſt day for euer and euer:

15 For thus ſaid the <sup>p</sup> Lord God, the holic one of Iſrael, In reſt and quietnes ſhal ye be ſaued: in quietnes and in confidence ſhalbe your ſtrength, but ye wolde not.

the night, whē a solemne feast is kept: & gladnes of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to go vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mightie one of Israël.

And the Lord shal cause his glorious

voyce to be heard, & shal declare the ligh ting downe of his arme with the angrē of his countenance, and flame of a denouing
fyre, with scattering & tempest, and hail le stones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lord shal Af

3 But he yet is wisest: therefore he wil
bring euil, and not turne backe his worde,
but he wil arise against the house of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, & not God,
and their horses flesh and not spirit: and when the Lord shal stretch out his hand,

CHAP. XXXII.

The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the gouernement of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

1 Beholde, a King shal reigne in iustice, & the princes shal rule b in iudge-
ment.

2 And thus man shal be as an hiding place
from the winde, and as a refuge for the re-pelt: as rivers of water in a drye place, and as the shadowe of a great rocke in a wea-rie land.

3 The eyes of d the seing shal not be shut,
and the eares of them that heare, shal
hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shal vnder-stand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shal be ready to speake distinctly.

5 A nigarde shal no more be called liberal, nor the churle riche.

6 But the nigarde wil speake of nigardnes,
and his heart wil worke iniquitie, and do wickedly, and speake falsly against the Lord, to make emptie the hungrie soule,
and to cause the drinke of the thirstie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: the diuifeth wicked counsels, to vndo
the poore with lying wordes: and to speake
against the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberal man wil diuif of liberal things, and he wil continue his liberalitie.

9 Kise vp, ye womē that are at ease: heare

10 Ye womē, that are careles, shal be in feare

a He prophesieth of the full reſtauratiō of the Church bothe of the Iewes and Gentiles vnder Chriſt, which ſhal be fully accompliſhed at y<sup>e</sup> laſt dayes: albeit as yet it is copared to a deſert and wilderneſſe.

The a deſert and the wilderneſſe ſhal reioyce: and the waſte grounde ſhal be glad and flouriſh as the roſe.

b The Church ſhal be before compared to a barren wilderneſſe, ſhal by Chriſt be made moſt plentifulous and beautiful.

It ſhal flouriſh abundantly & ſhal greatly reioyce alſo and ioy: the glorie of Lebanon ſhal be giuen vnto it: the beautie of Carmel; and of Sharōn, they ſhal be the glorie of the Lord, & the excellencie of our God.

c He ſheweth y<sup>e</sup> preſence of God is the cauſe that the Church doeth bring forth the fruite and flouriſh.

Strengthen the weake hands, & comfort the feeble knees.

d He willeth all to encourage one another, and ſpecially the miniſters to exhort & ſtrengthen the weaker, y<sup>e</sup> thei may patiently abide the coming of God, & it at hand.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Sanherib ſendeth Rabſhakeh to beſege Ieruſalem. 15 His blaſphemies againſt God.

a This hitorie is rehearſed, becauſe it is as a ſcale & confirmation of the doctrine afore, bothe for the threatenings & promiſes: vnto wit, that God wolde ſuffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length wolde reſtore deliuerance.

Now in the fourteenth yere of King Hezekiah, Sanherib King of Aſſhur came vp againſt all the ſtrong cities of Iudah, and toke them.

And the King of Aſſhur ſent Rabſhakeh ſro Lachiſ toward Ieruſalem vnto King Hezekiah, with a great hoſte, and he ſtoode by the conduite of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

b When he had aboliſhed ſuperſticion, & idolatrie, & yet God wolde exerciſe his Church to trye their faith and aſſurance.

3 Then came forth vnto him Eliakim ſonne of Hilkiah the ſteward of the houſe, and Shebnā the chanceller, and Iſaiah the ſonne of Aſaph the recorder.

4 And Rabſhakeh ſaid vnto them, T. yoe Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus ſaith the great King, the King of Aſſhur, Where confidence is this, wherein thou truſteſt?

5 I ſaie, Surely I haue eloquence, but ſelf and ſtrength are for the warren: when me then doeſt thou truſt, that thou reſtelleſt againſt me?

6 Lo, thou truſteſt in this broken ſtaffe of reede on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it wil go into his hand, and perce it: ſo ſaith Pharaōh King of Egypt, vnto all that truſt in him.

7 But if thou ſay to me, We truſt in the Lord our God, Is not that he, whoſe high places and whoſe altars Hezekiah hath taken downe, and ſaid to Iudah and to Ieruſalem, Ye ſhal worſhip before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hoſtages to my lord the King of Aſſhur, & I wil giue thee two thouſand horſes, if thou be able on thy parte to ſet riders vpon them.

9 For how canſt thou deſpiſe anie captainne of the leaſt of my lords ſeruants: and put thy truſt on Egypt for charrets and for horſemen?

10 And am I now come vp without y<sup>e</sup> Lord to this land to deſtroy it? The Lord ſaid vnto me, Go vp againſt this land & deſtroy it.

11 Then ſaid Eliakim, and Shebnā and Iſaiah vnto Rabſhakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy ſeruants in the Aramites language, (for we vnderſtand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then ſaid Rabſhakeh, I haue my maſter ſent me to thy maſter, & to thee to ſpeake theſe wordes, and not to the men that ſtand on the wall: that they may eat their owne doung, and drinke their owne piſſe with you.

13 So Rabſhakeh ſtoode, & cryed with a lowde voyce in the Iewes language, and ſaid, Hear the wordes of the great King, of the King of Aſſhur.

14 Thus ſaith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he ſhal not be able to deliuer you.

15 Nether let Hezekiah make you to truſt in the Lord, ſaying, The Lord wil ſurely deliuer vs: this citie ſhal not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Aſſhur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus ſaith the King of Aſſhur, Make an appointment with me, and come out to me, that euery man may eat of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figre, and drinke euery man the water of his owne well. Til I come and bring you to your owne land, euen a land of wine, a land of bread and vine.

Let Hezekiah diſceiue you, ſaith the Lord wil deliuer vs. Haue anie hand of the King of Aſſhur?

Where is the god of Haman? Where is the god of Sennacherib? Where haue they deliuered Sodom of mine hand?

Who is he among all the gods of the land, that hath deliuered thee out of mine hand, that the King of Aſſhur deliuer Ieruſalem out of mine hand?

Then they kept ſilence, and him not a worde: for the King of Aſſhur was ſaying, Answer him.

Then came Eliakim the ſon of Hilkiah the ſteward of the houſe, the chanceller, and Iſaiah the ſonne of Aſaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah, and tolde him the wordes of Rabſhakeh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Hezekiah ſpeaketh conſol of Iſaiah, whoſe viſſion is the blaſphemie of Saneherib. 36 The arme of Saneherib broken, 38 And he himſelf of Iſaiah.

And when the King Hezekiah ſaw that he rent his clothes, ſackcloth & came into the houſe of the Lord.

And he ſent Eliakim the ſon of Hilkiah, and Shebnā the chanceller, and Iſaiah the ſonne of Aſaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah the Prophet.

And they ſaid vnto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, This day is a day of tribulation, of rebuke and blaſphemie: for thou art come to the birth, and ſtrength to bring forth.

If ſo be the Lord thy God deliuer thee, ſaith the Lord, of the wordes of Rabſhakeh, the King of Aſſhur his maſter.

Who is he among all the gods of these lands, that hath deliuered their country
out of mine hand, that the Lord shoulde
deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?
Then they kept silence, and answered
him not a word: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answer him not.
Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebnâ
the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Aſaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rét clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Ra-

CHAP. XXXVII.

Hezekiah asketh counsell of Isaiâh, who promiſeth him
the assistance of the Lord. 16 Hezekiah prayer. 36 The arme of Saneherib is ſlaue of the Angel, 38 And he him ſelf of his owne ſonne.

And whê the King Hezekiah heard
it, he rent his clothes, and put on ſackcloth & came into the Houſe of the Lord.

And he ſent Eliakim the ſteward of the houſe, and Shebnâ the chancellor with the Elders of the Priests, clothed in ſackcloth vnto Isaiâh the Prophet, the ſonne of Amôz.

And they ſaid vnto him, Thus ſaith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulacion &
of rebuke and blaſphemie: for the children are come to the birth, and there is no
ſtrength to bring forth.

If ſo be the Lord thy God hath heard
the wordes of Rabshakêh, whome the King of Aſſhur his maſter hath ſent to raile on y liuing God, & to reproche him with wordes which y Lord thy God hath heard, then lift thou vp thy praier for the remnant that are left.

So the ſeruants of the King Hezekiah
came to Isaiâh.

And Isaiâh ſaid vnto them, Thus ſay vn-
to your maſter, Thus ſaith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes that thou haſt
heard, wherewith the ſeruants of the King
of Aſſhur haue blaſphemed me.

Beholde, I wil ſend a blaſt vpon him, &
he ſhall heare a noiſe, and returne to his

the ſworde in his owne land.

So Isaiâh praying for the people. Of the Egyptians and E-

the ſworde in his owne land.

So Rabshakêh returned, and founde the King of Aſſhur fighting againſt Libnah:
for he had heard that he was departed fro Lachish.

He heard alſo men ſay of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Beholde, he is come out to fight againſt thee: and when he heard it, he ſent other meſſengers to Hezekiah, ſaying,

Thus ſhall ye ſpeake to Hezekiah King of Iudah, ſaying, Let not thy God de-ceiue thee, in whome thou truſteſt, ſaying, Ierusalem ſhall not be giuen into the hand
of the King of Aſſhur.

Beholde, thou haſt heard what y Kings of Aſſhur haue done to all lands in destroying them, & ſhalt thou be deliuered?

Haue the gods of the naciôs deliuered
them, which my fathers haue deſtroyed?
Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Tellaſſar?

Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the citie
of Sepharuaim, Hena and Iuah?

So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the meſſengers and red it, and he went vp into the Houſe of the Lord, and Hezekiah ſpied it before the Lord.

And Hezekiah praied vnto the Lord,
ſaying,

O Lord of hoſtes, God of Iſrael, which dwellſt betwene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes
of the earth: thou haſt made the heauen &
the earth.

Encline thine eare, O Lord, and heare:
open thine eyes, O Lord, and ſee, and heare
all the wordes of Saneherib, who hath ſent to blaſpheme the liuing God.

Trueth it is, O Lord, that the Kings of Aſſhur haue deſtroyed all lands, & their country,

And haue caſt their gods in the fyre: for
they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, euen wood or ſtone: therefore they deſtroyed them.

Now therefore, O Lord our God, ſaue
thou vs out of his hand, that all the king-domes of the earth may knowe, that thou only art the Lord.

Then Isaiâh the ſonne of Amôz ſent
vnto Hezekiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith y Lord God of Iſrael, Becauſe thou haſt prayed vnto me, concerning Saneherib King of Aſſhur,

This is the worde that the Lord hath ſpoken againſt him, O virgin, daughter of Zion, he hath deſpiſed thee, & laughed thee to ſcorne: O daughter of Ieruſa-

Hezekiah is reprimed, because he shewed his treasures
vnto the ambassadours of Babylon.

At the same time, Merodach Baladan, the sonne of Baladan, King of Babel, sent letters, & a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene
sicke, and was recovered.

And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of the treasures,
the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, &
the precious ointement, and all the house
of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house,
nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiah
shewed them not.

The came Isaiah the Prophet vnto King
Hezekiah, and said vnto him, What said
these men and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a farre countrey vnto me, from Babel.

4 The said he, What haue they sene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All
that is in mine house haue they sene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue
not shewed them.

5 And Isaiah said to Hezekiah, Heare the worde of the Lord of hostes,

6 Beholde, the dayes come that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue laid vp in store vntil this day, shall be caried to Babel: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sonnes, that shall procede out of thee, & which thou shalt beget, shall
they take away, and they shall be eunuches
in the palace of the King of Babel.

8 Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, The wor-
de of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and he said, Yet let there be peace,
and truth in my dayes.

18 To whome then will ye liken God? or what similitude will ye set vp vnto him?

19 The workman melteth an image, or the golde smith beateh it out in golde, or y golde smith maketh siluer plates.

20 Doeth not the poore chuse out a tre that wil not rote, for an oblation? he seketh also vnto him a cunning workman, to prepare an image, that shal not be moued.

21 Knowe ye nothig, haue ye not heard y it hath it not bene tolde you from the beginning: haue ye not vnderstad it by the fundacion of the earth?

22 He sitteth vpon the circle of the earth, & the inhabitats thereof are as grasshoppers, he stretcheth out the heauens, as a curtaine, & spreadeth the out, as a tent to dwell in.

23 He bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the iudges of the earth, as vanitie,

24 As though they were not sowed, as though they were not sown, as though their stocke toke no roote in the earth: for he did euē a blow vpon them, and they withered, and the whirle winde wil take them away as stubble.

25 To whome now wil ye liken me, that I shulde be like him, saith the holie one?

26 Lift vp your eyes on hie, and beholde, who hath created these things, and bringeth out their armies by number, and calleth them all by names: by the greatnes of his power and mightie strength nothing faileth.

27 Why saiest thou, o Iakob, & speakest o Irael, My waye is hid from the Lord, and my iudgement is passed ouer of my God.

28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the euerlasting God, the Lord hath created the ends of the earth: he neither fainteth, nor is weary: there is no searching of his vnderstanding.

29 But he giueth strength vnto him that fainteth, & vnto him that hath no strength, he encreaseth power.

30 Euen the yong men shal faint, and be wearie, and the yong men shal stumble and fall.

31 But they that waite vpon the Lord, shall renewe their strength: they shal lift vp their wings as the egles: they shal runne, & not be wearie, & they shal walke and not faint.

lem one that shal bring good tidings.

But when I behelde, there was none, &
when I enquired of them, there was no counselour, & when I demanded of them, they answered not a worde.

Beholde, they are all vanitie: their worke is of nothing, their images are winde & confusion.

For he that they had nether wisdom nor power to do anie thing:
concludeth that all are wicked, that trust in such vanities.

CHAP. XLII.

The obedience and humilitie of Christ. 6 Why he was sent into the world. 11 The vocation of the Gentiles.

Beholde, my seruant: I wil say vpon
him: mine elect, in whome my soule delighteth: I haue put my Spirit vpon him: he shal bring forth the iudgement to the Gentiles.

He shal not crye, nor lift vp, nor cause
his voyce to be heard in the strete.

A bruised reede shal he not breake, and the smoking flax shal he not quench: he shal bring forth the iudgement in truth.

He shal not faile nor be discouraged till he haue set iudgement in the earth: and the kyles shal wait for his law.

Thus saith God the Lord (he that created the heauens and spred them abroad):
he that stretched forth the earth, and the buddes thereof: he that giueth breath vn-

15 I wil make waste mountaines, and hilles, and drye vp all their herbes, and I wil make the floods ylandes, and I wil drye vp the pooles.

16 ¶ And I wil bring the blinde by a way, that they knew not, & leade them by paths that they haue not knownen: I wil make darkness light before them, and croked things straight. These things wil I do vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shalbe turned backe: they shalbe greatly ashamed, that trust in graue images, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 ¶ Heare, ye deafe: and ye blinde, regarde, that ye may se.

23 Who amog you shal hearken to this, & take hede, and heare for afterwarde?

24 Who gaue Iakob for a spoile, and Israel to the robbers? Did not the Lord, because we haue sinned against him? for they wolde not walke in his wayes, nether be obedient vnto his Law.

25 Therefore he hath powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battell: and it set him on fyre round about, and he knewe not, and it burned him vp, yet he considered not.

2 When thou passest through the waters, I wil be with thee, & through the floods that thei do not ouerflowe thee. When thou walkest through the verie fyre, thou shalt not be burnt, nether shalt the flames kinde vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Sauour: I gaue Egypt for thy ranfome, Ethiopia, and Seir for thee.

4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, & thou wast honorable, and I loued thee, therefore wil I giue a man for thee, & people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I wil bring thy sede from the East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I wil saie to the North, Giue: and to the South, Kepe not backe: bring my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the earth.

7 Euerie one shalbe called by my Name: for I created him for my glorie, formed him and made him.

Thy fittines shalbe discouered, and thy shame shalbe sene: I wil take vengeance, and I wil not mete thee as a man.

Our redeemer, the Lord of hostes is his Name, the holy one of Israel.

Sit still, and get thee into darkenes, & daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The ladie of kingdomes.

I was wrath with my people: I have polluted mine inheritance, & giuen them into thine hand: thou didest shewe them no mercie, but thou didest lay thy very heauie yoke vpon the ancient.

And thou saidest, I shalbe a ladie for euer, so that thou didest not set thy minde to these things, nether didest thou remember the latter end thereof.

Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, & dwellest careles, She saith in her heart, I am and none els: I shal not sit as a widdow, nether shal knowe yf losse of children.

But these two things shal come to thee suddenly on one day, the losse of children, and widdowhead: they shal come vpon thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinacions, & for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

For thou hast trusted in thy wickednes: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom & thy knowledge, thei haue caused thee to rebell, & thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

Therefore shal euil come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof: destruction shal fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shal come vpon thee suddenly, or thou beware.

Stand now among thine inchanters, and in the multitude of thy sothesayers (with whom thou hast wearied thy self from thy youth) if so be thou maiest haue profite, or if so be thou maiest haue strength.

Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the starr gassers, & pronosticatours stand vp, and saue thee from these things, that shal come vpon thee.

Beholde, they shalbe as stubble: the fyre shal burne them: thei shal not deliuer their owne liues from the power of the flame: there shalbe no coies to warme at, nor lighte to sit by.

Thus shalt they serue thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, & thy marchants from thy youth: euery one shal wander to his owne quarter: none shal saue thee.

The hypocrisse of the Tewes is reposed. 11 The Lone wil be worshipped. 20 Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

Heare ye this, & house of Israhel, which are called by the name of Israhel, and are come out of the waters of Iudâh: which sweare by the Name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israhel, but not in truth, nor in rightnes.

For they are called of the holy citie, & staie them selues vpon the God of Israhel, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

I haue declared the former things of old, and they went out of my mouth, and shewed them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

Because I knewe, that thou art obliuious, and thy necke is an yron sinew, and thou browe braffe.

Therefore I haue declared it to thee of olde: before it came to passe, I shewed thee, lest thou shuldest say, Mine ide hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

Thou hast heard, beholde all this, & yett not yett declare it: I haue shewed thee things, euen now, and hid things, which thou knewest not.

They are created now, and not of olde, and euen before this thou heardest it, not, lest yf shuldest say, Beholde, I knewe them.

Yett thou heardest the not, nether didst knowe them, nether yett was thine ear opened of olde: for I knewe that thou wouldest grievously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressour from thy wombe.

For my Names sake wil I differ my wrath, and for my praise wil I refraine from thee, that I cut thee not off.

Beholde, I haue sined thee, but not as a sinner: I haue chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake wil I do it: for how shulde my Name be polluted? surely I wil not giue my glory vnto another.

Heare me, & Israhel, & Israhel, I say, I am, I am the first, and I am the last. Surely mine had hath layed the foundation of the earth, & my right hand hath spanned the heauens: when I call them, they stand vp together.

All you, assemble your selues, & heare which among them hath declared these things: The Lord hath loved him the most.

CHAP. XLIX.

The Lord exhorteth all nations to beleue his promises. A Christ is the saluacion of all that beleue, and will deliuer them from the tyrannie of their enemies.

Hear ye me, & yles, & hearken ye people from farre. The Lord hath called me from the wombe, and made mention of my name from my mothers bellie.

And he hath made my mouth like a sharpe sword: vnder the shadowe of his hid hath he hid me, and made me a chosen shafte, & hid me in his quier.

And said vnto me, Thou art my seruant, Israel, for I wil be glorious in thee.

And I said, I have labored in vaine: I have spent my strength in vaine and for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

And now saith the Lord, that formed me from the wombe to be his seruant, that I maie bring Isakob againe to him (though Israel be not gathered, yet shal I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God shal be my strength).

bes of Isakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I wil also giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou maiest be my saluacion vnto the end of the worlde.

Thus saith the Lord the redeemer of Israel, & his Holie one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a seruant of rulers, Kings shal se, and arise, and princes shal worship, because of the Lord, that is faithful: and the Holie one of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

Thus saith the Lord, In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of saluacion haue I helped thee: and I wil preserue thee, and wil giue thee for a covenant of the people, that thou maiest raise vp the earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages.

That thou maiest say to thy prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in darkenes, Shewe your felues: they shal fede in the wayes, & their pastures shal be in all the toppes of the hilles.

They shal not be hungry, nether shal they be thirftie, nether shal the heat smite them, nor the sunne: for he that hath compasion on them, shal lead them: euen to the springs of waters shal he driue them.

And I wil make all my mountaynes, as a way, & my paths shal be exalted.

Beholde, these shal come from farre: & lo, these from the North and from the West, and these from the land of Sinim.

But Zion said, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

Lift vp thine eyes rounde about & beholde: all these gather thee felues together, & come to thee: as I liue, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely put the all vpon thee as a garment, & gird thy self with the like a bride.

For thy desolations, & thy waste places, & thy land destroyed, shal surely be now narrow for them, shal dwell in it, & they that did deuoure thee, shal be farre away.

The children of thy barrennes shal say againe in thine eares, The place is strait for me: giue place to me that I may dwell.

The lewes forsaken for a time. 2 Tet the power of God is not diminished. 5 Christe obedientes & uilorio.

Thus saith the Lord, Where is tharbil of your mothers diuorcement, whome I haue cast off: or who is the creditor to whome I folde you? Beholde, for your iniquities are ye solde, and because of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.

Wherefore came I, & there was no mā? I called, and none answered: is mine hand so shortened, that it can not helpe: or haue I no power to deliuer? beholde, at my rebuke I drye vp the Sea: I make the floods desert: their fish rotteth for want of water, and dyeth for thirst.

I clothe the heauens with darknes, & make a sacke their couering.

The Lord God hath giuen me a tongue of the learned, that I shulde knowe to minister a worde in time to him y<sup>e</sup> is weary: he will raise me vp in the morning: in the morning he wil waken mine eare to heare, as the learned.

The Lord God hath opened mine eare and I was not rebellious, nether turned I backe.

I gaue my backe vnto the smiter, my chekes to the nippers: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

For the Lord God wil helpe me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I knowe that I shall not be ashamed.

He is nere that iustifieth me: who will contend with me? Let vs stand together: mine aduersarie let him come nether to me.

Beholde, the Lord God wil helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? for I shall waxe olde as a garment: the moone shall eat them vp.

Who is amog you that feareth y<sup>e</sup> Lord? let him heare the voyce of his seruants: that walketh in darkenes, & hath no light: let him trust in the Name of the Lord, & stay vpon his God.

Beholde, all you kinde as a fyre, and are compassed about with sparkes: walke in the light of your fyre, and in the sparkes of your fyre haue kindled. This shall ye haue of mine hand: ye shall lie downe in sorowe.

To trust in God alone by Abraham's example. 7 The great affliction of Ierusalem, for her deliuerance.

Hear me, ye that follow after righteousness, & ye that seke the Lord: loke vnto the rocke, whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit, whence ye are digged.

Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, & blessed him, and increased him.

Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, and he shall make her desert like Eden, and her wilderness like the garden of the Lord: ioye and gladnes shall be founde therein: praise, and the voyce of singing.

Hearken ye vnto me, my people, and giue care vnto me, o my people: for a Law shall procede from me, and I will bring forth the my iudgement for the light of the people.

My righteousness is nere: my saluacion goeth forth, and mine enemies shall iudge the people: the yles shall waite for me, and shall trust vnto mine arme.

Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and loke vpon the earth beneath: for the heauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waxe olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner: but my saluacion shall be for euer, & my righteousness shall not be abolished.

Hearken vnto me, ye that knowe righteousness, the people in whose heart is a Law. Feare ye not the reprove of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

Meaning, y<sup>e</sup> Kings shall be cōuerted to y<sup>e</sup> Gospel, and be shew their power, & autoritie for the preferation of the Church.

Being ioyned with the Church, they shall hūble the felues to Christ: their head, and giue him all honor.

He maketh this as an obediēcie, although the Chaldeans were strong, & had them in iuste possession: this is, the answer to their obediēcie, y<sup>e</sup> none is stronger then the Lord, nether hath a more iuste title vnto them.

f I will cause them to destroye one another, as Iud. 7. 22. 2 chro 20. 22. chap. 19. 2.

h To him that is oppressed by affliction and miserie. i As they that are caught, and made mēte by him.

For the mothe shall eat the vyment, and the worme shall eat the wolle: but my righteousness shall be my saluacion from generation to generation.

Rise vp, rise vp, and put on strength of the Lord: rise vp, as in the generations of old, thou the same, that hast not wounded the dragon.

Art not thou the same, which made the Sea, euen the waters of the Sea, making the depth of the Sea a redeemed to passe ouer?

Therefore the redeemed of the Lord, returne, and come with ioye, and euerlasting ioye shall be your head: ioye shall obteine ioye, & sorrowe and mourning shall flee. I, I am he, that comforte man, and the sonne of man, made as grasse.

And forgettest the Lord thy God, that hath spread out the heauens, the fundacions of the earth: and continually all the day, because of the oppressour, which is thy foe? Where is now the ragge of thy preflour?

The captiue shall hasteneth, and that he shulde not dye in that his bread shulde faile.

And I am the Lord thy God, ded the Sea, when his waued Lord of hostes is his Name.

And I haue put my wordes in thee, and haue defended thee in mine hand, that I may plaie and laie the fundacion of the temple vnto Zion, I thou art my people.

Awake, awake, and stand vp, which hast drūke at the hand the cup of his wrath: thou shalt wring them out.

There is none to guide him, y<sup>e</sup> sonnes, whome she hath borne: there is none that taketh her by all the sonnes that she hath borne.

These two things are comen: who wil lament thee? desolation, and famine, and they whome shall I comforte thee?

Thy sonnes haue fainted, head of all the strectes as a wnet, and are full of the wrath, & rebuke of thy God.

Therefore heare now this ble and drunken, but not wteousnes, the people in whose heart is a Law. Feare ye not the reprove of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your waies my waies, faith the Lord.

For as the heauens are hier the earth,
so are my waies hier then your waies, and
my thoughts aboute your thoughts.

Surely as the raine cometh downe and the snowe from heauen, and returneth not thether, but watereth the earth and maketh
it to bring forth the budde, that it maie
giue fede to the sower, and bread vnto
him that eateth,

So shal my worde be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shal not returne vnto me
voyde, but it shal accomplish that which I wil, and it shal prosper in the thing where-
to I sent it.

Therefore ye shal go out with ioye, and
be led forth with peace: the mountaines
and the hills shal breake forth before you into ioye, and all the trees of the field shal
clappe their hands:

For thornes there shal growe fyre trees:
for nettles shal growe the myrrhe tree,
and it shalbe to the Lord for a name, and
for an eueralasting signe that shal not be taken awaie.

CHAP. LVI.

An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. Against Shepherds that deuoure their flocke.

Hus saith y Lord, Kepe iudgemēt &
do iustice: for my saluaciō is at hād to come & my righteounes to be reueiled.

Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man which laieth holde on it: he that kepeth the Sabbath and polluteth it not, and kepeth his hand from doing anie euil.

And let not the sonne of the stranger,
which is ioyned to the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separat me fro his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Be-holde, I am a drye tre.

For thus saith the Lord vnto the Eunu-ches, that kepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth me, and take holde of my coucnant,

Euen vnto the wil I giue in mine House
& with in my walles, a place and a name better then of the sonnes & of the daughters: I wil giue them an eueralasting name,
that shal not be put out.

Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, & to loue the Name of the Lord, & to be his seruants: euery one that kepeth the Sabbath, & polluteth it not & embraceth my coucnant,

The wil I bring also to mine holy moun-taine, & make them ioyful in mine House of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shal be accepted vpon mine altar:
for mine House shalbe called an house of prayer for all people.

We are wel yet, and tomorrow shal be better: therefore let vs not feare the plagues before they come: thus the wicked contemned the admonitions and exhortations which were made them in the Name of God.

From y<sup>e</sup> plague that is at hand, & also because God wil punish the wicked.

The soule of the righteous shal be in loye & their bodies shal rest in y<sup>e</sup> graue vnto the time of y<sup>e</sup> resurrection, because they walked before the Lord.

He threateneth the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of y<sup>e</sup> name of Gods people, derided Gods worde & his promises, boasting openly that they were y<sup>e</sup> children of Abraham, but because they were not faithful & obedient as Abraham was, he called them chafards, & the childre of forcerie, & forsake God and fled to wicked men for succour.

The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet wil I gather to them those that are to be gathered to thee.

All ye beastes of the field, come to deuoure, euen all ye beastes of the forest.

Their watchemen are all blinde: they haue no knowledge: they are all domme doggs: they can not barke: they lie & slepe and delite in sleping.

And these greedie doggs can neuer haue ynough: and these shepherds can not vnderstand: for they all loke to their owne way, euerie one for his aduantage, & for his owne purpose.

Come, I wil bring wine, and we wil fil our selues with strong drinke, and to morrowe shalbe as this daie, and muche more abundant.

CHAP. LVII.

God taketh awaie the good, that he shulde not se the horrible plagues to come. Of the wicked idolaters, & And their vaine confidence.

The righteous perisheth, and no man considereth it in heart: and merciful men are taken awaie, and no man vnderstandeth that the righteous is taken awaie from the euil to come.

Peace shal come: they shal rest in their beddes, euerie one that walketh before him. But you witches children, come hither, the sede of the adulterer and of y<sup>e</sup> whore. On whome haue ye iested? vpon whome haue ye gaped and thrust out your tongue: are not ye rebellious children, and a false sede?

Inflamed with idoles vnder euerie grene tree: and sacrificing the children in the valles vnder the toppes of the rockes?

Thy porcion is in the smooth stones of the riuer: they, they are thy lotte: euen to them hast thou powred a drinke offering: thou hast offred a sacrifice. Shulde I delite in these?

Thou hast made thy bed vpon a verie hie mountaine: thou wentest vp thither, euen thither wentest thou to offre sacrifice.

Behinde the dores also and postes hast thou set vp thy remembrance: for thou hast discouered thy self to another then me, and wentest vp and diddest enlarge thy bed, & make a couenant betwene thee and them, and loudest their bed in euerie place.

Meaning, euerie place was polluted with their idolatrie: or euerie faire stone that they founde, they made an idole of it.

To wit, chine altars, in an open place like an impudenc: harlot that careth not for the sight of her houlband.

In stead of setting vp the worde of God in the open places on the postes & dores to haue it in remembrance, Deut. 6. 9. & 27. thou hast set vp signes and markers of thine idolatrie in euerie place.

That is, diddest increase thine idolatrie more and more.

where thou sawest it.

Thou wentest to the Kings with oyle: diddest increase thine oymntes & thy messengers sate of, and diddest humble thy selfe vnto hel.

Thou weariedst thy self in thy manifold iourneys, yet saidst thou not, There is hope: thou hast founde life by thine labours, therefore thou wast not grieved.

And whome didst thou reuence or feare, seing thou hast lied vnto me, and hast not remebred me, neither set thy mind thereon? is it not because I holde my peace, and that of long time? therefore thou wast fearest not me.

I wil declare thy righteousness & thy workes, and they shal not profite thee.

When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but y<sup>e</sup> winde shal take the all away: vanitie shal pul them awaie: but he that trulith in me, shal inherit the land, and shal possesse the holie Mountaine.

And he shal saie, Cast vp, cast vp prepare the waie: take vp the stumbling blocke out of the waie of my people.

For thus saith he, that is hie and excellent, he that inhabiteth eternitie, whose Name is the Holie one, I dwell in the hie & holie place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to reuiue the spirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

For I wil not contend for euer, neither wil I be: alwaies wrath, for y<sup>e</sup> spirit shulde faile before me: and I haue made them breathe.

For his wicked couetousnes: I am angry with him, & haue smit him: I hid mine anger, yet he went awaie, & turned after the waie of his owne heart.

I haue sene his waies, and wil heale him: I wil leade him also, & restore colour vnto him, and to those that lament him.

I create the frute of y<sup>e</sup> lippes to be peace: peace vnto them that are of a faire of, and to them that are nere, saith the Lord: for I wil heale him.

CHAP. LIX.

The wicked peris through their owne iniquities. 12 The confession of finnes. 16 God alone wil preserue his Church: singe all men faile.

Beholde, the Lords hand is not shortened, that it can not saue: nether is his eare heavy, that it can not heare.

But your iniquities haue separated betwene you and your God, and your finnes haue hid his face from you, that he wil not heare.

For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lippes haue spoken lies, & your tongue hath murmured iniquitie.

No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for truth: they trust in vanitie, & speake vaine things: thei conceiue mischief, and bring forth the iniquitie.

They hatche cockatrice d egges, & weaue the spiders webbe: he that eateth of their egges, dyeth, and that which is trod vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

Their webbes shal be no garment, nether shal they couer them selues with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie is in their hands.

Their fete runne to euil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolacion & destruction is in their paths.

The way of peace they knowe not, and there is none equitie in their goings: thei haue made them croked paths: who soeuer goeth therein, shal not knowe peace.

Therefore is iudgement farre from vs, nether doeth iustice come nere vnto vs: we waite for light, but lo, it is darkenes, for brightnes: but we walke in darkenes.

We grope for the wall like the blinde, and we grope as one without eyes: we stöble at the none day as in the twilight: we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

We roare all like beares, and mourne like doves: we loke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

For our trespases are manie before thee, and our finnes testifie against vs: for our trespases are with vs, and we knowe our iniquities.

In trespassing & lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away fro our God, & haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, concerning and vttering out of the heart false matters.

Therefore iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre of: for trueth is fallen in the strete, and equitie can not enter.

Yea, trueth faileth, and he that refresheth from euil, maketh him self a pray: and

All men who at the injuries & oppressions, & none go about to remedie them. According to their wicked devices, they hurt their neighbours.

Whatsoever cometh from the, is payson and bringeth death. Thei are praisable to no purpose.

That is, Gods vengeance to punish our enemies. Gods protection to defend vs.

We are altogether destitute of counsell and can finde no end of our miseries.

We expresse our sorowes by outward signes, some more some lesse.

This confession is general to the Church to obtaine remission of finnes, & the Prophetes did not exempt them selues from the same.

To wit, against our neighbours, in there is neither iustice nor vprightnes among men.

of the Gentiles, and shal be exalted with their glorie.

For your shame you shal receiue double,
& for confusion they shal reioyce in

CHAP. LXXV.

The Vacation of the Gentiles and the refection of the Ierusalem: The voy of the elect and the punishment of the wicked.

I haue bene fought of them that asked not: I was founde of them that sought
me not: I said, Beholde me, beholde me,
vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

I haue spread out mine hands all the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, euen after their owne imaginations:

A people that prouoked me euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in gardens, and burn-
eth incense vpon bricks.

Which remaine among the f graues, and lodge in the deserts, which eat swines
flesh, and the broth of things polluted
are in their vessels.

Which say, Stand aparte, come not nere
to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath & a fyre that burn-eth all the day.

Beholde, it is written before me: I wil
not kepe silence, but wil rendre it and recompense it into their bosome.

Your iniquities & the iniquities of your fathers shal be together (saith the Lord)
which haue burnt incense vpon the mostaires, and blasphemed me vpon the hil-les: therefore wil I measure their olde worke into their bosome.

Thus saith the Lord, As the wine is foun-
de in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it, so wil I do for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

But I wil bring a sede out of Iakob, &
out of Iudah, that shal inherit my moun-

seruants shal dwell there.

And Sharōn shalbe a shepe folde,

her? shal not this land be polluted: but y
hast plaid the harlot with manie louers:
yet turne againe to me, saith the Lord.

Lift vp thine eyes vnto the high places, &
beholde, where thou hast not plaid the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the waies, as the Arabian in the wilderness: &
y hast polluted the land with thy whore-
domes, and with thy malice.

Therefore the showres haue bene restrained, and the latter raine came not, and thou haddest a whores forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.

Didest thou not stil crye vnto me, Thou art my father, & the guide of my youth?

Wil he kepe his angre for euer? wil he reserve it to the end? thus hath thou spoken,
but thou dost scul, euen more and more.

The Lord said also vnto me, in the daies of Ioshua the King, Hast thou sene what this rebel Israel hath done? for she hath gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery grenetre, & there plaid the harlot.

And I said, when she had done all this,
Turne thou vnto me: but she returned not,
as her rebellious sifter Iudah saue.

When I sawe, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had plaid the harlot, I cast her away; and gaue her a byl of de-

was not afrayed, but she went also, & plaid
the harlot.

So that for the lightnes of her whore-

she hath committed fornicaciō with ston-

Neuertheles for all this, her rebellious
sifter Iudah hath not returned vnto me

25 We lie downe in our confusio, and our shame couereth vs: for we haue sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth: euē vnto this day, & haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our God.

CHAP. IIII.

True repentance. 4 He exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iudáh is prophesied, for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet lamenteth it.

O Israel, if thou returne, a returne vnto me, saith the Lord: & if thou put away thine abominaciōs out of my sight, then shalt thou not remoue.

And thou shalt swear, The Lord lieth in trueth, in iudgement, and in righteousness, and the nations shal be blessed in him, and shal glorie in him.

For thus saith the Lord to the men of Iudáh, and to Ierusalém,

4 Breake vp your fallow groundes, & be not among the thornes: be circumcised, saith the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your hearts, ye men of Iudáh, and inhabitants of Ierusalém, lest my wrath come forth like fyre, and burne, that I cannot quench it, because of the wickednes of your inuentions.

5 Declare in Iudáh, and shewe forth in Ierusalém, and say, Blowe the trumpet: the land crye, and gather together, & Assemble your selues, and let vs go into strong cities.

6 Set vp the standart in Ziōn: prepare to flee, & stay not: for I wil bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The Lyon is come vp from his den, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is departed, & gone forth of his place: the land waite, and thy cities shal be destroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore girde you with sackcloth: lament, and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord, the heart of the King shal perish, and the heart of the princes and the Priests shal be astonied, and the Prophetes shal wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast deceived this people & Ierusalém, saying, Ye shal haue peace, and the sword perceith vnto the heart.

11 At that time shal it be said to this people and to Ierusalém, A drye wilderness: the hie places of the wilderness cometh toward the daughter of my people, but neither to fan, nor to cleanse.

12 A mightie winde shal come vnto me: those places, and now wil I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Beholde, he shal come vp as the cloud, and his chariots shal be as a tempest: his horses are lighter then egles. Wo vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Ierusalém, wash thine heart from wickednes, that thou maist be saved: how long thal thy wicked thoghts remaine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction frō moir<sup>e</sup> Ephraim.

16 Make ye mentiō of the heathē, and publish in Ierusalém, Beholde, the King cometh from a farrē countrey, and crye against the cities of Iudáh.

17 They haue compassed her about as the watchmen of the field, because it hath provoked me to wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy waies & thine inuentions haue procured thee these things, such wickednes: therefore it shal be broken: it shal perce vnto thine heart.

My bely, my bely, I am pained at the very heart: mine heart is within me: I can not be stilled: I haue heard the founde of the battell, the alarme of the battell.

19 Destruction vpon destruction: for the whole land is wasted: my tentes destroyed, and I in a moment.

How long shal I see the standart: the founde of the trumpet?

For my people is foolish, they knowen me: thei are foolish, they haue none vnderstanding: they haue done euil, but to do wel thei haue not leige.

I haue looked vpon the earth, and was without forme, and without seed, and the heauens, and thei had no light.

I beheld the mountaines: & they were dead, and all the hilles shooke.

I beheld, and lo, there was nothing: all the birdes of the heauen were red.

I beheld, and lo, the fruitful wilderness, and all their cities were broke downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

For thus hath the Lord said, the land shal be desolate: yet wil I not end.

Therefore shal the earth be desolate, the heauens aboute shal be without seed, because I haue pronounced it: it, and wil not repent, nether will I take backe from it.

The whole citie shal flee, & the horsemen and bowe men shal be into thickets, and clime vpon thei: neuer citie shal be for sale, man dwell therein.

And when thou shalt be desolate, wilt thou do? Thogh thou shalt be with skarlet, thogh thou shalt be with ornāmēts of golde, thou shalt tell thy face with colours, & trimme thy self in vaine: for I will abhorre thee, & seke thy life.

For I haue heard a noyse, as of man trauailing, or as of one labouring: the voice of the first child, euē the voice of the first child, Zioñ that sigheth and streeth: wo is me now: for my teeth because of the murder.

saith the Lord to the men of Ierusalém,
 up your fallow ground, & break
 the thornes: be circumcised,
 and take away the foreskins
 of your hearts, ye men of Iudáh, and of Ierusalém, lest my wrath be kindled like fyre, and burne, that I may consume it, because of the wicked
 inuentions.
 In Iudáh, and shewe forth
 mine anger, and say, Blowe the trumpet of woe, and gather together, & let your selues, and let vs go into banishment.
 The standart in Zíon: prepare thy self: for I wil bring a plague
 from the North, and a great destruction.
 For I am come vp from his den
 to destroye the Gentiles: I am gone forth of his place to waste, and thy cities shalbe
 without an inhabitant.
 Therefore girde you with sackcloth,
 and howle, for the fierce wrath
 is not turned backe from vs.
 That day, saith the Lord, the heart of the king shal perish, and the heart of the Priests shalbe astonied,
 and the Prophets shal wonder.
 I will say, Ah, Lord God, surely thou
 haue deuoured this people & Ierusalém, & thou shalt haue peace, and the sworne
 unto the heart.
 Time shal it be said to this people
 of Ierusalém, A drye: wine
 of the wilderness cometh to naught: of my people, but neither to cleanse.
 The wine shal come vnto me
 for nothing, and now wil I also giue sentence.
 The shal come vp as the cloud, & reets shalbe as a tempest: his bow then egies. <sup>m</sup> Wo vnto
 the destroyer.
 Ierusalém, with thine heart from the Lord, that thou maist be saved: thou wicked thoghts remaine
 in thee.
 I declare from Dan, and from the affliction from mount Ephraim,
 the mention of the heathē, and publication, Beholde, the house of Iudáh, in a farre country, and crye
 out of the cities of Iudáh.
 I am compassed her about as the field, because it hath
 no man of the people, saith the Lord.
 Ies and chine inuentions haue procured thee these things, such is thy wickednes: therefore it shalbe bitter, therefore it shal perce vnto thine heart.

My bely, my bely, I am pained, euen
 at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I can not be styl: for my soule hath heard the sounde of the trumpet, &
 the alarme of the battel.

Destruction vpon destruction is cryed,
 for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tentes destroyed, and my curtaines
 in a moment.

How long shal I see the standart, & heare
 the sounde of the trumpet?

For my people is foolish, they haue not knowne me: they are foolish childre, & haue none vnderstanding: they are wise to do euil, but to do well they haue no knowledge.

I haue looked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and void: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

I beheld the mouraines: & lo, they trembled and all the hilles shooke.

I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

I beheld, and lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all their cities thereof were broke downe at the presence of the Lord,
 and by his fierce wrath.

For thus hath the Lord said, The whole land shalbe desolate: yet wil I not make a full end.

Therefore shal the earth mourne, and the heauens aboute shalbe darkened, because I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and wil not repent, neither wil I turne
 backe from it.

The whole citie shal flee, for the noise
 of the horsemen and bowe mē: they shal go into thickets, and clime vp vpon the rockes:
 euerie citie shalbe forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

And when thou shalt be destroyed, what wilt thou do? Thogh thou clothest thy self with skarlet, thogh thou deckest thee
 with ornāmets of golde, thogh thou pain-
 test thy face with colours, yet shalt thou trimme thy self in vaine: for thy louers wil
 abhorre thee & seke thy life.

For I haue heard a noise as of a woman trauailing, or as one laboring of her first childe, euen the voice of the daughter of Zíon that sigheth and stretcheth out her hands: wo is me now for my soule faint-
 eth because of the murthurers.

CHAP. V.

In Iudáh no righteous man found neither among the rulers. 15 Wherefore Iudáh is destroyed of the Caldeans.

Returne to & fro by the stretes of Ierusalém, and beholde now, & knowe, &

inquire in the open places thereof, if ye can finde a man, or if there be any that executeth iudgement, and seeketh the truth,
 and I wil spare it.

For thogh they say, The Lord liueth,
 yet do they sweare falsely.

O Lord, are not thine eies vpon the trueth?
 thou hast striken them, but they haue not sorowed: thou hast consumed them, but they haue refused to receiue correction: they haue made their faces harder then a stone,
 and haue refused to returne.

Therefore I said, Surely they are poore,
 they are foolish, for they knowe not the way of the Lord, nor iudgement of their God.

I wil get me vnto the great men, and wil
 speake vnto them: for they haue knowen
 the way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bondes.

Wherefore a lion out of the forest shal
 slay them, and a wolfe of the wilderness
 shal destroye them: a leoparde shal watche
 ouer their cities: euerie one that goeth out thence, shalbe torne in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are encreased.

How shulde I spare thee for this? thy children haue forsake me, & sowne by them
 are no gods: thogh I fed them to my ful,
 yet they committed adulterie, and assembled them selues by companies in the har-lottes houses.

They rose vp in the morning like fed horses:
 for euerie man neyed after his neighbours wife.

Shal I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? Shal not my soule be auenged on suche a nation, as this?

Clime vp vpon their walles, and destroy them, but make not a full end: take away
 their batilmēts, for they are not the Lords.

For the house of Israël, and the house of Iudáh haue grievously trespassed against me, saith the Lord.

They haue denied the Lord, & said, It is not he, neither shal plague come vpon
 vs, neither shal we se sword nor famine.

And the Prophetes shalbe as windes, and the worde is not in them: thus shal it come vnto them.

Wherefore thus saith the Lord God
 of hostes, Because ye speake suche wor-des, beholde, I wil put my wordes into thy mouth, like a fyre, and this people shal
 be as wodde, and it shal deuoure them.

Lo, I wil bring a nation vpon you from the east, house of Israël, saith the Lord, which is a mightie nation, & an ancient nation,

The wordes that came to Ieremiāh fro the Lord, saying,

Heare ye the wordes of this covenant, & speake vnto the men of Iudāh, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, a Cursed be the man that obeith not the wordes of this covenant,

Which I commanded vnto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron fornaice, saying, Obey my voyce, and do according to all these things, which I commande you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God,

That I may confirme the othe, that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a land, which floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day. I then answered, O Lord, So be it, O Lord.

Then the Lord said vnto me, Crye all these wordes in the cities of Iudāh, and in the strettes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this covenant, and do the.

For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, rising early & protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuertheles they wolde not obey, nor encline their eare: but euery one walked in the stubbernes of his wicked heart: therefore I wil bring vpon them all the wordes of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A conspiracie is founde among the men of Iudāh, & among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel, and the house of Iudāh haue broken my covenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring a plague vpon them, which they shal not be able to escape, and thogh they crye vnto me, I wil not heare them.

12 Then shal the cities of Iudāh, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem go, and crye vnto the gods vnto whome they offer incense, but they shal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, o Iudāh, and according to the number of the strettes of Ierusalem haue ye set vp altars of confusion, euen altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, nether list vp a crye, or prayer for them: for when they crye vnto me in their trouble, I wil not heare them.

15 What shulde my beloued tary in mine house, seing they haue committed abominacion with many, and the holy flesh goeth away fro thee: yet when thou doest euil, thou reioycest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A grene oliue tre, faire, and of goodlie frute: but with noise and great tumult he hath set fyre vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, (for the wickednes of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudāh) which they haue done against them selues to proucke me to angre in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught me, and I knowe it, euen then shewedst me their practises.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knewe not: yet they had deuised thus against me, saying, Let vs destroye the tre with the frute thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie.

20 But o Lord of hostes, that iudgeth righteously, and tryest the reines & the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

darkenes.

But if ye wil not heare this, my soule shal
wepe in secret for your pride, & mine eye shal wepe and drop downe teares, because the Lords flocke is caried awaie captiue.

Saie vnto the King and to the Que-ne, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the croune of your glorie shal come downe
from your heads.

The cities of the South shalbe shut vp,
and no man shal open them: all Iudah shal
be caried awaie captiue: it shalbe wholly caried awaie captiue.

Lift vp your eyes and beholde them y<sup>e</sup>
come from the North, where is y<sup>e</sup> flocke
y<sup>e</sup> was giue ther, euen thy beautiful flocke.
What wilt thou saie, when he shal visit thee: (for thou hast taught the to be captaines & as chief ouer thee) shal not forow

take thee as a woman in trauail.

And if thou saie in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts discovered & thy heles made bare.

Can the blacke More change his skin? or the leopard his spottednes? then maie ye also do good, that are accustomed to do euil:

Therefore wil I scarre the, as the stubble
that is taken awaie with the South winde.

This is thy portion, and the parte of thy measures from me, saith the Lord, because thou hast forgotten me and trusted in lies.

Therefore I haue also discovered thy skirts vpon thy face, that thy shame may appeare.

I haue sene thine adulteries, & thy neyings, y<sup>e</sup> filthines of thy whoredome on the hilles in the fields, and thine abominations. Wo vnto thee, O Ierusalem: wilt thou not be made cleane when shal it once be?

Of the dearth that shoulde come. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. 10 The unfaithful people are not heard. 12 Of prayer fasting, and of false prophetes that seduce the people.

The worde of the Lord that came vnto
Ieremiah, concerning the dearth.

Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they haue bene brought to heauines vnto the ground, and the crye
of Ierusalem goeth vp,

And their nobles haue sent their inferi-
ours to the water, who came to the welles,
and founde no water: they returned with their vessels emptie: they were ashamed & confounded, and couered their heads.

For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plow-men were ashamed, and couered their heades.

Yea, the hinde also calued in the field,
and forsoke it, because there was no
grasse.

And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, and drewe in their winde like dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

O Lord, thogh our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are manie, we sinned against thee.

O the hope of Israel, the sauour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou
as a stranger in the land, as one that passeth
by to tarie for anight?

Why art thou as a man astonied, and as a strong man that can not helpe? yet
thou, O Lord, art in the middes of vs,
and thy Name is called vpon vs: forsake vs not.

By seeking to strangers for helpe, thou
hast made the blissful to fight
against thee.

I Thy cloke
of hypocric

which is by

prophetes promised peace,

Jeremiáh cal-
leth to teares,
and repentance
for their affliction, it is at hand, as Chap.
9, 1. Lament 1, 16 & 1, 18.
Bothe hie, & lowe shal be led captiues
into Babylon.
Though the Prophet knew that God had cast off y<sup>e</sup> multitude, which were hypocrites, and basard
children, yet
he was assured
that for his promes sake
he wolde haue
shil a Church,
for the which
he prayeth.
He tea-
cheth the Church a for-
me of prayer,
to humble the felues to God
by true peni-
tance, & is the ouelpe meane
to auoide this famine, w<sup>h</sup> was the beginning of Gods plague.
Meaning,
their idoles,
read Chap.
20, 15.

10 Thus saith the Lord vnto this people,
Thus haue they delited to wadde: they haue not refrained their fete, therefore the Lord hathe no delite in the: but he wil now remember their iniquitie, and visite their finnes.

11 Then said the Lord vnto me, Thou shalt not praye to do this people good.

12 Whē thei fast, I wil not heare their crye,
and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I wil not accept them: but I wil consume them by the sworde, and by the famine and by the pestilence.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, beholde
the Prophetes say vnto them, Ye shal
not fe the sworde, neither shal famine come vpon you, but I wil giue you assured
peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord said vnto me, The Prophetes prophecie lies in my Name: I haue
not sent them, nether did I commande them, nether spake I vnto them, but they prophecie vnto you a false vision, and di-uination, and vanitie, and deceiffulness of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Concerning the Prophetes that prophecie in my Name, whome I haue not sent, yet they say, Sworde and famine shal not be in this land, by sworde & famine shal those Pro-
phetes be consumed.

16 And the people to whome these Prophetes do prophecie, shal be cast out in the stetes of Ierusalēm, because of the famine, &
the sworde, & there shal be none to burye
them, bothe they, and their wiues, and their sonnes, & their daughters: for I wil powre
their wickednes vpon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this worde vnto them, Let mine eyes drop downe teares night and day without ceasing: for y<sup>e</sup>
virgine daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, and with a fore grievous plague.

18 For if I go into the field, beholde the slai-ne with the sworde: and if I entre into the citie, beholde the that are sicke for hunger
also: moreover the Prophet also and the Priest go a wandring into a land that they know not.

19 Hast thou vterly reiected Iudáh, or hathe thy soule abhorred Zión? Why hast thou smitten vs, that we can not be healed?
We looked for peace, & there is no good, &
for the time of health, & beholde trouble.

20 We acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednes
& the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue
sinned against thee.

21 Do not abhorre vs: for thy Names sake
cast not downe the throne of thy glorie:
remember and breake not thy couenant
with vs.

22 Are there anie among y<sup>e</sup> vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine: or can the heauens giue showers: is it not thou, O Lord,

our God: therefore we wil waite vpon thee,
for thou hast made all these things.

CHAP. XV.

The Lord wolde heare no prayer for the Iewes, I haue threatened to destroye them with foure plagues.

1 The Lord said the Lord vnto me, Though Moses and Samuēl stood before me,
yet mine affectio colde not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them departe.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whether shal
we departe? then tel them, Thus saith
the Lord, Suche as are appointed to death,
vnto death: & suche as are for the sworde,
to the sworde, & suche as are for the famine to the famine, and suche as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

3 And I wil appointe ouer them foure kin-des, saith the Lord, the sworde to slay, and the doggs to teare in pieces, & the foules
of the heauen, & the beastes of the earth
to deuoure, and to destroye.

4 I wil scatter them also in all kingdomes of the earth, because of Manasseh the sone of Hezekiáh King of Iudáh, for that which he did in Ierusalēm.

5 Who shal then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ie-rusalēm: or who shal be forte for thee:
who shal go to pray for thy peace?

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, &
gone backward: therefore wil I stretch
out mine hand against thee, and destroye
thee: for I am wearie with repenting.

7 And I wil feare the with the fenne in y<sup>e</sup>
gates of the earth: I haue wasted, & destroyed my people, yet they wolde not returne from their wayes.

8 Their widdowes are increased by me
about the sand of the sea: I haue broght
vpon the, & against the assemble of the yong men a destroyer at none day: I haue caused him to fall vpon them, & the citie
suddenly, and spedely.

9 She that hathe borne seven, hathe bene
made weake: her heart hathe failed: the flou-re hathe failed: her, whiles it was day, she hathe bene confounded, & ashamed, and the residue of them wil I deliuer vnto the sworde before their enemies, saith y<sup>e</sup> Lord.

10 Wo is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me, a contentious man, & a mā that strueth with y<sup>e</sup> whole earth: I haue nether
lent on vsurie, nor me haue lent vnto me
on vsurie: yet euerie one doeth curse me.

11 The Lord said, Surely thy remnant shal
haue welch: surely I wil cause thine ene-
mie to intreat thee in the time of trouble,
and in the time of affliction.

Lord comforted me, & said y<sup>e</sup> my last dayes shoulde be quiet: & I meant here, Nebuzardan the captaine of Nebuchadnezzar
milh y<sup>e</sup> choise ether to remaine in his country, or to go vnto or by the enemy he meant the Iewes, shoulde alter and repen-sacilitie, and therefore fauour him.

12 Shal the yron breake the y<sup>e</sup>

re to be spoiled without gain:
for all thy sinnes euen in all the
And I wil make thee to go enemies into a land that thou
for a fyre is kindled in mine
shalt burne you.

13 O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, and reuenge me of my enemies: take me not awaie in the of thine angre: knowe that I
haue suffered rebuke.
Thy wordes were founde
didst ear them, and thy worde
me the ioye and reioycing of
for thy Name is called vpon
God of hostes.

14 I sate not in the assemble of the y<sup>e</sup>, nether did I reioyce, because of thy plague: for thou
me with indignation.

15 Why is mine heauines contribution desperate: & can not be art thou vnto me as a lyer,
that faile.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord,
I will returne, then wil I bring
the, & thou shalt stand before me,
take awaie the precious fruite
thou shalt be according to them returne vnto thee, but thou vnto them.

17 And I wil make thee vnto
a strong brackin wall, and the ganst thee, but thei shal not gainst thee: for I am with thee,
& to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

18 And I wil deliuer thee out of the wicked, and I wil red-
me thee of the hand of the tyrants.

CHAP. XVI.

The Lord forbidding Ieremiáh to m<sup>ake</sup>
what shoulde be vnto afflictio vpon Iud-

came to me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take thee a sonnes nor daughters in this land: for thus saith the Lord God, & concerning the
are borne in this place, and their mothers that beare the naming their fathers, that be in this land.

3 Thei shal dye of deaths

And I wil make thee to go with thine enemies into a lād that thou knowest not:
for a fyre is kindled in mine angre, which shal burne you.

O Lord, thou knowest, remembre me, &
visit me, and reuenge me of my persecu
ers: take me not awaie in the continuance of thine angre: knowe that for thy sake I
haue suffered rebuke.

Thy wordes were founde by me, and I did eate them, and thy wordes was vnto
me the ioye and reioicing of mine heart:
for thy Name is called vpon me, O Lord
God of hostes.

I sate not in the assemblie of the moc
kers, nether did I reioyce, but sate alone
because of thy plague: for thou hast filled
me with indignation.

Why is mine heauines continual? & my plague desperate & can not be healed: why art thou vnto me as a lyer, and as waters
that faile.

Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou
returne, then wil I bring thee againe, & thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take awaie the precious from the vile, thou shalt be according to my worde: let them returne vnto thee, but returne not
thou vnto them.

And I wil make thee vnto this people
a strong brackn wall, and thei shal fight a

The Lord forbidding Ieremiah to marie, sheweth him
what shulde be the afflictions vpon Iudah. 13 The captiui
tie. 14 Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 16 The calling of the Gentiles.

The worde of the Lord came also vn
to me, saying,

Thou shalt not take thee a wife, nor haue
sonnes nor daughters in this place.

For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, & concern ing their fathers, that beget them in this land.

Thei shal dye of deaths & diseases: thei
shal not be lamented, nether shal thei be buried, but thei shalbe as dongue vpon the earth, and thei shalbe consumed by the sworde, and by famine, and their carkeises
shalbe meat for the foules of the heauen,
and for the beastes of the earth.

For thus saith the Lord, Entre not into the house of mournig, nether go to lamēt,
nor be moued for them: for I haue taken
my peace fro this people, saith the Lord,
euen mercie and compassion.

Bothe y great, & the smale shal dye in this land: thei shal not be buried, nether shal
men lamēt for them: nor cut them selues,
nor make them selues bald for them.

Thei shal not stretche out the hands for them in the mourning to cōfort them for the dead, nether shal thei giue them the cup of consolation to drinke for their fa ther or for their mother.

Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting to sit with the cat & to drinke.
For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israēl, Beholde, I wil cause to cease out of this place in youre eyes, euen in your daies the voice of mirth, & the voice of gladnes, the voice of the bride grome
and the voice of the bride.

And when thou shalt shewe this people
all these wordes, & thei shal saie vnto thee, * Wherefore hathe the Lord pronounced all this great plague against vs? or what is our iniquitie? and what is our sinne that we haue omitted agaisst y Lord our God?

Then shalt thou saie vnto them, Because your fathers haue forsaken me, saith the Lord, and haue walked after other gods,
and haue serued them, & worshiped the, &
haue forsakē me, & haue not kept my Law,

(* And ye haue done worse then your fa thers: for beholde, you walke euerie one af ter the flubbernes of his wicked heart, and wil not heare me)

Therefore wil I driue you out of this land into a land that ye knowe not, nether
you, nor your fathers, and there shal ye serue other gods daie and night: for I wil
shewe you no grace.

* Beholde, therefore, saith the Lord, the
daies come that it shal no more be said,
The Lord liueth, which broght vp y chil dren of Israēl out of the land of Egypt,

But the Lord liueth, that broght vp the children of Israēl from the land of the North, and from all the lands where he had scatered them, and I wil bring them againe into their land that I gaue vnto
their fathers.

Beholde, saith the Lord, I wil send out many s fishers, and thei shal fish them, and after, wil I send out many hunters, & thei
shal hunt them from euerie mountaine
and from euerie hill, and out of the caues
of the rockes.

For mine eyes are vpon all their waies:
thei are not hid from my face, nether

But if ye wil not heare me to Sabbath daie, and not to beate nor to go through the gates on y Sabbath daie, then wil I k in the gates the roof, and I will the palaces of Ierusalem, and I will quenched.

CHAP. xviii.

The worde which came from the Lord, saying, Arise, & go downe into the field, and there shal I shewe thee. Then I went downe to the potter, and beholde, he wrought a wheel.

And the vessel that he made was broken in the hand of the potter, & made it another vessel good to the potter to make.

Thn the worde of the Lord came to me, saying,

O house of Israel, can not I be as this potter, saith the Lord, who claie is in the potters hand, & mine hand, o house of Israel?

CHAP. XVIII.

God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroye the dispisers of his worde. 18 The con-spiration of the Iewes against Ieremiáh. 19 His prayer
against his aduersaries.

The worde which came to Ieremiáh
from the Lord, saying,

Arise, & go downe into the potters house,
and there shall I shewe thee my wordes.
Then I went downe to the potters house,
and beholde, he wrought a worke on the wheel.

And the vessel that he made of a claie,
was broken in the hand of the potter. so he returned, & made it another vessel, as semed good to the potter to make it.

Th n the worde of the Lord came vnto
me, saying,

O house of Israel, can not I do with you
as this potter, saith the Lord? he holde, as y claie is in the potters hand, so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

I wil speake suddely against a nation or a kingdome to plucke it vp, & to roote it out, and to destroye it.

But if this nation, against whom I haue pronounced, turne fro their wickednes, I wil repent of y plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

And I wil speake suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to buyld it and to plant it.

But if it do euil in my sight and heare
not my voice, I wil repent of the good that I thought to do for them.

Speake y now therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith y Lord, Beholde, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing
against you: returne ye therefore euerie
one from his euil waie, and make your waies and your workes good.

But thei said desperately, Surely we wil
walke after our owne imaginations & do euerie man after the stubbernes of his wicked heart.

Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske now
among the heathen, who hath heard suche
things: the virgine of Israel hath done ve-rie filthily.

Will a man forsake the snowe of Lebanon, which cometh from y rocke of the field?
or shall the colde flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

Because my people hath forgotten me, & haue burnt incense to vanitie, and their Prophetes haue caused them to stumble
in their waies from the ancient waies to walke in the paths and waie that is not tro-
den,

To make their land desolate & a perpetual derision, so that euerie one that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and wagge his
head,

I wil scatte them with an East winde
before the enemy: I wil shewe them the backe, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

Then said they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuse against Ieremiáh: for the Lawe shall not perish from the Priest,
nor counsel from the wise, nor the worde
from the Prophet: come, and let vs smite
him with the tongue, and let vs not giue hede to any of his wordes.

Hearken vnto me, O Lord, and heare the voyce of them that contend with me.

Shall euil be recompensed for good? for
they haue digged a pit for my soule: remembre that I stood before thee, to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

Therefore, deliuer vp their children
to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widdowes: and let their housbands be put to death, and let their yong men be slay-
n by the sword in the battell.

Let the crye be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged
a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsell against me: tendeth to death: forgieue not their iniquitie, neither put out their sinne
from thy sight, but let them be ouerthro-wn before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine angre.

tempt and despising of the worde of God.

22. 2.

And shalt say, Heare ye the worde of the Lord, o Kings of Iudáh, and inhabitáts of Ierusalém, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, y God of Israél, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his eares shal tingle.

4 Because they haue forsaken me, and prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whome neither they, nor their fathers haue knownen, nor the Kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

And they haue buylt the hie places of Bál, to burne their sonnes with fyre for burnt offrings vnto Bál, which I commaúded not, nor spake it, nether came it into my minde)

5 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith
the Lord, that this place shal nomore be called <sup>d</sup> Tópheth, nor the vallei of Benhinnóm, but the vallei of slaughter.

And I wil bring the counſel of Iudáh & Ieruſalém to nocht in this place, and I wil cauſe the to fall by the ſworde before their enemies, & by the hand of them that ſeke their liues: & their carkeiſes wil I giue to be meate for the foules of  $\hat{\text{y}}$  heauen, and to the beaſtes of the field.

8 *And I wil make this cite desolate & an hissing, *so that euerie one y passeth there-

the plagues thereof.*

* And I wil fede the with y flesh of their sonnes and with the flesh of their daughters, and euerie one shal eat the flesh of his friend in the siege and streimes, where with their enemies that seke their liues,
shal holde them streit.

Then shalt thou breake the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,

And shalt saie vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Euen so wil I breake this people & this cite, as one breaketh a potters vessel, that cannot be made whole againe, & thei shal burye them in Tópheth til there be no place to burie.

2 Thus wil I do vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I wil make this citie like Tópheth.

For the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Iudah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses vpon whose rofes they haue burnt incense vnto all the hoste of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

Then came Jeremiáh from Tópheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God
of Israel, Beholde, I wil bring vpon this citie, and vpon all her townes, all the pla-

2 Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin which was by the House of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pashúr brought remiáh out of the stocks. Then said remiáh vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashúr, but Magór-misib.

4 For thus saith the Lord , Beholde, I will make thee to be a terror to thy self, & to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, & thine eyes shall beholde it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall carie them captiue into Babel, and shall slae them with the sword.

Moreover I will deliuer all the substance of this citie, and all the labours thereof, & all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Iudah wil I giue into the hand of their enemies, which will spoyle them, and take them awaie and carrie them to Babel.

is smitten and cast into prison for transgressions of God. 3 He prophesieth the captiuitie of Ierusalem. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocker, and he wordes of God. 9 He is compelled to breache the worde.

Hen Pashúr, the sonne of Immer, the Priest, which was appointed in the House of the Lord, heard Ieremíah prophesie these things, Pashúr smote Ieremíah the Prophet him in the stocks that were in the gate of Beniamín which was out of the house of the Lord.

In the morning, Pashúr broght Ieremíah out of the stocks. Then said Ieremíah vnto him, The Lord hathe not called my name Pashúr, but Magór-mislaím.

saith the Lord, Beholde, I will be to be a terrour to thy self, & to thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, & thine eyes shall see it, and I will giue all Iudáh into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall captiue into Babel, and shall smite them with the sword.

For I will deliuer all the substance of Ierusalem, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the vessels of the Kings of Iudáh will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall take them, and take them awaie and carry them to Babel.

And Pashúr, & all that dwell in Ierusalem shall go into captiuitie, and shall be buried there, thou & all the Kings, to whom thou hast prophesied.

thou hast deceived me, and I am deceived: thou art stronger then I, and I am deceived: I am in derision dailely, and they mocketh me.

For I spake, I cryed out of wrong, I was despised: desolation: therefore the word of the Lord was made a prophesie, and in derision dailely.

And I said, I will not make mencion of my name, nor speake any more in his Name: for the word was in mine heart as a burning fire, and I was shut vp in my bones, and I was not able to forbear, & I coulde not say, I heard the railing of many, & I was derided. Declares, said they, & we will see it: all my familiars watched for me.

mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceived: so we shall preuaile against him, and we shall execute our vengeance vpon him.

But the Lord is with me like a mightie gyant: therefore my persecuters shall be overthrown, and shall not preuaile, & shall be greatly confounded: for they haue done foolishly, and their euillasting shame shall not be forgotten.

But, O Lord of hostes, that tryest the righteous, & seekest the reins & the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

Sing vnto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath deliuered the soule of the poore from the hand of the wicked.

Cursed be the day wherein I was borne: & let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be blessed.

Cursed be the man, that shewed my father, saying, A man childe is borne vnto thee, and comforted him.

And let that man be as the cities, which the Lord hathe ouerturned and repented not: & let him heare the crye in the morning, and the showing at noone tide,

Because he hath not slayne me, euen from the wombe, or that my mother might haue bene my graue, or her wombe a perpetual conception.

How is it, that I came forth of the wombe, to see labour and sorowe, that my daies shoulde be consumed with shame?

CHAP. XXI.

He prophesieth that Zedekiah shall be taken, and the citie burned.

The wordes which came vnto Ieremíah from the Lord, when King Zedekiah sent vnto him Pashúr, the sonne of Malchíah, & Zephaniáh, the sonne of Maaseíah the Priest, saying,

Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs (for Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord will deale with vs according to all his wonderous workes, that he may returne vs from vs.

Then said Ieremíah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Beholde, I will turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, where with ye fight against the King of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, & I will assemble them into the middes of this citie.

And I my self will fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mightie arme, euen in angre and in wrath, and in great indignacion.

And I will smite the inhabitants of this citie, bothe man, and beast: they shall dye of a great pestilence.

And after this, saith the Lord, I will deliuer Zedekiah the King of Iudáh, and his seruants, and the people, and such as are left in this citie, from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their liues, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither haue pitie nor compassion.

¶ And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I set before you the way of life, & the way of death.

*He that abideth in this citie, shall dye by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that besiege you, he shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a pray.

For I haue set my face against this citie, for euil and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall burne it with fyre.

¶ And say vnto the house of the King of Iudáh, Heare ye the wordes of the Lord.

O house of Dauid, thus saith the Lord, Execute iudgement in the morning, and deliuer the oppressed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath go out like fyre and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednes of your workes.

Beholde, I come against thee, O inhabitant of the valley, & rocke of the plaine, saith the Lord, which say, Who shall come downe against vs? or who shall enter into our habitacions?

But I will visite you according to the fruit of your workes, saith the Lord, and I will kindle a fyre in the forest thereof, and it shall deuoure rounde about it.

CHAP. XXII.

He exhorteth the King to iudgement and righteousness. Why Ierusalem is brought into captiuitie. The death of Shallum the sonne of Iosiah is prophesied.

Thus said the Lord, Go downe to the house of the King of Iudáh, and speake there this thing,

And say, Heare the wordes of the Lord, O King of Iudáh, that sittest vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

Thus saith the Lord, *Execute ye iudgement and righteousness, and deliuer the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and vexe not the stranger, the fatherles, nor the widower: do no violence, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

For if ye do this thing, then shall the Kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this house, & ride vpon charrets, and vpon horses, bothe he

But if ye wil not heare theſe wordes, I ſwear by my ſelf, ſaith the Lord, that this

For thus hathe the Lord ſpoken vpon the Kings houſe of Iudáh, Thou art Gileád
vnto me, and the head of Lebanón, yet ſurely
I wil make thee a wildernes & aſc

And I wil prepare deſtroyers againſt thee, euery one with his weapons, and they ſhal cut downe thy chief cedre trees, and

And many nations ſhal paſſe by this citie,
& they ſhal ſay euery man to his neigh

vnto this great citie?
Then ſhal they anſwer, Becauſe they haue

Wepe not for the dead, & be not moued
for them, but wepe for him that goeth out:
for he ſhal returne no more, nor ſe his

For thus ſaith the Lord, As touching

which wēt out of this place, he ſhal not re
turne thither.
But he ſhal dye in ſ place, whether they

I Wo vnto him that buylderh his houſe by vnrigheteouſnes, & his chambers without equitie: he vſeth his neighbour without wages and giueh him not for his worke.
He ſaith, I wil buylde me a wide houſe
and large chambers: ſo he wil make him
ſelf large windowes, and ſiting with cedre
and painte them with vermilion.
Shalt thou reigne, becauſe thou cloſeſt
thy ſelf in cedre? did not thy father eat
and drinke and proſper, when he executed
iudgement and iuſtice?
When he iudged the cauſe of the afflicted

But thine eyes and thine heart are but o
nely for thy couetouſnes, and for to ſhed innocent blood, & for oppreſſion, and for deſtruction, euen to do this.
Therefore thus ſaith the Lord againſt
Ichoiakim, the ſonne of Iofiah King of Iu dah, Thei ſhal not ſay, Ah, my brother, or ah, ſiſter: neither ſhal they mourne for him, ſaying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glorie.

I ſpake vnto thee whe thou waſt in pro

hathe bene thy maner from thy youth that thou woldeſt not obey my voyce.
The winde ſhal fede all thy paſtors, &
thy louers ſhal go into captiuitie: and thou ſhalt thou be aſhamed and confounded

Thou that dwelleſt in Lebanón, and makeſt
thy neſt in the cedres, how beautiful ſhalt thou be when ſorowes come vpon thee, as the ſorow of a woman in trouble.
As I liue, ſaith the Lord, though Coniáh
the ſonne of Ichoiakim King of Iudáh, were the ſigne of my right hand, yet wolde I plucke thee thence.
And I wil giue thee into the hand of the
that ſke thy life, and into the hand of the them, whoſe face thou feareſt, eue into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babel,
and into the hand of the Caldeans.
And I wil cauſe them to cary thee away,
and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not borne, & there ſhal ye dye.
But to the land, whereunto they deſire
to returne, they ſhal not returne thither.
Is not this man Coniáh as a deſpiſed and broken idole? or as a veſſel, wherein is no pleaſure? Wherefore are they caryed away, he and his ſede, & caſt out into a land that they knowe not?
O earth, earth, earth, heare the wordes
of the Lord:
Thus ſaith the Lord, Write this: many deſtitute of children; a man that ſhal not proſper in his dayes: for there ſhall be no
man of his ſede that ſhal proſper and ſit

And send them to the King of Edóm, &
to the King of Moáb, and to the King of Ty-

of the messengers which come to Ierusa-

And commande them to say vnto their masters, If thus saith the Lord of hostes
the God of Israél, Thus shal ye say vnto
your masters,

I haue made the earth, the man, and the beast that are vpo the grounde, by my great power, & by my outstretched arme, & haue
giuen it vnto whome it pleased me.

But now I haue giuen all these lands in-

And all nations shal serue him, and his

And the nation & kingdome which wil

same nation wil I visite, saith the Lord,
with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntil I haue wholly gi-

Therefore heare not your Prophetes nor your southsaiers, nor your dreamers, nor your inchanters, nor your forcerers, which saie vnto you thus, Ye shal not serue the King of Babel.

For thei prophecie a lie vnto you to cause you to go farre from your land, and that I shulde cast you out, and you shulde
perish.

But the nation that put their neckes vnder
the yoke of the King of Babel, & serue him, those wil I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and thei shal
occupie it and dwell therein.

I spake also to Zedekiáh King of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying,
Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

Why wil ye dye, thou, & thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoke against y
nation, that wil not serue * King of Babel?

Therefore heare not the wordes of the Prophetes, that speake vnto you, saying, Ye shal not serue the King of Babel: for they prophecie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not * sent the, saith the Lord,
yet they prophecie a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that ye might pe-

16 Also I spake to * Priests, & to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hea-

for they prophecie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare the not, but serue the King of Ba-

this citie be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophetes, and if the worde of the Lord be with the, let them s in-treat the Lord of hostes, that the vessels,
which are left in the House of the Lord, &
in the house of the King of Iudáh, & at Ierusalém, go not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, con-

4 Prophet Hananiāh in the presence of the Priests, & in the presence of all the people that stode in the House of the Lord.

6 Eue the Prophet Jeremiāh said, So be it:
the Lord so do, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied to restore the vessels of the Lords House, and all that is caried captiue from Babel into this place.

7 But heare thou now this worde that I wil
speake in thine eares and in the eares of all
the people.

8 The Prophetes that haue bene before me
and before thee in time past, prophesied against manie countreys, and against great cities, domes, of warre, & of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the worde of the Prophet shal come to passe, then shal the Prophet be known that the Lord hathe truely sent
him.

10 Then Hananiāh the Prophet toke the yoke from the Prophet Jeremiahs necke,
and brake it.

11 And Hananiāh spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith y<sup>e</sup> Lord, Euen so wil I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzār King of Babel, frō the necke
of all nations within the space of two yeres: and the Prophet Jeremiāh went his way.

12 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came vnto Jeremiāh the Prophet, (after that Ha-naniāh the Prophet had broken the yoke
from the necke of the Prophet Jeremiāh)
saying,

13 Go, & tel Hananiāh, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood: but thou shalt make for them yokes
of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israël, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon y<sup>e</sup> necke of all these natiōs, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzār King of Babel: for thei shal serue him, and I haue gi-uen him the beasts of the field also.

15 The said the Prophet Jeremiāh vnto the Prophet Hananiāh, Heare now Hananiāh,
the Lord hathe not sent thee, but thou
makest this people to trust in a lye.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde,
I wil cast thee from of the earth: this yere
thou shalt dye, because thou hast spoken
rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiāh the Prophet dyed the sa-

CHAP. XXIX.

Jeremiāh writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 He prophesieth their returne after seuente yeres. 16 He prophesieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remains in Ierusa-

lem. 27 He threatneth the prophetes that seduce the people. 28 The death of Semeiah is prophesied.

Now these are y<sup>e</sup> wordes of the Lord
that Jeremiāh the Prophet sent frō Ierusalēm vnto the residue of the Elders which were caried away captiues, and to the Priests, and to the Prophetes, and to all the people whome Nebuchad-nezzār had caried away captiue from Ierusalēm to Babel.

Ierusalēm)

By the hand of Elafāh the sonne of Shaphān and Gemariāh the sonne of Hilkiāh (whome Zedekiāh King of Iudāh sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzār King of Babel) saying,

and giue your daughters to hous bands,
that they may beare sonnes & daughters,
that ye may be increased there, and not

7 And seke the prosperitie of the citie, whether I haue caused you to be caried away
captiues, and pray vnto the Lord for it:
for in the peace thereof shal you haue
peace.

of Israël, Let not your prophetes, & your

wil visit you, and performe my good pro-
mes toward you, and cause you to returne
to this place.

towards you, saith the Lord, euen the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to gi-
ue you an end, and your hope.

go and pray vnto me, and I wil heare you,
and ye shal seke me and finde me, be-

Hear ye therefore the wordes of the Lord all ye of the captiuitie, whome I haue sent from Ierusalem to Babel.

Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God
of Israēl, of Ahāb the sonne of Kolaiāh, & of Zedekeiah the sonne of Maaseiah, which prophetic lies vnto you in my Name, Be-holde, I wil deliuer them into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzār King of Babel & he shal
slaye them before your eyes.

And all they of the captiuitie of Iudāh,
that are in Babel, shal take vp this curse
against them, & say, The Lord make thee
like Zedekeiah and like Ahāb, whome the King of Babel burnt in the fyre,

Because they haue committed a vilenie in Israēl, and haue committed adulterie with their neighbours wiues, and haue spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commanded them, euen I knowe it, &
testifie it, saith the Lord.

Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah
the Nehelamite, saying,

Thus speaketh y<sup>e</sup> Lord of hostes, the God of Israēl, saying, Because thou hast set letters in thy name vnto all the people, that are at Ierusalem, & to Zephaniāh the son-

Priests, saying,

The Lord hath made thee Priest, for Lehoiada the Priest, that ye shulde be officers in the House of y<sup>e</sup> Lord, for euery mā
that rauch & maketh him self a Prophet,
to put him in prison in the stocks.

Now therefore why hast thou repro-ued Ieremias of Anathoth, which prophecieth vnto you?

For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Ba-

bēl, saying, This captiuitie is long: buylde houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eat the frutes of them.

And Zephaniāh the Priest red this lettre in the eares of Ieremiāh the Prophet.

Then came the wordes of the Lord vnto Ieremiāh, saying,

Send to all the of the captiuitie, saying,
Thus saith the Lord of Shemaiah the Ne-
helamite, Because that Shemaiah hathe pro-

CHAP. XXX.

The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 He mennatheth the enemies, 18 And comforteth the Church.

The wordes, that came to Ieremiāh frō
the Lord, saying,

Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israēl, saying, Write thee all the wordes, that I
haue spoken vnto thee in a booke.

For lo, the daies come, saith the Lord, that I wil bring againe y<sup>e</sup> captiuitie of my people Israēl and Iudah, saith the Lord: for I wil restore them vnto the land, that I ga-
ue to their fathers, & they shal possesse it.

Again, these are the wordes y<sup>e</sup> Lord
spake concerning Israēl, and concernig Iudāh.

For thus saith the Lord, We haue heard
a terrible voyce, of feare & not of peace.

Demande now & beholde, if man trauail
with childe: wherefore do I beholde euery
man with his hands on his loines as a woman in trauail, & all faces are turned into a palenes?

Alas, for this day is great: none hath bene
like it: it is euen the time of Iakobs trouble, yet shal he be deliuered from it.

For in that day, saith the Lord of hostes,
I wil breake his yoke from of thy necke,
and breake thy bondes, and strangers shal
no more serue them selues of him.

But they shal serue the Lord their God,
& David their King, whome I wil raise vp vnto them.

Therefore feare not, o my seruāt Iakōb,
saith the Lord, neither be afraied, o Israēl:
for lo, I wil deliuer thee from a faire coun-trei, and thy sede from the land of their captiuitie, & Iakōb shal turne againe, &
shal be in rest and prosperitie & none shal
make him afraid.

For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to saue thee: hough I utterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee: yet wil I not utterly destroy thee, but I wil correct

*He & his sede
shal be destroi-
ed, so that no-
de of the shal-
be the bene-
fite of this deluerance.*

*Because thei
shulde be affi-
red and their posteritie confirmed in the hope of this deluerance
promised.*

*He sheweth
that before y<sup>e</sup>
shal come,
the Caldeans
shulde be extremely afflicted by their enemies, and
y<sup>e</sup> they shulde be in such perplexitie &
sorrow as a woman in her tra-
uail, as Isa. 13.
8.*

*Meaning, y<sup>e</sup>
the time of their captiui-
tie shulde be griuous.*

*When I
shal visit Babylon.*

Deliueraunce promised.

Jeremiáh. Gods euerlasting loue.

Read Chap.
10, 24.

i Meaning, that no man is able to finde
out a meane to deliuer them,
but y<sup>e</sup> must
be the worke
of God.
k The Assy-
rians & Egi-
ptians, whome
thou didst entertaine with gittes, who left thee in thine
affliction.

l Herein is commended Gods great
mercie toward his, who doeth
not destroye
them for their sinnes, but correct and chastise them
til he haue
purged & perfected them, &
so burneth the
roades by the
which he did
punish them,
Iia. 35.

m Meaning, y<sup>e</sup>
the citie and
the Temple
shulde be refused to their former state:
He sheweth
how the people shal wit-
nesse and shal
kepinge acknowledge
this benefite.
o Meaning, Ze-
rubbabel, who

tes shulde flatter the felues
with these promises, the Prophet shew-
eth what shal
be their portion.
r When this Messiah and deliuerer is sent.

s When this noble govern-
our shal come
meane: meaning
Christ, not onely Iudáh & Israél, but the rest of y<sup>e</sup> world shalbe called.

thee by iudgement, and not <sup>b</sup> vitterly <sup>c</sup> cut thee of.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and <sup>d</sup> thy wounde is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay
a plaister: there are no medecines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy <sup>e</sup> louers haue forgotten thee: they seke thee not: for I haue stricken thee with the wounde of an enemy, & with a sharpe
chastisement for the multitude of thine ini-quities, because thy sinnes were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrowe is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sinnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

16 Therefore all they that deuoure thee,
shal be deuoured, and all thine enemies e-
